The K. T.s' Visit.

The Sir Knights of De Witt Clinton Commandery of this city, with their guests of Bethany Commandery of Lawrence, Mass., made an excursion down the harbor on Tuesday and on their return visited the Navy Yard, where they were politely received by Commodore A. M. Pennock, Commandant of the Yard, who tendered the Masonic visitors the hospitalities of the Station by placing them under the escort of Comd'r Bradford, who gave the Sir Knights, with their ladies, every courtesy that could be desired. The trip down the river, notwithstanding the fog, was delightful, the steamer Appledore being under the pilotage of her wide awake and gentlemanly captain, Edwin M. Baker, who is alive to every interest and comfort of his passengers. Capt. Baker yielded the helm during a portion of the trip to Sir Knight Joseph D. Ackerman, who handles the wheel as skillfully as the jolly skipper himself.

On landing at the wharf in this city the two Commanderies marched to the Rockingham House, escorted by Harlow's Marine Band and the Lawrence Band consolidated in one, making splendid music as they passed. At the Rockingham, at three o'clock, the party sat down to dinner got up in Mr. Pierce's best style; after discussing which the visitors fell into line for a march to the depot, under escort of the Portsmouth Commandery, where they took the cars for home.

The Music Society.

We unintentionally allowed the great Boston Jubilee to cause us to omit to mention our own local contribution of the same. The concert on Sunday evening a week since, by the Portsmouth Music Society and Harlow's Orchestra, was an entertainment exceedingly creditable to all concerned and much enjoyed by a large audience. The chorus numbered about eighty, including most of the best talent in the city with several singers from neighboring towns. Mr. Tilton has proved himself very skillful as a conductor, and Miss Aggie E. Plummer has won the approval of all as pianist,—no less authority than Carl Zerrahn complimenting her very highly at the Dover rehearsal. The entertainment of the 16th was announced merely as a public rehearsal; but in spite of defects the performances were very fine, all things considered. Harlow's Band and Orchestra have frequently evinced their liberality and public spirit, and on this occasion have again placed the public as well as the society under much obligation. The Music Society, we are glad to hear, is flourishingly finely, and will add to its funds by the season's operations. There is talk of incorporation, leasing a hall, etc.; and a musical pic-nic at Dover Point, which shall also be a mass rehearsal, is proposed,—and to open the autumn rehearsals with a grand Musical Convention here.

Laconics.

Mr. C. C. Haley, whose proposed occupation of the corner window of Mr. Wm. B. Lowd's store is announced in another column, expects to be ready on Monday next to commence the watch, clock and jewelry repairing business at that place.

The Eastern Railroad extension to North Conway was formally opened Monday. White Mountain tourists leaving Boston in the Pullman cars in the morning arrive there in five hours, proceeding to the Glen, or Crawford's, by new stage lines the same day.

Mr. Andrew J. Trefethen, having established himself in a hair-dressing and shaving saloon on Daniel Street, advises his friends and the public of the fact through our advertising columns. Mr. Trefethen is well known as being a proficient in his business,—gives a smooth shave with a keen razor, cuts hair in the fashionable styles, or the unfashionable ones if customers so desire, and hopes to receive a fair share of public patronage.

The local Democratic organ says: "The Concord Monitor announces that the City Council of Portsmouth are to meet in convention next Thursday evening for the purpose of choosing a mayor to fill the unexpired term of the late Horton D. Walker.' Wonder how the Monitor came in possession of such positive information." We suppose the Monitor got its information from the published report of the last meeting of the City Councils, at which the Aldermen agreed to meet the Common Council in convention next Thursday evening.

The grand Jubilee Ball takes place in the Coliseum at Boston this evening, and will doubtless be the most brilliant affair of the kind ever got up in this country. Johann Strauss is to lead the grand orchestra, and the German, English, French and American bands will perform choice selections of music at intervals. A vast number of tickets were sold last week, and it is expected that forty thousands persons will be present, on the floor or in the balconies. Quite a number will attend from this city. The managers of the ball announce that ladies who intend to dance "must come without hats or bonnets; for none who wear hats or bonnets will be admitted to the floor."

YORK, ME., June 23.

Editors Chronicle:—The first Christian Church of York is now in a flourishing condition. The sum of $500 has recently been raised by subscription to pay off the Society's indebtedness of about $300, and to make improvements by way of painting and blinding the parsonage house, grading, etc. The raising of this amount at the present time is mainly due to the efforts of their pastor, Rev. Chas. E. Goodwin, who, being the right man in the right place, has easily accomplished what would no doubt have been a hard job for almost any other person. The fact that Eld. Goodwin has labored with this people for eighteen successive years, although he has had several calls from larger churches, speaks well for both pastor and people, and that the warmest friendship now exists and is yet growing between them there is no question. P.

State News.

Isaac Vose, an aged resident of Keene, disappeared Monday morning, and when his absence had caused an alarm and search his hat was found in the Ashuelot River, leading to the conclusion that he must have drowned himself. He was 78 years of age, and had resided with his sister, Mrs. Sumner Wheeler.

Many of the Pittsfield shoe factory employes have begun work again on reduced wages.

On Saturday afternoon a lady from Manchester was so imprudent as to visit the Boston Jubilee with $300 in her portemonnaie, and dropped it from her pocket in the gallery promenade. It was picked up by Theodore Hatch, a member of Eagle steamer No. 3, of Boston, and restoredto the owner.

COURTSHIP AND MARRIAGE.

A colony law of 1637, reads thus:—"If any person shall endeavor, directly or indirectly, to draw away the affections of any maid, under pretence of marriage, before he hath obtained liberty and allowance from her parents or governors, in absence of such of the court or a magistrate, he shall forfeit, for the first attempt £5, and for the second £10."

Here is a description of early New England courtships:—"A rap at the farmer's door in the evening. 'Walk in,' follows. And in comes a young man in Sunday suit. He bows to the ladies, shakes hands with the men. The young man says something about the weather—coughs chokingly—tries to speak—hems—displays an awkward posture—sits uneasy—answers questions slowly, simply yes or no. At length, their kind looks assure him, and he begins to talk of farmer's prospects—sheep, kine, cattle, horses, swine; how best to plow the land, how to manure, how to get good crops. As the time wears away, Mary retires and kindles a fire in the best room. He bids the family good-bye, and meets Mary in the entry, but not to go home, or, sometimes, when all is ready, she bashfully invites him to walk into the other room. There they 'keep company' till a late hour."

Jonathan Judd, Jr., in his diary, 1758, says that in the first families in Hatfield, courting continued till twelve, one, two, and even three o'clock.

The Puritans of New England, for over half a century, directed that marriages should be performed by civil magistrate only. The custom of calling in clergymen has since prevailed, but the law regards him as acting in this matter, not as a priest but simply as a civil magistrate. Thursday was the most common day for a marriage. Somewhat more than a century and a half ago, sack-posset was the great article of entertainment at weddings, as plum cake is now. Then Windsor was a favorite tune at weddings, and on similar joyous occasions. A marriage gift to Rev. Aaron Porter of Medford, 1713, was the New England version of the Psalm Book, from which had just been sung the forty-fifth psalm. It was presented by Judge Sewall, with these words:—"I give you this Psalm Book, in order to your perpetuating this song; and I would have you pray that it may be an introduction to our singing with the choir above."

About one hundred years ago, when the daughter of Rev. Mr. Ballantine of Westfield was married, his people sent in to him as presents for the wedding, nine quarts of rum, four quarts of brandy, a loin and a leg of mutton, a leg of veal, five fowls, suet, butter, flour, two pigs, cranberries, apples, cabbage and potatoes. About the beginning of this century, weddings were almost always attended with dancing, and the fiddler was frequently a mulatto. Sometimes the dancing was by singing. Liquor was plenty, and cake and cheese were handed round. Kissing the bride was not common. Wedding gowns lasted often for life, and the daughter was sometimes married in the wedding gown of her mother.

Second day weddings, or weddings kept up the second day, were not general, but there were more or less of them. In such cases, a considerable number stayed at the house over night, but many went home and came again the next day. The party would sometimes get up the next morning, and go to dancing before breakfast. In the course of the day, they would sometimes ride to a public house and have dinner or supper, and dance. Rev. Johnathan Judd, of Southampton, disapproved this practice, and, on one occasion, when his son, Sylvester, stayed for the second day festivities, he was so much displeased that he sent a messenger to bring him home.

In England, as to second marriages, there was a law, at first made by the church, and afterwards ratified by Parliament, that "a man who married two wives or one widow, was to be hanged!" Not two wives at a time, but the reference is to second marriage. The church called this bigamy. This law existed Edward I., 1276. It was modified under Edward VI., by giving benefit of clergy to such bigamists, but continued unrepealed till 1828. It was at first practically carried into effect, and men were actually hung under the law. But afterwards it gradually slumbered until it was repealed.—Northampton Free Press.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Invention, and other opinions, advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessary for a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. FARES GREATLY REDUCED.

One of the large and splendid Steamships of this line will leave Pier No. 42, North River, foot of Canal St., New York, at 12 o'clock M., on the 15th and 30th of every month, (except when those dates fall on Sunday, and then on the preceding Saturday,) for ASPINWALL, connecting via Panama Railway with one of the Company's Steamships from Panama for SAN FRANCISCO, touching at MANZANILLO.

All departures connect at PANAMA with Steamers for SOUTH PACIFIC and CENTRAL AMERICAN ports. Departure of 15th, touches at Kingston, Jamaica.

For Japan and China, Steamer leaves San Francisco first of every month, except when it falls on Sunday, then on the day preceding.

One Hundred Pounds of Baggage allowed each adult. Baggage masters accompany baggage through, and attend to ladies and children without male protectors. Baggage received on the dock the day before sailing, from steamboats, railroads and passengers who prefer to send down early. An experienced surgeon on board. Medicine and attendance free.

For freight or Passage Tickets or further information apply at the Company's ticket office, on the Wharf, FOOT OF CANAL ST., NORTH RIVER, NEW YORK, to F. B. BABY, Agent; or to the Agents for New England, C. L. BARTLETT & CO., 16 Broad street, BOSTON, 49 1-2 Exchange St., Portland.

ORANGES AND LEMONS IN CALIFORNIA.—The orange and lemon are, and will probably continue to be, the more profitable orchard trees in Southern California. Sixty trees are planted to the acre. They come into bearing slowly, but at ten years from planting out the nursery trees, the lemon will bring 600 and the orange 1000 to the tree; and I have seen 2000 lemons—or $800 oranges—on a single tree, at fifteen years of age. Now lemons sell in San Francisco at $30, and oranges at from $15 to $35 per thousand; and from the tenth year of a tree's age, with good culture, irrigation, and in a fit climate—that is to say, almost any where in California south of Stockton—these trees are found in practise to yield, at the least, $10 clear profit per tree, or $600 per acre. This is a low statement—far below the present actual yield of orange orchards in Los Angeles and San Bernardino. I know an orange orchard of nine acres, near Los Angeles, which has brought its owner $8000 per annum, clear profit, for several years past. One man's labor suffices to keep in perfect order twenty acres of any of these fruits. But it should not be forgotten that all these trees are the better for irrigation. They grow better and faster, and bear more regularly and freely; and the orange and lemon particularly will, I am persuaded, bear but poorly without water, though some people deny this. The most skillful orchardists in Southern California now irrigate once in six weeks, and, of course, plow after irrigation. I have no doubt that the frequent plowing is a great help to the trees. There are people in California who imagine and assert that the ground ought not to be ploughed or otherwise disturbed in their State during the dry season; but such men do not succeed in farming there or elsewhere. —CHARLES NORDHOFF, in Harper's Magazine for July.

—A California journal tells a story of a gentleman who, having gone extensively into the Angora goat business, built a spacious corral, and erected water-proof sheds to protect his property from the weather. When the heavy storm came he drove the goats into the corral at night. But on going late in the evening to look after them, not a goat could he find. Just as he was about to go away, greatly disturbed, he happend to lift his lantern and his eyes upward, and he beheld the entire flock of goats perched upon the top of his carefully constructed shed, and evidently enjoying the heavy storm which was pouring down.

—An undertaker was passing by a fruit stand. No one saw him, as he supposed. He stepped up and patted a large cucumber patronizingly, as much as to say, "Good boy, Old Cucu. Go for 'em. Steboy. Seize 'em. Gripe 'em!"

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or price—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
SINGER
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER IS THE OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and presents its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.
N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

JURUBEBA
THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
BLOOD PURIFIER.
Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LARGOID and DELICATE system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.
It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.
DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA
Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.
It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful Tonic and restoring effect, induces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.
COUGHS, Much has been said and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a world-wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.
CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.
PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.
For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

CORNS, Bunions, Bad Nails, and other diseases of the feet, Scrofulous and Cancerous Humors, Piles, etc., skillfully treated at the great central Chiropodical and Healing Institute, No. 765 Broadway, New York. DR. J. BRIGGS, President; DR. ALEXANDER WEBBER, Secretary. ap9

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1872.

The Jubilee.

BOSTON, June 24.

Editors Chronicle:—Here we are in the Coliseum again, where it would be pleasant to live, until the Jubilee is over. It is a city in itself, and very nearly a model city; no beggars, no horse-railroads, no dust, no rain,—music and leisure and thousands of people continually coming and going, like the population of an ant-hill, awfully busy and hurried—about nothing, apparently.

We arrived in season for the last part of the rehearsal of Israel in Egypt, which is to be given this afternoon as originally promised; a great rebellion broke out in the chorus when it was announced for a week later. The attendance of singers this morning was rather small. While Madame Rudersdorff was singing a solo, an engine outside enviously broke in, almost exactly on the key, imitating her three loud, explosive notes, by three instantly following,—so ridiculous a caricature and exaggeration, that a roar of laughter burst from everybody in the house, Carl Zerrahn and Madame Rudersdorff enjoying the joke hugely.

As soon as the rehearsal was over, we started on a tour of observation. Passing by a police man-guarded gate, through a high slat fence on the right below the chorus, which has always attracted us from its resemblance to a gigantic hen-coop, we went to see what kind of poultry was to be found there. A great and agreeable variety,—not yet classified. On the right of the long passage, room after room was passed, Guests', Chorus, Bureau of Accommodation, (possessing apparently no accommodations but some unpainted benches, and several of them upside down,) and the engine-room, containing the engine which was to have supplied the great organ with breath, but was unable to do so. On the left were stairways leading to the Orchestra and Chorus, the latter of which we mounted, and found ourselves suddenly on the spot where Strauss, Madame Leutner and the great bands had all made their appearances and disappearances, the middle of the chorus, to which this broad stair-case leads from the hall below. Having admired the decorations of the roof as seen from this point, and wondered at the immense distance of the conductor's stand from the organist, who again is far in front of his instrument, sitting before a black-walnut case that looks like a small cabinet organ, we walked down stairs again, like the other celebrities, and continued our voyage of discovery.

A remarkable feature of the landscape was a table enclosing a quadrangle, inside which was a regiment of girls selling oranges and all the things that go with oranges, to a crowd of customers outside. The projector of this enterprise pays a thousand dollars rent for this corner of the Coliseum. Further on, and close to the door by which the chorus enter the building, is the office of the Superintendent of the Chorus, and a swarm of applicants for tickets blackened his window as we passed.

The attendance to-day will probably be small. Oratorio Music is not popular music, and as the French Band give a concert to-night, their stronger attractions will prevail.

COLISEUM, June 25.

The gala day of the great festival has come. The sun has thrown off the veil, and begins to manifest his usual interest in the success of the World's Peace Jubilee. He rather over-did last Friday, but we hope he will be more judicious now. Every seat is taken for to-day; the Coliseum will be full at last. As we passed the Old Colony and Newport Station this morning, both sides of the street for a long distance were densely packed with people and hacks, waiting the arrival of President Grant. All things promise a stupendous excitement this afternoon.

Yesterday may be considered a lull—a rest of forty bars in the Jubilee proper, — during which the Handel and Haydn Society performed "Israel in Egypt" to an audience about like that of June 18, in numbers, but in nothing else. This was as quiet as that was demonstrative, and the choruses, which were rendered with marvellous precision and fine shading under the skillful leadership of Carl Zerrahn, received but faint applause,—many of them none. "He gave them hail stones for rain," and "Sing ye to the Lord," were the only exceptions. Mrs. Barry looked very lovely, in a blue silk skirt, train of white silk and polonaise of blue silk, ornamented at the bust, on the shoulders and wherever it was looped, with knots of pink roses; and her singing was very sweet no doubt, but quite inaudible except to a few dozens in her immediate vicinity. The same was true of the tenor arias sung by Mr. Winch. The base duet, "The Lord is a man of war," was admirably sung by Messrs. Rudolphsen and Winch and was warmly encored; and Madame Rudersdorff's two arias possessed at least the merit of being audible in every part of the hall.

The organ, played by Mr. B. J. Lang, was kept rather too much under restraint throughout the performance, in deference probably to the chorus, who have complained that it was too loud for them. But we missed it greatly in many passages of the Oratorio, and the only chorus singing that has fairly stirred the audience has invariably been accompanied by the full organ. It is a a Jubilee in itself. The rich sub-base that it rolls out, "growing up like a darkness everywhere," is not surpassed by anything we have heard; and when it is desirable to represent forcibly "the wreck of matter and the crash of worlds," the organ alone is equal to the task. Mr. Wilcox, at the close of this morning's rehearsal, displayed the various capacities of the organ, prolonging the final burst until an irrascible German in the orchestra inquired if an extinguisher could not be put on that organist? Yesterday's concert closed at 5:35, owing to the omission of the usual encores, and Mr. Lang amused those of the audience who chose to linger, with an organ recital almost terrific in its power. What a mighty instrument that must be, which is fully equal to the capacities of this tremendous Music Hall.

We saw Strauss this morning, for the first time, in rehearsal, and enjoyed the sight as much as we anticipated. Just a shade more of that elastic lightness would do for him what wings do for the bird. It is only necessary to watch him, to know what the orchestra are to do. A deaf man might almost hear the music through the eyes, looking at his rapid and expressive pantomime. Strauss is the orchestra, Strauss is the waltz, incarnate.

We undertook to pilot a friend of ours through the door of the hen-coop, in a search for provisions, but had a slight difficulty with a one-eyed policeman who looked daggers at us,—the largest weapon he could wield so maimed. If he had had two eyes we should have had nothing short of swords and bayonets. Our Cerberus was safely passed, however, by means of the magical blue badge, and we went to the quadrangular restaurant, where there is one price, 10 cents, and fortified ourselves for the day's campaign.

The omnipresent policeman is one marked feature of the Jubilee; he challenges you at every place of entrance, and is unmoved by insinuating address, metallic effrontery, machiavellian intrigue or any other device of the enemy. He yields only to the true talisman; and thanks to him, perfect order prevails throughout all departments of this vast enterprise. The courteous warder of the press-room door says that about fifty people come to him every day for a cup of tea, and he has to direct them to the hen-coop, which he calls, more elegantly, "the wicket-gate."

The sun has withdrawn the light of his countenance from us,—umbrellas are the order of the day. Nevertheless, at this hour (2:55,) the floor of the Coliseum, as seen from an elevated seat in the chorus, is a solid mass of humanity, and the galleries nearly filled. The great organ close beside is growling out its mighty bass for the orchestra to tune from, and the floor and bench beneath us quiver in sympathy. We have come up to share the sufferings of the chorus and to see the world,—that is, the Jubilee,—from their point of view. The Concert is at last to begin. Farewell.

The New York Nation says: "Our objection to Greeley is not that he is bad, but that he is totally opposed to the principles he undertakes to represent. It is like taking Satan as superintendent of a Sunday School.

"Eating cat-pie and calling it venison," is the way the Mobile Register (Dem.) defines the unsavory process of swallowing Greeley by the Democracy.

In 1846 Horace Greeley declared as follows: "If, on a full and final review, my life and practice shall be found unworthy my principles, let due infamy be heaped on my memory; but let none be thereby led to distrust the principles to which I prove recreant, nor yet the ability of some to adorn them by a suitable life and conversation."

It is reported that Judge Davis has written a letter absolutely withdrawing as a candidate of the Labor Reformers.

The Boston Post announces, on the authority of Miss Ida Greeley, that there is no doubt of the election of her father to the presidency next Fall.

Special Notices.

Lost Health Regained.

Self-neglect lays the foundation of much bodily suffering. As a rule men are more solicitous to repair and preserve their houses, stock in trade and other perishable property than to repair and preserve themselves. They can see when a wall requires a prop, or a weak structure a girder, but appear to be unconscious of, or indifferent to, the cracks and flaws and evidences of decay in their own frail and sensitive organizations.

The consequence of this want of common prudence is that thousands fall by the wayside in the prime of life every year who might have lived to enjoy a hale and hearty old age, if they had resorted to the proper means of recruiting their failing vigor at the proper time.

Seeing what that famous vitalizing and invigorating elixir, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, has done for countless multitudes of the enervated and broken down, and yet the long, unbroken records of its cures before him, it seems amazing that any sufferer from premature decay, nervous weakness, dyspepsia, biliousness, chronic constipation, or disease of a remittent or intermittent character, should delay, even for an hour, to seek the aid which its toning, regulating and invigorating properties have never failed to afford.

It is no exaggeration to say that Bostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most faithful ally of nature, in her struggles with weakness and disease, that medical botany and honest chemistry have yet given to the world.

The Boston and Maine Railroad Company has asked the supreme court of Massachusetts to grant a temporary injunction to restrain the Eastern Railroad Company from taking land on Causeway Street, Boston, owned by the Boston and Maine. The right to take the land for terminal facilities was given to the Eastern road by the legislature of 1872.

Those genial gentlemen who "pipe on the lea," Oscar and Cedric Laighton, have made great preparation for coming visitors, and among other improvements have put in gas to take place of the obnoxious hand-lamps which have furnished doubtful light in years past. The steamer Appledore is in apple-pie order and runs regularly—making the trip each way in 70 minutes. A larger company have arrived than at so early a period for years, among them some belles who go to make up a jolly family party—for the first comers become as one family. But even this family is largely on the increase, for hundreds of people have already engaged room and are coming by every train and boat. Excursions from Appledore to Rye Beach have set in—in which the young men seem greatly interested, for reasons best known to themselves.

State News.

The Manchester Union says the rumor which has been going the rounds of various papers, to the effect that Pres. Smith, of Dartmouth College, contemplated resigning and that Senator Patterson was to take his place, is entirely without foundation.

The thermometer was up to 104 in Franklin, June 21, and remained above 100 for eight hours.

Eva Morrill, of Chelsea, Mass., an orphan girl who has been attending the Adams Female Academy in Derry the past year, left her boarding place in Derry at half-past 7 o'clock on the evening of June 23, and is supposed to have drowned herself, her hat having been found near the river and a letter she left behind announcing her intention to commit suicide. No reason is given for the act. Later news, per Concord Monitor, says the people of Derry, after making diligent search until the afternoon of the 24th, found the missing girl in a barn half a mile from the pond in which it was supposed she had drowned herself, thoroughly drenched and with her ardor for suicide entirely abated.

The Concord Monitor says: Hon. E. H. Rollins has been elected Secretary and Treasurer of the Colorado Central Railroad, and will soon assume the duties of the office, in connection with those which he now discharges for the Union Pacific Railroad. This will largely add to his duties and responsibilities.

Mayor Cheney of Manchester, with his family, are at Rye Beach for the summer.

Dr. How of Manchester lost a valuable horse June 25. It staggered and fell down in the street, and died in a few hours. Dr. Brown, who lives next door to Dr. How, has a horse which manifests symptoms of the same disease.

Charles S. Hopkins, a native of Dover, was murdered by Indians, June 11, near Fort Bascom, New Mexico, where he had resided since 1859.

The Bethel Steam Mills Company have a drive of five million logs on the Androscoggin River, in the vicinity of which about two and a half millions are in one jam on Berlin Falls. The like was never witnessed before on the stream. It extends about eighty rods along the river over the greatest pitches on the falls. The jam commenced at two o'clock, the 5th inst., and at nine in the evening the logs were all in. It was fearful to see them run together, and as some portions would rise above the others and be forced to pile up higher by the enormous pressure of the water from above, a great many were unable to resist the strain, and a continual snapping would be heard from all parts of the jam.

A remarkable case of what is popularly known as dry mortification, in the person of a Mrs. Swain, eighty-one years old, has occurred in Pittsfield. It began at the too last November and proceeded until it reached almost to the knee, when a distinct line of demarcation took place between the living and dead part of the leg. On the 19th of June Dr. Carr of Pittsfield amputated above the knee and the patient is doing well.

The News

Seventeen-year locusts have made an appearance in large numbers in the vicinity of Falmouth, Mass.

The Fire Marshal's investigation in regard to the explosion at the Liberty-street fire, New York, by which over twenty persons were burned by chemicals, is concluded. It was shown that the fire was caused by the vapor from nitrous ether taking fire from the gas jet in the basement of the store. Geo. A. Eckenbach, the proprietor of the place, admitted to the Fire Marshal that when he stored the spirits of nitre in the building he was aware the vapor was very inflamable, and he was fearful of disastrous results.

It is stated that the Roman Catholic Irish of New York threaten violence to the Orangemen if the latter attempt a parade on the 12th of July. Influential Catholics and Orangemen have had conferences, to endeavor to do away as much as possible with cause of offence on the part of the Orangemen, and to prevent their disturbance by their opponents. The foreign-born citizens may as well learn now as at any other time that they only share in the liberties of the country—not monopolize them.

Thirty-five of the seventy persons injured by the railroad accident on the Grand Trunk near Belleville, Ontario, are dead, and the doctors think not more than ten or twelve of the others will survive their injuries.

The Irish citizens of Boston are making arrangements for a grand demonstration in honor of the Irish band, on their arrival.

The rains have produced a heavy flood in Tioga River, in Tioga County, Pennsylvania, and 3,000,000 feet of logs have been swept away. The Lawrenceville and Wellsbore Railroad is washed away in several places and all travel is stopped. The whole country is inundated, the water being over the fence-tops, washing out grain fields and compelling the people to move out of their houses in boats.

Portland voted not to extend its credit to the Portland and Ogdensburg railroad, on June 25th. There is to be another vote on the question.

The Coliseum on Tuesday contained from fifty to seventy-five thousand people. In the auditorium every seat, up stairs and down, was occupied and thousands crowded the standing-places. President Grant and other prominent men of the nation were present throughout nearly the whole of the entertainment. All the foreign bands appeared and the programme was of remarkable excellence although rather long.

Nilsson is to be married to Auguste Rouzand, in London, the last week in July. Rouzand is French, about 36 years old, and a stock broker residing in Paris. The bridal pair intend to sojourn in Swizerland during their honeymoon, and Miss Nilsson will re-appear on the operatic stage in Russia in September next.

Ida Eaton of Salem, Mass., committed suicide by drowning, June 25. She was 17 years of age, and had been troubled with fits.

Political.

The Republican convention of the First Congressional District of Maine met at Portland June 26, and nominated Hon. John H. Burleigh of South Berwick on the fourth ballot, as candidate for Representative to Congress. Gen. Wentworth's name was withdrawn and his supporters consolidated on Burleigh.

The Concord Patriot says: "The Radical ticket is well made up as regards the temperance question. Wilson suits the cold water folks, and Grant suits those who, like the old toper, say for a steady drink give me rum!" Grant has not yet taken to buttered watermelon, at all events, Mr. Patriot.

PAYMASTER'S OFFICE,

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 20, 1872.

Sealed proposals to furnish the following articles will be received at this office until 12 o'clock at noon on the 27th day of June, 1872, at which time the bids will be opened.

Proposals must be endorsed PROPOSALS FOR SUPPLIES ADVERTISED, that they may be distinguished from other business letters, and directed to Paymaster EDWIN PUTNAM, Portsmouth, N. H. All articles to be of the BEST QUALITY, free from defects, and to be delivered at the NAVY YARD, Portsmouth, N. H., in good order and condition, free of expense to the Government, and subject to inspection and measurement according to the rules adopted by the Navy Department.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids that may not be deemed advantageous to the government.

FRESH BEEF AND VEGETABLES.

OFFICE OF PAYMASTER,
PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 24, 1872.

Sealed Proposals, endorsed "PROPOSALS FOR FRESH BEEF AND VEGETABLES," will be received at this office until 12 o'clock, M. on the 25th day of June 1872, for the supply of Twenty Thousand (20,000) pounds of Fresh Beef and Twenty Thousand (20,000) pounds of Fresh Vegetables, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard and Station, as required.

The Beef must be of good quality, and equal to the grade necessary to make the best mess beef, and be delivered in equal proportion of fore and hind-quarters. The Vegetables must be of the best quality the market affords, and the Beef and vegetables must be offered for by the pound.

Bonds, with approved security, will be required in onequarter the estimated amount of the contract, and twenty per cent. in addition will be withheld from the amount of each payment, as collateral security for the due performance of the contract, which reservation will not be paid until the contract is fully complied with.

Every offer must be accompanied by a written guaranty, signed by one or more responsible persons, that the bidder or bidders will, if his or their bid be accepted, enter into an obligation within five days, with good and sufficient securides, to furnish the articles proposed.

No proposal will be considered unless accompanied by such guaranty, and the Department reserves the right to reject any proposal unless the responsibility of the guarantors is certified to by the Assessor of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside, and unless satisfactory evidence that the bidder is a regular dealer in the articles he offers to supply is furnished with the proposal, as well as to reject any proposal not considered advantageous to the Government.

It is to be understood that the contract will expire at the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1873, without regard to the quantities which may have been del vered, and, in case the stipulated quantity of either article shall be delivered before that date, leaving a balance due on the other article, the contract may be considered as completed in full, at the option of the Department. SPLENDID COUNTRY REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

The beautiful property known as the

"Dr. Stevens' Place."

Situated in Greenland, N. H., in close proximity to the Railroad station, on the old stage route from Portsmouth to Exeter, and four miles from the first named place.

The property consists of 25 Acres most excellent Land, all in grass or tillage, and in a high state of cultivation, upon which are some fifty lofty and beautiful Shade Trees, 120 thrifty Apple Trees, all in bearing, and some 90 Pear, Cherry and Peach Trees, a large Asparagus Bed (will cut 300 bunches next season) Gooseberry Bushes in great profusion, Currant Bushes, a large bed of Rhubarb planted and Strawberry beds.

The buildings consist of a handsome Cattle Barn (the dwelling house having been burned last November), 40 feet square, with a splendid cellar beneath for storing fruit and vegetables, making manure and keeping hens in winter; a fine, well appointed Stable for three horses with spacious Carriage room; a large and well made Tool House and Workshop with Piggery attached; also a fine summer Hen House with splendid run and appurtenants. All the above buildings are in perfect order and are well painted.

The site for the house is all that could be desired, being well elevated and commanding, and having a large and beautiful lawn in front, well lenced and splendidly embellished with Hedges, Bushes, Spruce Maple and Elm trees.

To any one wishing a beautiful Farm for the sake of the health and pleasure of a farm life, or to any one desiring a Country estate for a Summer Residence with the privilege of erecting a house to suite their means and convenience, this offers a rare and inviting opportunity.

The subscriber will hold this offer of sale open only for a limited time,—to July 23d. If not disposed of previous to that time, it will be withdrawn.

Should a purchaser present, possession will be given immediately with the Crops, or later with the crops removed, as may be agreed upon.

☞ Terms $2000 down, the balance to suit the convenience of purchaser. Apply to DR. A. P. STEVENS, No. 5 Congress Street, Portsmouth, N. H., or to JOHN B. STEVENS, Esq., on the premises. j18

New Publications.

Oliver Optic's Magazine for July, the commencement of a new volume, contains 6 illustrated articles, "Little Bobtail, or The Wreck of the Penobscot," "Winning his Spurs, or Henry Morton's First Trial," "Only Girls," "Among the Reefsmen," Alfred in the Danish Camp, and Dolly Varden. The editor and the publishers have combined to make this number superb. Published at $2.50 per annum, by Lee & Shepard, Boston.

Blackwood's Magazine (Am. rep.) for June contains: The Maid of Sker—Part IX; Hood Immemor—Thackery in America; Zanzibar—a Review; A true Reformer—Part IV.; New Books, and The Downward Course. Leonard Scott Pub. Co., 140 Fulton St., New York; $4 per year.

The Lady's Friend, for July, has for a leading plate a copy of Millais' famous picture of the Huguenot Lovers, accompanying which is a poem. The great St. Bernard Convent and Lake, is also an interesting picture. The Fashion illustrations are abundant and tasteful; and the Matchless Scottische a new and lively piece of music. Ella Rodman Church and Miss F. Hodgson have good stories,—the latter especially fine. Mrs. Wood's novel is very interesting; and "An Everyday Heroine," by Amanda M. Douglas, is one of her best. There is a poem by Eleanor Donnelly, and a Song in the Wood, by Louise Chandler Moulton. Price $2 a year. Published by Deacon & Peterson, Philadelphia.

—A border-ruffian of a postmaster out West cancels letter-stamps with his boot-heel.

—This kind of literature is still popular in Missouri: "The agglutinated eyelids of McLeod of Claiment were first separated by an attentive nurse 83 years ago. Since that time they have never looked upon a rain that for wetness would equal that which spread itself over this village last week."

—A Santa Fe, New Mexico, reporter achieves this model obituary:—"Death with fleshless knuckles, rapped at the door of Mrs. J. B.'s soul, and obedient to the inexorable call, the spirit of that loved woman floated up to its Creator, leaving her husband, children and friends to mourn over the mortal casket."

—One of the lady members of the Worcester chorus found a pair of opera glasses, a magnificent ring and a real lace handkerchief at the Jubilee on Tuesday. The ring and glasses she took to the office, and the handkerchief she kept as a reward for her honesty. An editor from central Massachusetts called at the office of the press committee and said his wife and son and his son's wife were with him, and he wanted as good seats as there were for their accommodation, and also wanted them to send down a man to bring up his trunk.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

NO. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

HOLLOWAY'S

PILLS AND OINTMENT.

Every Man His Own Physician.

CAUTION.

THE immense demand for HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT, has tempted unprincipled parties to counterfeit these valuable medicines.

In order to protect the public and ourselves, we have issued a new "Trade Mark," consisting of an Egyptian circle of a serpent, with the letter H in the centre. Every box of genuine HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT will have this trade mark on it; none are genuine without it.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN

HAIR RENEWER.

ITS EFFECT IS

MIRACULOUS.

It is a perfect and wonderful article. Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any "oil" or "pomatum." Softens brush, dry and wiry hair into Beautiful Silken Tresses. But, above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR.

The whitest and worst looking hair resumes its youthful beauty by its use. It does not dye the hair, but strikes at the root and fills it with new life and coloring matter.

The first application will do good; you will see the NATURAL COLOR returning every day, and the old, gray, discolored appearance of the hair will be gone, giving place to lustrous, shining and beautiful locks.

Ask for Hall's Sicilian Hair Renewer; no other article is at all like it in effect.

See that each bottle has our private Government Stamp over the top of the bottle. All others are imitations.

A DYING NATION.—The accounts of the famine in Persia, which continue to arrive in great detail, bid fair to treat the world to the spectacle of a calamity the like of which has not been witnessed in historic times at least—the sudden extinction of a nation for want of food. This has been the fate of the great States which once filled the valley of the Euphrates, and it is a fate which has for centuries been threatening some modern States—Spain for instance. Man has stripped the soil of trees; the absence of trees has brought droughts; droughts have slowly diminished the productive powers of the ground, and finally destroyed them; the population meantime dwindling in numbers and vitality. Spain had forty millions of people in the time of the Romans, and flowed in milk and honey; it is now an arid region, only half of it under cultivation, with only sixteen million inhabitants, and, if modern science had not come to its aid, it would probably go the way of Babylon. Persia was one of the most powerful States of antiquity, and even in the fourteenth century was able to support the army of Tamerlane, who marched without commissariat or baggage, during a bloody contest. It is now almost a wilderness, with a population of only two million—about half of them nomads,—which is rapidly perishing from famine, brought on by drought. The worst of it is, that owing to the absence of common roads or railroads, it seems to be impossible for the charity of the world to reach the sufferers, so that there is really a prospect of the total depopulation of the country.

—Of forty-two Atlantic steamers lost at sea between the years 1841 and 1872, thirty-eight were of iron, and four of wood. Of the line of iron ships running into the St. Lawrence and Portland, nine were lost between 1857 and 1864; and five iron sailing vessels, all built in Great Britain, and sent to sea in 1865 and 1868, have never been heard from. This singular fatality is thought to prove that in heavy seas and storms, iron ships are inferior to those built of wood.

—An insane man who left his home in Michigan about a year ago, has since been traveling about under the impression that he was somebody else, but retaining at the same time a peculiar interest in his real self. He would write home to his wife occasionally, inquiring after her husband, being especially anxious to learn whether he had "got over his crazy spell or not."

—One more idiotic one gone to rest is thus recorded by a matter-of-fact local reporter in Davenport, Iowa: "A girl on Monday evening repeated the oft-tried experiment of building a fire with kerosene. She succeeded; aged twenty."

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or price—and many of these are so we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use this to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LAXITUDE and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUCHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

CORNS, Bunions, Bad Nails, and other diseases of the feet, Scrofulous and Cancerous Humors, Piles, etc., skillfully treated at the great central Chiropodical and Healing Institute, No. 755 Broadway, New York. DR. J. BRIGGS, President; DR. ALEXANDER WEBBER, Secretary. ap3

FRIDAY, JUNE 28, 1872.

The Jubilee.

COLISEUM, June 26.

Another day of this enchanted life. It is not so popular with door-keepers, policemen, members of the various committees, ushers, and other, who have the work to do and must pass most of their time preventing their fellow mortals from going where they want to go, as it is with those who have only to look on and listen. The Jubilee is like the world and life in general; it is a great bore and humbug, or a miracle of delight, according to the observer's position in it.

There must have been a great variety of opinions in that audience yesterday, and the accounts of the occasion will agree about as well as the various histories of Mary, Queen of Scots. The rose color and gold reports will come from the centre of the house, the balconies, and the better seats in the chorus. Those from the rear of the parquette and the extremes on both sides, and from those who stood in the galleries, will be more somber in hue, while from under the galleries and from behind the great square pillars nothing will emanate but the "blackness of darkness," disgust at the Jubilee and all that belongs to it. [It has just been announced to the members of the press, who are busy getting off their letters, that Rev. Mr. Hepworth has gone up in the balloon, "The Castle in the Air," to join the church triumphant as is supposed. Whether he is coming back or not is not known.]

Every seat and nearly every foot of standing room was occupied yesterday afternoon and the sight of that multitude was in itself enough to justify the Jubilee. If it did nothing more than to assemble under one roof and in one hall sixty thousand of the human race and keep them in perfect order for four consecutive hours, that would have been one of the wonders of history. But it did much more. It roused that living ocean into tempests of enthusiasm, lulled it into impressive silence, made it ripple and sparkle with pleasure, lift itself in great billows of patriotism that broke with a sound of thunder, as the three best bands of Europe, Peschka-Leutner, or Strauss, or the great chorus and the Star Spangled Banner displayed their varion powers of enchantment.

And now tokens of the Terpsichorean Festival to take place to-night, are beginning to appear all about the Coliseum. The sound of hammers is heard, festoons of evergreen adorn the balconies, contrasting handsomely with their gold and crimson ornamentation, the gas fixtures that surround all the pillars are hung with evergreen and from each of the four corners float long streamers of smilax, scattered with pinks and white carnations. Pyramids of spruce about seven feet high, filled with gay colored flowers, are resplendent between the pillars, and great tufts of ferns and flowers ornament two sides of each pillar, a few feet below the gas-burners. The ball to-night will rival the gorgeous pictures of the Arabian Nights, and as great a crowd as yesterday's is anticipated, if the weather is favorable.

There was a very interesting rehearsal this forenoon, thinly attended except by the artists themselves. The orchestra played the overture "Kaiser" magnificently, under Mr. Gilmore's leadership, and Madame Leutner sang "Home, Sweet Home," in which no foreign accent was perceptible until the word "cottage" in the second verse, which she pronounced "cot-taishe," and lengthened the last syllable instead of the first as we invariably do. The effect was very quaint and pretty. Herr Strauss conducted the "Circassian March" in his inimitable way, Carl Zerrahn led the chorus in "Thanks be to God," and the bouquet of artists was drilled by Gilmore in the Finale of the 3d act of Martha. That Bouquet doesn't keep in place like one of Galvin's. They are never together when wanted, at rehearsal, and somebody has to come to the edge of the stages make a trumpet of his hands, and shout "Members—of—the—bo—kay—this—way," and a few straggle up from amongst the audience. While the rehearsal of Martha was going on, Strauss and another gentleman were talking near the stage, when one of the altos leaned forward and passed him a paper, at the same time saying what I could not hear. But I soon knew what it was, for he took out his pencil and wrote on the paper, with the stage for a table. The autograph mania is raging fearfully among the chorus, I hear, and Strauss is the principal victim.

The Congressional Convention

Of the first (Maine) District had four ballots for a candidate, as follows:—

FIRST BALLOT.

Whole number of ballots	207
Necessary for a choice	104
Gen. Mark F. Wentworth of Kittery	81
Col. James M. Stone of Kennebunk	86
Hon. John H. Burleigh of So. Berwick	22
Hon. E. H. Banks of Biddeford	15
C. Hill	2
Nathaniel Hobbs	1

There was no choice. While the committee was counting votes for representative, Mr. J. H. McMullen of Biddeford was nominated for presidential elector by acclamation.

SECOND BALLOT.

Whole number of ballots	208
Necessary to a choice	105
Wentworth	82
Stone	98
Burleigh	20

The nomination was made unanimous.

Editorial Notes.

Homely girls at the Jubilee ball; lots of 'em.

An indefatigable clerk—Mr. E. S. Payson, of the Jubilee Press Committee.

The receipts at the Coliseum on Tuesday were $71,000.

The members of the Jubilee chorus are to have a complimentary ball next Monday evening.

The Stokes trial commenced on Wednesday, twelve jurors having been obtained.

An exchange is bothering itself over the question "Did Paul have a wife?" Obsolete, man!

Baltimores 9, Nationals 1.

—Why is Gilmore like the Goldsmith Maid? Because he beats the best time on record.—Exchange.

Incorrect! Carl Zerrahn beats "the best time on record." Gilmore is a poor conductor but has earned the reputation of organizing "the best time on record."

There were 65 murders (proved to be such) in New York city last year. One of the murderers was hung in vindication of the majesty of the law, but no affront was thereby cast upon the class which furnished nearly all the murderers, for this one was a colored man.

Who was the father of C. B. D.'s children? Boston Herald please answer.

An inward Moniter be-Fogged—that at Concord.

Mrs. Loomis, while lecturing against woman suffrage in San Francisco, was interrupted by hisses and jeers by leading female suffragists who were present. Hon. David Meeker insisted that this disgraceful conduct be stopped or the offending women be compelled to leave the hall. Mrs. Emily Pitts Stevens, editor of the Pioneer, drew a pistol on him and demanded an apology, but was forced to put the pistol in her pocket by the bystanders.

Railroad engineers have found a box in the rocks between Astoria and Cornelius, Oregon, containing $5100 in old Spanish coin and a quantity of jewelery.

State News.

Mrs. W. S. Eaton of Exeter died suddenly on Tuesday, while in the cellar of the house, procuring potatoes for dinner.

Mr. George V. Cotton of Lancaster fell from the roof of his barn and was fatally injured.

Harriet Beecher Stowe is to pass part of the season at Hampton Beach and vicinity.

COLFAX.—The reception given to Vice-President Colfax on the occasion of his return to Indiana, shows that notwithstanding his failure to secure a second nomination to the Vice-Presidency, his popularity is not waning. The outpouring of friends and neighbors could have no other interpretation than that of regard. Even political considerations were thrown aside, and Democrats and Republicans alike joined to do him honor.

—A party of Harvard students on the rampage at New Haven, had the pleasure of making up a purse of $125 for the benefit of the police court next morning.

A WHOLE PEOPLE'S OPINION.—When a nation of forty millions accepts and endorses as a Standard Restorative an article that it has had the fullest opportunities of testing during a period of twelve years, who can be so absurdly incredulous as to doubt the excellence of the preparation? Plantation Bitters has passed through this ordeal and is now the most popular proprietary medicine on this continent. It would be difficult to find an adult of either sex between the Atlantic and the Pacific, or between the northeast corner of Maine and the Gulf of Mexico, who does not know, either from personal experience or observation, that this renowned vegetable remedy is the purest tonic and stomachic and the finest alterative and regulating medicine at present before the world. As a preventive of, and cure for, diseases generated by malaria, and as a specific for dyspepsia, rheumatism, and all nervous and bilious affections, it is admitted to be fairly pronounced the Favorite Household Tonic and Alterative of the Western Hemisphere.

Special Notices.

Lost Health Regained.

Self-neglect lays the foundation of much bodily suffering. As a rule men are more solicitous to repair and preserve their houses, stock in trade and other perishable property than to repair and preserve themselves. They can see when a wall requires a prop, or a weak structure a girder, but appear to be unconscious of, or indifferent to, the cracks and flaws and evidences of decay in their own frail and sensitive organizations.

The consequence of this want of common prudence is that thousands fall by the wayside in the prime of life every year who might have lived to enjoy a hale and hearty old age, if they had resorted to the proper means of recruiting their failing vigor at the proper time.

Seeing what that famous vitalizing and invigorating elixir, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, has done for countless multitudes of the enervated and broken down, and with the long, unbroken records of its cures before him, it seems amazing that any sufferer from premature decay, nervous weakness, dyspepsia, biliousness, chronic constipation, or disease of a remittent or intermittent character, should delay, even for an hour, to seek the aid which its toning, regulating and invigorating properties have never failed to afford.

It is no exaggeration to say that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most faithful ally of nature, in her struggles with weakness and disease, that medical botany and honest chemistry have yet given to the world.

The dog poisoner is about. Fido objects to having strychnine put on his food and then does not relish being hammered on the head afterwards, with a club, until he can't kick.

The ever popular and deserving J. L. Hall and wife will appear at the Temple in comedy next Monday evening. See advertisement.

The occupation of a box of strawberries costs 35 cents in Portsmouth. No half price for children.

We are requested to state that young Teague, who figured in our police report several days since, is not ex-policeman John Teague. Nobody who knows the latter gentleman would suspect that he was the person spoken of.

We regret to learn of the continued severe illness of Ex-Mayor Jonathan Dearborn. Hosts of friends wish his recovery.

Brock's Crossing will hereafter be known as Conway Junction.

Fish are said to be scarce in the lower harbor since the U. S. S. Tuscarora's torpedo practice commenced there.

By the advertisement in another column it will be seen that Mr. Greeley is to be present at the Jubilee to-day, and that Mr. P.S. Gilmore is to have a grand complimentary benefit on Saturday, at which the three foreign bands, the New York Ninth Regiment Band and Gilmore's Band will appear.

The Arsenals.

In the House of Representatives, Wednesday, the joint resolution concerning the sale of certain arsenals and powder houses came up, when Mr. Robinson of Portsmouth moved its indefinite postponement.

Mr. Patten of Kingston objected to this process, as the property at Portsmouth was useless at present, was a source of expense to the State, and there was no real reason why it should not be sold in the same way as the gunhouses had been sold.

Mr. Pendexter of Portsmouth said the Arsenal at Portsmouth was in good repair; and remarks were made by several gentlemen on the general subject, Mr. Brown of Derry arguing that the Arsenal at Lancaster certainly should be disposed of. Finally the House refused to indefinitely postpone the resolution and it was passed.

Political.

Messrs. W. H. Draper and Anthony Allaire have withdrawn from the Liberal Republican Local Committee in New York. They gave their reasons as follows: "Believing the safety of our country would be imperiled in the elevation of Horace Greeley to the Presidency, with his present political surroundings, and entertaining true Republican principles, we are compelled to resign from the committee."

The Chicago Times, the leading Democratic organ of the northwest, recently gave a double-leaded editorial headed "The Party of Advancement makes the Party of the Future," in which it took the ground that nomination of Greeley by the Baltimore convention is a foregone conclusion, and that the result is due to the manipulations of place-hunters and wire-pullers, who have effectually packed the Baltimore convention for Greeley.

At a recent meeting of the Greeley Democrats of Baltimore the chief speakers were Colonel Harry Gilmore, the noted Maryland rebel guerrilla, Col. E. M. Yerger, who killed Col. Crane, and Montgomery Blair. Col. Gilmore spoke of himself as struggling for the liberties of the southern people and endeavoring to restore to them those rights which have been so ruthlessly taken from them by the usurpations of a dishonest and tyrannical administration. Mr. Blair went on at considerable length to eulogize the Democratic party and to present Mr. Greeley as the candidate of that party instead of the nominee of the liberal Republicans.

The Washington correspondent of the Boston Advertiser writes that one of the chief manipulators of the Cincinnati convention has been passing some time of late in New York, perfecting the necessary machinery for meeting every emergency which has been thought possible at Baltimore, and forcing the nomination of Mr. Greeley in face of possible opposition. This gentleman told his personal friends that everything was provided for; that the plans laid to force Greeley at Cincinnati were simplicity itself compared with those perfected for Baltimore, and that it was now regarded by those inside as an absolute impossibility for those among the old and influential Democrats who were known to be bitterly opposed to Greeley to devise any means by which they can compass his defeat. He declared that the Greeley movement had already progressed so far among Democrats that the Democracy itself could not now control the matter, but that Liberal Republican manipulators could force Greeley through in spite of all Democratic intriguers who might appear at Baltimore.

The Boston Journal is afraid that Gov. Washburn will be unroofed by the coming political hurricane in Massachusetts.

The Chicago Tribune stated lately that the endorsement of Mr. Greeley by the Democratic Convention of Indiana practically secured that State to that party next November. To which the Indianapolis Journal retorts as follows: "If the Tribune means as we suspect it does, that Greeley will get the State electoral vote, the Chicago guesser is the wildest we ever heard of, except Cardinal Cullen, who 'guessed' that the 'sun might be six feet in diameter.'"

NATIONAL PROGRESS.—The Great American Institute announces its Forty-first Annual Exhibition, to be opened in the City of New York, on the fourth of September next. Applications for space to exhibit the best Agricultural Productions, Mechanical Inventions, Artistic devices, and valuable articles of American manufacture, are now in order. It is intended to make this the most extensive, useful and meritorious exhibition ever held in America.

THE COLISEUM REFRESHMENT ROOM There is a counter erected here—I don't know how many hundred feet long it is, my sense of size and numbers having been utterly confused of late—and on it are placed cakes, pies and other of the most impossible viands for the delectation of the chorus. Behind it are arrayed the most typical Yankee girls, in curls and spectacles. There must be fifty of them, arrayed like the lilies of the field, and sitting there on high stools gazing down at the wealth of luxuries that seem to groan because they are uneaten. Immediately opposite there is another counter, extemporized of boards, for the outpouring of beer, and between the two are congregated the German, English and French musicians, making a chorus that would shame the twenty thousand could they only put away their handkerchiefs long enough to come down and dispassionately listen to it. The curious contempt with which the Germans walk before the refreshment counter and the horrified curiosity with which they inspect, from a safe distance, the gingerbread and cream cakes, are laughable. I saw a King William fellow buy one of those latter articles, evidently with the idea that it might be a cake of pot cheese, and, biting through it, something gushed out into his moustache and beard, and he dropped it, with a frightened oath, upon the floor, where it fell with its own peculiar sickly sqush. Two or three of his companions put on their spectacles and bent over to investigate it, one of them touching it gingerly with his sword point. Then they attacked the innocent Yankee girl in force, and, by means of an interpreter who came up, made her to understand the cakes were all dough inside, and a pert little baggage, who wasn't a bit afraid of them, had to explain, of course, that that was the way they were made, and that what he mistook for dough was "the works."—N. Y. World.

—The officers of the Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette Railroad having had a misunderstanding with the corporation of a town on their line, they have cut off the telegraphic communication with the town, closed the station, removed the agent and ordered that under no circumstances shall a train stop there. The town will probably get tired of fighting that corporation.

—Gen. Butler is manifestly working a sharp card to secure Senator Wilson's place in the Senate; and we do not see but the leaders who so opposed him last year will feel obliged to yield it to him in order to save the Gubernatorial chair from his terrible assaults.—Boston News.

FRESH BEEF AND VEGETABLES.

OFFICE OF PAYMASTER, PORTSMOUTH, N. H. June 24, 1872.

Sealed Proposals, endorsed "PROPOSALS FOR FRESH BEEF AND VEGETABLES," will be received at this office until 12 o'clock, M. on the 29th day of June 1872, for the supply of Twenty Thousand (20,000) pounds of Fresh Beef and Twenty Thousand (20,000) pounds of Fresh Vegetables, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard and Station, as required.

The Beef must be of good quality, and equal to the grade necessary to make the best mess beef, and be delivered in equal proportion of fore and hind-quarters. The Vegetables must be of the best quality the market affords, and the Beef and vegetables must be offered for by the pound.

Bonds, with approved security, will be required in one-quarter the estimated amount of the contract, and twenty per cent. in addition will be withheld from the amount of each payment, as collateral security for the due performance of the contract, which reservation will not be paid until the contract is fully complied with.

Every offer must be accompanied by a written guaranty, signed by one or more responsible persons, that the bidder or bidders will, if his or their bid be accepted, enter into an obligation within five days, with good and sufficient securities, to furnish the articles proposed.

No proposal will be considered unless accompanied by such guaranty, and the Department reserve the right to reject any proposal unless the responsibility of the guarantors is certified to by the Assessor of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside, and unless satisfactory evidence that the bidder is a regular dealer in the articles he offers to supply is furnished with the proposal, as well as to reject any proposal not considered advantageous to the Government.

It is to be understood that the contract will expire at the close of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1873, without regard to the quantities which may have been delivered, and, in case the stipulated quantity of either article shall be delivered before that date, leaving a balance due on the other article, the contract may be considered as completed in full, at the option of the Department. The buildings consist of a handsome Cattle Barn (the dwelling house having been burned last November), 60 feet square, with a splendid cellar beneath for storing fruit and vegetables, making manure and keeping hens in winter; a fine, well appointed Stable for three horses with spacious Carriage room; a large and well made Tool House and Workshop with Piggery attached; also a fine summer Hen House with splendid run and appointments. All the above buildings are in perfect order and are well painted.

The site for the house is all that could be desired, being well elevated and commanding, and having a large and beautiful lawn in front, well tenced and splendidly embellished with Hedges, Bushes, Spruce Maple and Elm trees.

To any one wishing a beautiful Farm for the sake of the health and pleasure of a farm life, or to any one desiring a Country estate for a Summer Residence with the privilege of erecting a house to suite their means and convenience, this offers a rare and inviting opportunity.

The subscriber will hold this offer of sale open only for a limited time,—to July 25d. If not disposed of previous to that time, it will be withdrawn.

Should a purchaser present, possession will be given immediately with the crops, or later with the crops removed, as may be agreed upon.

☞ Terms $2000 down, the balance to suit the convenience of purchaser. Apply to DR. A. P. STEVENS, No. 5 Congress Street, Portsmouth, N. H., or to JOHN B. STEVENS, Esq., on the premises. j18

SWEETSER & CLARK,

No. 46 Market Street.

Morning Chronicle.

A FEMALE WARRIOR.—It is but a few weeks since A. M. Holbrook, one of the editors of the New Orleans Picayune, was married to a young lady whose nom de plume as a poetess is Pearl Rivers. The other day, as Mrs. Holbrook was at her toilette, becoming conscious that some one had entered her apartment, she turned round and was confronted by a handsome, well dressed woman, who immediately commenced firing upon her with a pistol. After a second shot had been fired Mrs. Holbrook seized the weapon, and the two women struggled for some seconds on the floor, when the assailant picked up a bottle of bay rum and shattered it in two hundred pieces over the head of her victim. Then she continued the attack with a china vase, and would have accomplished murder if the servant had not interfered and the injured lady fled to a neighbor's house, where her wounds were dressed. The servants all departed at once, and the infuriated female had the house all to herself, which she soon made the scene of confusion and ruin by smashing the elegant crockery and all the finest furniture. Some time afterwards a policeman arrived and effected a stay of proceedings taking her to the station-house, where Mr. Holbrook soon came and entered a complaint against her of assault with intent to kill. She proved to be his divorced wife Jennie Bronson, one of the fascinating, tigerish style of women of the Laura Fair stamp, who, by representing herself a prominent attorney's daughter, had married Mr. Holbrook when he supposed she was in a dying condition. She got well, however, and has lived to make him a good deal of trouble.—Post.

—But one fatal accident served to mar the harmony of the opening piece at the Boston Jubilee, says the Cleveland Leader, and that was entirely unavoidable. It appears a workman who had been engaged in sitting up the great organ the day previous had left his shoes in the great sixteen foot pipe, known as the "Bourbon double mouth." Thinking he had time to get his shoes before the performance, he descended the pipe, but while inside the signal came, the air was turned on, and like a stone from a catapult, his body was shot up through the roof, followed by his shoes, and both were picked up on Bunker Hill latter in the day. The trifling impediment of a human body in the pipes does not affect the beautiful clear tone of the organ in the least.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one never secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

HAIR RENEWER.

ITS EFFECT IS

MIRACULOUS.

It is a perfect and wonderful article. Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any "oil" or "pomatum." Softens brash, dry and wiry hair into Beautiful Silken Tresses. But, above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR.

The whitest and worst looking hair resumes its youthful beauty by its use. It does not dye the hair, but strikes at the root and fills it with new life and coloring matter.

The first application will do good; you will see the NATURAL COLOR returning every day, and the old, gray, discolored appearance of the hair will be gone, giving place to lustrous, shining and beautiful locks.

Ask for Hall's Sicilian Hair Renewer; no other article is at all like it in effect.

PACIFIC MAIL STEAMSHIP CO.'S

THROUGH LINE TO CALIFORNIA, CHINA AND JAPAN,

Touching at Mexican Ports and carrying U. S. Mail

FARES GREATLY REDUCED.

One of the large and splendid Steamships of this line will leave Pier No. 42, North River, foot of Canal St., New York, at 12 o'clock M., on the 15th and 30th of every month, (except when those dates fall on Sunday, and then on the preceding Saturday,) for ASPINWALL, connecting via Panama Railway with one of the Company's Steamships from Panama for SAN FRANCISCO, touching at MANZANILLO.

All departures connect at PANAMA with Steamers for SOUTH PACIFIC and CENTRAL AMERICAN ports. Departure of 15th, touches at Kingston, Jamaica.

For Japan and China, Steamer leaves San Francisco first of every month, except when it falls on Sunday, then on the day preceding.

One Hundred Pounds of Baggage allowed each adult. Baggage masters accompany baggage through, and attend to ladies and children without male protectors. Baggage received on the dock the day before sailing, from steamboats, railroads and passengers who prefer to send down carriages, and employ a competent surgeon on board. Medicine and attendance free.

For freight or Passage Tickets or further information apply at the Company's ticket office, on the Wharf, FOOT OF CANAL ST., NORTH RIVER, NEW YORK, to F. R. BABY, Agent; or to the Agents for New England, C. L. BARTLETT & CO., 16 Broad street, BOSTON,

WHAT TO DO IN CASE OF SUNSTROKE. Now that the true nature of the disease is known, the method of treatment becomes most obvious, and we learn not merely what to do. As heat is the cause of the symptoms, common sense points to the abstraction of the heat in some way as the mode of cure. There should in such cases be no waiting for the doctor. The remedy is so simple, the death so imminent, the good Samaritan passing by should save his brother. The good Samaritan must, however, have a cool head to be useful. Not every man who falls unconscious on a hot day has sunstroke. There is fortunately one criterion so easy of application that any one may use it. Go at once to the fallen man, open his shirt bosom and lay the hand upon the chest; if the skin be cold you may rest assured that, whatever may be the trouble, it is not sunstroke. If, on the contrary, the skin be burning hot, the case is certainly sunstroke, and no time should be lost. The patient should be carried to the nearest pump or hydrant, stripped to his waist, and bucketful after bucketful of cold water be dashed over him until consciousness begins to return or the intense heat of the surface decidedly abates.—Lippincott's Magazine for July.

—The Count de Grasse was once wounded in the knee with a musket ball. The doctors cut and hacked, and made many incisions, when, getting out of all patience, the Count asked why they cut him so much? "We are seeking," said the surgeon, "for the ball." "Why didn't you mention that before? I have the ball in my pocket!"

—An Illinois lady of Celtic descent lately blew down into the chimney of a kerosene lamp, and the lamp blew back again, and Bridget Monahan is no more.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

JURUBEBA

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a specific in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS. Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Corn Plaster is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TRUEFITHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

CORNS, Bunions, Bad Nails, and other diseases of the feet, Scrofulous and Cancerous Humors, Piles, etc., skillfully treated at the great central Chiropodist and Healing Institute, No. 765 Broadway, New York. DR. J. BRIGGS, President; DR. ALEXANDER WEBBER, Secretary. ap9

SATURDAY, JUNE 29, 1872.

The Jubilee.

COLISEUM, June 27.

We left the great chameleon last night flashing with the light of ten thousand lamps—a castle of fire as seen from our window at 2 o'clock A. M.; this morning we find him in his sober daylight guise again, no longer a ballroom but a music-hall. Miracles of labor have been performed in the night, or rather in the first few hours of Thursday, for the floor was occupied until the "morning light was breaking" by insatiable dancers. From an elevated seat in the front of the chorus we watched the scene from 8.30 P. M. until 1.30 A. M. It was low tide when we took our seat. Only a few thousand were scattered about the hall, almost imperceptible atoms in its immensity. But before nine the steady roar and rapid filling of the hall told that the tide was rising fast, but it did not reach high-water mark till nearly eleven. Then every creek and inlet of the great sea-bottom was full,—the ceaseless motion, the indistinguishable roar, the "many-twinkling smile of ocean," all were there, and we wanted more than ever before to ask "what are the wild waves saying?" Whatever it was there was a great deal of it, and it seemed to be of an agreeable nature, judging from the faces of those who were in the secret.

In front of the orchestra, and around the Conductor's stand, palms spread their fan-like oranches, the banana drooped its graceful leaves, arbor-vitae and other evergeens absorbed the light into their dark masses, and a score of young hemlocks around the orchestra enclosed them in a semicircular corner, which divided them from the chorus, at the same time obstructing the view of all who occupied seats in that vicinity. But at about 10.30 these hemlocks were removed, by some benevolent agency, the occupants of the chorus seats testifying their gratitude by applause. Who that enjoyed that sparkling scene could write soberly about it? Intoxication of any kind is not easy to describe; to those who would know the sensation, "go thou and do likewise" is the best advice. But when will they be able to do as we did last night, overlook a ball-room with 30,000 people on the floor, and watch its gentle continuous motion suddenly change to the flying measures of the waltz as Strauss the enchanter leads the dance? If John Knox could have been there, he would not have been contented to remain a spectator. He would have followed the Viennese composer as the mountains followed Orpheus. At all times of the performance a dense crowd of the non-fantastic-toed were gathered before the orchestra, watching Strauss with rapt attention. In order to catch this mail we must break the thread of our discourse abruptly.

Legislature.

In the House, on Wednesday, opposition was raised to the passage of the Board of Agriculture bill, appropriating $1000, by Mr. Hutchinson of Portsmouth, owing to its effect not being calculated to reach the farmers in the State. The money appropriated was not sufficient to provide for any good. Farmers' club were of no value in his experience; and it would be better to spend the money named in the bill in purchasing agricultural papers, such as were published in New York. He called for a division.

Mr. Pearson of Webster said the committee were unanimously in favor of the provisions of the bill, which he hoped would pass. If rejected, it would be evidence that the State was retrograding. He quoted the action of other States to show that the bill made a comparatively moderate demand on the bounty of the state, which could not afford to place the farmer any lower than he was now.

On a division, the passage of the bill was carried by a large majority.

A bill establishing the town of Greenville from part of the territory of the town of Mason was passed.

THE TRIAL OF STOKES was continued in New York before Judge Ingraham on Thursday. Hart, who actually saw Stokes shoot Fisk, gave his testimony in almost precisely the same words which he used before the grand jury. Mrs. Fisk was in the court room most of the day.

—A small boy arose at a Sunday-school concert and began quite gliby: "A certain man went down into Jerusalem to Jericho and fell—and fell"—(here his memory began to fail him) "and—and fell by the roadside, and the thorns sprang up and choked him."

State News.

A boy named Shehan fell from an attic window thirty feet from the ground, on Central street, Manchester and is not likely to recover. No bones broken or external marks of injury.

Gov. Straw has appointed Frank S. Dodge Sheriff of Merrimac county.

THE GENEVA ARBITRATORS have decided that the indirect claims did not come within the treaty of Washington, which leaves the arbitration entirely free to go on, and the indirect claims matter wholly unsettled between the two nations.

FICKLENESS OF FORTUNE.—While Nilsson returns to Europe with an immense bank account, Patti exists in a perpetual shower of diamonds and francs, Lucca is already rich, and the divinities of the hour are everywhere so prosperous, it is not without a pang of melancholy sympaty that one reads of Mario forced to return to the stage to which he so recently bade farewell, and Tagliori compelled to give dancing lessons in London. The great tenor lost his substantial fortune by the failure of his bankers in Florence. Tagliori's all was swept away in the war, and a similar misfortune brings both these noted artists again before the public of a new generation. It is a quarter of a century since Madame Tagliori retired from the stage. Fifty years ago her star arose in South Germany, and the whole continent was soon bidding for her presence. She married at the height of her fame; and, before she had lost one of the many wonderful attractions which made her famous, she retired with her husband to private life, leaving a name which is the synonym for all that is graceful and beautiful in her art. It is a hard fate which now brings her out of her retirement to earn subsistence in her old age by teaching a generation that knows her only by tradition, no less than which compels Mario to bring the remnants of his wonderful voice to the carping criticism of a world that has already enrolled his name among the great ones of the past.

THE DOUBLE TRAPEZE HALF A MILE HIGH.—J. E. Warner of the great Pacific Combination is the restless and enprising manager of some thirty-eight Summers, who modestly bides behind a big diamond breastpin, and is not satisfied with owning the biggest elephant and the only two horned rhinceros on this continent, with thirty cages of wild beasts in museum and splendid circus, exhibited under ten different pavilions, but is dying to give the people more of the good thing for fifty cents. Warner has actually persuaded a young and beautiful Spanish girl, named Leona Dare, who does marvellous feats upon the trapeze in the circus to make balloon ascensions. The trial trip was made on Thursday morning, at a point about nine miles south-east of our city. The balloon was inflated and at quarter to eight was cut loose, and the fine formed Leona, in circus clothes, dangling downward from the trapeze bar, holding in her teeth a strap which encircles the waist of Tommy Hall, her companion for first voyage in the air, left terra firma. Everything was still as death, and it was observed that Hall weakened a little, but the plucky "Queen of the Antilles," Leona, was perfectly cool. Just as soon as they left the earth Leona commenced spinning Hall around until it made us giddy. After this performance, while about three hundred feet in the air, they commenced their bistolzin performance, known in show language as the double trapeze, and almost everybody who has attended the circus can imagine much better than we can describe their various evolutions and gyrations. They performed all of the difficult and hazardous feats at an altitude of half a mile, with the same reckless daring that characterizes their performances under the pavilion, where, if they tumble their fall would not exceed thirty feet. Up, up, they went, until they were scarcely larger than our bands, and when we looked at them through a glass provided for the occasion, we breathed free and felt a relief to see that they had climbed upon the trapeze bar and were apparently enjoying a tete-a-tete while resting from their exciting and perilous exercises. The balloon descended very rapidly and landed about a half mile from the starting point in an open field, and our party rode up in time to witness their alighting. Hall was silent and sober, while Leona laughingly said to Warner, "How was that for high?"—Indianapolis Sentinel.

TIME TO CUT GRASS.—As the season for haying is again at hand, the question as to the best time for cutting grass and clover is agitated. We are of the conviction that the best time for cutting grass and clover is when in full bloom, or just as they come into blossom. The plants are then in their fullest growth. As grass passes out of bloom, its value for forage purposes begins to diminish, both with reference to quantity and quality. The stalks of grass become woody as the seeds mature, and for forage purposes these lose more than is gained in seed. Nine out of ten of the farmers who read this, we doubt not, will endorse our views as stated above. Another point of gain in cutting grass when in bloom, is, that the grass crop exhausts the soil much less than when suffered to stand late, as the time of forming and ripening the seed makes a heavy draught both upon soil and plant. Therefore, we would say to all, cut your grass when grown and fresh, if you would make the most and the best hay for feeding your stock in winter.

—Experts have decided that the cause of the explosion of the boiler of the steam-lighter Wallace in New London harbor was probably low water.

A WHOLE PEOPLE'S OPINION.—When a nation of forty millions accepts and endorses a Stomach Bitters as Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a fact of either sex between the Atlantic and the Pacific, or between the northeast corner of Maine and the Gulf of Mexico, who does not know, either from personal experience or observation, that this renowned vegetable remedy is the purest tonic and stomachic and the finest alterative and regulating medicine at present before the world. As a preventive of, and cure for, diseases generated by malaria, and as a specific for dyspepsia, rheumatism, and all nervous and bilious affections, it is admitted to be fairly pronounced the Favorite Household Tonic and Alterative of the Western Hemisphere.

USE KENNEDY'S HEMLOCK OINTMENT.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Fletcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Aches, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

IF you desire rosy cheeks and a complexion fair and free from Pimples, Blotches and Eruptions, purify your blood by taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It has no equal for this purpose.

VEGETINE is now prescribed in cases of Scrofula, and other diseases of the blood, by many of the best physicians, owing to its great success in curing all diseases of this nature.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—Operating through the bile and the blood, these great searchers of the system discharge from every organ the poison of disease. The facility with which they cure dyspepsia and diarrhœa is wonderful. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per box. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

Perfect Health Regained.

Self-neglect lays the foundation of much bodily suffering. As a rule men are more solicitous to repair and preserve their houses, stock in trade and other perishable property than to repair and preserve themselves. They can see when a wall requires a prop, or a weak structure a girder, but appear to be unconscious of, or indifferent to, the cracks and flaws and evidences of decay in their own frail and sensitive organizations.

The consequence of this want of common prudence is that thousands fall by the wayside in the prime of life every year who might have lived to enjoy a hale and hearty old age, if they had resorted to the proper means of reanimating their failing vigor at the proper time.

Seeing what that famous vitalizing and invigorating elixir, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, has done for countless multitudes of the enervated and broken down, and with the long, unbroken records of its cures before him, it seems amazing that any sufferer from premature decay, nervous weakness, dyspepsia, biliousness, chronic constipation, or disease of a remittent or intermittent character, should delay, even for an hour, to seek the aid which its tonic, regulating and invigorating properties have never failed to afford.

It is no exaggeration to say that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most faithful ally of nature, in her struggles with weakness and disease, that medical botany and honest chemistry have yet given to the world.

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO BE SUPPLIED TO THE NAVY YARDS UNDER THE COGNIZANCE OF THE BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., JUNE 22, 1872.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish Timber and other materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1873, will be received at this Bureau until 12 o'clock M. of the 23d of July next, at which time the bids will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed to the "Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, Navy Department, Washington," and must be endorsed "Proposals for Timber, &c., for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from ordinary business letters.

To prevent confusion, and facilitate the opening of the bids, parties bidding for supplies at several yards will enclose their bids in separate envelopes, each endorsed with the name of the yard for which the bid is made.

Printed schedules for such classes as parties deal in and intend to bid for, together with instructions to bidders, giving the forms of proposal, of guarantee, and of certificate of guarantors, with printed forms of offer, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the Commandants of the respective Navy Yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each Navy Yard, and the Purchasing Paymaster for each Station, will have a copy of the schedule of the other yards, for examination only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge whether it is desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposals must be for the whole of a class, but the Department reserves the right to reduce the whole class, should the interest of the Government require it, before the execution of contract. All applications for information, or for the examination of samples must be made to the Commandants of the respective yards.

By direction of the Department, bids or offers will be received only from parties who are bona fide dealers in, or manufacturers of, the articles they offer to furnish. The guarantors must be certified by the Assessor of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract will be awarded to the person who makes the lowest bid and gives the guarantee required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant.

Under the provisions of the second section of the act approved March 3, 1863, the offer of any person who, as principal or surety, has not filed his contract for 1871-'72 will not be received.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to the satisfaction of the Navy Department.

An additional security twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contracts shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of each bill, approved in triplicate by the Commandants of the respective yards, will be paid by the Paymaster of the station designated in the contract, or, if none is specified, by the Paymaster of the station nearest the yard where the goods are delivered, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The classes of this Bureau are numbered and designated as follows:

No. 1, White Oak Logs; No. 2, White Oak Keel Pieces; No. 3, White Oak Curved Timber; No. 4, White Oak Plank—Oregon Pine Deck Plank at Mare Island yard; No. 5, White Oak Boards; No. 7, Yellow Pine Logs — Oregon Pine Logs at Mare Island yard; No. 8, Yellow Pine Beams —Oregon Pine Beams at Mare Island yard; No. 9, Oregon Pine Mast Timber at Mare Island yard; No. 11, White Pine Logs; No. 12, White Pine Mast Timber; No. 13, White Pine Plank, Boards —Sugar Pine Boards at Mare Island yard; No. 15, White Ash; No. 16, Brown Ash, Redwood at Mare Island yard; No. 16, White Ash Oars; No. 18, Bl'k Walnut, Mahogany, Maple, Cherry; No. 19, Locust Timber; No. 20, Locust Treenails; No. 22, Cypress, Cedar; No. 23, Black Spruce; No 25, Lignumvitæ; No. 30, Ingot Copper; No. 32, Wrought Iron, round and square; No. 33, Wrought Iron, flat; No. 34, Iron, plain; No. 35, Steel; No. 37, Iron Spikes; No. 38, Iron Wrought Nails; No. 39, Iron Cut Nails; No. 42, Lead, pipe, sheet; No. 43, Pitch; No. 44, Tar; No. 45, Rosin; No. 46, Locks, Hinges, Bolts, of brass and iron; No. 49, Screws of brass and iron; No. 50, Files; No. 51, Augers; No. 52, Tools for shipwrights; No. 53, Tools for use in yard and shops; No. 54, Hardware; No. 56, White Lead; No. 57, Zinc Paints; No. 58, Colored Paints, Dryers; No. 59, Mineral Oil; No. 60, Varnish, Spirits Turpentine; No. 63, Sperm and Lard Oil; No. 64, Tallow, Soap; No. 65, Fish Oil; No. 68, Glass; No. 69, Brushes; No. 70, Dry Goods for upholstering; No. 71, Stationery; No. 72, Crucibles; No. 73, Ship Chandlery; No. 74, Acids; No. 75, Rosin, Pitch, Crude Turpentine; No. 77, Bedding, Pudding; No. 79, Leather, Tarpaulins, Rigging, Lacing; No. 80, Junk; No. 82, Bellows; No. 85, Anthracite Coal; No. 86, Semi-bituminous Coal; No. 87, Bituminous Coal; No. 88, Charcoal; No. 89, Wood; No. 90, Patented Articles.

ORDINANCE NO. 10.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Portsmouth as follows:

SEC. 1. That it shall be the duty of the City Marshal, Assistant Marshals and Police Officers of this City, under direction of the Mayor, to carry into effect and enforce the provisions of the one hundred and thirteenth Chapter of the Revised Statutes of this State, within the limits of this City; particularly so much of the same as is contained in the following extracts—in which the word "Town" is construed to mean City, and the word "Selectmen" is construed to mean Mayor and Aldermen, viz:

SEC 6. "No person shall, within the compact part of any town, fire or discharge any cannon, gun, pistol, or other firearms, or beat any drum, (except by the command of a military officer having authority therefor,) or fire or discharge any rockets, squibs, crackers or any preparation of gunpowder, (except by permission of a majority of the Police officers or Selectmen, in writing,) or shall make any bonfire, or improperly use or expose any friction matches, or knowingly raise or repeat any false cry of fire."

Notice is hereby given that the above ordinance will be rigidly enforced against any person who may violate its provisions.

City Councils.

In Board of Mayor and Alderman, Thursday evening, the petition of Frank Jones for leave to alter at his own expense the grade of a part of Frenchman's lane to conform to a turn-out on the Concord Railroad, was granted under the direction of the Committee on Streets.

Voted: That the subject of extending the sewer from Bridge Street across the proposed fill of E. R. R. be referred to Committee on Streets with power.

Voted; that the Committee on Streets be authorized to construct such crosswalk as they think proper from the north side of South Street to the Haven School House.

In Board of Aldermen hearing on petition for widening Warren Street was held.

Voted, that the board examine the proposed route on the 5th day of July, at 3 P. M.

The Chief Engineer appeared and objected to the use of a steam Fire Engine for pumping water from the reservoir while being built in Union Street. The matter was referred to the Committee on Fire Department with power.

Hall's Burlesque and Comedy company are coming Monday evening.

A. N. Brown & Co. offer some rare bargains at their dollar store under the Franklin House. The stock is neatly arranged and good. A list of many of the articles for sale for $1 may be found in the advertisement. The Brown Brothers believe in "quick sales and small profits."

The poll tax the present year is $2.10; last year it was $3.43. The rate of taxation this year is $20.95 on $1000; last year it was $22.85 on $1000. The city debt has been reduced the present year $39,700 by the application of state bonds. The total debt is now about $208,000.

Sch. Willie Seavey, Tarlton, and Sch. Patriot, White, arrived on Thursday from the western banks with full fares.

Our amusement seekers—and who has not enjoyed a circus or a wild beast show?—will enjoy a rare treat on Monday July 8th, when Howe's great circus and menagerie will pay Portsmouth a visit. It is now making its first tour of New England, and meeting with unprecedented success, drawing larger crowd than even the "Barnum Show" of last season. It is withal thoroughly meritorious in all its departments, and what with its procession in the streets—a gorgeous and imposing pageant; its circus performances, with a hundred male and female artists; the exhibition of trained tigers, hyenas and elephants, by the great Moloch; and its menagerie, with all the rarest animals ever captured; its monkeys, its birds, its ponies and zebra teams, will furnish plenty of excitement and plenty of wholesome amusement and genuine fun.

Ex-City Marshal J. Horace Kent of this city has been appointed Assistant Superintendent of the Washingtonian Homeat Boston.

An evening sheet which circulates a few copies of trash gratis, makes the ridiculous statement that one of the gentlemen named for the position of Mayor was defeated after having it telegraphed to the Boston papers that he was a prominent candidate. This malicious falsehood was intended as a blow at the Associated Press correspondent, who had been named as a candidate for Mayor by his friends. The ridiculous falsehood circulated by the sheet referred to will be appreciated, as it is well known that Mr. Miller discouraged all attempts on the part of his friends to secure his election to the office of Mayor. There be people who are constantly suspicious—and Willie imagined that a "ring" was wanted to secure the election of a Mayor, when the only one really needed was one of thin rubber to hoop his own head with and prevent the sap exuding therefrom too freely.

"Amidst the gathering clouds," Friday afternoon, J. Pluvius gave us one more evidence that his liquid store was not exhausted. The rain ran down the streets in rivers—and then old Sol commenced kicking up a dust again.

Postmaster Peirce has received the following circular from the Department:—

By section 170 of the new postal code, the Postmaster General is authorized and directed to furnish and issue to the public "postal cards," with postage-stamps impressed upon them, to be transmitted through the mails at one cent each, for messages, orders, notices, and other short communications; and until such cards are issued by the Department, which will be done in due time, the law cannot go into effect, as there is no provision allowing of postal cards other than such as may be furnished by the Department, with stamps impressed upon them.

SUPERFLUOUS FLESH.—Not long ago a gentleman of three-score, who had hardly ever been sick in his life, thought he was too fleshy and began to Bantamize. He succeeded famously, and boasted to his friends that he had got rid of ten pounds in a few weeks. A little later he was attacked with a painful malady, from which he has been suffering more than a year. If a man can sleep soundly, has a good appetite, with no unpleasant reminders after meals, the bodily habits being regular every day, he had better leave himself alone, whether he is as big as a hogshead or as thin and dry as a fence rail. Several cases of Bright's disease have been reported by medical men of reputation as a direct result of practising Bantam's plan of getting lean. The very best and safest way to get rid of fat is to work it off. This may be aided by eating food which contains a large amount of nitrogen and a small amount of carbon. Nitrogen food is that which gives strength, power to work, as lean meats; carbonaceous foods are those which make fat, such as cheese, potatoes, rice, corn, peas, beans, tapioca, arrow-root, corn-starch, milk, sugar, syrup, and all oily and fat food. Raw fruit and berries largely eaten are great aids to reducing weight. But, after all, the great reliance should be on exercise and work in the open air. Barclay, the great English pedestrian, performed greater feats than Weston, lost ten pounds in two or three days, walking, and was never the worse for it.—Hall's Journal of Health.

—A German poet has lately written a touching poem, in which the hero is represented as devoured by an alligator under a palm-tree on the shore of Lake Erie in America. The heroine hears of the terrible fate of her lover, down in the everglades of Florida, near the banks of Lake Superior, where she is living, and rushes down South to Lake Erie and lays in wait for that crocodile, captures him, cuts him open, extracts the body of her dead lover, purchases a rich coffin, and has him interred in magnificent style in Greenwood Cemetery, in New York, in the State of St. Louis. The poem is truly affecting.

—An Alabama man, "of the real old stock," declares: "I am tired of following after the Democracy and getting whipped. They can promise like everything, but when it comes to the performance you look around for them and they are not there."

Morning Chronicle.

THE CHICAGO TIMES is unhappy because the Greeley convention at Baltimore will nominate Greeley. We don't see why it should feel bad about it, for Greeley has certainly stooped as low to get the nomination as any reasonable Democrat could demand,—he cannot get any further down without digging a hole. But the Times not only reads "Greeley's hirelings" out of the Democratic party, but reads that party out of existence in case it nominates the old white hat for President. It says:

"The nomination of Mr. Greeley at Baltimore will terminate the organic existence of the Democratic party. In that act the party organization will abdicate its functions, and, of course, with such abdication the idea of party allegiance will cease; for there is no such thing as party allegiance to men, to candidates, or to conventions; such allegiance is due only to principles. Party organizations are nothing but instrumentalities by which some aggregate number of persons seek to carry certain principles into effect. When the instrumentality ceases to act for that purpose, or is perverted by scheming individuals to a different purpose, as the nomination for office of a declared enemy of the principles of the party, it ceases to exist as a party authority. The nomination or indorsement of Mr. Greeley at Baltimore will, therefore, put no man of Democratic principles under the slighest obligation to cast his vote for Mr. Greeley. It will be the disbandment of the party and the surrender of all its delegated authority to the members who delegated it, to be used by each and all of them as in their own judgment may seem proper, thus leaving the Democrats wholly without an organization and perfectly free to act as to each individual shall seem fit. The enemies of Democratic principle have captured the Democratic organization in order to wield it for the destruction of the Democracy. The hope for the latter is in the formation of a new party that will resurrect Democratic principles. The resurrection of those principles under the banner of an enemy is impossible. The Democrats might as well go to the Grant party as to the Greeley party in such a hope, as one as is pronounced an enemy to Democratic principles as the other."

Passing to the question as to how their new party shall come into being, the writer quotes the platform adopted by the recent conference of liberals in New York, and indorses it as containing the vital doctrines of Democratic faith; every plank expressing not only the vital need of the time, but of a higher and more advanced step in the progress of civilization, and concludes as follows:

"The time for the organization of the party of the future is now. As an organic instrumentality of progressive ideas, as the nucleus around which will gather men of earnest and enlightened purposes, as a means of rescuing from a contemptible fate the moral influence of a adherence to principles, the vital need of an organization for the future is upon us."

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON, After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. WHY HELMBOLD FAILED.—Helmbold's failure was due to great vanity. Everybody knows him as the patent medicine man—Helmbold's Buchu—who amassed a fortune from his medicine. It is about four years since he was making his greatest dash, and then his career was certainly a remarkable one. He had only been three years in trade in New York and had already made his medicines famous and become rich. His income was fifty thousand dollars a year, and all required was an attention to the business he had established. Instead of this however he became ambitious of political distinction. When Grant was nominated for the Presidency, A. T. Stewart advanced twenty thousand dollars toward an electioneering fund. Helmbold, who had the folly to believe in Seymour's chance, determined to outdo Stewart, and consequently advanced forty thousand dollars to his party. Forty thousand dollars is a large sum of money. It has generally been considered a sufficient capital for many kinds of business. That he should throw such a sum away could only be from a desire to outrival Stewart. Helmbold it is true expected to make money rapidly, but pride was continually in the way of enduring success. Having outbid Stewart in the political fund he determined to distance the Belmonts and Commodore Vanderbilt in equestrian style, and hence his equipage at Long Branch was the grandest ever seen there, with the exception of that displayed by Jim Fisk. There was incessant rivalry between this brace of fools; but in the long run Fisk came out ahead, which might have been expected, from his unbridled ambition, and vast resources. Helmbold changed his team every day in the week, but still Fisk excelled him. They have both reaped the reward of their folly, the one lying in a dishonored grave, while the other is a wanderer in foreign lands.

—A Quaker who had been troubled with rats informs a friend that he greased a thirty foot board, filled it full of fish hooks, set it up at an angle of forty degrees, and put a cheese at the top. The rats went up, slid back, and he caught thirty of 'em the first night.

—A patent has been taken out for an invention by which glass can be used as a building material for house fronts, floors, or pavements superior to marble in durability and economy. It can be made plain or variegated, and its colors are indestructible.

—The Nation says: "Our objection to Greeley is not that he is bad, but that he is totally opposed to the principles he undertakes to represent. It is like taking Satan as superintendent of a Sunday school.

Amos Kendall, Postmaster General under President Jackson, with portrait and illustrations, $5. Half-Hour Recreations In Popular Science. The growing demand in this country for books on popular science, encourages the editor and publishers to issue this series of papers, on scientific matters, modern discoveries, natural phenomena, social statistics, and other subjects, 25 cts. per number. Humanity Immortal; or, Man Tried, Fallen and Redeemed, by Laurens P. Hickok, D. D., L. L. D. Waifs from the Wayside of an Expressman, by T. W. Tucker. Three Generations, by Miss Sarah A. Emery, a tale illustrative of American Society in olden and modern times. A Baker's Dozen, Original and Humorous Dialogues, by Geo. M. Baker, for Schools and Private Theatricals. Sea and Shore, or, The Tramps of a Traveller, by Oliver Optic, concluding volume of the Onward and Upward Series. Little Grandmother, by Sophie May; this is the fourth volume of the popular Little Prudy's Flyaway Series. Desert of the Exodus or Journeys on foot in the wilderness of Sinai. Maurice on the Lord's Prayer.

CANARY BIRDS.
JUST RECEIVED a new lot of GERMAN CANARIES, which we warrant to be Good Singers; also CAGES of every desirable pattern. SWEETSER & CLARK, ap24 No. 46 Market Street.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.
All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.
THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. It does bro-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.
It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.
N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

JURUBEBA
THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
BLOOD PURIFIER.
Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LAST GUM and SINEW in the system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.
It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Stomach, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.
DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA
Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.
It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful Tonic and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lapaline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.
COUCHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.
CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or poison compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.
PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.
For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAYFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.
CORNS, Bunions, Bad Nails, and all other diseases of the feet, Scrofulous and Cancerous Humors, Piles, etc., skillfully treated at the great central Chiropodical and Healing Institute, No. 765 Broadway, New York. DR. J. BRIGGS, President; DR. ALEXANDER WEBBER, Secretary. ap9

MONDAY, JULY 1, 1872.

The Jubilee.

BOSTON, June 28.

Having reached on our way home a spot where we feel comparatively safe from the tremendous magnetism of the Coliseum, we venture to pause a minute to indite one more letter from the Puritan city, (which needs a new adjective very much.) Exhausted nature gave way yesterday afternoon, just after the French band had finished their exquisite performance of selections from "Lucia." The Jubilee had proved too much for us, and had also crippled Strauss, who beat time with his left hand yesterday, while the right hand hung at his side, disabled by rheumatism, which is no respector of persons since it did not spare this brilliant little specimen of animated nature. As we hurried out, fearing that some new musical fascination might exert its power and keep us in spite of ourselves, "my little body is aweary of this great world" came up to memory with a force quite new. The last words we heard on leaving the press-room were these, from one manager to another; "It looks more like a funeral than ever,"—meaning the scene in that room, where worn out reporters were straggling about and a few new, unknown, and unaccredited applicants for badges were thorning the much-suffering ones in authority.

We had but one wish, to get away from the musical Hercules who was killing us with his tremendous kindness. A night's repose worked a great change in us, however, as no doubt it did in our friend of the funereal brow,—if he was so fortunate as to get that repose; and this morning it was very difficult not to take the way that has become so familiar, up West Canton Street to the Press Headquarters. By the aid of friends, who do not yet wish to be bereft of us, we were enabled to turn in the other direction,—to forgo the charms of the morning rehearsal,—the prospect of seeing Strauss, and hearing Madame Leutner, and the occasional meeting with an old friend, which has given such interest to our mornings in the Coliseum.

At yesterday's concert, various tokens of the ball remained; "Galop" still stared at us in huge black letters on a white ground, from the front of the three balconies, where the name and number of each dance had been unrolled the night before. The festoons still ornamented orchestra and pillar; the great pyramids of flowers and hemlock, somewhat the worse for wear, still hung by invisible cords far overhead, swaying gracefully in the gentle breeze that plays continually through [illegible] the dove of peace, with [illegible] wings, still hovered over [illegible] of the main aisle, where [illegible] thought of the decorator [illegible] him, the day before. [illegible] plants were gone, and [illegible] from the [illegible]ons of the [illegible] large, no [illegible] on the floor [illegible] the orchestra, [illegible] were nearly full. The [illegible] which immediately [illegible] with which [illegible] finely performed by the [illegible], under Mr. Gilmore's [illegible] beat the first [illegible] some conception of the [illegible] done by that [illegible] bows quivered [illegible] hands flew about over the strings but was very [illegible] to wonder and hope to occupy [illegible] before the Jubilee [illegible] both the English and [illegible] before we left, [illegible] received, as usual, [illegible] the French [illegible] closely and quietly [illegible] anything else [illegible] yesterday perform[illegible] attention,—trills, [illegible] flashing, [illegible] quivering,—like the [illegible] of light in water. [illegible] sound was perfectly [illegible], and when it [illegible] the [illegible] delicate and wonder[illegible] in a harmless [illegible] solo player in the [illegible] soloist of this [illegible] smoothness [illegible] and in the clearness [illegible] with which the notes [illegible] this instrument, like showers of diamonds. He is only a boy of eighteen, but his wonderful playing has obtained for him the gift of a beautiful gold cornet, from appreciative France.

Joseph Lambert, the infant violinist, appeared upon the stand, early in yesterday's programme. The Coliseum doesn't fit him very well,—he is only about 2 1-4 feet high and very small, and it is loose for him,—but he was evidently willing to stay as long as he was wanted, and his father or whoever else has the management of him missed an excellent opportunity of taking him away when his sudden jump from the flowing measures of "The Last Rose of Summer" to the undignified jollity of "Fisher's Hornpipe" had brought down the house. He played remarkably well, is a very promising little musician, and his appearance yesterday was for the benefit of a large body of Sunday School children who were present.

On some accounts, this is a convenient time to be in Boston; you can wear your worst clothes, and need bring no better. No matter how you look; if you are dirty and ragged, or have anything singular in your appearance—if there is anything wrong about you, it will be put to the account of the Jubilee. You will be set down as one of the enthusiasts (the polite word for maniacs) on whose numerical strength the Jubilee depends. If somebody was not insane it would never succeed,—nor any other great enterprise. This day "the old white hat" is to be present and will probably be accompanied by fifty or sixty thousand other hats of various styles. We should like to share in the festivites of the occasion, which will be a brilliant one, from present indications.

Pleasant memories of the Press-room will remain with those who have enjoyed its convenient arrangement, its quiet, its coolness, and the urbanity of its courteous Superintendent S. R. Niles or his equally courteous assistant Mr. Ring. The lady reporters have been presented, on several days, with a nosegay each, of choice and fragrant flowers from Mr. Galvin's. The bearing of Mr. E. S. Payson, dispenser of entrance tickets to the greedy multitude of quill-drivers, has been marked by a suavity that proves him a true Lacedemonian in the power of self-control. He would have been glad, more than once, to exchange places with a man in the middle of a swarm of mosquitos; but this fact was to be inferred not from his language or appearance, but simply from a glance at his situation. Thinking of him and his fellow-sufferers about the building, yesterday afternoon as we were passing the empty tent where the Young Men's Christian Association hold meetings every day, we were tempted to leave a parting request, "Pray for the peace of Jerusalem."

But this was only the misanthropy of weariness; to-day our note would read,

> "Wake the song of Jubilee
> Lend as mighty thunders roar,
> Or the fulness of the sea
> When it breaks upon the shore!"

We left in a retired corner of the Press-Room, a pet lemon, our companion for many days, in whose fate we feel much interest. Whoever has the temerity to taste it, will never get the pucker out of his face again, nor recover the sweetness of his temper, if it at all resembles its fellow-lemon, also an ancient friend of ours, whose flavor we essayed to-day. It is to be hoped that no representative of the press will have added to his other misfortunes a taste of that venomous fruit.

Between Rowley and Newburyport, threatening blackness in the southern sky attracted general attention among the passengers in the noon train. The blackness spread with a rapidity that was really fearful; from south to north as far as eye could see it rolled its ominous folds, and arched over the wide sweep of the salt marshes with a vault of thick darkness that filled all hearts with awe. Its blinding vapors swept down toward us and closed us in; for a few seconds we seemed riding straight into "impenetrable night." We could scarce see each others' faces, the distant sea was blotted out, we thought of the last day and summoned all our fortitude. But the rain began to dash against the windows, the blackness of the distant cloud changed to grey as we entered it, and we were relieved to find that it held not a tornado but a thunder shower in its bosom. But we felt very sorry for the Jubilee, and anxious about the old white hat.

M. E. B.

The News.

The third suicide in Salem, Mass., last week, occurred Friday. Mr. James A. Dodge, a retired flour merchant of that city, cut his throat with a razor at the Essex House while in a fit of delirium tremens. The unfortunate man was about forty years of age and was very well connected.

Avery, a murderer, was hanged at Hackensack, N. J., on Friday.

Mr. Gilmore's benefit on Saturday drew the largest audience of the Jubilee, the Coliseum being crowded. Every seat was sold on Friday, and only "standees" were to be procured on Saturday. Mr. Greeley was not at the Jubilee on Friday.

The steamer Abyssinia, with the Irish band on board, arrived in New York on Saturday.

Dr. Houard has been released by the Spanish government "as an act of friendship toward the United States."

Peter Thompson attempted to charge a soda fountain in Dowe's Boston manufactory without knowing how, and was fatally injured by the explosion which ensued. Two other men were hurt, but not dangerously.

The freedmen's bureau is discontinued.

The Irish Band having arrived, today will probably be the "Irish Day" of the World's Jubilee. The Coliseum will be packed.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

TEN BECAUSES.—A hundred reasons might be given why Lyon's Katharion should be used by every intelligent human being in preference to every other preparation for the hair, but ten will suffice. Here they are: Because it nourishes the fibers, multiplies them and makes them grow; because it thus prevents them from withering and bleaching; because it removes the scurf and dandruff which choke them as tares choke the golden grain; because it keeps the scalp cool and prevents eruptions; because it renders the hair as lustrous as satin; because it makes it pliant and elastic; because it is a fragrant and delightful dressing; because it does not soil the pillow, the cap or the hat; because it is without a rival in cheapness, and because no other article sold for the same purpose, in this or any other country, possesses all, or even one-half, of these invaluable properties.

USE KENNEDY'S HEMLOCK OINTMENT.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Use no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Purgatives or Sickening Castor Oils, costs but 35 cents, and where it is not kept you will never be without it. Dr. Pitcher, N. Y.

HOP BITTERS.—Operating through the bile and the blood, these great searchers of the system discharge from every organ the poison of disease. The facility with which they cure dyspepsia and diarrhœa is wonderful. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per box. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

Lost Health Regained.

Self-neglect lays the foundation of much bodily suffering. As a rule men are more solicitous to repair and preserve their houses, stock in trade and other perishable property than to repair and preserve themselves. They can see when a wall requires a prop, or a weak structure a girder, but appear to be unconscious of, or indifferent to, the cracks and flaws and evidences of decay in their own frail and sensitive organizations.

The consequence of this want of common prudence is that thousands fall by the wayside in the prime of life every year who might have lived to enjoy a hale and hearty old age, if they had resorted to the proper means for recruiting their failing vigor at the proper time.

Seeing what that famous vitalizing and invigorating elixir, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, has done for countless multitudes of the enervated and broken down, and with the long, unbroken records of its cures before him, it seems amazing that any sufferer from premature decay, nervous weakness, dyspepsia, biliousness, chronic constipation, or disease of a remittent or intermittent character, should delay, even for an hour, to seek the aid which its tonic, regulating and invigorating properties have never failed to afford.

It is no exaggeration to say that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the most faithful ally of nature, in her struggles with weakness and disease, that medical botany and honest chemistry have yet given to the world.

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY—has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

ORDINANCE NO. 10.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Portsmouth as follows:

SEC. 1. That it shall be the duty of the City Marshal, Assistant Marshals and Police Officers of this City, under direction of the Mayor, to carry into effect and enforce the provisions of the one hundred and thirteenth Chapter of the Revised Statutes of this State, within the limits of this City; particularly so much of the same as is contained in the following extracts—in which the word "Town" is construed to mean City, and the word "Selectmen" is construed to mean Mayor and Aldermen, viz:

SEC. 6. "No person shall, within the compact part of any town, fire or discharge any cannon, gun, pistol, or other firearms, or beat any drum, (except by the command of a military officer having authority therefor,) or fire or discharge any rockets, squibs, crackers or any preparation of gunpowder (except by permission of a majority of the Police Officers or Selectmen, in writing,) or shall make any bonfire, or improperly use or expose any friction matches, or knowingly raise or repeat any false cry of fire."

Notice is hereby given that the above ordinance will be rigidly enforced against any person who may violate its provisions.

KID GLOVES,

JOUVIN'S BEST, for sale by

CHAS. E. SHEDD & CO.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

That "Ring."

Messrs. Editors:—The manager of the local Greeley organ has for some weeks past displayed a degree of anxiety concerning some mythical "ring" in the City Councils, which has been only less amusing than is his jubilant braying over the overthrow of the aforesaid imaginary ring. But his repeated statements, made as by "one having authority" and knowing all about everything, show him to be either an egotistical ass or a contemptible liar—possibly both.

In Friday's edition of the Greeley organ I find the following paragraph:

The election of Thomas E. O. Marvin to the office of Mayor by the City Councils, is a bitter disappointment to certain other ambitious individuals. One in particular who had "ploughed" with the Common Council for several weeks and had telegraphed and caused to be telegraphed to the papers of New England that he was a prominent candidate, found himself completely distanced. There has been some curious fugling going on, but the original ring was completely broken.

In the first place, the only "ring" in the City Councils that I have been cognizant of, was the one headed by a Democratic Alderman to secure the election to the Mayoralty of Mr. Marvin—a ring which was wholly unnecessary, as that gentlemen would have been elected at any meeting of the Councils since the death of Hon. Horton D. Walker, had the Aldermen chosen to meet the Council for that purpose in convention. But the Aldermen, as well as the Greeley editor, seem to have feared that the Council had selected a candidate to support in opposition, and steadily refused to meet in convention until the support of all the Democratic members of both boards was assured for Mr. Marvin, the Council never having considered, to my knowledge at least, any other candidate. As for myself, I intended to vote for Mr. Marvin up to the day of his election,—but I voted against him in convention, not choosing to allow a bitterly partisan Democrat, even though he be an Alderman, to select a candidate for me to support.

So much for "what I know about" rings; if the unhappy tempered Greeley editor knows anything more, and will tell of it, and produce sufficient corroborative evidence to convince me that he speaks the truth, I will retract whatever may be distasteful to him in the preceding paragraphs. And while he is engaged in an expose of the municipal rings, will he please tell me who composed "the original ring" which "was completely broken" by the election of Ald. Marvin to the Mayoralty? Let's have their names, and tell us what "curious fugling" this "original ring" did before getting "completely broken" by the new one, or what "curious fugling" the new ring has been doing.

As to the slur the editor of the Greeley organ aims at Mr. Frank W. Miller, I will simply say that if he know—and he assumes to know everything about everybody—the facts concerning the telegraphic report he refers to, he knew that Mr. Miller neither sent it, caused it to be sent, nor knew anything about it until he read it in a Boston paper; and if he knew this, he lied in making a statement to the contrary; if he did not know it, he lied all the same in stating as a fact what he did not know to be one.

What the Greeley worshipper means by having "ploughed" with the Common Council, I am not sufficiently versed in slang to know; but if he means to convey the impression that Mr. Miller worked privately with the Common Council to secure an election as Mayor, he displays a plentiful lack of information or a superabundance of mendacity. Mr. Miller never asked a Councilman to vote for him, directly or indirectly; neither did he ask any Alderman to vote for him, nor authorize any one to ask any member of either branch of the City Councils to vote for him; on the contrary, when he was interviewed on the subject by active Republicans who wished him to run for the position of Mayor, he quite discouraged them by saying that he would not ask a vote nor cross a street to get the office, as he would have to give up much more remunerative private business to attend to its duties. I happen to know concerning what the Greeley editor guessed at; for I asked Mr. Miller, myself, if he intended to run for the position, to which he replied, "No; if the office was given me I would not shirk it; but I don't want it."

In the same paper from which I took the paragraph I have commented on, the editor covertly endeavors to throw odium on the Common Council for the long delay in passing the annual appropriation bill. As a member of the Common Council, I am quite ready to take a grown person's share of any blame laid to its charge by the citizens. The present Councilmen have shown an entire willingness to do promptly whatever they had to do; but after the office of Mayor became vacant they considered the first duty of the City Councils to be the election of some one to the office, and the cool manner in which their messages were ignored by the Aldermen—who feared the Greeley editor's bugbear of a "ring" in the Council—did not tend to make them any more yielding. Who was to be Mayor the Councilmen never discussed to my knowledge; but they were determined some one should be Mayor before the appropriation bill should pass. They were unwilling to allow the Aldermen to usurp their right to have a voice in the election; my vote, with the rest, was steadily cast against considering the appropriation bill until the Mayor's chair was filled; and under similar circumstances I would again act in a precisely similar way, let what would come of it. A COUNCILMAN.

The Eastern Railroad workmen propose to complete the double track between this city and Greenland within two months.

At a town meeting in Newington, held on Saturday, June 29, it was voted to raise $3500, and with the proceeds of the sale of the old school house added to build a two-story building for a school house and town hall.

At about 11 o'clock, Saturday night, a man named John Faber cut his arm to the bone with a razor and then attempted to cut his throat; but the razor was wrested from him. Drs. Parsons and Whittier dressed his wound and Policeman Wallace stayed about an hour and a half with him to prevent his doing further mischief. He was intoxicated at the time.

We are pleased to learn that the improvements in Richards Avenue as desired by the late Mrs. Cutts and provided for in her will, are to be commenced forthwith. We trust that whatever is done in this direction may be thorough in its character, so that when the street is completed, we can boast of having as fine an avenue as any city in New England. Messrs. W. H. Y. Hackett of this city and Robert Mason of Boston are the parties upon whom devolves the prosecution of the scheme. We believe that the sum of $25,000 is the amount bequeathed for the purpose.

Greeley Republicans are about as numerous in Portsmouth as Grant Democrats.

SPLENDID COUNTRY REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

The beautiful property known as the

Situated in Greenland, N. H., in close proximity to the Railroad station, on the old stage route from Portsmouth to Exeter, and four miles from the first named place.

The property consists of 95 Acres most excellent Land, all to grass or tillage, and in a high state of cultivation, upon which are some fifty lofty and beautiful Shade Trees, 120 thrifty Apple Trees, all in bearing, and some 90 Pear, Cherry and Peach Trees, a large Asparagus Bed, (will cut 300 bunches next season) Gooseberry Bushes in great profusion, Currant Bushes, a large bed of Rhubarb plant and Strawberry beds.

The buildings consist of a handsome Cattle Barn (the dwelling house having been burned last November), 40 feet square, with a splendid cellar beneath for storing fruit and vegetables, making manure and keeping hens in winter; a fine, well appointed Stable for three horses with spacious Carriage room; a large and well made Tool House and Workshop with Piggery attached; also a fine summer Hen House with splendid run and appointments. All the above buildings are in perfect order and are well painted.

The site for the house is all that could be desired, being well elevated and commanding, and having a large and beautiful lawn in front, well fenced and splendidly embellished with Hedges, Bushes, Spruce Maple and Elm trees.

To any one wishing a beautiful Farm for the sake of the health and pleasure of a farm life, or to any one desiring a Country estate for a Summer Residence with the privilege of erecting a house to unite their means and convenience, this offers a rare and inviting opportunity.

The subscriber will hold this offer of sale open only for a limited time—to July 23d. If not disposed of previous to that time, it will be withdrawn.

Should a purchaser present, possession will be given immediately with the Crops, or later with the crops removed, as may be agreed upon.

SWEETSER & CLARK,

Morning Chronicle.

A MOSQUITO ATTACKS A CALIFORNIAN.—The tuneful mosquito has had his trombone reconstructed and begins the new season in animated style. A Newark man received a call the other day from his long-lost brother who lives in California. He assigned the spare room to him, and bidding him an affectionate good night retired to rest, only to have his slumbers disturbed soon after by an incipient earthquake up stairs. Hastily donning his trousers he proceeded to the long-lost brother's room, from whence the uproar came. When the unbridled brother went to bed he had thrown open his window to draw untrammelled breath and preserve the idea of his native freedom. The mosquito, scenting foreign produce from afar, whetted up his knife and fork upon the stone window sill and humming a short grace before meat took a chair upon the Californian's nose, and tucking his napkin under his chin, set to work. The sensitive foreigner said an ungentle thing about the musical bird of night, and springing from his couch struck a light to meet his unseen adversary face to face. No sooner had he descried him than with uplifted pillow he smote upon the wall where sat the patient insect, who skimmed away and left the spot bare. Two more unsuccessful attempts upon the poor mosquito's life exasperated the long-lost brother, and the scene became exciting. Blow followed blow in quick succession, as the irate Californian danced in fantastic pursuit about the room. Just as he had taken a careful aim at the artful dodger, who sat upon a panel of the door enjoying the sport, the proprietor of the mansion popped his head in and received the whack intended for the mosquito full in the face. He lay down unpremeditatedly and called for the neighbors. When outside re-enforcements appeared an entrance was effected into the room; a fearful scene of ruin met the gaze of the intruders. The only whole remaining article of furniture was the bedstead, upon which sat the disconsolate Californian picking the fragments of the looking-glass out of his bare feet and saying terrible things. He was inconsolable, and next day he left for California without offering to pay for the broken furniture.

Ben Wade, old faithful, comes forcibly out for Grant and says of the old party he has acted with: "To doubt the success such a party when pitted against the broken cohorts of the old slavery party is an insult to the intelligence and virtue of the American people."

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have some extraordinary virtue. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

HALL'S VEGETABLE SICILIAN

HAIR RENEWER.

ITS EFFECT IS

MIRACULOUS.

It is a perfect and wonderful article. Cures baldness. Makes hair grow. A better dressing than any "oil" or "pomatum." Softens brash, dry and wiry hair into Beautiful Silken Tresses. But, above all, the great wonder is the rapidity with which it restores GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL COLOR.

The whitest and worst looking hair resumes its youthful beauty by its use. It does not dye the hair, but strikes at the root and fills it with new life and coloring matter.

The first application will do good; you will see the NATURAL COLOR returning every day, and the old, gray, discolored appearance of the hair will be gone, giving place to lustrous, shining and beautiful locks.

Ask for Hall's Sicilian Hair Renewer; no other article is at all like it in effect.

The Chronicle.

—New York still continues to feel very badly about the Jubilee. Here is one of the latest proofs: —

If you have ears prepare to shed them now.
JULIUS SNEEZEL.

Drums, cannon, bells and anvils rend the air,
And loose the Coliseum's planks and pags;
While startled dogs fly wildly here and there
With their slouched tails between their trembling legs.

And all the human packs their leashes slip,
An open field, full cry—scraped, bawled or blown—
While some one lets the monster organ rip
Right out into a merciless cyclone!

The ear of Dionysius could alone
Withstand so rude, so terrible a shock;
But then yours, also, must be made of stone,
And of the coldest, hardest—Plymouth Rock!

For in effect—though in the name of art—
You lure sweet Music from her loved retreats,
To tie her to the tail of your old cart,
And whip her bleeding through your narrow streets!

But then, perhaps, your gentle fingers itch
To use once more the Puritanic screws;
And, as you can't come Quaker now, or witch,
You'd like to try them on the weeping Muse.

'Tis well! for now that in your empty pride,
You modestly have dubbed yourself The Hub;
Whene'er your name with music is allied
Henceforth it shall be lengthened to Hub-bub;

Another New York poet in Boston sings wildly:—

"I am rocked on the ocean
Of wildest emotion.
Wonder fills me,
Sorrow stills me,
Pleasure thrills me,
Anguish grills me,
Squealing shrills me,
Gushing spills me,
Boston frills me,
Gilmore drills me,
Strauss quadrilles me.
What can ease
Now, or please me;
Horrors freeze me,
All things tease me—
The devil seize me
If a jubilee ever again jubilees me."

HARROWING.—There is nothing equal to a thorough stirring of the soil. Experiments have shown that a yellow, loamy soil is capable of absorbing in twelve hours, when exposed to a moist atmosphere, an amount of water equal to two per cent. of its weight. This property possessed by a mellow soil is one that in a dry season is able to give it the power of maturing a crop when a hardened surface would be unable to do so. A surface that is impenetrable to the atmosphere of course could not absorb any of the moisture with which the atmosphere is charged. But when rendered free from lumps by repeated harrowings, each change of temperature causes a circulation of air through the mass of soil, which is free then to absorb all the moisture coming in contact with it until saturated.

Twenty thousand cabin passengers have left the United States for Europe during the past two months.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

The Singer SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER IS THE OLDEST SEWING MACHINE IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

JURUBEBA

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhea arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain producing by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Allevantor is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst case of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JULY 2, 1872.

Political.

A minority of the delegates to the Republican Convention of the Fifth Congressional District of Maine, were dissatisfied with the nomination of Hon. Eugene Hale, and seceded from that body. It is understood that the seceders have called a new Republican Convention to nominate an opposition candidate to meet at Belfast, July 16.

A Greenshold, N. C., dispatch says that Judge Settle, the Republican candidate for Congress in the Fourth District, addressed the citizens of Caswell county at Yanceyville, Saterday. Some of his opponents attempted to stop his speaking. They went to the stage and threatened him if he continued his speech. He defied them, and by his resolute manner prevented them from proceeding to any direct acts of violence.

Gen. Farnsworth, M. C. from Illinois, has been defeated for nomination by Gen. Hurlburt. Good thing.

Horace Greeley must carry the State of New York to be elected. President Grant may lose the State and yet be elected.

Letters to the Republican national committee from the South, agree in stating that if Mr. Greeley is nominated or indorsed at Baltimore the Democratic party will be more divided there than in the North.

Carl Schurz doesn't like "the Blairs," and "the Blairs" don't like Carl Schurz. This is very sad.

The Terre Haute (Ind.) Express says that a painful but well authenticated report reaches it that the candidate for Vice-President on the Greeley ticket has once more abandoned his total abstinence, and is in imminent danger of again indulging in buttered watermelon as soon as the season fairly opens.

"The Blairs" will be at Baltimore, "with the usual result;" and Greeley will be voted for next November "with the usual result." N. B.—Greeley has been a candidate for office twenty-three times, and he has never been elected but once, and that was to the butt end of a Congressional term. Some New Yorker had served a year and a half in the House and got tired of it. H. G. picked up the stump and smoked it out. St. Louis Democrat.

DIRECT NOMINATIONS.—The republicans of Philadelphia have made the most extensive experiment with the Crawford-county system of nominations that the method has yet had. Throughout the whole city the primary elections were held at the same time and nominations made directly for four members of Congress, for county, judicial, city and legislative offices. Previous to the day of election nominations were received for all the offices to be filled, and the city committee then caused ballots to be printed containing all suggested nominations, arranged in alphabetical order. The Republicans went to the polls and voted directly for whomsoever they chose to support. The highest vote given was that for receiver of taxes, and the aggregate was 39,674 votes for all the candidates. The number of Republican voters in the city last fall was 65,005. Nearly two-thirds of the voters of the city therefore participated in making the nominations. It is extremely improbable that any such proportion of the party ever before took part in Republican primaries. Again, it is said that the nominations were generally satisfactory. There were exceptions, but the Press declares that as a whole the voters of Philadelphia have not for many years had presented to them a ticket so worthy of support. And it is also to the credit of the republicans that the election passed off without any disturbance, though there was much excitement over certain nominations.

THE STOKES TRIAL.—The prosecution have so far examined about ten witnesses, and have made out a very strong case. Those witnesses have sworn to having seen Stokes look through the window of Fisk's office at the Erie building, then drive off to the Grand Central, enter hurriedly and linger "skulking" and watching at the head of the stairs of the ladies' entrance. Then came the shooting. Two witnesses swore that they saw the prisoner standing at the head of the stairs as his victim came along, entirely unconscious of the danger that awaited him; then rest his pistol on the banister, take deliberate aim, and fire the [illegible] They described the pr[illegible] and subsequent ca[illegible] to the dying m[illegible] Fisk said, "[illegible] me; t[illegible] witnesses were [illegible] Grand Central [illegible] two pro[illegible] Fisk's colored coachman, and some private citizens who knew scarcely anything about the affair. The employes of the hotel were the boys who were engaged in the hall at the time the prisoner and the deceased entered, and the killing took place. They were detained in the witnesses' prison from the 6th of January up to the time they were put on the stand.

CRIPPLE FACTORIES.—The police of London lately unearthed a den in which a business was carried on more atrocious than imagination can conceive, and which one, even with the evidence adduced, can hardly believe possible to exist. The place was devoted to the manufacture of cripples,—children of tender age and babes, even, being taken there to have their limbs twisted out of shape, their features burned and distorted, their eyes put out, or to be so mangled or maimed in other ways as to attract attention and sympathy from the alms-giving public. The majority of these children were taken,—"adopted."—from alms-houses or very poor families, while others were undoubtedly stolen. The scale of prices for maiming varied according to age, the cost of twisting the legs of a babe under a year old out of shape being only seven dollars, a variety of other injuries being thrown in for ten dollars. Incurable ulcers and sores were manufactured for from one to five dollars and so on. It is difficult to write calmly in regard to such atrocious business, and it is only to be hoped that some punishment severe enough can be inflicted upon the wretches who carried it on.

— A Middletown man took some pills recently by advice of his wife. Soon after he felt ill, and the neighbors wondered if they were going to have a case of husband poisoning. On examination and inquiry it became evident that he had eaten percussion caps, and now he fears that he will go off and leave her desolate, deserted and unloved.

— An Indian in Detroit visited an ice-cream saloon. The Free Press says: "The first taste set all his teeth jumping, and the next one satisfied him that some one had put up a job on him. He handed it to the boy with instructions to warm it up. The boy melted it on the stove, and the Indian seized the dish and drank the sweet milk at one gulp, and then licked the dish."

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Grinding Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

TEN BECAUSES.—A hundred reasons might be given why Lyon's Katharion should be used by every intelligent human being in preference to every other preparation for the hair, but ten will suffice. Here they are Because it nourishes the fibers, multiplies them and makes them grow; because it thus: prevents them from withering and bleaching; because it removes the scurf and dandruff which choke them as tares choke the golden grain; because it keeps the scalp cool and prevents eruptions; because it renders the hair as lustrous as satin; because it makes it pliant and elastic; because it is a fragrant and delightful dressing; because it does not soil the pillow, the cap or the hat; because it is without a rival in cheapness, and because no other article sold for the same purpose, in this or any other country, possesses all, or even one-half, of these invaluable properties.

Special Notices.

The Career of a Great Remedy.

Twenty summers have elapsed since it was briefly announced that a new vegetable tonic and alterative, bearing the name of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and had been added to the list of Preventive and Restorative medicines. The modest advertisement which invited attention to the preparation stated that it had been used with great success in private practice, as a cure for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, constipation and intermittent fever. It was soon discovered that the article possessed extraordinary properties. The people, of every class, tested its merits as a tonic, stimulant, corrective and restorative, and found that its effects more than fulfilled their hopes and expectations. From that time to the present its course has been upward and onward, and it stands to-day at the head of all medicines of its class. American or imported, in the magnitude of its sales and its reputation as a safe, agreeable and potent invigorant and restorative. For languor and debility, lack of appetite and gastric disturbances, so common during the summer months, it is absolutely infallible. Indigestion, bilious disorders, constipation, nervousness, periodical fevers, and all the ordinary complains generated by a vitiated and humid atmosphere, vanish under its renovating and regulating influence. This is its record, avouched by volumes of intelligent testimony, extending over a period of a fifth of a century, and comprehending the names of thousands of well-known citizens belonging to every class and calling. In Europe it is thought a great thing to obtain the patronage of royalty for a "patent medicine," but Hostetter's Bitters has been spontaneously approved by millions of independent sovereigns, and its patent consists in their endorsement.

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO BE SUPPLIED TO THE NAVY YARDS UNDER THE ORGANIZATION OF THE BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., JUNE 22, 1872.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish Timber and other materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1873, will be received at this Bureau until 12 o'clock M. of the 20th of July next, at which time the bids will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed to the "Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, Navy Department, Washington," and must be endorsed "Proposals for Timber, &c., for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from ordinary business letters.

To prevent confusion, and facilitate the opening of the bids, parties bidding for supplies at several yards will enclose their bids in separate envelopes, each endorsed with the name of the yard for which the bid is made.

Printed schedules for such classes as parties deal in and intend to bid for, together with instructions to bidders, giving the forms of proposal, of guarantee, and of certificate of guarantors, with printed forms of oath, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the Commandants of the respective Navy Yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each Navy Yard, and the Purchasing Paymaster for each Station, will have a copy of the schedules of the other yards, for examination only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge whether it is desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposals must be for the whole of a class, but the Department reserves the right to reject the whole class, should the interest of the Government require it, before the execution of contract. All applications for information, or for the examination of samples, must be made to the Commandants of the respective yards.

By direction of the Department, bids or offers will be received only from parties who are bona fide dealers in, or manufacturers of, the articles they offer to furnish. The guarantors must be certified by the Assessor of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract will be awarded to the person who makes the lowest bid and who shall give guarantees required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant.

Under the provisions of the second section of the act approved March 3, 1863, the offer of any person who, as principal or surety, has not filled his contract for 1871-'72 will not be received.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to the satisfaction of the Navy Department.

As additional security twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contracts shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of each bill, approved in triplicate by the commandants of the respective yards, will be paid by the Paymaster of the station designated in the contract, or, if none is specified, by the Paymaster of the station nearest the yard where the goods are delivered, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The classes of this Bureau are numbered and designated as follows:

No. 1, White Oak Logs; No. 2, White Oak Keel Pieces; No. 3, White Oak Curved Timber; No. 4, White Oak Plank—Oregon Pine Deck Plank at Mare Island yard; No. 5, White Oak Boards; No. 7, Yellow Pine Logs — Oregon Pine Logs at Mare Island yard; No. 8, Yellow Pine Beams —Oregon Pine Beams at Mare Island yard; No. 9, Oregon Pine Mast Timber at Mare Island yard; No. 11, White Pine Logs; No. 12, White Pine Mast Timber; No. 13, White Pine Plank, Boards —Sugar Pine Boards at Mare Island yard; No. 15, White Ash, Elm, Beech—White Ash, Redwood at Mare Island yard; No. 16, White Ash Oars; No. 18, Black Walnut, Mahogany, Black Cherry; No. 19, Locust Timber; No. 20, Locust Treenails; No. 22, Cypress, Cedar; No. 23, Black Spruce; No 25, Lignumvitæ; No. 30, Ingot Copper; No. 32, Wrought Iron, round and square; No. 33, Wrought Iron, flat; No. 34, Iron, plate; No. 35, Steel; No. 37, Iron Spikes; No. 38, Iron Wrought Nails; No. 39, Iron Cut Nails; No. 42, Lead, pipe, sheet; No. 43, Zinc; No. 44, Tin; No. 45, Solder; No. 48, Locks, Hinges, Bolts, of brass and iron; No. 49, Screws of brass and iron; No. 50, Files; No. 51, Augers; No. 52, Tools for ship stores; No. 53, Tools for use in yard and shops; No. 54, Hardware; No. 56, White Lead; No. 57, Zinc Paints; No. 58, Colored Paints, Dryers; No 59, Linseed Oil; No. 60, Varnish, Spirits Turpentine; No. 63, Sperm and Lard Oil; No. 64, Tallow, Soap; No. 65, Fish Oil; No. 66, Glass; No. 69, Brushes; No. 70, Dry Goods for upholstering; No. 71, Stationery; No. 72, Crucibles; No. 73, Ship Chandlery; No. 74, Acids; No. 75, Resin, Pitch, Crude Turpentine; No. 77, Belting, Packing; No. 78, Leather, Pump, Rigging, Lacing; No. 80, Junk; No. 82, Bellows; No. 85, Anthracite Coal; No. 86, Semi-bituminous Coal; No. 87, Bituminous Coal; No. 88, Charcoal; No. 89, Wood; No. 90, Patented Articles.

ORDINANCE NO. 10.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Portsmouth as follows:

SEC. 1. That it shall be the duty of the City Marshal, Assistant Marshals and Police Officers of this City, under direction of the Mayor, to carry into effect and enforce the provisions of the one hundred and thirteenth Chapter of the Revised Statutes of this State, within the limits of this City; particularly so much of the same as is contained in the following extracts—in which the word "Town" is construed to mean City, and the word "Selectmen" is construed to mean Mayor and Aldermen, viz:

SEC. 6. "No person shall, within the compact part of any town, fire or discharge any cannon, gun, pistol, or other firearms, or beat any drum, (except by the command of a military officer having authority therefor,) or fire or discharge any rockets, squibs, crackers or any preparation of gunpowder, (except by permission of a majority of the Police Officers or Selectmen, in writing,) or shall make any bonfire, or improperly use or expose any friction matches, or knowingly raise or repeat any false cry of fire."

Notice is hereby given that the above ordinance will be rigidly enforced against any person who may violate its provisions.

Pay Inspector C. H. Eldredge relieved Paymaster Putnam on Monday as Purchasing and Disbursing officer at this naval station.

They have a dog near the Eastern depot which pulls open the door of a hen coop with his teeth, until he can insert his nose in the crack, then widens the aperture, passes in, seizes an egg, (as regularly as the hens set,) and carries it into the house in his mouth, depositing it at the feet of the lady of the house. The dog has never been caught eating an egg.

We are pleased to notice in the Washington papers that Seymour W. Tullock, of this city, at the twentieth annual commencement of Emerson Institute of Washington, D. C., on the 21st ult, received in the award of premiums in the "Higher English Department," senior class, a gold medal—ranking second; also, a prize in German, a gold medal—ranking first. Master Tullock won a gold medal last year, at the same Institute, for Scholarship.

Postmaster General Creswell will make Boston his headquarters for some weeks, making visits to Rye Beach, Isle of Shoals, Portsmouth and other watering places.

Howe's London Circus has four hundred men and horses,—a small army,—and its daily expenses are $1500. It is the largest concern of the kind in existence. It will exhibit here on Monday next.

G. H. Jenness, the jolly, is to dispense his usual assortment of 4th of July delicacies at his Rye Beach saloon, near the Sea View House.

The Fourth of July performance at the Temple, under the management of Messrs. Sanborn and Palfrey, will without doubt be largely attended. To those who are suffering from the extreme heat, we have the gratifying fact to announce that the Temple is actually the coolest place in the city.

Joshua L. Foster, Esq., is getting ready to swallow Greeley as soon as directed to do so by the Greeley convention at Baltimore, and as a preliminary is buttering H. G. in the Dover "Democrat." We hardly know which to pity most—the swallower or the swallowee. Verily, the way of the transgressor is hard.

A heater that won't cook the cook is just what is needed—this weather; and Stavers & Chase advertise the very thing needed, in another column.

Grant Democrats are as numerous as Greeley Republicans in Portsmouth.

Listen to the mocking bird—on Congress Street.

On Thursday last the Directors of the Eastern Railroad approved the lease of the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad. It is yet to be executed by the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, which will be done without delay. We shall have more to say in our next issue concerning this important enterprise and the duty of every well-wisher of any city regarding it.

A Railroad Fight.

The Railroad committee of the House of Representatives have had lively times thus far during the session of the legislature. The petitioners for the Nashua & Plaistow Railroad have been working hard to secure a charter and have made the Railroad meetings interesting by their lawyer, W. H. Hills, Esq., of Plaistow. They have been fought at every point by the friends of the Nashua & Rochester Road, who believed this twenty mile branch to be a tap for the Boston & Maine and intended to kill off the Nashua & Rochester. Mr. Robie, managing Director of the Portland & Rochester R. R., with C. K. Sanborn, of Rochester, have been before the committee in the interests of that road, showing that the Portland & Rochester was built with the understanding that the Nashua & Rochester should be built as a connecting link from Portland and New York and the West, and that the Plaistow was intended to defeat the enterprise. Mr. Geo. Bingham of Littleton, and T. J. Smith, of Dover, appeared for the Nashua & Rochester.

Two reports were made to the House by the committee. Messrs. Putnam of Warren and Marston of Exeter advocated the adoption of the minority report recommending the passage of the bill.

Mr. Chase of Northfield thought it strange that the Chairman of the Railroad Committee was silent on this subject; but the rule that "silence gave consent" was perhaps applicable to his conduct. It was singular, too, that the Boston and Maine Road had nothing to do with this application; but what, if this was so, were thirty paid attorneys of that road doing here in Concord, button-holing every member they met? Surely there must be some kind of a cat under all this meal; and the House, he believed, would do well to heed the recommendation of their intelligent committee, and act as they recommend. It was his (Mr. Chase's) impression that the Boston and Maine Road wanted this road charter merely to knock down the Rochester and Nashua road.

Mr. Emery of Portsmouth, Chairman of the Railroad Committee, said the only question arising in this case was that there was a reasonable route between Plaistow and Nashua, and a reasonable amount of prospective traffic. But the Rochester and Nashua Road came in and said that the building of this road would injure them. As there might be something in this, the committee considered and voted on the subject, and a tie was the result. Mr. Emery did not wish, in these circumstances, to side with any of the parties, but allowed the matter to come into the House in the manner it did. Keeping outside matters out of sight, and looking at the subject fairly, he had come to the conclusion, however, that he would vote for the charter of the Plaistow and Nashua Railroad. Cheering followed this statement.

Mr. Burrows of Plymouth believed that the request of the majority of the Railroad committee was reasonable; that this charter sought should lay aside until the Rochester & Nashua Road should get upon its feet. Rochester has already spent a hundred thousand dollars on the road, and if this charter was granted it would have the effect of causing a loss of this money. He feared that some gentlemen in this House lived too near the Treasury of the Boston & Maine Road to see matters in their proper light.

Mr. Emery denied any interest in the Boston & Maine Road, or that his action was in any way affected as had been insinuated. He feared that those who made such charges could not get near enough to the treasury referred to.

A vote was taken on the question of substituting the minority for the majority report of the Committee on Railroads, resulting in the affirmative, 129 to 117. A demand was made for the yeas and nays, and the House adjourned.

EASTERN R. R. vs. BOSTON & MAINE. In the Massachusetts S. J. Court, June 29th, the suit in equity involving the right of the Eastern Railroad to take certain land belonging to the Boston and Maine Railroad, under an act of the legislature, was decided. By the act of May 7, 1872, the Eastern Railroad Company were authorized after thirty days' notice to take possession of, hold and use certain land belonging to the Boston and Maine Railroad on Causeway street, for the purpose of increasing the terminal facilities and affording convenient access to their passenger station. They say that they have complied with the conditions annexed to the grant by giving the notice and filling the location required by the act and the general laws, and are entitled to the possession of the franchise. The defendants deny their right to take the land. The principal question involved in the case is the constitutional right under an act of the legislature of one corporation to take for public use land or franchise already held by another corporation for the like use, upon making due compensation there for. There was a hearing on Monday last upon a motion for a preliminary injunction. Judge Wells announced his decision refusing the injunction asked for by the Eastern Railroad on the ground that no such public or private exigency was proved as to call for the extraordinary exercise of the equity jurisdiction by a mandatory injunction putting the plaintiff in possession. He however stated that he saw no force in the grounds taken by the defendants in objection to the plaintiffs' rights, and that he should refuse the cross injunction prayed for by the Boston and Maine Railroad.

Editorial Notes.

President Grant and family are back at Long Branch.

The Boston Herald's Jubilee reporter is quite right in saying that the organ "should be tuned by an axe or a barrel of gunpowder."

—A well-known journalist, in attendance after the Jubilee, went up to one of the U. S. Marine Band, under the impression that he was a "foreigner," and asked, "Parlez vous Anglais?" "Yes sowl to the divil, why not?" replied the bold marine.

Morning Chronicle.

—Gen. Boynton, in a Washington letter to the Cincinnati Gazette, says: "The defeat of Senator Patterson was not expected in Washington, and there has been much inquiry since the election to ascertain the cause which produced it. The return of the various citizens who went from this city to work on the one side or the other, has thrown some light on the subject. There is no longer any doubt that the chief reason of Mr. Patterson's defeat was the belief that his sympathies were against Grant, and with Sumner, Schurz and Trumbull. There was a general feeling that of late he discovered the direction of the popular current in the State, and had tried to recover the party standing that he had lost. His final attempt in this direction, where he attacked Mr. Sumner in a manner which, for a man of Mr. Patterson's refinement, may properly be termed gross, instead of helping him in the least in what he felt had been lost, really had an opposite effect, and only made matters worse for him." So, then, Mr. Patterson owes his defeat to the fact that the Republicans of New Hampshire are for Grant, and they feel that their Senator has been opposed to him up to the time when the uncertainties of an election began to modify his public expression. N. Y. Standard.

Just the case, exactly.

LOVE'S YOUNG DREAM. — Recently appeared an account of the marriage of Mr. George Christy and Miss Fanny Duane, both bright and shining lights of the variety stage. The happy pair made a bridal tour to a hotel, and for a while the happy couple separated with mutual vows of love and affection. That night, about the witching hour of twelve, the happy bridegroom returned only to find the door of his wife's room securely locked.

A few gentle raps with an ale bottle, and the door opened. "Who are you?" inquired the bride in a tone that was rather loud. "Its me, my own ducky dear. I have come," answered Mr. Christy, walking into the room and setting the ale bottle down while he lighted his pipe. "You git out of here, you nasty thing," roared the gentle Madame in a voice of thunder, as she pulled from a bureau drawer a mammoth six-shooter. Mr. George Christy, the banjoist, "got." Before he got down stairs, however, this loving wife of eight short hours shot three times at him.

A nervousness on the part of the female shootist and the agility of the bridegroom alone prevented the necessity of the intervention of the coroner. Notwithstanding his rather warm reception Mr. Christy again visited his charming bride yesterday morning. She saw him coming up the stairs, and sent down her card in the shape of a skillet to let him know that she was not in. Last evening Mr. Christy was inconsolable, also drunk. Mrs. Christy was resolute and anxious for a fight.

At a late hour he embarked on a southward-bound boat, being satisfied that distance—and a good deal of it—lends enchantment to the view.—Memphis Avalanche.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.
The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still maintains the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which it has really founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Secondly, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

EDUCATIONAL NOTES.—Efforts to establish the public school system in the State of Texas meet a terrible opposition. In some cases school-houses are burned down, and the collection of taxes for school purposes is resisted. The struggle may be difficult, yet in the end we have no doubt will be successful. Man's higher nature craves knowledge, and the means of obtaining it will be afforded.

In Colorado there are as yet but 120 schools. Males are employed there as teachers quite largely. They number 80 and females 84. Salaries are pretty good; in one county males and females have $100 each per month; in other counties the average for males is $69, for females $54.

In Dakota educational interests are advancing. Teachers' wages range from $25 to $100 per month.

Idaho is yet in the background. The population in 1870 was about 15,000, yet there are but twenty-nine school districts and thirteen school houses.

Utah has 190 male and 185 female teachers. Males in this part of the country, who have been superceded by female teachers may get employ in Utah.

Arizona at the last census had but 1,923 children over 6 and under 21 years of age. Schools are being established with good prospects. Ten cents on $100 of the taxable property is to be appropriated for schools.

The signs of the times indicate that the general diffusion of educational advantages is to be among the great questions of the age. The perpetuity of the free institutions of our country cannot be hoped for without the education of the people. The weak powers of Mexico and Spain might be uplifted and made strong by good educational systems. Japan is beginning to do nobly. That nation will soon be a power for good among the kingdoms of the world. So may it be with others now low down in ignorance and wretchedness. J. F.

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with it your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."
"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.
The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the Daily Manufacture
— OF —
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the
seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,
All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

JURUBEBA
THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
BLOOD PURIFIER.
Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, life to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.
It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a specific for all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.
DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA
Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.
It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S
SARSAPARILLA
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.
A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cures of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health, and swell into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupulina, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.
COUGHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.
CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the most intense Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.
PILES have been a terror to mankind and proved incurable for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely sure cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JULY 3, 1872.

The News.

At the residence of a planter named Wray, near Brownsville, Tenn., a dispute arose between Benjamin H. Wray and his brother-in-law, named John Wilson, about a horse trade which occurred two years ago. Wray shot Wilson through the heart. He then ran into the yard, followed by Wilson's wife, who begged him not to shoot her husband again, not knowing he was dead. Her screams, it is supposed, caused him to place the pistol to his breast and fire it, causing a total wound.

Fredrick Schufelt, of Monson, Canada, a brakeman on the Rutland Railroad, was riding on a platform car, near Montville, on Saturday, when an iron rail, with which the car was loaded, struck a tree and swept him off, throwing him completely through a heavy board fence. He died soon afterward.

Bostons 17, Clevelands 0.

The general council of Internationalists in London has suspended all English-speaking sections in the United States.

Judge Joel Parker of New Jersey has written a letter declining the labor reform nomination for the Vice-Presidency.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has carried its threats into effect and refused to transmit the reports of the signal-service bureau. The reports from the various stations are still telegraphed to Washington as heretofore, but for the present no report will be received from the bureau.

Miss Babcock, daughter of the pastor of Warren street chapel, Boston, delivered her first sermon in that place on Sunday forenoon.

Portland voted on Saturday to loan the city's credit to the Portland and Rochester Railroad to the amount of $450,000. The total number of votes thrown was 2103; in favor of the loan, 1617; against it, 486.

Jubilee Notes.

Strauss will get $1100 for two or three concerts in New York next week.

The Travellers Record for July says that a "great place for tongues and sounds is at the Coliseum."

An offer has been made to Madame Peschka-Leutner of $100,000 for two hundred concerts to be given throughout the United States in the fall, winter and spring, but she has declined. She will return to Europe soon after the Jubilee.

The Jubilee is to be continued through the week.

Thus much from the All Day City Item of Philadelphia: "Boston did a noble thing for herself, for music and for the country when she inaugurated her Jubilee. These grand entertainments to which the whole world is invited, stimulate, enlarge, dignify and enrich. Something of this sort—only broader, larger and stronger, will our Centennial be. New York, as usual, poohpoohs—but the Boston band plays on, just as we shall play, when our turn comes, on a harp of a thousand strings! Cheers for Boston, the most plucky, the most righteous and most hospitable city on the continent."

Nearly 5000 persons went to the Jubilee on Saturday on checks from railroad coupon tickets, showing what an immense business the railroads are doing.

Monday was the Irish day of the Jubilee. The band from Dublin had an enthusiastic but wearysome reception in the forenoon, being escorted over a long route by Irish societies and kept exposed for hours to the intense heat of the sun. The Coliseum was not crowded at the concert in the afternoon, but the green-coated musicians were rapturously applauded. The chorus ball in the evening was attended by a large crowd, but excelled in no particular the ball of last Wednesday.

POST OFFICES.—The Postmaster General has approved re-classification of New England post offices, and the salaries of the postmasters, which is based on the last year's receipts. The following is a list of all the offices in this State where a salary of over $200 is paid:

Speech of Hon. J. H. Ela.

At the grand Grant ratification meeting in Washington, D. C., Hon. J. H. Ela spoke as follows:—

I will not occupy the time of this great gathering by attempting to make additions, or by a repetition of what has been already so well said by others, in ratification of a nomination which was ratified in the hearts of the loyal members of the Republican party long before it was unanimously made at Philadelphia I come rather to rejoice that we have both a president and a candidate "who has no policy to enforce against the will of the people," and whose simple tastes and democratic habits have not been marred by the greatest of his military and civil successes; and who is acceptable, without distinction, to the humblest American citizen who has a grievance to represent.

We stand as a party to-day closing up the great work for which the Republican party was formed and which was thrust upon it by the great civil war at the very beginning of its existence, and foreshadowing some of the measures which are soon to occupy its attention. We must keep our backs to the past and our faces to the future, and move on to grapple with the measures it will bring to us,—guided by the light and knowledge gained with experience and by our aspirations and intuitions—taking no counsel of our fears—if we would be equally successful in the future. We stand to-day with all civilized nations admiring our progress and position; and with all parties at home admitting our successful measures, which were courageously undertaken amid doubts and fears and great opposition. If we move on as courageously and as unselfishly in dealing with the measures of the future, the American people will respond to our call, and rally around and sustain us, resting with confidence, fully assured that they can trust that party which was right every time and all the time, with the new measures to come, better than one which was wrong every time and all the time and now confesses it, and attempts to avoid the responsibility for its old position by taking a new departure.

I came here fellow citizens to join in the ratification of that plank of the platform which declares for "complete equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights," which I think would have been improved by adding to all classes, colors, races and conditions of both sexes of citizens. And I can join heartily in the ratification of that plank which favors the restoration of our lost commerce, driven from the ocean by the unfriendly acts of those who profited by its destruction, even if it has to be done by discriminating duties against those who were mainly instrumental in its destruction.

I am here to join in ratifying that plank which declares for "no further grants of land to corporations and monopolies," which demands "the public lands shall be set apart for free farms" for the people. Sir, it is these giant corporations and monopolies, building before their time, which keeps up the devouring rates of interest upon individuals, states and the nation, which demands concessions in our dealings with foreign nations in order that they may keep up their borrowing power. I am confident we should have met a hearty response from every section had we gone further and declared that these corporations and all others of their kind had become the highways of commerce over which by necessity the products of the nation have to pass on their way between producer and consumer. They are as much, if not more, the highways of commerce between vast sections of our country than the rivers or the ocean; and when they tax that commerce to pay dividends upon capital which was never expended in their creation it is as much the duty of the government in the interests of the people to put a stop to like exactions upon the water highways.

It is a special gratification to join in the ratification of that plank, which, securing full protection to capital is for so shaping legislation as to give the largest opportunity to the labor which creates this capital. We have done it in the past by striking the fetters of slavery from four millions of laborers. We have done it by putting the ballot in the hands of every male laborer in the land, where we had the opportunity that with it he might protect his interests and maintain his rights. We have done it by so shaping legislation, that while taxation has been beyond all precedent yet the laborer was never so constantly employed and so well paid, so that a day's work, two hours shorter than it used to be, and to be shorter still, will purchase more of the comforts and necessaries of life than ever before. And it is a great pleasure to assist at the ratification of the nomination so appropriately made to represent that plank. I know Henry Wilson and his history well, and there is no part of it which he and the working men of the country may not be proud. We were born within the limits of what was once the same old town in the Granite State. What playtime we had was upon the banks of the same river. His six mile evening tramp for rare books, was to the same house where I was accustomed to get favors. We were in the old anti-slavery organization together. We broke from the old Whig party near the same time, he lingering behind with the conscience Whigs in Massachusetts, who became Free Soilers and sent Boutwell to the Executive Chair, Rantoul to the House of Representatives and Sumner to the Senate. In all the long and weary march from his boyhood home to his present position he has never forgotten the less enduring, less fortunate fellows he passed on the way. With a kind, hopeful word and a sympathising heart he has cheered them on in the battle of life, and there is not a son of toil in all this broad land, whether in the forest with the lumberman's axe, on the ocean in his craft, in the shop at his bench, in the mine, in the mill, on the hill side, on the fertile prairies of the West or the broad savannahs of the South, who does not feel the quickening influence of the nomination, who does not thank the Republican party for that plank in its platform and the representative candidate they have placed upon it. The only regret is that the choice had to be made between such representative men.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

Special Notices.

The Career of a Great Remedy.

Twenty summers have elapsed since it was briefly announced that a new vegetable tonic and alterative, bearing the name of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and had been added to the list of Preventive and Restorative medicines. The modest advertisement which invited attention to the preparation stated that it had been used with great success in private practice, as a cure for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, constipation and intermittent fever. It was soon discovered that the article possessed extraordinary properties. The people, of every class, tested its merits as a tonic, stimulant, corrective and restorative, and found that its effects more than fulfilled their hopes and expectations. From that time to the present its course has been upward and onward, and it stands to-day at the head of all medicines of its class. American or imported, in the magnitude of its sales and its reputation as a safe, agreeable and potent invigorant and restorative. For languor and debility, lack of appetite and gastric disturbance, so common during the summer months, it is absolutely infallible. Indigestion, bilious disorders, constipation, nervousness, periodical fevers, and all the ordinary complains generated by a vitiated and humid atmosphere, vanish under its renovating and regulating influence. This is its record, avouched by volumes of intelligent testimony, extending over a period of a fifth of a century, and comprehending the names of thousands of well-known citizens belonging to every class and calling. In Europe it is thought a great thing to obtain the patronage of royalty for a "patent medicine," but Hostetter's Bitters has been spontaneously approved by millions of independent sovereigns, and its patent consists in their endorsement.

ORDINANCE NO. 10.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Portsmouth as follows:

SEC. 1. That it shall be the duty of the City Marshal, Assistant Marshals and Police Officers of this City, under direction of the Mayor, to carry into effect and enforce the provisions of the one hundred and thirteenth Chapter of the Revised Statutes of this State, within the limits of this City; particularly so much of the same as is contained in the following extracts—in which the word "Town" is construed to mean City, and the word "Selectmen" is construed to mean Mayor and Aldermen, viz:

SEC 6. "No person shall, within the compact part of any town, fire or discharge any cannon, gun, pistol, or other firearms, or beat any drum, (except by the command of a military officer having authority therefor,) or fire or discharge any rockets, squibs, crackers or any preparation of gunpowder (except by permission of a majority of the Police Officers or Selectmen, in writing,) or shall make any bonfire, or improperly use or expose any friction matches, or knowingly raise or repeat any false cry of fire."

Notice is hereby given that the above ordinance will be rigidly enforced against any person who may violate its provisions.

The editor of the local Greeley organ disapproves of the length of the article we published in the CHRONICLE of Monday, signed "A Councilman." That the CHRONICLE is not edited by him or to please him seems as impossible for the Greeley editor to learn as it is for him to adhere to truth or conduct a respectable paper; but he must know that few men have his faculty of condensing—we don't know of a man anywhere who can crowd so many falsehoods and misrepresentations or so much slander in a given space as he can. For instance; the paragraph which "woke up" the writer of the article our Greeley neighbor disapproves of, though only a dozen lines in length, contained three distinct falsehoods, and was misrepresentation and slander from one end to the other; while "A Councilman," in his answer of more than a column, did not manage to work in a single misstatement. This defect in our correspondent's composition a short study of the Greeley organ would tend to remove.

Portsmouth and Dover Railroad.

There is now a reasonable probability that the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad will be built; its construction is certain, if our citizens will manifest an active interest in the enterprise. It is already known that the Eastern Railroad has taken a lease of the P. & D. R. R. for fifty years, and will run the road, pay all expenses and taxes, and secure to the stockholders six per cent., payable semi-annually, and one half the net earnings of the road above that sum, provided the stockholders will at once proceed to build the road.

The experience of almost every railroad in New England makes it reasonably certain that as soon as the road is in active operation the stockholders will receive not less than eight or ten per cent. upon their investment. In order to secure the benefit of this contract the road must be built at once, and without waiting for the slow and tedious process of seeking the means in small sums, from individuals. With this in view, at a full meeting of the Directors at Dover Point, on the 29th ult., the subject was fully discussed and the following preamble and resolution were passed:—

Whereas, The Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire has leased the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad for fifty years, and has agreed to pay to the stockholders thereof dividends at the rate of six per cent. a year, free of all expenses and taxes, together with half the net earnings of the road above that rate, upon condition that the stockholders of this railroad will proceed immediately to build the same; and

Whereas, The enterprise is public in its nature, and the interests of the cities of Portsmouth and Dover require the immediate construction of the road,—

Resolved, That books of subscription to the stock be opened forthwith; and that the cities of Dover and Portsmouth be severally requested to subscribe for stock to an amount not exceeding five per cent. of their respective valuations, and to pay for the same in negotiable bonds of the two cities, upon which money shall be raised to be applied to the immediate construction of the road.

We are informed that the Directors propose to present this resolution to our City Councils at their next meeting, and to urge immediate action upon it. It is believed that with the bonds of Portsmouth and Dover, backed by the guaranty of the Eastern Railroad, and with the stock of the new road for further security, so strong a credit will be established that with individual subscriptions which will also come in the road may be built the present season, without any of the sacrifices and losses which too often attend the execution of enterprises of this nature.

This expedient appears to be free from all the objections which have been made to loaning the credit of the city to this enterprise, and it is no apprehended that the request of the Directors will encounter any opposition, unless it be from those who are hostile to building the road upon any terms. The city will be exposed to no hazard or loss, for the possession of the stock will secure the semi-annual payment of interest upon the bonds, to the extent of 6 per cent. or a large sum over, on the amount subscribed; and the gradual sale of the stock, which must be desired for permanent investment, will ensure the early redemption of the bonds without any effort on the part of the city.

An Appendix.

Messrs. Editors:—The editor of the Greeley organ seems much more ready to make assertions than he is to produce proofs in support of them when their accuracy is questioned. In your Monday's issue was a communication from me, in which I positively denied his statements that Mr. Frank W. Miller "had 'ploughed' with the Common Council" for an election; I further denied that Mr. Miller, or any one with his authority, asked any member of the City Council to vote for him, or that there was ever any understanding, expressed or implied, in the Common Council in regard to supporting Mr. Miller for the Mayoralty; and having made these denials—which seem to me to be explicit enough, for surely if Mr. Miller or his friends had "ploughed with the Common Council for several weeks," as the Greeley editor asserted, he could give the name of some one man beside himself who knows of it—I asked him to name the members of the "ring" whose "complete overthrow" he was so jubilant over, and what "curious fugling" it was they did.

My explicit assertion that Mr. Miller never asked (or authorized any one to ask) any member of either board of the City Councils to vote for him, the Greeley editor endeavors to overthrow with a sneer; the name of a single member of either board who was so asked would be more conclusive, and (unless the editor's statements are wholly false) should not be hard to give, for fourteen members of the City Councils voted against Mr. Miller in convention and only two for him. The Greeley editor thinks my statement that Mr. Miller "discouraged" his friends from presenting his name as a candidate for Mayor, and that he "did not want the office," quite "curious." Possibly; it is true, nevertheless. I copy the conclusion of his reply to my communication:—

Curious that all the Republican Aldermen and many of the Council should have been so mistaken for some two or three weeks. Curious too, that "A Councilman" should be so innocent of any "rings" or of any "fugling." He wants us to enlighten him. He certainly needs information, and we refer him to any of the Aldermen he may choose to interview.

Not so "curious," by any means, as that the Greeley editor cannot give the name of a single Alderman or Councilman who was importuned as he says, nor of a single Councilman—Republican or Democratic—who knows anything of any "ring" having at any time existed in Mr. Miller's interest. I asked him for information; he answers that I need it, and he refers me to "any of the Aldermen" I may choose to interview. I decline to interview any Alderman; I neither know nor care what any Alderman may or may not suspect or imagine; what I asked for was fact; and I think I know as much about the Common Council as any Alderman of them all. It was not concerning the statement of any Alderman that I asked for information, but in regard to the false yet positive statements of the editor concerning the Common Council,—statements which he now supports by referring me to "any of the Aldermen" I may "choose to interview!" He made the statements I questioned, and I asked him for a single name in their support, which he cannot give. I decline to hunt up witnesses for him from among the Aldermen; that's his own job.

A COUNCILMAN.

THE PUBLIC DEBT STATEMENT shows a decrease of $2,031,035 32 during the past month. Decrease since March 1, 1872, $34,327,154 36; decrease from March 1, 1869, to March 1, 1872, $299,649,762 03. The coin balance in the Treasury to $88,149,108 56.

A New Yorker offered the French band $1800 a day in place of his concerts with all expenses paid and $200 thrown in for incidentals, but the offer was declined.

SCENE IN A SODA SHOP.—We have no hesitancy in stating that among the able-bodied male adults of this city the very common beverage known as "soda water," and which is dealt out so unsparingly at every corner during the heated term, is considered, to use their own language, a "thin, drink." But if this ingenious mixture of wind and water is termed "thin" strong liquors, such as whiskies, are altogether too "thick" for a steady warm weather drink, and so the imbiber who must moisten his flues with some liquid refreshment seeks a pleasant combination of the two classes of drink, which forms a happy combination that exhilarates yet is not intoxicating. It is customary among these bibulous go-betweens to enter a drug store, call for soda water, name their syrup, at the same time giving a wink to the dispenser of the "slush" who takes the goblet, in which he places the syrup, then stoops down beneath the counter or retires to a back room, where by some mysterious chemical change, the contents are colored darkly, and the soda is then let in upon the mixture, which is handed to the customer with a wink from the clerk. So much for the process; now for the sequel.

Saturday a venerable gentleman from the country, who is a respectable church deacon, a Justice of the Peace, a member of the "Band of Hope," and a Good Templar in his native village, came to this city to trade a little in dry goods and purchase such agricultural implements as he needed to plant and cultivate his spring crops. The deacon is strictly temperate, and never looks upon the wine when it is red any more than he does when it is any other color. Unfortunately our old friend had suffered from opthalmia in his early days, which left him with an optical peculiarity which caused his left upper eyelid to drop every few seconds, and to those not familiar with his infirmity gave him the appearance of winking intentionally.

The "Deac" is passionately fond of soda water and such light beverages. He loves to feel the gaseous compound coursing down his throat and creating internal commotions and typhoons, that, however endurable by older persons, throw babies into agony, and require prompt doses of peppermint; so Satuiday, after he had bought a few shovels, and a Dolly Varden for his wife, he thought he would fill up with soda water and drive on towards home. He entered a drug store, inquired the price of the desired refreshment, then deposited his scrip and awaited his mixture.

"What syrup do you want?" said the urbane clerk, as he mopped off the marble counter with the same towel he used a moment before to remove the honest sweat from his brow.

"Oh, give me sassaparilly; that is about as healthy as anything, I guess." (Here the deacon's eyelid went back on him and dropped quickly.)

"All right," replied the fountain tender as he disappeared beneath the counter and came up a moment later with the drinking glass containing about three fingers of "sassaparilly," to which he added the other ingredients, and handed it to the deacon. The latter drained the contents to the very dregs, then brushed the froth from his mouth, smacked his lips and said, "That syrup is a little stronger than they generally make it, but my blood is out of order, and I guess I'll take another glass;" at the same time his eyelid fluttered meaningly as before.

The dose was repeated, and the soda water bibber left the the store. About half an hour later he entered another establishment where a sign announced "Soda and Mineral Water on Draught." It was noticed that the Deacon walked as if he had the spring halt as he entered the door; his spectacles were upside down on his nose. He called for "Congress Water" at that place, saying he "did not feel quite right and was afraid he had used too much syrup in his soda water at the other store, or else he was bilious." His optical weakness exhibited itself as he spoke, and returning the wink, the clerk retired to a dark closet, then returning filled up the glass with plain "Congress" and gave it to our now "tightually alight" friend, who swallowed it without a murmur.

How many "sodas" the deacon stored away before he left the city we are unable to say, but he was found somewhat late in the day, asleep in his wagon, with a plow point for a pillow, and several yards of Dolly Varden calico gracefully draped about his person for a covering. He revived sufficiently to inform a stranger that he had been "drugged," and a subsequent visit to the localities where he had taken soda water developed the fact that his unfortunate habit of winking—a defect over which he had no control—was the cause of all his trouble. The soda water dispensers supposed him to be "one of the boys," and every time his eyelid dropped took the hint. The deacon escaped the "jim-jams," but says hereafter he will wear a blinder over that eye, when he purchases summer drinks, or else write his order on a slate.—Cleveland Leader.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

THE CORN-BALL MONEY.

Dotty and Dimple were two little sisters, who looked so much alike that most people took them for twins. They both had round faces, blue eyes, straight brown hair, cut short in the neck, and cheeks as firm and pink as fall apples; and, though Dotty was eleven months the older, Dimple was the taller by half an inch, so that altogether it was very confusing.

"I don't believe any twins could love each other better than did these little girls. Nobody ever heard them utter a quarrelsome word from the time they walked in the morning, and began to chatter and giggle in bed, like two little squirrels, to the moment when they fell asleep at night, with arms tight clasped around each other's necks. They liked the same things, did the same things, and played together all day long without being tired. Their father's farm was two miles from the nearest neighbor, and three from the schoolhouse; so they didn't go to school, and no little boys or girls ever came to see them.

Should you think it would be lonely to live so? Dotty and Dimple didn't. They had each other for playmates, and all out-doors to play in, and that was enough.

The farm was a wild, beautiful spot. A river ran round two sides of it; and quite near the house it "met with an accident, as Dotty said"—that is, it tumbled over some high rocks in a waterfall, and then, picking itself up, took another jump, and landed, all white and foaming, in a deep, wooded glen.

The water, where it fell, was dazzling with rainbows, like soap bubbles; and the pool at the bottom had the color of a green emerald, only that all over the top little flakes of sparkling spray swam and glittered in the sun. Altogether it was a wonderful place, and the children were never tired of watching the cascade or hearing the rush and roar of its leap.

All summer long city people, boarding in the village, six miles off, would drive over to see the fall. This was very interesting indeed! Carryalls and big wagons would stop at the gate; and ladies get out, with pretty round hats and parasols; and gentlemen carrying canes; and dear little children, in flounced and braided frocks. And they would all come trooping up close by the house, on their way to see the view. Sometimes, but not often, one would stoop to get a drink of water or ask the way. Dotty and Dimple liked very much to have them come. They would hide, and peep out at the strangers, and make up all kinds of stories about them; but they were to shy too come forward or let themselves be seen. So the people from the city never guessed what bright eyes were looking at them from behind the door or on the other side of the bushes. But all the same it was great fun for the children to have them come, and they were always pleased when wheels were heard and wagons drove up to the gate.

It was early last summer that a droll idea popped into Dotty's head. It all came from a man who, walking past, and stopping to see the fall, sat down awhile to rest, and said to the farmer:

"I should think you'd charge people something for looking at that 'ere place, stranger."

"No," replied Dotty's father, "I don't calculate on asking folks nothing for the use of their eyes."

"Well," said the man, getting up to go, "you might as well. It's what folks is doing all over the country. If 'twas mine, I'd fix up a lunch or something, and fetch 'em that way."

But the farmer only laughed. That night, when Dotty and Dimple were in bed, they began to whisper to each other about the man.

"Wasn't it funny," giggled Dimple, "his telling pa to fix a lunch?"

"Yes," said Dotty; "but I tell you what, Dimple, when he said that, I had such a nice plan come into my head. You know you and me can make real nice corn-balls."

"Course we can."

"Well let's get pa or else Zach, to make us a little table—out of boards, you know; and let's put it on the bank, close to the place where folks go to see the fall; and every day let's pop a lot of corn, and make some balls, and set them on the table for the folks to eat. Don't you think that would be nice?"

"I'm afraid mother wouldn't let us have so much molasses," said the practical Dimple.

"Oh! but don't you see I mean to have the folk's pay for 'em? We'll put a paper on the table, with 'two cents apiece' or something like that on it. And then they'll put the money on the table, and when they're gone away we'll go and fetch it. Won't that be fun! Perhaps there'd be a great deal—most as much as a dollar!"

"Oh, no," cried Dimple "not so much as that. But we might get a greenback. How much is a greenback, Dot?"

"Oh! I don't know," replied Dotty. "A good deal, I know. But I guess it isn't so much as a dollar."

The little sisters could hardly sleep that night, they were so excited over

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining their validity of inventions.

All necessity of a Journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined,

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

JURUBEBA

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troubles and disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

PILLS AND OINTMENT.

Every Man His Own Physician.

CAUTION.

THE immense demand for HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT, has tempted unprincipled parties to counterfeit these valuable medicines.

In order to protect the public and ourselves, we have issued a new "Trade Mark," consisting of an Egyptian circle of a serpent, with the letter H in the centre. Every box of genuine HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT will have this trade mark on it; none are genuine without it.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequaled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all malaria, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, and written, and Much has been said many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. THAGERS, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. BREWSTER, Kittery; E. S. SAYFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

CORNS, Bunions, Bad Nails, and other diseases of the feet, Scrofulous and Cancerous Humors, Piles, etc., skillfully treated at the great central Chiropodical and Healing Institute, No. 765 Broadway, New York. DR. J. BRIGGS, President; DR. ALEXANDER WEBBER, Secretary. ap9

THURSDAY, JULY 4, 1872.

The News.

The chimney of Park Street church, Boston, to which was attached a rope holding the flag of the Grant and Wilson Campaign Club, was pulled over by the force of the wind on the 2d, and a laboring man who was passing had his skull crushed by the falling bricks.

The New York senate has voted for the removal of Judge McCunn. The vote stood twenty-eight in the affirmative and none in the negative.

The testimony for the government in the Stokes trial is closed and the defence commenced.

Atlantics 11, Mutuals 10.

Bostons 9, Clevelands 8.

The latest fillibustering expedition has come to grief. The steamer Fannie landed her cargo of arms near Guantanamo, and then got aground and was burned. The expedition was attacked by General Valera, and Peralta, the chief of the fillibusters, was killed. Nearly half the adventurers were captured and the remainder pursued. The arms landed from the Fannie were buried at Guantanamo by the fillibusters, but were discovered and captured by the Spanish forces.

There were twenty deaths from sunstroke in Boston, on the 1st.

The Inman steamer City of Brussels has made the passage from Sandy Hook to Queenstown, Ireland, in 7 days, 15 hours and 55 minutes, which is 4 hours and 25 minutes better than her rapid passage in December, 1869, and the best one ever made to the eastward across the Atlantic.

MISSOURI is one of the States which the Greeley organs are confidently counting upon. The bolt in 1870, which made Gratz Brown Governor, and sent Frank Blair to the U. S. Senate, resulted also in making Democratic voters of about 15,000 rebels who were previously qualified. Beyond this it produced no permanent gain to the Democracy. The Missouri Democrat gives the following conversation between a Grant man and some Greeleyites:

Votes in Missouri for Grant in 1868	85,671
Votes in Missouri for Seymour in 1868	59,788
Majority for Grant	25,883

Now, gentlemen, you see you had 59,788 votes in 1868. Since then you have gained, by enfranchisement of rebels, 15,000 votes. We will allow that 10,000 of the Grant German vote of the State goes for Greeley—and that's a big allowance, and gives you 84,788 votes for Greeley. Since 1868 this State has gained 65,000 voters by immigration. Twenty-five thousand of this new vote will go for Greeley, which brings the Greeley vote up to 109,000; and let me tell you, gentlemen, that's every dog-goned one you'll get. Now for the Republican showing. First, get the Grant vote of 1868, less 10,000, which makes it 75,671. According to the census of 1870, we have 120,000 colored people in Missouri. At least 25,000 of these are voters, and they will vote for Grant. To this I add our proportion of the new immigration, say 50,000, which gives Grant over 150,000 votes in the State.

THE KEY STONE STATE O. K.—All fears as to the result of the fall elections in Pennsylvania may be set at rest. The "Woody land of Penn" will throw her entire vote for Grant. The Philadelphia Press says:—

The State is sure for a portion of the Republican ticket in October by many thousand majority, and whatever may be the result of that preliminary contest, Grant and Wilson will beat Greeley and Brown in November. Upon the National ticket there is no difference of opinion in the Republican ranks. The only men who promise that they will vote for Greeley are the imitators of Tweed and Connolly, who will be stripped of all power after October."

THAT ANCIENT MARINER. — While gilded with the setting sun that made the air aglow, was Hampton, in the Granite State, a few warm days ago, within the local Union House an ancient man appeared—a stranger of aquatic mien and hoary waste of beard. Unto the poorly furnished bar he moved with rolling gait, and said a gallon he desired of Bourbon whiskey straight; the while upon a tawny hand he swung a sailor-hat, and gazed about the cosy room as ready for a chat. "Are you a traveller by the cars?" the cautious host inquired, by staid New England's Liquor Law to extra care inspired. To which the stranger-guest replied; "No landsman, sir, am I; but captain of a schooner staunch, now at your docks hard-by. Out of a port sou'west by south, over the seas sailed we; our lockers all were supplied, we thought, as they could be; but chopping winds and tedious calms, and days in tacking spent consumed space our cherished stores beyond all precedent. More than a week on rations short due to the north sailed we, till from our masthead came the shout of Hampton on our lee. And now, to buy a new supply of liquor, food and wood, I've come ashore, as said before, as schooner captain should."

The landlord listened with a smile that spread from ear to ear: "Now sit thee down and take a sup, thou ancient mariner. We've tradesmen brisk and woodmen cheap, and cks such liquor fine as never messmate ranked below the choicest foreign wine." With modest grace the stranger sat and ate and drank the best; and trading folk came trooping in to hail the village guest. They plied him well with costly wine, and toasts to wind and wave; and bade him come inspect their wares, and bid his orders crave. By team select he went with them to wood-pile, shop and store, and when he ordered all he saw he still would order more. "Over the bar at morning's dawn, full with the wind, sail we; and see you have them down in time, and bring the bills to me." With manner bland as o'er was seen, for all who chose to scan, thus spoke that ancient mariner to every trading man: "Over the bar at morning's dawn, fol! with the wind sail we; and mind you do not fail, I say, to bring the bills to me." And back unto the Union House he sped, and supped again; and took a bed the hosts give not to any common men. What time the honest trading-folk of wood-pile, store and shop, from piling high their trucks and carts that night did never stop. They piled them high, they piled them broad, with cheery toil and stir; to fill the strict commands he gave—that ancient mariner. And when the blinking stars went out and up the red sun stole, down to the docks went trucks and carts, in long, majestic roll; down to the docks at morning's dawn, as nearly as could be; but not a schooner saw they all upon the silent sea. Never a schooner large or small by night had anchored been; and not for weeks had the waterside such craft in Hampton seen. The sun on high to the zenith rolled; the trucks and carts went back; and the genial host of the Union House exclaimed, 'Alack! Alack!' For softly, at the dawn of day, without adieu or stir, had gone, and left his bill unpaid, that ancient mariner.—Orpheus C. Kerr.

CLANDESTINE MARRIAGE.—Reverend Horatio Stebbins realizes by this time the truth of the Shakespearean sentiment, "Love laughs at locksmiths." If he doesn't, it is not the fault of his coarming daughter, Miss Mary Louise. About two years ago this young lady met her fate in the person of a young man named Schroder. He was a very young man—not over 20—and earned his living by selling tickets at the Pavillion Skating Ring.

He looked out of the little ticket window, and his eyes fell upon Miss Mary. She looked in at the little ticket window and her eyes fell upon him. Tableau—blushes, mutual starts, and finally love. An acquaintance was soon formed, and the children fairly reveled in their newborn attachment. For a short time young Schroder called on the young lady at her father's house, but finally the good doctor's mental nostrils were assailed by the odor of beer, tobacco, and he mildly suggested that he thought the Stebbins visiting circle was already large enough without the addition of Mr. Schroder. In short, he told the young lady she must no longer receive his attentions. He said she was entirely too young to think of marriage, and, besides, Mr. Schroder would not be his choice for a son-in-law.

Miss Mary then met her lover clandestinely. She would go to the skating rink daily, and wait for Schroder to get through his duties, when they would skate together for hours. They were constantly together when away from the parental eye, and had no thought outside of their own happiness.

Finally Mr. Stebbins despaired of breaking up the intimacy, except by sending the young lady away for a time. He made arrangements to place her in a school in Germany, in the hope that absence would conquer the love he had so long endeavored to dispel.

She was to start for New-York on the 6th of June. On the 5th she asked permission to go and see some friends and bid them good-by. She went out, met Schroder, and the two quietly went over to San Feandro, got a license, and were married. Schroder brought his bride back to the city, and she returned to her father's house. Next morning she started, in company with her aunt (Miss Fisher), for New York on route for Europe. A few days after this some busybody happened to see the entry of the marriage in the San Leandro records, and hastened as fast as his legs could carry him to inform Dr. Stebbins. To say that the outraged parent was surprised and shocked, hardly expresses it. He was frantic.

He went to Schroder's place of business, the London and San Francisco Bank, to interview that gentleman without a moment's delay, and there learned the truth. "Well," said the good doctor, "if that is the case I must telegraph Miss Fisher to return."

"And what about Mary?" asked the self-imposed son-in-law. "Well, sir," said the doctor, "since she is your wife, my advice to you is to look after her. You will find her in New-York," and with that turned on his heel and left the bank.

He then telegraphed Miss Fisher at New-York not to sail for Europe until she heard from him, and a letter is now on the way. It is said that the letter contains a brief note to the young lady denouncing her for unfilial conduct, and informing her that henceforth she must look to her husband for protection. In short, it is said, the doctor disowns his daughter forever.

The young bride is very beautiful, has, or had, a host of friends, and will probably make young Schroder supremely happy. He, like her, is very young, but has good habits and a fair start in life. Let us hope that the good doctor's wrath will soon subside and all yet be hapiness and peace between him and his children.—San. Francisco Chronicle.

TEN BECAUSES. — A hundred reasons might be given why Lyon's Katharion should be used by every intelligent human being in preference to every other preparation for the hair, but ten will suffice. Here they are Because it nourishes the fibers, multiplies them and makes them grow; because it thus prevents them from withering and bleaching; because it removes the scurf and dandruff which choke them and makes their growth grain; because it keeps the scalp cool and prevents eruptions; because it renders the hair as lustrous as satin; because it makes it pliant and elastic; because it is a fragrant and delightful dressing; because it does not soil the pillow, the cap or the hat; because it is without a rival in cheapness, and because no other article sold for the same purpose, in this or any other country, possesses all, or even one-half, of these invaluable properties.

Special Notices.

The Career of a Great Remedy.

Twenty summers have elapsed since it was briefly announced that a new vegetable tonic and alterative, bearing the name of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and had been added to the list of Preventive and Restorative medicines. The modest advertisement which invited attention to the preparation stated that it had been used with great success in private practice, as a cure for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, constipation and intermittent fever. It was soon discovered that the article possessed extraordinary properties. The people, of every class, tested its merits as a tonic, stimulant, corrective and restorative, and found that its effects more than fulfilled their hopes and expectations. From that time to the present its course has been upward and onward, and it stands to-day at the head of all medicines of its class, American or imported, in the magnitude of its sales and its reputation as a safe, agreeable and potent invigorant and restorative. For languor and debility, lack of appetite and gastric disturbances, so common during the summer months, it is absolutely infallible. Indigestion, bilious disorders, constipation, nervousness, periodical fevers, and all the ordinary complaints generated by a vitiated and humid atmosphere, vanish under its renovating and regulating influence. This is its record, avouched by volumes of intelligent testimony, extending over a period of a fifth of a century, and comprehending the names of thousands of well-known citizens belonging to every class and calling. In Europe it is thought a great thing to obtain the patronage of royalty for a "patent medicine," but Hostetter's Bitters has been spontaneously approved by millions of independent sovereigns, and its patent consists in their endorsement.

Notice.

Death of Wm. P. Jones.

Again it is our sad duty to chronicle the decease of another of the prominent citizens of Portsmouth, who has for forty years been actively engaged in business which has engrossed his attention and time. Mr. Jones' last illness was severe and trying, lasting but a week. He suffered greatly from a kidney disease, but bore it patiently. On Tuesday night, pneumonia set in and all hope of saving his life was abandoned. At 10 o'clock on Wednesday he bade his family good bye and soon relapsed into insensibility, expiring at 2 o'clock, P. M.

Mr. Jones' extensive business allowed him no time to fill public office, though repeatedly urged so to do. He accepted an election as Representative to General Court for two terms, but thereafter declined all political favors.

Mr. Jones first commenced business as a clerk, and entered into partnership about the year 1832 with his father, under the firm name of William Jones & Son. A business in dry goods of $200,000 to $300,000 per annum was there created, in the store on Market Street now occupied by Mr. George B. French. In a few years the firm removed to the building now occupied by the Ten Cents Saving Bank. The firm largely engaged in shipping and did considerable importing.

In 1855, about the time of the death of the senior member, the dry goods business was disposed of to Jones & Mendum; and Col. Albert L. Jones, a younger brother, who died a year or more ago, entered the partnership. Since then the firm has confined its operations principally to shipping and finance. Mr. William P. Jones was the last surviving member.

A distinctive trait of Mr. Jones was the tenacity with which he held to friends and associates. About the year 1885, A. J. Peuhallow, Esq., was in the employ of the firm, and again in 1855, was engaged as accountant, a position which he still holds.

Mr. Jones leaves a wife and seven children, and many friends who have never called upon him in vain in behalf of benevolent enterprises. No subscription list seemed complete without his signature. He leaves a property variously estimated at from $400,000 to $800,000. His age was apout 63 years.

A fine base ball exhibition is expected at the Plains this afternoon.

Money orders are now sent through the post-office for five cents for any sum less than $10.

Getting monotonous—"My dear boys," as rendered by the wind instrument performers about town.

Organ twisters are about, distracting peaceably inclined citizens and causing inward profanity to a high degree.

G. H. Jenness, Esq., will be happy to see his friends to-day at his saloon near the Sea View House, Rye Beach.

The unmatured citizen is testing the genial and festive fire-cracker to the unqualified enjoyment of his grandmother.

A fire cracker frightened a horse on Congress Street, Wednesday evening; the horse capsized a carriage; grand rush; horse stopped; no damage.

You can take a pleasant trip on the water this afternoon, in steamer Appledore. She will leave the wharf at 4 o'clock, returning about 6. Fare for the round trip, 50 cents.

John M. Davis, Esq., has been appointed special agent of the Continental Life Insurance Co., and has transferred his agency in Fire Insurance companies to Mr. Charles A. Hazlett.

Messrs. Palfrey, Sanborn and Vaughan appear in their "funniest," this evening. Go and enjoy a good laugh. It is the only entertainment offered for "the Fourth." Get your tickets at Thacher's, Shores', Hutchinson's, or at the door.

Schooner Mary Wiley, of this port, and bound here from Bangor with a cargo of lumber and brick, went ashore in a fog on the night of the 27th ult., on Spruce Head Point, and was hauled off next day with six feet of water in the hold. She was run in shore, and the crew had succeeded in reducing the water to twelve inches on the 29th, on which date she was boarded by an officer from the revenue cutter McCulloch, who offered assistance which was declined by the captain of the schooner, who desired to lay his vessel ashore for examination at low water.

THE LEGISLATURE has voted to adjourn to day at nine o'clock, A. M.

The bill to change the law terms of the supreme judicial court and the bill to give the right to females to act as prudential committees were passed.

The bill making the legal rate of interest 7 3-10 instead of 6 per cent. was indefinitely postponed.

The Nashua and Plaistow Railroad question came up and was postponed until next year. This is regarded as a victory for the Eastern Railroad, the Boston & Maine R. R. desiring the passage of the bill.

The bill declaring Albert Stevens of Ward 2, Concord, and Martin V. B. Felker of Madbury not entitled to seats in the house came up, and after a long debate of a bitter personal character in which national politics and the respective prospects of Greeley and Grant for an election were freely discussed, was passed.

THE EDITORIAL EXCURSION.—Arrangements have been completed for the annual excursion of the Association as follows: Members with their ladies will gather at the "Pavilion," Wolfeborough, on Monday evening, July 15, taking routes most convenient to reach that point. Tuesday forenoon will be spent at W., leaving in the afternoon by the Wolfeborough Branch Railroad and proceeding by rail to North Conway, where the party will make headquarters at the "Kiarsarge" House. They will remain there until Thursday morning, visiting places of interest. Here the excursion will break, leaving it optional with members to return home or visit the White Mountains via the Crawford and Glen Houses.

State News.

The shoe factory of Mr. George McGregor at Londonderry, with considerable stock and machinery, was burned on the 2d.

On the 1st inst. a laboring man in the yard of the Amoskeag Mills, at Manchester, was sunstruck and died soon after midnight. He was thirty-five years of age, and unmarried.

—The latest fashion at weddings is for a gentleman to present his daughter with a check for a large amount, which is displayed with the other presents, but taken back by the indulgent papa at the close of the reception.

—Worcester has a new inspector of kerosene, and his first discovery was that the city had several barrels of naphtha on hand, which it was burning in street lamps for kerosene,—which accounts for the explosion of several of the lamps.

—While a Waterbury (Conn.) farmer was mowing his dooryard a sly puppy hid in the grass and then jumped out to take the scythe by surprise. But the puppy turned out to be more surprised than the scythe, for he found himself in two places at the same time.

—The New York Express, commenting on the verdict of the jury that has been investigatiag the recent railroad accident in Canada, says the jurymen have probably received passes for life over the road and so there is a faint hope that they may learn more thoroughly what a railroad accident is.

—The New York and Brooklyn bridge, when completed, will have a total length of 5,862 feet, and a width of 80 feet; the central span will be 1,600 feet long, with an elevation of 130 feet above high water; the towers will be 268 feet in height above the surface of high water, and at the base will be 134 by 56 feet.

—Max Adeler says: When we lived out in Missouri, many years ago, there was a law prohibiting the system of solitary confinement in the State and county prisons. So, in our town, a man named Tucker was convicted of a crime and sent to jail. The jail was empty before Tucker came, and, after he had been in it forty-eight hours, his lawyer moved for his discharge upon the ground that, as Tucker was alone, his imprisonment was in violation of the law. The judge thought about it all night, and stirred around among his law books, and the next day Tucker was set at liberty. They changed that statute the very next year.

SPLENDID COUNTRY REAL ESTATE
FOR SALE.
The beautiful property known as the
"Dr. Stevens' Place."
Situated in Greenland, N. H., in close proximity to the Railroad station, on the old stage route from Portsmouth to Exeter, and four miles from the first named place.
The property consists of 25 Acres most excellent Land, all to grass or tillage, and in a high state of cultivation, upon which are some fifty lofty and beautiful Shade Trees, 120 thrifty Apple Trees, all in bearing, and some 90 Pear, Cherry and Peach Trees, a large Asparagus Bed, (will cut 300 bunches next season) Gooseberry Bushes in great profusion, Currant Bushes, a large bed of Rhubarb plant and Strawberry beds.
The buildings consist of a handsome Cattle Barn (the dwelling house having been burned last November), 40 feet square, with a splendid cellar beneath for storing fruit and vegetables, making manure and keeping bees in winter; & fine, well appointed Stable for three horses with spacious Carriage room; a large and well made Tool House and Workshop with Piggery attached; also a fine summer Ice House with splendid run and appointments. All the above buildings are in perfect order and are well painted.
The site for the house is all that could be desired, being well elevated and commanding, and having a large and beautiful lawn in front, well fenced and splendidly embellished with Hedges, Bushes, Spruce Maple and Elm trees.
To any one wishing a beautiful Farm for the sake of the health and pleasure of a farm life, or to any one desiring a Country estate for a Summer Residence with the privilege of erecting a house to suit their means and convenience, this offers a rare and inviting opportunity.
The subscriber will hold this offer of sale open only for a limited time,—say Jan. 1, 1873. If not disposed of previous to that time, it will be withdrawn.
Should a purchaser present, possession will be given immediately with the Crops, or later with the crops removed, as may be agreed upon.

RESIDENCE 23 Washington St., Portsmouth

Morning Chronicle.

Concluded from first page.

their plan. Next morning they were up with the birds; and before breakfast, mother, father and Zach, the hired man, had heard all about the wonderful scheme.

Mother said she didn't mind letting them try; and Zach, who was very fond of the children, promised to make the table the very first thing after the big field was plowed. And so he did; and a very nice table it was—with four legs and a good, stout top. Dotty and Dimple laughed with pleasure when they saw it.

Zach set it on the bank, just at the place where the people stood to look at the view; and he drove a stake at each corner; and found some old sheeting, and made a sort of tent over the table, so that the sun should not shine under and melt the corn-balls. When it was all arranged, and the table set out, with the corn balls on one plate and maple sugar cakes on another, it looked very tempting, and the children were extremely proud of it. Dotty cut a sheet of paper, and printed upon it the following notice:

"Corn ball 2 sents apece.
Sugar 1 sent apece.
Please help yure selfs and put the munney on the table."

The first day four people visited the waterfall; and when the children ran down to look, after they had driven away, half the provisions were gone, and there on the table lay four shining five-cent pieces! The next day was not so good; they only made four cents. And so it went on all summer. Some days a good many people would come, and a good many pennies be left on the table; and other days nobody would come, and the wasps would eat the maple sugar, and fly away without paying anything at all. But little by little the tin box in mother's drawer got heavier and heavier, until at last, early in October, Dotty declared that she was tired of making corn-balls, and guessed the city folks had all gone home; and now wouldn't mother please count the money, and see how much they had got?

So mother emptied the tin box into her lap, with a great jingle of pennies and rustling of fractional currency. And now how much do you think there was? Three dollars and seventy-eight cents. The seventy-eight cents, mother said, would just about pay for molasses; so there were three dollars all their own, for Dotty and Dimple to spend as they liked?

You should have seen them dance about the kitchen. Three dollars! Why, it was a fortune! It would buy everything in the world! They had fifty plans, at least, for spending it; and sat up too late, talking them over, and had such red cheeks and excited eyes, that mother said she was afraid they would not sleep a wink all night. But bless you they did and were as bright as buttons in the morning.

For a week there was nothing talked about but the wonderful three dollars. And then, one evening, father, who had been to the village, came home with a very grave face, and, drawing a newspaper from his pocket, read them all about the great fire in Chicago.

He read how the flames spreading like wind, swept from one house to another, and how people had just time to run out of their homes, leaving everything to burn; how women with babies in their arms, and frightened children, crouched all that dreadful night on the cold wet prairie, without food or clothing or shelter; how little girls and boys ran through the burning streets, crying for their parents whom they could not find; how everybody had lost everything.

"Oh!" said Dimple almost crying as she listened to the piteous story, "how dreadful those little girls must feel! And I suppose all their dollies were burned up too. I wouldn't have Nancy burned up in a fire for anything;" and picking up an old doll, of which she was very fond, she hugged her with unspeakable affection.

That night there was another long mysterious confabulation in the children's bed; and, coming down in the morning, hand in hand, Dotty Dimple announced that they had made up their minds what to do with their corn ball money.

"We're going to send it to Sicago," said Dimple, "to those poor little girls whose dollies are all burned up."

"How will you send it?" asked their mother.

"In a letter," said Dotty. "And please, pa, write on the outside: 'From Dotty and Dimple, to buy some dollies for the little girls whose dollies were burned up in the fire.'"

So their father put the money into an envelope, and wrote on the outside just what Dotty said. And when he had got through he put his hands in his pockets and walked out of the room. The children wondered what made his face so red, and when they turned round there was mother with tears in her eyes.

"Why, what's the matter?" cried they. But their mother only put her arms around them, and kissed them very hard. And she whispered to herself: "Of such is the kingdom of Heaven."

—The Danbury News tells what it knows about heat: "If Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week do not stand out as the pre-eminently hot days of the season, it is because of fatigue. They were roasters, those three days were. The breezes of the north were chained to the everlasting hills (heavens! how pretty that sounds) and the molten disc of the god of day shone with the ferocity of a scoured platter. It was weather, that was.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.
The few compositions, which have won the confidence af mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed those dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

PAT AT THE JUBILEE.—"Is the captain of the Jubilee in?" inquired a Hibernian at one of the entrances of the Coliseum.

"Captain of the Jubilee! You mean the head of the Executive Committee, don't you?" said the doorkeeper.

"Sure, I don't want the head of any man—it's himself I am after seein', an' wouldn't ye be lettin me in at him"—

"No, no! You can't pass here without a ticket; besides, this is where the music comes in."

"Howly Moses! ye don't say so. Sure, I've been listenin' to it comin' out arl them little windy's atop the house—an' this is where it goes in!"

"Yes, this is where the orchestra comes in; you must go to the next entrance."

"Sure, I'm smarler than an orchastra, anyway," said Pat, looking at the wide entrance.

"Well, you can't come in here," said the door-keeper.

"Well, would ye be after tellin' the Captain there's a frind waitin' to give a Kilkenny grip of the fives to 'em here at the doore?"

"Is it the Captain of the Police you mean?"

"Bad luck to 'em, no; it is the man that wud make the perlice dance like a gossoon at a fiddler's wedding; it's him as makes the whole power of 'em play I mane."

"Perhaps it is Gilmore—Patrick S. Gilmore—he wishes to see," said an official who chanced to be passing at the moment.

"Whoorah! that's bye; would ye tell Paudeen that he'd meet a frind outside here jist."

"Mr. Gilmore cannot come now, he's on the stage."

"Augh! Go way wid yer; shure it's not a stage he dhrives at all; it's a barn he plays upon, now don't ye thrying to decave yer granmother with buttermilk for pottheen."

"But I tell you Mr. Gilmore is leading the orchestra now and cannot come."

"Shure why can't the feller as feeds the elyphant, lade round the ogysary awhile till Mr. Gilmore comes out?"

"You don't understand. Mr. Gilmore is the conductor."

"Shure I do understand," said Pat, getting vexed at what he considered an attempt to deceive him. "First ye tell me Misther Gilmore is a stage driver, and now yer tellin me he's a conductor; and how wud he be playin the harn and ridin on a harse car tukin money—"

"I tell you Gilmore is engaged."

"Good luck to 'em, and a purty girl for a wife.—I'm glad av it, shure an engaged man is half married. Now ye'll let me have a grip of the fist of him for luck."

"Can't let you in the Coliseum without a ticket."

"Can't let me call an see him widout a ticket; shure it's puttin on airs ye are. Now wadn't ye tell 'em to remember the green o' the shamrock, the smell o' the turf, and the bloom o' the daisy shure."

"Let that Irishman in," said an Executive Committee man who had been an amused listener of Pat's eloquence, and was not proof against his somewhat poetic appeal.

So Pat passed in and was soon listening, open mouthed, to the wonders of the Anvil chorus.—Commercial Bulletin.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

— OF —

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is lighter speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

JURUBEBA

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and ruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the severest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind from time immemorial, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

SATURDAY, JULY 6, 1872.

The Jubilee.

PORTSMOUTH, July 5.

Editors Chronicle:—In administering to you another epistolary dose, without consulting your wishes, I am enrolling myself in the noble army of bores, of whose achievements the world is full, who, without commander to marshal them, trumpet to inspire them, or uniform to distinguish them, invade and conquer every domain of life, sparing neither age or sex; wearing every shape of which humanity is capable, but alike in this one thing, their intolerable readiness to bestow upon you their least valuable possessions,—their wisdom, poetry, advice, opinions, sermons, musical imperfections, or, horresco referens! their society, everything but money—stolidly unconscious all the while that what is fun to them is death to you. The most invulnerable of all the pachyderms, nothing has yet been invented capable of putting a bullet through their obtuseness,—and Bismarck himself leaves the field when he sees them coming, being no match for them, even in single combat.

Tuesday morning, July 2d, found me on the way to Boston, with a recruit for the Jubilee, who remarked, as we crossed the burning sand to enter the Coliseum, "Nobody that has been here need fear any hereafter, however Orthodox they may be." But once inside the building we met the cool breeze that inhabits there. One or two tokens of approaching dissolution were observable about the place. The cannon were gone from the enclosure in the rear and many of the smaller guns from the Press Room; policemen were less numerous and more indulgent, and there was no rehearsal, except by the Irish Band in one of the retiring rooms.

But the performance and the audience of Tuesday afternoon were worthy of a younger Jubilee. Just before 3 o'clock, a smart shower caused the shutting of the upper windows, and when the sun re-appeared, these were opened only on one side of the building. Could this have caused the loud and decided echos which very greatly marred the effect of the instrumental music, that afternoon, and which I had not heard on any previous day? It was so strong that some little boys near me jumped up to look for the drummer on the roof, playing with the English Band. Even on the first two days of the Festival, when the attendance was not nearly so large as on this occasion, no such effect was observable.

Strauss was himself again, violin and all, and dealt out pantomimic retribution to his orchestra, who lumbered through the waltz about as a half-grown Newfoundland dog might. How they came to be alive that day, after the terrific heat of Monday and Monday night and the work they had to do in the midst of it, was the only thing I wondered at,—not that they did not play so brilliantly as usual. Their performance of William Tell, however, was very good. Neither of the bands showed any signs of fatigue, and I was much interested in the verdict of my recruits, (of whom I had two,) who awarded the palm to the Germans. After Peschka-Leutner had sung a selection from Martha, my right hand recruit remarked that she was a "pesky good singer." (Don't overlook the pun, as I did; my attention had to be called to it.) For an encore, she sung Star Spangled Banner, in English, strongly flavored with sour krout, which struck her as being so funny that she laughed, almost before she had finished the last word. It made everybody else laugh too, and, the old song in its new dress was very popular. At the conclusion of her aria, a large structure of flowers, (right-hand recruit called it a door mat) the centre composed stripes of white and pink carnations, and the broad border containing an endless variety of choice flowers, was presented to her, and followed her out.

The gentleman of color who precedes and succeeds all the celebrities, arranging the platform, bringing or removing the music-stands, etc., is quite a feature in these concerts, and the recipient of more applause than all the other artists combined. His appearance, as being the herald of some new brilliant luminary, is always hailed with a shower of hand-clapping, which he acknowledged one day with a courtly bow, to the uproarious delight of the spectators.

The Irish Band, in green and yellow uniform, and numbering fewer performers than either of the other foreign bands, was the only novelty of the day. They played a very long and rather soporific transcription of "The Lily of Killarney," and in response to the applause that followed, gave us a delicious medley of Irish airs, full of the rich brogue of the "Finnigin Brothers," wild as the hills of the "Ould Country" itself,—Irish fun and pathos and pugnacity finding expression in airs that are as interesting as those of any nation in the world. Their individuality is as marked as that of the people who sing them; nobody could mistake them for American or French productions. The band did not play "St. Patrick's Day in the Morning," which was a disappointment to the audience, who tried to secure a third performance, but failed.

I was anxious for my two friends to hear the organ and judge for themselves whether or not it was the abomination it has been so frequently asserted to be. They were agreeably surprised to find it possessing so rich and good a quality of tone with such tremendous power, and were unable to account for the systematic and unremitting abuse of it, except on the supposition that enemies of the builders are its instigators. The instrument is greatly superior to that used at the first Jubilee, and when played by a competen performer is capable of sublime effect.

On the back of the seat before me was written in pencil, "World's Piece Jubilee," and I was unable to decide whether this was the work of somebody whose education had been neglected, or of some satirist as yet unknown to fame, but sure, if he lives, to rise in his profession.

I noticed a little shop, one day recently, that had over the door a large sign, running the length of the building, and bearing, in immense white letters, the endeared name of "Oysters." Below the window was a sign one twelfth the size, with "Lobsters" on it. I tried to imagine the feelings of a lobster that could stand where I did and comprehend the situation,—a lobster of spirit lofty enough to resent the indignity done to his race. "The insignificant oyster, of no personal attractions, not a claw or leg to his name, shut up in a dingy shell, unable to travel and improve his mind and therefore a hopeless boor,—yet exalted in honor above the noble lobster,—the big, the beautiful, the brave! What consummate folly,—what vile injustice of the biped, man, lies at the bottom of this huge mistake!"

Very much like this have been the cogitations of that leviathan, the Jubilee chorus, if I may judge from its behavior. Being twenty thousand times as large as anybody else connected with the Jubilee, it has felt twenty thousand times as important, and has proportioned its demands to its size. It insisted on "Israel in Egypt" when that performance was sure (as one remarked to me) to "keep money out of the house." It held an indignation meeting the night of the first ball, on account of not receiving free tickets to that entertainment; and the ball of last Monday night was for it alone. Such an exacting chorus is rather an expensive luxury.

I have seen the man who doesn't believe in the Jubilee, and a fine specimen he is! He occupied the seat next behind ours on the return train that night, and the conversation between him and his companion began with the topic that has superseded the weather, for the present. The younger of the two men said, "I suppose you've been to the Jubilee—its a grand affair, isn't it?" The lofty scorn of the other was patent before I heard his answer: "I! why, thousands of dollars wouldn't induce me to go into the building;" he could be had for five hundred, I feel sure, or even a complimentary ticket. "Now I've seen shows," he continued, "but this—humph! It's all a sham. That Frenchman hit it when he said, 'mein Gott! one pig barn!' Them Prooshan musicians,—lor! they ain't nothing but street-players, and Straws is only a lager-beer-garden fiddler." "Oh no! he is a fine musician, a composer of beautiful music," interrupted the other, who had been to the Jubilee, and liked it very much. "Well, that story about his Newfoundland dog sickened me." "But a man's a man," retorted our fastidious friend, and as the other could not dispute the assertion, he went on to leave Mr. Gilmore ("Pat," he called him,) dead on the field, "killed by this affair," to consign Hallett & Davis to endless oblivion, and dispose of all parties to his satisfaction if not to theirs. He may be surprised yet, though he left Mr. Gilmore a corpse, to find that "he is not dead but sleeping." When this tirade began, I was half afraid that some great and travelled musical critic was about to swoop down upon me, and make me repent of my ignorant delight in such a contemptible affair; but his grammar and his pronunciation of Strauss and Wehli and Leutner, and his assertion that "this was the first day the Irish Band had played," rather weakened his authority. After this fatiguing onslaught, he was overtaken by something resembling sleep, in which he performed a great variety of pugilistic feats, shaking his fist at unseen enemies, plunging about occasionally after them, and once or twice taking my head as a target for his practice. I parted from him at the Portsmouth Depot, without a pang, feeling that his approval would be only an injury to the cause that was so unfortunate as to obtain it. And so, I suppose, I bade farewell to this delightful Festival, waved my adieu to Strauss with my Programme, looked my last at the Coliseum and rejoiced that I had nine such rich and privileged days to remember until they are lost in the surpassing harmonies and glories of the Jubilee above. Even the man in the cars hopes to be there.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

Special Notices.

The Career of a Great Remedy.

Twenty summers have elapsed since it was briefly announced that a new vegetable tonic and alterative, bearing the name of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and had been added to the list of Preventive and Restorative medicines. The modest advertisement which invited attention to the preparation stated that it had been used with great success in private practice, as a cure for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, constipation and intermittent fever. It was soon discovered that the article possessed extraordinary properties. The people, of every class, tested its merits as a tonic, stimulant, corrective and restorative, and found that its effects more than fulfilled their hopes and expectations. From that time to the present its course has been upward and onward, and it stands to-day at the head of all medicines of its class. American or imported, in the magnitude of its sales and its reputation as a safe, agreeable and potent invigorant and restorative. For languor and debility, lack of appetite and gastric disturbances, so common during the summer months, it is absolutely infallible. Indigestion, bilious disorders, constipation, nervousness, periodical fevers, and all the ordinary complains generated by a vitiated and humid atmosphere, vanish under its renovating and regulating influence. This is its record, avouched by volumes of intelligent testimony, extending over a period of a fifth of a century, and comprehending the names of thousands of well-known citizens belonging to every class and calling. In Europe it is thought a great thing to obtain the patronage of royalty for a "patent medicine," but Hostetter's Bitters has been spontaneously approved by millions of independent sovereigns, and its patent consists in their endorsement.

Notice—William E. Hoyt.

A Sail on the Fourth.

Well knowing the dullness of a Fourth of July in town, with no fire of eloquence, and only fire crackers to make the air less tolerable than the hot sun, we resolved on a little pleasure yacht trip to the Shoals—and mustering about a half dozen boys and as many girls, of our own and of such neigbors as trusted to our discretion, and enlivened by the company of several ladies—repaired on board the staunch pilot schooner Alfaretta, and glided down the harbor at noon, delighted to meet the cool sea breeze, which changed our languor into vigor before we rounded Fort Point, but the cool south-easter, while it gave us the delicious change was blowing against us, and away we beat with long tacks and plenty of lemonade until Appledore and Gosport seemed close at hand. Just then we observed appearances in the south-west of a thunder storm and watched the play of the lightning from our new stand point with eager interest; half an hour more would place us safe at our anchorage, and we kept on in the hope of reaching it before the shower should reach us; but suddenly, while we were gazing at the clouds, they assumed a new hue, rolling towards us like race horses, and it became clear to the experienced eye of our skillful tar at the helm that the squall would be upon us before we could reach moorings.

The women and children, who were now very sea sick from the swelling waves, were hastily hustled into the cabin and forecastle, and the order given to lower the mainsail; down it came, then the jib, and then the order "down with the foresail"—and down it came half way, and there it stuck. No pulling could make it come down farther and the squall had burst upon us in its fury with this half of the foresail up. There was nothing to do but to run before it, and away we went, blinded by the sheets of rain and the spray from the white capped billows. The sea was suddenly white with foam, and our vision shut out at twenty feet from our staggering craft. Just then we heard amid the thunder's roar, the voice of Mayor Marvin calling on the skipper for a sharp knife; and in a moment after we beheld his Honor swinging, hatless, mid air, holding a single shroud in one hand and cutting away the peak halyards of the foresail with the other. Down dropped the peak of the gaff, and his Honor slid down the shroud to the deck. All felt proud of his daring and thought how little fear entered into his composition.

I turned to the solemn, calm face of our skipper for encouragement. He simply nodded his head in the direction of Duck Island or where he supposed it to be, under our lee—and remarked that he thought we should go clear, and that it would not last long. For about twenty minutes we plunged on, our gallant craft riding lightly over the enormous billows, the poor shut-up things wailing and suffering from sickness below, when almost as suddenly as it came, the squall was over, and our fears changed to hopes; and our hopes were reassured.

Dryness we had not, but joyousness, as we let the young brood come on deck again with smiles thro' their tears, and shaped our course for home with a fair southerly breeze. The terrors of the scene we had passed through gave way to the contemplation of the beauty and magnificence of a squall upon the ocean; and although we would not like a repetition of it, we would not part with the picture of grandeur which our Fourth of July squall has photographed on our memories. B.

Sheriff Rowe's Removal.

Mr. Emery of Portsmouth moved to take from the table the address for the removal of sheriff of Rockingham county. On a division the motion was carried—167 to 114.

Mr. Bingham of Littleton demanded the yeas and nays.

Mr. Putnam of Warren, at noon, moved an adjournment. On a division the motion was negatived—148 to 139.

Mr. Smith of Newmarket demanded the yeas and nays in the question of adjournment and they were taken, and the previous vote confirmed—165 to 124.

The question now recurring on taking the address from the table, the yeas and nays passed upon it, and it was agreed to by 169 to 101.

Mr. Putnam of Warren, knowing that Mr. Rowe stood high in public estimation, and in that of men of both political parties, demanded that some reason should be given why such stigma should lie on his name. It would be an act of wrong to him, and of dishonor to this body, if he should be removed without a cause. He moved that the address be referred to the delegation from Rockingham county.

At a quarter to 1, on motion of Mr. Smith of Newmarket, the House adjourned.

During the evening session the address passed both Houses, as did an address for the removal of Sheriff Legro of Coos county.

Howe's Circus.

The Boston Journal says "the street parade with their horses and chariots, gilded cars and richly decorated vehicles, lady and gentleman riders, zebra team, four-in-hand, pony teams, four elephants, attracted attention and admiration from crowds of people all along the route, and was pronounced one of the largest and best street displays ever seen in the city. This circus and menagerie gave two exhibitions, which were both crowded until no more could be admitted, and it is thought that two thousand people at least were turned away. The immense and splendid show took the crowd, and those who could get admission were delighted."

Death by Sunstroke.

On Friday, the quicksilver mounted to 98 in the shade, and stayed there. The heat was oppressive. Mr. Austin Cahill, a laborer employed at Railroad wharf, was overcome by the intense heat while in the hold of a vessel in the afternoon. He walked nearly home, became insensible, and died a half hour afterwards.

Fourth of July-lings.

'Twas hot.
Glad it's over.
Big time, next year, you know.

Went sailing, some people; others didn't.

An afternoon thunder shower cooled things.

The bells were rung at sunrise, noon and sunset.

Warm work for the Marine Band, at the Trotting Park.

Thirsty human nature relieved itself by frequent libations.

Lonesome dry goods boxes no longer adorn the back yards adjacent to Market Square. They are as ashes.

Mrs. O'Donnell, an Irish woman, wandered overboard at the Spring Market after 10 o'clock in the evening, and was rescued by the master of a schooner lying at the wharf.

The experience of an excursion party to the Shoals during the thunder storm is related elsewhere by a correspondent. Portsmouth very nearly had another lost Mayor to mourn for.

The dramatic entertainment at the Temple, in the evening, was enjoyed by a small audience. Harlow's orchestra played some fine selections excellently. Messrs. Palfrey, Sanborn and Vaughan were very happy in their character delineations. We think the managers, who we are sorry to say lost money, would have had more pecuniary encouragement had ladies been in the cast of characters. The sterner sex, who usually purchase the most tickets to entertainments, it is reasonably supposed would prefer to listen to and look at ladies instead of relying wholly on gentlemen for amusement.

Attempts at Suicide.

John Falvey, who tried to kill himself last week by cutting his arm with a razor, succeeded in cutting his throat Friday afternoon. He was found in an out-house at his home on Hunking Street with the blood flowing from a ragged gash in the throat. His windpipe was severed and the wretched man has doubtless succeeded in his horrible attempt. He is 50 years old and has a wife and four children.

James Locke, of Seabrook, went to Deer Island, near Newburyport, on the 2d, put up his horse at a hotel and declared he would commit suicide by jumping overboard from the chain bridge. He was followed and taken back to the hotel, where he attempted to cut his throat with a dull knife. He failed to kill himself however and is now doing well. Mr. Locke is of a respectable family and has considerable property. He has been in low spirits for some time.

Laconics.

Leavitt's Minstrel Troupe is coming July 11th.

Sunday evening services will be held in St. John's church, to-morrow, at 7:15.

Going to the Shoals in the Appledore this afternoon? you can, after the arrival of the trains.

The Young Men's Christian Association have abandoned their rooms on Congress Street.

Messrs. Thos. H. Rider and Wm. W Cotton have purchased the hardware business of Mr. Wm. Tarlton.

U. S. S. Tallapoosa arrived at the Navy Yard, Friday, bringing Admirals Joseph and Melancton Smith and thirteen cadet Engineers.

White hats are common this summer, and their wearers are constantly besieged by questions like unto this:—"Are you really out for Greeley?"

Mr. Josiah F. Adams, the undertaker exhibits an elegant new hearse which he is pleased to remark cannot be beaten for style and elegance in these parts.

Cable advices state that there is no truth in the statement telegraphed from across the waters some time since that a new cable was to be landed at Rye Beach.

Judge Page and County Solicitor Frink, two excellent Democratic officials appointed last year, remain in office, no action being taken towards their removal by the legislature.

Sheriff Rowe's friends do not feel terribly bad over his removal, as they are quite sure that Greeley will carry New Hampshire and that the State will go Democratic again next March.

Farmers say that the growth of the crops during the past two weeks has been remarkably rapid, the oldest inhabitants declaring that they "never saw anything like it." A heavy hay crop is now insured.

The Portsmouth correspondent of the Associated Press says that a committee from St. Louis has visisted Rev. James DeNormandie to urge his acceptance of a call to the Unitarian Church in that city. Mr. DeNormandie asked time for consideration.

The new billiard room at the Rockingham House was opened on the evening of the 3d inst, and was thronged with spectators. It is elegantly fitted, artistically frescoed, and is said to be ahead of any similar room in New England. The tables are four in number, of medium size, and decidedly ornamental. The Rockingham will be a favorite resort for billiard players.

Death by Lightning

York was visited by an electric storm at 6 o'clock, Wednesday afternoon. The lightning struck in many places. A ledge was torn to pieces, a building struck, a yoke of oxen moved around lively while a firebolt ran under them, and the telegraph poles were prostrated for half a mile and the wires melted. Three children of Mr. William Allen (at Firetown) were sitting side by side near a telegraph pole, when three successive flashes of lightning came from a cloud overhead, there being no sign of rain at the time. A young girl, one of the three, was struck on the neck, the lightning passing down her body and out at the abdomen, causing her bowels to protrude. Her sister sitting next her, escaped injury, but the brother was struck on the head, and his breast was fearfully scorched. He was seriously injured, but may recover.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

THE PRINTER'S DEVIL.

BY TYP. O. QUOD.

Ink-bespattered,
Clothing tattered,
With his broom in hand,
Leaning, cleaning,
Rubbing, scrubbing,
Under every stand.

'Neath the cases,
Type and spaces—
Trampled where they fell—
By this Pluto
Doomed to go to Printer's leather "hell."

Running hither,
Darting thither,
Tail of all the staff,
Out and in doors,
Doing all chores,
Bringing telegraph.

Runs for copy,
Nor dare stop he
For his paper list;
All the jour'men,
Save the foremen,
Yelling for some "fat."

"Proves" the galleys:
Then he sallies,
On Satanic pinion,
From the news-room
To the sanctum—
Part of his dominion.

And the bosses—
Often cross as
Bears within their holes—
Make the devil
Find his level
Stirring up the coals.

Washing roller,
Bringing coal or Lugging water-pail;
Time he wastes not
At the paste-pot,
Wrapping up the mail.

When the week's done,
Then he seeks one
Where the greenbacks lay,
There to settle
For the little Devil is to pay.

In this spirit
There is merit,
Far from taint of shame;
Often gaining,
By his training,
Good and honored name.

Legislators,
Great debaters,
Scientific men,
Have arisen
From the prison
Of the printer's den.

DEATH FROM THE BITE OF A SKUNK. Died—In Russell, June 16, at half-past three o'clock A. M., Nathaniel Douglas, aged 49 years.

The singular part of this case is in its progress to the fatal termination. On the 13th inst., Mr. Douglas, with others came into Russell, as has been their custom buying their outfit here. Mr. Douglas complained of having a violent pain in the thumb of his left hand. On the 13th he called at the office of Dr. Burwell for medical advice and assistance. Mr. Douglas thought he had a felon coming. The doctor examined his thumb thoroughly and found no appearance of a felon nor the symptoms of one. Mr. Douglas then told the doctor that about five weeks ago, while camped on the prairie on Brush creek, near Park's Fort, about one hundred miles west of this place, he was bitten in the night while asleep, by a skunk. The savage animal fastened on his thumb, and could not be made to lessen his hold till pounded nearly to death and checked off. On the 14th the pain extended up his arm reaching his shoulder, with sharp pains shooting through the chest, the pain in a measure leaving the thumb. On the 15th Douglas complained of a choking sensation in the throat and a difficulty in breathing, and could swallow only with great effort, but appeared cheerful, and hopeful, and was about nearly all day, visiting different business places in town. In the evening, at about 7 o'clock, the doctor was sent for in great haste. The doctor immediately visited him and found him fast sinking condition, could not get any thing down him or into his mouth and found that he had not eaten anything during the day. Every breath stirring, or the slightest disturbance, brought on the paroxysms. Dr. Burwell did all that medical science could do to relieve his patient, but to no purpose, only to lay momentarily. From this time on he continued to grow rapidly worse, the paroxysms more frequent, harder and of longer duration, until death came to his relief at half-past 4 o'clock on the morning of the 16th.—Russell, Kansas, Plainsman.

—The progress of the Democratic party towards Greeley is thus happily characterized by a contemporary:

January—The old idiot Greeley.
February—The eccentric Greeley.
March—Old Horace Greeley.
April—Horace Greeley.
May—Mr. Horace Greeley.
June—Honest Uncle Horace.

—It is a fact that many people who live through the present summer will wish they had.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.—CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such manifestable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART."

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER
IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

JURUBEBA

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LARGEST and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa, arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, and by Corns, the uncasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciating public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

The Daily Chronicle,

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JULY 8, 1872.

The News.

A fire occurred in an Ohio coal-mine on Wednesday, and nine men and a boy were smothered to death.

At Seymour, Indiana, on the 2d inst., a man named Norris, while lighting a hall preparatory to a theatrical performance, let fall a coal oil lamp in the midst of a group of children. The lamp broke, spreading the burning oil in every direction and setting the clothing of the children on fire. The little sufferers ran wildly through the hall, and before the flames were extinguished three little girls were badly burned, but not fatally. Norris was also badly burned, but not fatally. It is said that he was drunk, and only his injuries prevent his being roughly handled by the horrified citizens.

Three men were killed in Boston harbor by lightning on the 4th.

The Coliseum stood uninjured throughout the tornado of the 4th. The audience within became panic stricken, but Dan Godfrey, the leader of the English band, changed the music from "Zampa" to the "Star Spangled Banner," a few unfrightened people cheered, and the others recovered their senses.

Two men were killed on the Providence Railroad on the 5th.

The Essex Branch Railroad is open for travel, and three trains run daily each way between Essex and Boston.

On the evening of the 4th, two trains on the South Side Railroad, L. I., collided between Fresh Pond and Berwick stations. One train had stopped to avoid running into the other. A telescoping of engines took place. Three persons were killed and twenty injured. Three of the wounded died, two had their legs cut off and two others will have limbs amputated.

PRESENTATION.—A large number of the House of Representatives, of all political parties, after the adjournment on Wednesday evening last, assembled in the room of J. H. Benton, Jr., Esq., the Clerk of the House, with pre-arranged intent to excite his feelings, and to otherwise treat him in a manner of which he had no forewarning. Mr. Benton, on finishing his business in the House, proceeded home in company with a friend, and found that he had no sitting room in his own premises. Before he could institute enquiry as to what good fortune had sent him as many friends, of mixed politics, on that occasion, he was comforted by Dr. J. H. Gallinger, a member of the house, who addressed him as follows:

MR. BENTON. — In behalf of your many friends in the Legislature, a few of whom have found it convenient to assemble here, I am delegated, and it becomes my pleasant duty and privilege, to tender to you their kind and fraternal regards, and also to offer you a beautiful watch as a slight testimonial of their friendly esteem. After the trying and arduous duties of the evening, I am sure that you, with your large legislative experience, will not expect from me a lengthy speech, even on this inspiring occasion; and I will therefore content myself with simply saying that the gift is meant to convey to you, in the first place, our acknowledgments of the uniform courtesy and kindness with which you have, in your official position, always treated us; in the second place, to testify to the signal ability with which you have discharged the duties of your office; and, in the third place, to assure you that many of the members of the political party with which you are not associated, have contributed to the gift, and are here to personally testified their regard; and further, on the part of your political associates to give to you the strongest possible proof that they believe both in your personal integrity and political fidelity.

Permit me then to offer to you this elegant watch, with the expressed hope that in future years, when you look upon it, or have occasion to consult it, your mind may be carried back to the pleasant associations of your legislative career and especially that the delightful circumstances of this occasion may be recalled to your remembrance, and that our gift may be considerd as valuable because of the feelings that animate the doners rather than on account of its intrinsic value. Accept it, then, as an evidence of our hearts' best wishes, and with it take the assurance from us all that we wish for you a long, successful and happy life.

The watch handed to Mr. Benton is a massive doubled-cased gold one. Its cost was $400, and Palmer & Bachelder of Boston the makers. It bears the inscription:

"To J. H. BENTON, JR.

From his friends in the New Hampshire Legislature. Session of 1872."

With evident feeling Mr. Benton said, in substance, that he was very much gratified by the substantial and unexpected mark of confidence and esteem of his friends, and that he was particularly pleased that such testimony of approbation came from members of both political parties. The fact not only evidenced the approval of friends within his own political party, but that of those without that organization, which was exceedingly gratifying to him. He hoped that he had earned faithfully that esteem which had exhibited itself in such a substantial and valuable shape. At all events, he was confident that he had honestly tried to do so. He thanked all present, with the most grateful feeling, and assured them that he never would lose recollection of their kindness and the great honor they had conferred upon him in this instance.—Concord Patriot.

THE STOKES DEFENCE.—John McKeon, in his opening speech for the prisoner, gave the following version of the tragedy:

At four o'clock Stokes crossed over the street on the corner of Broadway and Great Jones street. Just then he was met by a gentleman of respectability and standing, who left a stage and said: "Ned, what are you about? Come along with me. I am going down to Niblo's to get tickets for the 'Black Crook.'" They walked down together, and as they passed the Grand Central he thought he saw a lady in the hotel bowing to him, and he said to this gentleman, "I think there is a lady I have met in Saratoga. Come along over with me." The gentleman excused himself and Stokes left him and went across to the ladies entrance, when he saw that he did not know her and walked through the main hall toward the stairs. The lady passed him here and went up stairs. He had his pistol in his pocket, being in fear of his life, as I have said. As he came to the turn and got to the head of the stairs he looked down and saw Fisk coming on at the bottom of the stairs. His first feeling was to go down, and as he did so he saw Fisk draw his pistol; then he pulled his pistol and fired twice. Fisk fell and Stokes walked back, and as he got to the head of the stairs he said, "Go and get a doctor." He went down stairs at a moderate pace and when they tapped him on the shoulder he readily submitted. They took him up stairs in the presence of Fisk, and as was stated before the coroner's jury, Fisk said, "That is Mr. Stokes." Not a word about the shooting. It has been altered since to "Yes, Stokes," in answer to the question, "Is that the man who shot you?" When Stokes fired he was in imminent danger of his life, and if he hadn't known this man would have shot him dead at the same time. I went to see him that night at quarter past six, and in front of his cell I asked him for a statement of the occurrence and he told me just what I have told you now. The next morning I communicated this statement to Mr. Daily, one of my associates here, and to him are we indebted for the proof we shall show you that Mr. Fisk was armed. We were afraid to develop our case, because we knew that perjury could be easily procured. It was for the purpose of preventing any one from manufacturing testimony on the subject that we keep our own counsel. Stokes might have been wrong, but he believed that his life was in danger. He had the hallucination that Fisk was about to jump upon him suddenly. He slept with his pistol under his pillow. Whether his belief was well founded or not makes no difference; I am sure that he believed it, and if you are satisfied that he so believed you are bound to acquit him. If you have reason to apprehend from the desperate character of the man opposed to him that he actually saw, or believed he saw, that man draw upon him, you will find him guiltless. Bear with us while we unfold the story to you. We ask you to believe us and hear us in that spirit of mercy which the common law nobly, eloquently says, "would rather err on the side of mercy than on the side of justice."

—The number of stars visible to the naked eye in the entire circuit of the heavens, has been usually estimated at about 6000; an ordinary opera glass will exhibit something like ten times that number; a comparatively small telescope easily shows 200,000; while there are telescopes in existence with which, there is reason to believe, not less than 25,000,000 stars are visible.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—The penetrative and healing action of this potent salve is a marvel throughout the world. "CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT."—This is what the stage and horse car companies, livery-stable keepers, members of the turf, and all grooms and trainers say of the Mustang Liniment. They "can't do without it." And why? Because it infallibly reduces the external swellings, &c., which, under various names, impair the usefulness and value of the king of quadrupeds, and also because, for sprains, strains, galls and other injuries to which horse-flesh is liable, it is the most trustworthy preparation in the market. Yet these recommendations comprise only a portion of its claims to public confidence. During a period of more than sixteen years, it has been recognized as a specific for many of the most agonizing disorders which afflict the human family — such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, tic-doleroux, sore throat, earache, toothache; and likewise as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.

Special Notices.

The Career of a Great Remedy.

Twenty summers have elapsed since it was briefly announced that a new vegetable tonic and alterative, bearing the name of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, and had been added to the list of Preventive and Restorative medicines. The modest advertisement which invited attention to the preparation stated that it had been used with great success in private practice, as a cure for dyspepsia, bilious complaints, constipation and intermittent fever. It was soon discovered that the article possessed extraordinary properties. The people, of every class, tested its merits as a tonic, stimulant, corrective and restorative, and found that its effects more than fulfilled their hopes and expectations. From that time to the present its course has been upward and onward, and it stands to-day at the head of all medicines of its class. American or imported, in the magnitude of its sales and its reputation as a safe, agreeable and potent invigorant and restorative. For languor and debility, lack of appetite and gastric disturbances, so common during the summer months, it is absolutely infallible. In digestion, bilious disorders, constipation, nervousness, periodical fevers, and all the ordinary complaints generated by a vitiated and humid atmosphere, vanish under its renovating and regulating influence. This is its record, avouched by volumes of intelligent testimony, extending over a period of a fifth of a century, and comprehending the names of thousands of well-known citizens belonging to every class and calling. In Europe it is thought a great thing to obtain the patronage of royalty for a "patent medicine," but Hostetter's Bitters has been spontaneously approved by millions of independent sovereigns, and its patent consists in their endorsement.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human races, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he would put it into the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, QUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, it not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by men who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Howe's London Circus

Exhibited in Boston during the first week of the Jubilee and notwithstanding the attraction of the Coliseum, no less than 71,800 persons attended the circus and menagerie during the week. It will exhibit in this city to-day and will be we have no doubt as largely patronized in proportion here, as it is in all respects a first-class establishment. The street procession is spoken of by the Boston press in the highest terms as the finest ever seen there. The menagerie is a fine one.

ung Vagrants.

We have read with interest the several communications in these columns upon truancy, but have looked in vain for any improvement in police force, in regard to the matter. It was stated that the trouble lay in the State law,—that the City Marshal had no power to deal with the cases alluded to. The following from the General Statutes of New Hampshire is sufficiently to the point:

"Any town may make by-laws concerning habitual truants and children not attending school without any regular and lawful occupation, between the ages of six and sixteen years, and to compel the attendance of such children at school, not repugnant to law, and may annex penalties for the breach thereof not exceeding ten dollars for each offence."

Also the following extracts from the city ordinances:—

Ordinance 32, Sec. 1st.—"Every habitual truant or minor of this city not attending school, without any regular and lawful occupation, growing up in ignorance between the ages of six and sixteen years, shall on complaint to the Justice of the Police Court of this city, be punished by a fine not exceeding ten dollars, or committed to the Almshouse or Bridewell attached to the same, for a term of time not less than three days or more than thirty days at the discretion of said Justice."

Sec. 2 provides for the choosing of a "Committee on Truancy" annually, whose duty it shall be to complain of all violations of this ordinance.

Sec. 5 gives the Justice power to remit the fine whenever the culprit shall give bonds to regularly attend some school for the next six months and comply with the regulations thereof.

Ordinance 101, Sec. 4.—"It shall be the duty of the Assistant Marshals to act as the Truancy Committee, and take all necessary measures to compel the regular attendance at school of the children of the proper age."

An officer who dares not act with such ordinances must be cautious indeed. Some people are so uncharitable as to assert that the activity of our officers is confined to those cases in which an extra fee may be gained, and that they allow their regular work to remain undone. We, however, are not of this number; we are willing to attribute their supineness to ignorance of their duties. * * * *

Laconics.

The Eastern Railroad runs now 34 trains daily each way between Boston & Lynn, 9 each way between Boston & Portsmouth, 6 each way between Portland and Boston, 3 each way between North Conway and Boston and 4 each way to and from Union daily. It has two special trains daily with the Pullman Palace Cars to North Conway reaching there in less than five hours from Boston. By this route one can arrive at the Glen house or Crawford at 6 P. M., leaving leaving Portsmouth at 10.10. The Wolfeborough Branch will probably be opened about the middle of this month. Under the efficient arrangements of Superintendent Prescott and his able assistants, the Eastern Road thus far seems to have the monopoly of the mountain travel and is likely to retain altogether the best share through the summer.

Morris H. Smith, Esq., of North Hampton, well known to the traveling public as depot-master at that place, has sold out his interest in the grocery near by, and will hereafter devote all his time to his railroad duties. The increasing amount of travel has rendered this step necessary.

Editorial Notes.

Horace Greeley's speech to the members of the press at the Jubilee, was the speech of an egotist and truckling demagogue.

They do say that Editor Butler, of the Biddeford Journal, judges other humans by his own inclinations. Ed. Fernald, of the G. F. Journal, recently undertook to learn the duties of a night editor, in New York, of John B. Wood, the Sun man. Butler thinks it "thin" work for a bridegroom of ninety-nine hours on a wedding trip, and seems to doubt the truth of the statement. We select as referee our old friend Horace, of Lewiston, to decide whether John is naturally vicious and captious or Ed. is laboring under some undeveloped mental illusion.

Hon. Henry Wilson will open the campaign in Portland with a speech on or about the 10th instant, and will soon afterwards go to North Carolina, where he will speak at several places.

LEGISLATIVE. — Among the acts passed by the legislature before its adjournment, are the following:—

An act in amendment of an act entitled an act to incorporate the Portsmouth and Dover Railroad.

An act changing the day of election of city officers of the city of Portsmouth.

An act to incorporate the Rye Beach Railroad.

An act in relation to the check list used at annual town meetings and the names of ratable polls on the back thereof.

An act in amendment of charter of Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Bank.

An act in relation to the appointment of Superintendents of Schools in cities in this State.

An act to authorize the construction of a bridge over Little Hardor river, in the county of Rockingham, and give additional power to County Commissioners in relation to the same.

A TOUCHING INCIDENT.—An old Democrat, a delegate from Orange county, Indiana, was seen leaning against the wall of a building a few minutes after the adjournment of the Cincinnati Convention, weeping bitterly. When interrogated by a kind-hearted gentleman, who was passing, as to the cause of his trouble, asking at the same time if he could serve him in any way, the mortified and deeply humiliated old man replied: "No, my good man, you can't do me no good. God knows I wish I was dead; for forty long years I've been votin' the Democratic ticket, and I've made an affidavy that I'd stand by the party, and here they have gone and passed orders to vote for Horris Greeley, and I've got to do it or break my affidavy! And that ain't all, Mister; I've raised nine sons, and they're all livin', and I've spent many and many a night reading Hendricks' and other Dimocrat speeches to them children—and very lately, too— to teach 'em what an everlastin' old nigger thief and lyin' hypocrit old Greeley was, and now they're all gone back on me, and I've got to go home to them boys and tell 'em that their old dad's been lyin' to them all his life, and that old Horris Greeley is one of the Lord's anointed!" And the poor, deceived, and almost heart-broken old man, bursting into tears again, trembling with emotion, went his way, saying only: "This is too much to bear; I believe it will surely break my heart!"

—San Francisco has originated a patent hod-carrier. An ordinary ladder, with a piece of timber on each side mortised into cross-beams, the top one having two pulleys, over which passes a rope, having at each end a cage. On this cage the laborer places his filled hod and himself ascends the ladder. When the hod is emptied the man steps on the descending cage and his weight raises the hod in the opposite cage.

—A box containing a black bear was received at the express office in San Francisco, having on the outside this inscription; "Black Bare—Ef yew don't want to git bit, keep your fingers out of the crax."

SPLENDID COUNTRY REAL ESTATE

FOR SALE.

The beautiful property known as the

"Dr. Stevens' Place."

Situated in Greenland, N. H., in close proximity to the Railroad station, on the old stage route from Portsmouth to Exeter, and four miles from the first named place.

The property consists of 95 Acres most excellent Land, all to grass or tillage, and in a high state of cultivation, upon which are some fifty lofty and beautiful Shade Trees, 120 thrifty Apple Trees, all in bearing, and some 90 Pear, Cherry and Peach Trees, a large Asparagus Bed, (will cut 300 bunches next season) Gooseberry Bushes in great profusion, Currant Bushes, a large bed of Rhubarb plant and Strawberry beds.

The buildings consist of a handsome Cattle Barn (the dwelling house having been burned last November), 40 feet square, with a splendid cellar beneath for storing fruit and vegetables, making manure and keeping hens in winter; a fine, well appointed Stable for three horses with spacious Carriage room; a large and well made Tool House and Workshop with Piggery attached; also a fine summer Hen House with splendid run and appointments. All the above buildings are in perfect order and are well painted.

The site for the house is all that could be desired, being well elevated and commanding, and having a large and beautiful lawn in front, well fenced and splendidly embellished with Hedges, Bushes, Spruce Maple and Elm trees.

To any one wishing a beautiful Farm for the sake of the health and pleasure of a farm life, or to any one desiring a Country estate for a Summer Residence with the privilege of erecting a house to suite their means and convenience, this offers a rare and inviting opportunity.

The subscriber will hold this offer of sale open only for a limited time,—to July 23d. If not disposed of previous to that time, it will be withdrawn.

Should a purchaser present, possession will be given immediately with the Grass, or later with the crops removed, as may be agreed upon.

☞ Terms $2000 down, the balance to suit the convenience of purchaser. Apply to DR. A. P. STEVENS, No. 5 Congress Street, Portsmouth, N. H., or to JOHN B. STEVENS, Esq., on the premises. j18

THE FAT MAN'S STORY.

BY RALPH KEELER.

The old fellow had a glazed carpet bag. He seized by the button-hole a man whom he called George, and anchored him only a length or two to the windward of me, so I couldn't help but hear. There they pulled and tugged and bobbed about the lamp-post until the gentleman with the glazed carpet bag, puffing and wheezing in an indescribable manner, had spoken, as nearly as I can recollect, to the following effect:

"Yes, George, I just got home from New York; came by Sound steamer, and I haven't slept much, I can tell you. What's the matter? Well, I'll tell you. In the first place, George, do I look like a man that would take advantage of a fellow with one leg? Don't I have trouble enough getting my two hundred and seventy pounds along on two legs? Of course I do. Well, now, George, I am just the same toward married people, or people going to be married, as I would be to that one-legged soldier over there on the other side of the street grinding 'The Battle Cry of Freedom,' and I wish he would move the war into the next street. No, sir, I might have been a married man myself once, but I am not, for reasons best known to a lady who—but pshaw! that was all thirty years ago, and I was going to tell you about last night. I've noticed by-the-way, George, that young people will get married on any provocation whatever; and don't object to it, mind, unless they sit up all night and court afterward, and rob me of my sleep. But what shall I say about that couple last night on the Sound? I turned in about 10 o'clock. They hadn't even the excuse of being married. They were just courting, and it was the most tiresome piece of business you ever heard of—that fellow, that idiot, saying the same thing over and over. They were seated on the guard, plump against my state-room door. Well, George, it was awful. I came near getting asleep about 11 o'clock, and I really believe if he had only changed the paces of his story, if he had only trotted in a few lines, just for variety, I might have slept through them. Now, imagine, if you can, George, the sort of talk I am going to rehearse to you, striking, in endless reputation against the thin wall of your state-room, just where your bare feet necessarily touch it, for your berth is always too short. The pine board tingles with the sound, and—and the sentiment, George, and that tingles your feet, and so it tingles all the way up to your ears. Now you know yourself, George, that's no way to take your courting. 'Oh, how I did love Caroline!' said, for the twentieth time, that wretch of a fellow just outside my state-room. 'Oh, how I did love Caroline!'—it was his deep chest tones that were so aggravating to my toe-nails—'and how Caroline said she loved me! Then to think of her perfidy! I never knew anything so—so perfidious as her perfidy!' What an ass he was, George, to be sure!—'She was very beautiful, Mary,' he went on; Mary being I hope, the only other person who shared with me the wretchedness of listening to these things; 'Caroline was very beautiful, Mary. She looked just like you. She was a very good girl, but so perfidious. I want you to be all she was to me. I want you to take her place in my heart. I want you to be just like her. We were engaged for a year,' said he, in one of his idiotic rounds, 'and then I insisted,' says he, still aggravating my feet through the thin paneling, 'and then I insisted that Caroline should not only cut the acquaintance of that spruce young Ransom, the leather dealer, but also write him a letter and tell him she believed him to be a villain, and wanted nothing more to do with him. She asked me why I didn't write the letter to Mr. Ransom myself if I wanted it written. I told her, of course, that Mr. Ransom was no friend of mine, as he was of hers, and I thought it was her duty to write the letter; and just because I insisted she went of and married that fool of a young Ransom himself. Oh, she was so perfidious!'

"Well, George, I coughed, but the story went on. I upset a chair, but still the story of Caroline's perfidy never stopped, except to repeat. 'She was so beautiful—just like you, Mary, and I want you to be just like her to me, Mary.' Well, I upset the other chair and blistered one of my toes kicking against the partition—all for no use. Finally about midnight, I could stand it no longer. I arose and jammed down my lattice window. The words 'Caroline's perfidy' came in with a breath of salt air through the opening as I stuck out my head and saw two shadowy forms seated on the guard right against my state-room door. 'Look here,' I said, frowning upon them, but I don't suppose they saw that; 'just look here!' I've heard this here story of Caroline's perfidy about forty times already. I couldn't help hearing it, but didn't want to hear it, and I don't want to hear it. I want to sleep. That's hard enough work for a man of my weight on board a steamboat in a berth at least five sizes too small; but Caroline's perfidy is too much, too much. I've turned over in bed, and came near falling out more than once. I've kicked over two chairs, and blistered one—if not two—of my toes to give you warning. Now I wish you would move away from here, and take your perfidy with you, and let me sleep! They were thunderstruck. Just as they were rising to go, I couldn't help saying: 'And I should like to add,'—this was in my politest tone—'and I should like to add that, in the infernal story you have forced upon me, my sympathies are heartily and wholly with Caroline. There, good night!'

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

HORACE GREELEY.—The expected guest of the city arrived from New York, yesterday morning, and was duly escorted to the Coliseum in the afternoon. Those of our citizens and visitors from abroad who attended the Jubilee had a good opportunity to see Mr. Greeley, if they wished to behold the man who has been so much talked about of late. And who is Horace Greeley? In appearance he is a man of medium height, rather stocky and ill-defined in form, somewhat bald and otherwise white-haired, with a flabby-looking and vegetarian-colored baby-face, wearing an expression of pouting querulousness. Arrayed in irreproachable black and uncovered, he exhibited at the Coliseum no trace of the traditional white hat and coat.

Mr. Greeley is the founder and successful manager of the New York Tribune, but his first introduction to the public was as an ardent advocate of the whimsical and impossible doctrines of Fourier, the leader of the French Socialists. He was a firm supporter of the famous Fanny Wright, or Durasmond, during her proselyting career in this country, and a cooperator with the celebrated Brisbane in disseminating the new lights of French philosophy. Whether he obtained his soubriquet of the "Philosopher" in consequence of his warm advocacy of socialism we are not informed, but it is quite probable that such was the origin of his title. Blending with his doctrine of a community of property the contemporary notion of vegetarian diet, he was also an earnest supporter of the Graham theory, vulgarly known as the "bran-bread" system of diet. His present adipose complexion gives evidence that he is still a faithful disciple of St. Vegtianus.

In later years Mr. Greeley built up his newspaper into an influential party organ for the Whigs, and for a series of years made the best Whig almanac the country was ever blessed with. But his peculiar socialistic and graminivorous notions always cropped out in his political productions, and made him advocate a paternal theory of government to be the father of the national family, employ and feed them all, prescribe rigid rules for their physical and moral conduct, and breach them soundly if they dared to disobey. He was ever a positivist, and saw no objection to making everybody eat bran-bread and drink cold water by law.

By the aid of his widely-circulating journal, Mr. Greeley was also enabled to ride another hobby with some success; and that was farming. With a current sub-editor of agricultural pretensions, he made the Tribune shine as an oracle of the farmers, and at length, emboldened by his success with this topic, he ventured to publish a book entitled, "What I Know About Farming." Being also of a confiding and credulous disposition, and of a visionary turn of mind, Mr. Greeley has sometimes been seduced by sharpers into speculating schemes of one kind and another, and of more or less importance. When the sharper class increasing in boldness, doomed the public purse as its prey, it still found means to retain its hold upon Mr. Greeley, and mixed him up in its schemes. His last connection of this kind was with the notorious Tammany Ring, and it is supposed that they have not done with him yet.—Boston Globe.

—Smiggles says that in his boyhood he used to sing with some spirit "I want to be an angel," but since he began to play base-ball, the very thought of going "out on a fly" makes him shudder.

—An exchange says: "Cleveland has invented a patent bug buster, worked with an air pump. All the apertures in a room are stopped but one, at which the deadly bug buster is placed. By exhausting the receiver, a current of air strong enough to draw all the vermin out of the room, through the air pump, into the hopper, where they are put under the influence of chloroform, and stabbed in the back with a pitchfork."

New Publications

Harper's Magazine for July opens with an amusing sketch of "a journey in search of the picturesque," illustrated; and among the other attractive articles are one on Rome, one on the interesting discoveries in Cyprus, a history of the Guillotine, more of the journey to California, a second article on the Republican movement in Europe, an article on Mazzini, conclusion of "A Good Investment;" and a continuation of the other serial, with poetry, and a great amount of good reading in the several editorial departments.

The American Odd Fellow for July begins the 14th volume of this sterling magazine. The new volume opens grandly, being replete with first-class family reading and fraternal intelligence. $2.50 a year, including a superb premium picture. Published by the A. O. F. Association, No. 37 Park Row, New York.

The July number of Wood's Household Magazine is filled with original matter, of a generally interesting characters. The editorial department is conducted by S. S. Wood, and the well-known author, Gail Hamilton, whose reputation is national. It numbers among its contributors some of the best known literary names in the country.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or price—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. Dr. AYER's consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER's HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

JURUBEBA

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the most powerful tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a specific in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, and Much has been said written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer. 4wje12

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the most inept, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has perfected an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

TUESDAY, JULY 9, 1872.

The News.

The notorious Judge McCunn died in New York, suddenly, on the 6th. He had just been impeached. He leaves a fortune of $3,000,000.

An old man named Holbrook, partially deranged, was recently killed at Seymour, Conn., by having his chair tipped from under him by some boys and striking on his head.

Seventy-two millions of logs have come down the east branch of the Kennebec this spring. Last spring the amount through the same channel was forty-five millions. The season has been very favorable for the drivers.

Dr. Houard is not yet at liberty, and sharp notes about the affair have been passing between Minister Sickles and Senor Martos. The latter wants General Sickles to ask for Dr. Houard's pardon, but this he refuses to do. The position assumed is that the prisoner is not guilty.

It is stated that Congressman Elliott, of South Carolina, has selected a boy of his own race for a cadetship at the naval academy, and that other colored Congressmen will make similar selections.

The deaths in Philadelphia last week were 764, an increase of 350. One half of the deaths were children under a year old.

John Connoly, a lad of twelve years, was pierced through the body by a ramrod and instantly killed, in consequence of a premature explosion of a cannon at Pittsfield, Mass., on Thursday.

In the United States circuit court last week, in a suit brought by Geo. Wm. Gordon against Wm. B. Small, the receiver appointed by the supreme judicial court of New Hampshire, for the assets of Colonel Clement March, the court gave an opinion dismissing the bill of the plaintiff and declining to interfere with the proceedings under the State courts. The plaintiff was represented by Messrs. Woodbury and Dean of Boston. General Gilman Marston for the defendant.

Political.

Ex-Secretary Welles publishes a letter favoring Greeley for President.

Ex-Governor English of Connecticut is to run for Congress.

Secretaries Boutwell and Delano are expected to visit North Carolina in company with Senator Wilson on an electioneering tour this month.

The Democratic National Convention meets to-day at Baltimore.

The New York World calls Greeley "the much lamented ex-protectionist and silent championist of free trade."

Col. S. M. Taliaferro of Stafford county, Va., a life-long Democrat, declares in a letter in favor of the election of Grant and Wison.

The Portland Press says that every sane man who knows anything about Maine knows that it will give Grant and Wilson a majority of thousands.

Geo. Wm. Curtis is a prominent candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor of New York.

It is suggested by the Chicago Journal that ex-Governor Shannon, of Kentucky, has joined the Greeleyites out of gratitude for the time when the Tribune called him a drunken border ruffian of the most infamous type.

TERRIBLE AFFAIR.—Cincinnati is in great excitement over the shooting and killing of a boy named Frank Schikk, aged twelve years, by Rev. Samuel J. Browne, ex-Methodist minister, a man of immense wealth, and now in his eighty-sixth year. Some ten or a dozen boys were playing ball behind Browne's place on Browne street. The ball was accidentally knocked over into Browne's orchard by young Schikk, who climbed over to get it. Browne, who was lying concealed in some bushes with a double-barrelled shot-gun, loaded with slugs, guarding his fruit, fired and shot the boy through the heart. An alarm was given, and a stepbrother of young Schikk climbed over the fence, and was proceeding to where the body of his brother lay, when Browne fired at him, the ball passing a few inches above his head. Brown then hurried into his house. In a few minutes a large crowd collected, and were about to proceed to Browne's house for the purpose of hanging him, when a squad of police arrived and kept the crowd at bay, while Browne was slipped out by a back way, and lodged in Oliver street station-house, where, after remaining a short time, he was admitted to bail in the sum of $5000. The crowd, hearing of his being bailed, became fearfully incensed, and again started for Browne's house, swearing vengence. In the meantime, a large force of police have been sent there, and the house was surrounded by a strong guard, who remained there all night to protect the premises. The whereabouts of Browne are unknown, and it is stated that a large party are searching for him, and if found will hang him to the nearest post. Browne is worth half a million dollars.

State News

John B. Clarke Esq., of the Manchester Mirror, is going to Europe.

On the 4th, in Ashuelot, Luke Eller, a French boy of nineteen, was fatally burned by a powder explosion.

North Haverhill has a white robin.

Some rascal willfully smashed an $800 pane of stained glass in St. Joseph's church, Manchester.

The bleach room of the Winnipesaukee paper mill of Franklin was burned on the 7th; loss $35,000, fully insured.

Mr. Elbridge Bailey of Marlow committed suicide by hanging on the 5th.

Mrs. George Spokesfield of Plymouth was thrown from a carriage on the 5th. Her head struck a log, breaking her jaw in three places and producing concussion of the brain and causing death three hours after the accident.

Katie Jenks, six years old, was drowned in the wheel pit of the Peterboro' company on the 6th, having fallen into the pond above the flume.

Simeon Frank, 17 years old, who was injured at the trotting Park, Manchester, on the 4th, by the seats being overturned on him by the wind, died on the 5th.

The Summit House on Mount Kearsarge, North Conway, was opened for the season on the fourth of July. On some days last summer the number of visitors was one hundred and fifty a day, and this season there is a prospect of a large increase.

Rev. S. H. McCollester of Nashua has accepted the presidency of Buchtel College at Akron, Ohio.

Mr Horace N. Rowell has been appointed superintendent of the Eastern Railroad telegraph system.

The bill to change the law terms of the supreme judicial court and the bill to give the right to women to act as prudential committees were passed by the recent legislature.

On the 11th of June, Rev. J. Chapman, late of Deerfield, was installed pastor of the Congregational Church of Kingston.

A GOOD BOY.—The following instance of the exhibition of the better part of a boy's nature is from the Danbury News:

The boys on Liberty street are rather down on Willie Cliver. They were playing numbletypeg, all of them together, one afternoon recently. Numbletypeg is a very exciting game if you are a spectator. It got on to a little boy named Mose, first. He got down on his knees and rooted around in the earth to get a hold of that peg, with the wisdom and decorum of a man forty years old. When he came up with the peg in his teeth, his mouth and nose looked like a vacant asparagus bed. Willie enjoyed it hugely, and was fairly insane with delight when three other boys got caught and wore the newness off their noses and the enamel from their teeth in the mighty endeavors to encompass the obstinate peg. Then it got on to Willie, and the boys whose faces were smarting acutely under the pressure of preceding defeats, drove that peg with a velocity that would have depressed any other boy but Willie; but he had been educated by religious parents, and when the peg was fairly settled, he went into the house to get his Sunday school lesson—and while he was in there looking pure, and good and attentive, Mose and the three other little boys put up their shamefully abused noses and lips and howled and reared around like mad.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. al2

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—The penetrative and healing action of this potent salve is a marvel throughout the world. Nothing else could be relied on in scrofula, cancer, salt rheum, erysipelas, and external injuries. Sold at 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

"CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT."—This is what the stage and horse car companies, livery-stable keepers, members of the turf, and all grooms and trainers say of the Mustang Liniment. They "can't do without it." And why? Because it infallibly reduces the external swellings, &c, which, under various names, impair the usefulness and value of the king of quadrupeds, and also because, for sprains, strains, galls and other injuries to which horse-flesh is liable, it is the most trustworthy preparation in the market. Yet these recommendations comprise only a portion of its claims to public confidence. During a period of more than sixteen years, it has been recognized as a specific for many of the most agonizing disorders which afflict the human family—such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, tic-doloreux, sore throat, earache, toothache; and likewise as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.

Suggestions for Summer.

It is of great importance that the system should be in a vigorous condition when the hot weather commences. The effects of a high temperature upon an enfeebled frame are always more or less disastrous. The loss of substance and the declension of nervous power, occasioned by excessive heat, can only be compensated by the active, healthful, and regular exercise of all the bodily functions by which the waste of nature is replenished and the vital energies renewed. The great utility of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as a means of toning, invigorating and regulating the organs of the body, is universally acknowledged. As a tonic it stimulates the flagging appetite and accelerates digestion; as a corrective it neutralizes acidity of the stomach and relieves flatuency; as an alterative and mild aperient it regulates the liver and the bowels; as an anodyne it promotes tranquil sleep; as a wholesome stimulant it imparts firmness and elasticity to the relaxed and trembling nerves, and as a blood depurent it purifies the vital stream. The value of such a specific to the weak and debilitated is beyond all estimate. To invalids wilted down by the sultry heat of midsummer, it is as refreshing and vitalizing as the cool night dews to the sun-scorched flowers. Composed of vegetable elements only, with a basis of pure diffusive stimulant, it is safe and palatable as well as medicinal. In fever and ague districts, and wherever the natural conditions are conducive to epidemic disease, it is considered the best safeguard against malarious infection, and the speediest remedy for intermittent and remittent fevers.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough, or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As a stitch in time saves nine, so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives helpless watching each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, painfully fleshing at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Ten million mosquitoes are born daily in Portsmouth.

One man in Dover takes $10,000 worth of stock in the Portsmouth railroad. Next!

A small boy was run over by a large cart near the Post Office on Saturday, but though he was considerably hurt no bones were broken.

There were 225 guests at the Appledore House, Isle of Shoals, Sunday. Among the distinguished persons boarding there is Postmaster General Cresswell.

An excursion down the harbor in steamer Appledore will take place this evening at 6 o'clock. Tickets for the trip, 50 cts for gentlemen, 25 cts for ladies and 10 cts. for children.

A desirable opportunity to obtain lucrative employment is at hand, as there is wanted immediately in Portsmouth, a bold and enterprising young man to slay organ grinders at 99 cents per grinder.

U. S. S. Nantasket arrived at this naval station on Monday from Portland, for repairs. The Powhattan dropped down to the Lower Harbor from the Navy Yard on Monday, and will sail to-day for Portland. Her destination is said to be the fishing grounds.

The benefit of advertising is shown by the following fact. The Saving's Bank advertised recently a change of time in paying dividends, and not one of the depositors appeared to claim their dues at the date when they had been accustomed to receiving them.

Malcolm McLoud of Halifax, N. S., went into the shop of James McDougall on Water Street, Saturday afternoon. While he was sitting in a chair there, Mrs. McDougall left the shop to get some matches and when she returned Malcolm was non est. An inspection of the money drawer showed that about $3, a silver watch and gold chain, warth about $50, were missing. Mrs. McDougall immediately informed officer Barsantee of the theft, and the officer found McDougall at the depot shortly afterwards and arrested him. The money was recovered and the watch and chain were found at the jewelry store of Mr. Gershom F. Melcher, where it had been pawned to a clerk for $10. Malcolm McLoud languished at the police station over Sunday. On Monday Judge Page decided to hold him for trial before the October term of the S. J. Court, and Malcolm went to jail in default of $300 bail.

Thistles.

Messrs. Editors; It is truly refreshing, to find that there is some good taste and public spirit left in the world; and occasionally when a thing is to be done a man steps forward and does it himself instead of leaving it to that much enduring individual, Somebody Else.

No one who has within a day or two passed the corner of Lincoln and Richards Avenues, can be at a loss to apply the above remark. On Friday a wilderness of thistles stood there, just coming into bloom, with a thousand heads ready to infect the neighborhood when the seeds should fly:—on Monday not one was left; some sensible hand had mowed them all down. Would that this good example might spread like thistle down, and that others would look out for such noxious weeds and destroy them. How much better would such an employment be than cutting down beautiful elms, or pasting up hideous placards! But seriously, more attention should be paid to this pest,—the Canada thistle. No plant propagates itself more rapidly, or is more troublesome, in itself. Now is the very time to destroy it, and if a scythe is not at hand, a pair of shears, cropping the budding heads, will prevent much mischief. In the fields and by the roadsides, let thistles be got rid of; aids in the work will deserve the gratitude of

THE PUBLIC.

Stone Work.

The family of Mr. Charles Hayes are in no wise annoyed at the termination of the blasting operations of the Eastern Railroad men on the ledge near their house at the Plains, eleven weeks of cannonading being as much as they care for at one time. The house and outbuildings bear numerous evidences of the vigor with which fragments of the ledge were thrown about, in the shape of bruises and holes. Trees were deprived of branches and some small ones knocked clean out of the ground; rhubarb and lettuce beds were demoralized, and large and small stones lie around in every direction among the buildings.

One bit of stone, weighing two hundred pounds or more, went in through the ell of the house into a pantry, and landed on the floor after cleaning out all the shelves from top to bottom; another stone bit the apex of the gable end of the main building, bulging in the wood work of the end and starting the shingles on both sides of the roof, besides displacing the ends of the saddle-boards; and many smaller stones went through the skylights or bunged up other places on the roof or sides of the house. The wash-house, attached to the main building, has the roof well ventilated, and the door has a big hole in it, made by one of the railroad sleepers (with which the workmen covered their blasts to prevent the flying of stones) being thrown through it.

The door of the carriage house, some fifty or sixty yards from the ledge, was rapped by a fragment which broke through two thicknesses of inch boards and twisted a stout iron hinge; and this building also has one or two holes in its roof. The cattle barns and stable were liberally favored and show lots of holes and bruises; and one stone weighing ten or fifteen pounds, found its way into the floor of a barn some two hundreds yards from the ledge, passing through the side of the roof farthest from the railroad, and breaking a purlin in its descent after making its way through the shingles and boarding of the roof. This stone must have been thrown to a great height, as its descent seems to have been perpendicular. A small hot-bed had a narrow escape one day, from a big stone which scooped a row of rhubarb plants and then ricocheted over the hot-bed, leaving it unharmed; but next day a better-aimed shot scooped the inside out of the hot-bed, leaving the frame entire with the exception of one end, which started on its travels at once. Some of the men on the farm on one occasion saw a huge stone fly just over a wood pile and past the corner of a barn, but were unable to find where it struck until two days later, when it was discovered nicely stowed away beneath a large pile of hot bed sacks, having ploughed its way under without doing other damage than to break all the glass in the lower sash of the pile and knock a few panes of glass from the one next above; had it struck two feet higher Messrs. Chas. Hayes & Son would have had to get a new outfit in the hot-bed line.

The house of Mr. C. H. Hayes was not struck at all, the nearest approach to it being the finding its way into the cellar through the open cellar-case, of a little missile of only three or four pounds weight. When the blasting first commenced the ladies of Mr. Chas. Hayes' household would take refuge in the barn most distant from the ledge when a shot was to be fired; but towards the last, when the holes in the roof had become so numerous as to detract from the sense of security which it afforded, the whole family were accustomed to emigrate to the fields across the railroad whenever the warning sound of the signal horn was heard. The roof of the house leaks like a sieve, even in places which show no signs of having been hit by stones; but this may be owing to the heavy jars of the earth occasioned by the blasting.

The workmen on the ledge seem to have exercised every care, which supposition is borne out by the fact that no one was injured by the tons of stone which peppered the buildings and now lay about in the gardens and grass; but the ledge is one of the hardest the men ever met with, and mild means were insufficient to burst it in pieces.

The Eastern Railroad will undoubtedly make a fair reparation for all direct injuries done, but the decision of the Geneva tribunal will probably bar out the question of consequential damages for ten or eleven weeks of constant apprehension enjoyed by the ladies, the extra wear and tear of shoe leather occasioned by running away from the near proximity of the blast, etc. But while Mr. Hayes and his family refrain from growling at what has been done, recognizing that it had to be done, they express themselves as being very much pleased that it is done at last, and do not care to have any more such experience in siege-work in time of peace.

HOW TO BATHE.

HOW HELEN TAKES A BATH.

Approaching the bath-house, the coy Miss Helen glances nervously about the premises and then enters. Passing into the bath room, she cautiously locks the door, at the same time looking in every direction for some stray insect that might possibly possess intelligence enough to appreciate her charms. Some five or ten minutes are spent in examining the cracks of the door, stuffing the key-hole with paper, and exploring the premises for some chance eye-ball that may have been left behind by the previous bather. She then approaches the mirror, contemplates herself a few moments, and discovers some peculiarity in her apparel, which she wonders, "Could it possibly have been noticed by anybody?" Consoling herself with the reflection that she will correct the fault before leaving the room, she prepares herself to disrobe, commencing by removing her hat. The basque is then unloosed, then taken off and carefully hung upon a peg; then follows a piece of black velvet that encircles the neck, and the collar and breastpin; her watch and chain are disengaged from her dress, and placed upon the mantle before the glass: her two diamond rings and ear-rings are laid beside them, and the process of taking down the hair begins. A number of hair-pins are extracted from one side of the head, and a "rat" is carefully unrolled; the operation is carefully repeated on the other side; a multiplicity of hair-pins are extracted from the back of the head, and her beautiful curls, together with the "wire waterfall," are placed upon the mantel. Her own hair is then well shaken by three or four quick movements of the hand, gently twisted into a roll by both hands, and impaled to the summit of her cranium. Unhooking the waist, it is carefully doffed, and holding it before her person in one hand, she again reconnoitres about the keyhole, and tries the door with the other. Satisfied of her security, she hangs up the waist and disengages the skirt, which she gently lifts over her head wrong side out, and places carefully upon a peg. She then sits facing the door, allows one limb to cross the other, and unlaces her shoe, repeating the operation with the other, her eyes resting upon the door-knob during the proceeding. The shoes are dropped gently besides the chair, the stockings taken off, and after being well shaken and straightened out, are allowed to lie over the back of a chair. A gentle rubbing of the feet takes place, as an acknowledgement of their heroism in enduring the recent torture. A general stretch follows this act; then the white skirts are unloosed, and allowed to fall to the floor, out of which she steps, then picks up and dispose on a third peg; the corsets are unhooked, and as she takes them off a sigh of relief escapes her. Those are also laid away. The next garment is taken off with extreme caution, while the eyes of the fair bather penetrate every crack and cranny of the room. What now remains on her person is nobody's business, but after a little agitation, something or another occupies an additional hook. The towels are now examined, and one of them spread before the tub, on which she stands. One more glance about the premises and a fair hand is placed in the water to ascertain its temperature. A little white foot is lifted over the edge of the water, but is quickly withdrawn, accompanied by the well-known feminine utterance "Ouch!" A second attempt is more successful, and the foot sinks to the bottom; the other timidly finds its way to its companion, and the fair form stands in the tub. Another glance at the door, the knees bend, and after several exclamations, such as "Oh, my!" "Gracious!" "Ouch!" etc., the body is recumbent beneath the water. A gradual soaking, a train of fancy incidents, all of the good things of the past flitting through her imagination, her conquests counted, visions of moustaches, etc., playing with her lively brain, and then a sudden realization that she is thoroughly soaked, follows in succession. A tender rubbing takes place, and after several ineffectual attempts to withstand the inclemency of the shower, she emerges from the tub, and begins the drying process. After which an hour is spent in donning her clothing and arranging her "twilight," not forgetting the aforesaid defect in her apparel, and spending ten minutes extra in admiring herself. She then saunters forth, inwardly congratulating herself that "the bath is off her mind for a week anyhow."

HOW HER BIG BROTHER TAKES A BATH.

Rushing frantically through the barber shop, he finds the bath room, closes the door carelessly, (never locks it), sets the water going, takes a chew of tobacco, sits in a chair, and pitches his hat upon a peg three or four feet above him—which he considers something of a feat. His boots are jerked mercilessly off, and pitched into a corner. Socks, then the coat is "yanked" and either hung upon a peg or pitched upon a chair. The vest follows and is hung upon a gas bracket. Suspenders unloosed, neck-tie and collar speedily the mantel; the pants fall upon the floor and are allowed to remain there; the shirt torn half way down the back in his frantic efforts to get it off; and the remainder of his wardrobe soon occupies an empty space upon the floor. A few minutes are spent in paring his toe nails with his fingers, and then a terrific splash takes place. The usual soak, numerous spirts of tobacco juice over the tub on the floor, and a rough scrubbing with the towels (all of which are sure to be used), a hurried dressing and precipitate retreat in the street, and a "little su'thin'" to take the chill off.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public for forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Slight cases, neglected, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

EDWARD AND JOSIE.—In the Stokes murder trial, Monday, the prisoner testified that he is thirty-one years old lived in Philadelphia twenty years, then came to New York; first became acquainted with Fisk in July, 1869.

He testified that he was a witness at Judge Bixby's court on the 6th of January in the case of Josephine Mansfield; he left the court with her and her cousin, Miss Williams, and went to Delmonico's, where they had some oysters and ale; after lunch he went to Rufus S. Andrew's office to ask him about the indictment.

Mr. Andrews told me there was no possibility of an indictment against me; to go to Providence. I afterwards went to Mr. Bixby and he told me the same. I then took a coupe at the city hall at three o'clock and told the driver to bring me to the Hoffman House. On arriving there I went to get some papers relating to my case at the board of appeals in Providence, and found a telegram which I had sent. I talked with the clerk of the hotel and Mr. Cottrell and with Mr. Dotty in relation to some witnesses I wanted, and he told me where they were to be found—at the corner of Amity street and Broadway; I remembered also that I had left some papers at Miss Mansfield's and told the driver to go to No. 359 West twenty-third street, her house, but on arriving there, saw that her house was shut up, and knowing her to be ill, I went away again, not liking to disturb her. I looked up at the Grand Opera House—I always did when passing it—then I drove down, intending to see Mr. Smith and Mr. Ferris. When I came to 4th street, I told the driver to go on Seventh Avenue, it being a smooth pavement, and on coming up to Broadway, I got out and walked up to Chamberlain & Dodge's; saw Mr. Smith and talked with him for a while, and also with Mr. Ingraham; then went toward Amity street, to see Mr. Ferris. I met Mr. Bailey and told him I was going to get some tickets to the Black Crook. When passing the Grand Central Hotel I saw a lady in the window, to whom I bowed and took off my hat. I told Mr. Bailey I had met her at Saratoga, and asked him to come over with me. He did not, and I went over myself. I might have ran across the street. I went up by the ladies' entrance, and when I got up I saw the lady come out of the parlor. She turned away her head, and I saw that I was mistaken, and I started to go down stairs, when I saw Mr. Fisk coming up stairs. He made a rush, and when he got to the platform he pulled out his pistol. I could not by any possibility be mistaken; I saw it as plain as anything I ever saw. It was a silver-mounted pistol. I was in a line with him then, so I jumped aside and said: "Don't fire;" and pulled out my own pistol and fired. I had it in my outside coat pocket, or I would not have had time to draw it. I leaned on the rail and cocked with one hand and fired. He held the pistol in both hands and as I fired he cried "Oh!" He did not stagger much at the first shot, and I fired again. I knew he would have shot me if I didn't fire. I was three or four steps down. He dropped his pistol on the stairs after the second shot. There was no one near at the time; I am certain that the boy Redmond went out in the street after the first shot; I walked away after the second shot; met Mr. Hill, told him a man had been shot, and to go and get a doctor; I then walked down stairs and said the same thing to a man whom I met; I never denied to any one that I shot him; I felt somewhat bewildered after the occurrence. I heard a lot of people say, "They want you," and I don't know whether I was taken out by the Mercer street or Broadway entrance. When I was confronted with Fisk he said, "That is Stokes." I did not understand him to charge me with the shooting.

Question—If you did, weren't you prepared to ask him whether he hadn't drawn a pistol?

Answer—I was, sir. (Question and answer excluded.)

Witness—I did not go near the ladies' parlor at all, nor throw my pistol on the sofa; the boy Hart was not near the shooting at all. Fisk did not say "Oh, oh, oh!" but "Hold!" I did not mean to kill Fisk; I believed his pistol to be loaded, or he wouldn't have drawn it.

Question—For what purpose did you purchase that pistol. (Question excluded.)

Witness—Oh, I had that pistol a long time! I did not expect to meet Fisk at the Hotel. I did not see his carriage coming, I had a cane in my hand and a very conspicuous overcoat, made of Irish freize, for driving on the road; I also wore driving gloves; before meeting him that day I had received numerous warnings that he had threatened to have my life, and the last threat that I heard of was on the 20th of December, and I think that was the first time I had seen him since that threat.

Miss Mansfield sat with a fan in her hand and a smelling bottle in the other, listening to the evidence. When Stokes entered the court in the morning

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or price—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 78 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and trustworthy practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; other of them cause it to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes restores lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

JURUBEBA

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cures of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUCHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

Campaign Rates.

To all new subscribers, we will furnish the DAILY CHRONICLE until after the Presidential Election, for $1; or the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for 50 cts.,—payable in advance.

WHAT THE PRESIDENT DID NOT SAY. The President's reticence sometimes annoys the public. Perhaps it represses that general enthusiasm which in its poor way loves to waste its foam on candidates who effervesce easily. But it is none the less a satisfaction to reflect that the President has not said some things which, in his place, other men would have said.

A fortnight ago the President was at Cambridge at the Commencement. He received there, in the stately courtesy of the University, her highest honor. After the ceremonials, he dined with her alumni, and his health was drunk—as for ninety-two years the health of the President of the United States has been drunk—at this annual dinner. Not often, however, is the President at hand to reply. He acknowledged the courtesy in a few modest and simple words. What would the assembly have said,—what would the country have said, had he made this address?—

"Gentlemen of the Alumni:—It has fallen to my lot recently, as you are doubtless aware, to be placed before the public, in a somewhat conspicuous attitude. That is to say, we who work for the country, work and live in the public sight and under public criticism to a greater degree than most people; and yet I think today my position is a little more exposed to cavil and disparagement than that of most of you.

It has been said of me,—I do not deprecate, I would not disarm criticism,—but it has been said of me, and I take it as a great testimonial and compliment, that while in the business I pursued through life, I have shown myself very fairly competent, very fairly diligent and successful; yet if I were, or should be, invited into another line of life,—into different and, if you please, higher responsibilities, I should be found unequal to them. Well, gentlemen, I cannot expect to have anything better said of me by my friends, much less my adversaries, than to say I had done well what I have had to do."

How many of the alumni would have looked General Grant in the face up to this moment? How many of them, on the other hand, would have hung their heads in mortification that a candidate for office should have selected such a moment to electioneer for himself? But suppose he had continued:—

"It would seem a tolerably safe deduction that one who had been doing well all his life that which he has tried to do, may possibly, may reasonably be expected to do well something else if he were to undertake it. Some of my critics observe that, though for myself, personally, I am a tolerably honest and respectable person, yet my associates are not very desirable—an unworthy set. I am very sorry for that, because my associates through life have been mainly the gentlemen whose acquaintances I made while engaged in the matter of defending the country, and if any associations were disagreeable I can hardly hope to find better in the future life than those I have had. I trust this was not meant. I trust it was not meant to say that such gentlemen as I refer to have not, on the whole, performed their work and have not discharged their responsibilities with reasonable fidelity, with human error, with human imperfections, with human faults doubtless, but still with fair, reasonable fidelity. At all events, gentlemen, with such as these officers of the army my fortune has been associated through life, with such as they it will be associated to the end, and if the world shall say of me in the end, he was a good soldier, a respectable captain and an honest general, all my ambition will be satisfied. Ladies and gentlemen, I will tax your attention no longer."

If the reticent President had said all that, would not his audience have thought that even electioneering had passed all bounds? Would the occasion not be remembered by every man of them as the most melancholy public occasion he had ever known?

This speech, which the President did not deliver, is the speech of his aspiring rival the next week at the Peace Jubilee. The occasion was one even further removed from national partisan politics than commencement day. But Mr. Greeley chose it to electioneer in the words we have quoted. We have simply changed the words which described his occupations and his old companions for words which describe those of General Grant.—Boston Adv.

A CANDID OPINION.—We like General Grant; but we care far more for Republican ascendency than for any man's personal fortunes. It is in our view of great importance that the opposition shall be kept out of power, while it is of comparatively small moment that A or B should tenant the White House. For a Democratic national triumph means a restoration to power of those men who deserted their seats in Congress and their places under the last Democratic President, to plunge the country into the Red Sea of secession and rebellion. Though you paint an inch thick, to this complexion you must come at last. The brain, the heart, the soul of the present Democratic party is the rebel element at the South, with its Northern allies and sympathizers. It is rebel at the core to-day, hardly able to reconcile the defeats of Lee, Johnston, Bragg, Hood and Price, and the consequent downfall of its beloved Confederacy, with its traditional faith in Divine Providence. It would hail the election of a democratic President in 1872 as a virtual reversal of the Appomattox surrender. It would come into power with the hate, the chagrin, the wrath, the mortification of ten bitter years, to impel and guide its steps. It would devote itself to taking off or reducing tax after tax until the Treasury was deprived of the means of paying interest on the national debt, and would hail the tidings of national bankruptcy with unalloyed gladness and unconcealed exultation. Whatever chastisement may be deserved by our national sins, we must hope that this disgrace and humiliation will be spared us.—Horace Greeley in New York Tribune, Feb., 1871.

Editorial Notes.

"Did James Gordon Bennett stop at any half-way house on the road to Heaven?" is the pertinent enquiry agitating the religious mind in New York. A Catholic priest, near Bennett's residence, after declaring Bennett to have been a true and zealous believer in Holy Church and an earnest Christian, said Mr. B.'s soul, like that of every one, must endure some suffering as expiation, and called for prayers for his speedy release from purgatory. The wonder will be if the Herald does not have a reporter at that point, to telegraph "exclusively to the Herald," the exact moment the earnest Christian finishes the process of expiation.

The Greeley car must be traveling rather slowly when old Gideon Welles is able to overtake it and get on.

Betsy Brown is a candidate for Senator in South Carolina; Gratzy Brown of Missouri is a candidate for Vice President.

Political.

Several of the liberal republican managers are in Washington in active communication with persons representing them in Baltimore and speaking for them with democrats there with a view of preventing the convention from making a regular nomination. They are very earnest in the matter, and tell their friends with out hesitation that in their judgment making Greeley and Brown nominees of the democratic convention through a formal vote will alienate nearly the entire liberal republican vote and result in the sure defeat of the ticket.

A certain democrat was standing on the bank of the Mississippi River, when he noticed a raft passing down, on which was a genuine democratic raftsman, to whom he called out: "Say, Bill, do you go for Horace Greeley?" Raftsman—"Horace Greeley be d—, subject to the Baltimore Convention."

The News.

The builders' strike in London is ended.

Rochefort's sentence has been commuted to banishment from France for life.

Strauss received a great ovation at his first concert in New York.

Masonic.

Father Styles of Prescott, Wis., has tallied one hundred and seven on life's score and styles himself the oldest living Mason, having felt the "Cable-ton" in the year of grace 1797.

Cardinal Antonelli and the Grand Vizier of Turkey are said to be the only prime ministers in Europe that are not members of the Mason's fraternity.

State News.

Upwards of four hundred Canadian children have attended the public schools of Manchester during the past term.

The fine oil painting of Mrs. Governor Wentworth, painted by the celebrated artist, Copley, which has long been in the possession of the Freeman family of Dover, was sold for $2000 last week, to go to New York city.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Aches, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

Roll on! great Pill of Ayer, roll on!
Through miles emboweled roll!
Roll on!
Through those whose livers chafe the soul!
Through those whose feeble stomachs fail!
Through mesentaries waxen pale!
Through all who live in aches and ail!
Ever roll on!
Roll o'er the prairies of the nation—
For the sick and ill of every station!
Roll down the Andes—towering mountains!
Roll over Africa's golden fountains!
Through India and the Cheronese!
Through distant Isles of Japanese!
Wherever dwells a sinking heart
Roll on, to do your mighty part,
Ayer's Pills, roll on —Putnam for Oct.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—The penetrative and healing action of this potent salve is a marvel throughout the world. Nothing else could be relied on in scrofula, cancer, salt rheum, erysipelas, and external injuries. Sold at 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

"CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT."—This is what the stage and horse car companies, livery-stable keepers, members of the turf, and all grooms and trainers say of the Mustang Liniment. They "can't do without it." And why? Because it infallibly reduces the external swellings, &c, which, under various names, impair the usefulness and value of the king of quadrupeds, and also because, for sprains, strains, galls and other injuries to which horse-flesh is liable, it is the most trustworthy preparation in the market. Yet these recommendations comprise only a portion of its claims to public confidence. During a period of more than sixteen years, it has been recognized as a specific for many of the most agonizing disorders which afflict the human family—such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, tic-doloreux, sore throat, earache, toothache; and likewise as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.

Suggestions for Summer.

It is of great importance that the system should be in a vigorous condition when the hot weather commences. The effects of a high temperature upon an enfeebled frame are always more or less disastrous. The loss of substance and the declension of nervous power, occasioned by excessive heat, can only be compensated by the active, healthful, and regular exercise of all the bodily functions by which the waste of nature is replenished and the vital energies renewed. The great utility of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as a means of toning, invigorating and regulating the organs of the body, is universally acknowledged. As a tonic it stimulates the flagging appetite and accelerates digestion; as a corrective it neutralizes acidity of the stomach and relieves flatuency; as an alterative and mild aperient it regulates the liver and the bowels; as an anodyne it promotes tranquil sleep; as a wholesome stimulant it imparts firmness and elasticity to the relaxed and trembling nerves, and as a blood depurent it purifies the vital stream. The value of such a specific to the weak and debilitated is beyond all estimate. To invalids wilted down by the sultry heat of midsummer, it is as refreshing and vitalizing as the cool night dew to the sun-scorched flowers. Composed of vegetable elements only, with a basis of pure diffusive stimulant, it is safe and palatable as well as medicinal. In fever and ague districts, and wherever the natural conditions are conducive to epidemic disease, it is considered the best safeguard against malarious infection, and the speediest remedy for intermittent and remittent fevers.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no cure) and relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians and the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The relive is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Notice.

The 250th.

Portsmouth was settled nearly two and a half centuries ago, and there is a general desire and intention among our citizens to celebrate the 250th anniversary by appropriate exercises on the 4th of July, 1873. That date will also be the 20th anniversary of the return of the Sons of Portsmouth. All sons and daughters of Portsmouth resident abroad are requested to have their names, residences and date of leaving home sent to the City Clerk's office, where a book of record is being prepared for future use. It is hoped that speedy response will be made to this request. It is proposed that the Board of Trade act on the matter of the celebration at their next meeting, and that they appoint a committee to act with a citizens' committee to be chosen at some future day to carry out all preliminaries necessary to place the celebration among the unfailing affairs to come.

Laconics.

A fleet of yachts, ten in number, came into the Lower Harbor on Tuesday.

The Boston Daily Globe, a morning paper, arrives here every evening by mail.

The yacht Resolute, one of the New York fleet, was launched from the railway at Kittery on Tuesday.

The children's Ball, under the superintendence of Mr. Samuel Lamprey, takes place at Congress Hall this evening.

The old liberty pole at Liberty Bridge was taken down on Tuesday, after standing twenty-four years, and will be replaced by a new one. We are informed that this is only the second time the flagstaff has been changed in forty-eight years.

On the 12th of July, 1852, Civil Engineer B. F. Chandler, U. S. N., reported for duty at this Yard. Next Friday being the 20th anniversary of that event his numerous friends propose to visit him and offer their congratulations. If his latch-string is in the same position that it is usually he will be ready to receive them.

THE NEW GERMAN EMPIRE is actively engaged in creating a navy. The shrewd and thrifty Germans, always ready to profit from the mistakes and successes of other nations, are constructing their war ships on a style of composite originality. The ponderous iron-clads, in which Louis Napoleon delighted, they have discarded altogether, for they learned to their joy how useless they were in the day of need. Eight mailed frigates have been built for the purpose of guarding the coast line. For offensive warfare a number of light corvettes, of the Alabama class, are building, and more are to follow. These vessels are to attain a speed of sixteen knots an hour, and carry an armament of ten cast-steel guns, directed to all points of the compass. Concerning these swift vessels of war, a German naval authority pertinently observes "that, if a single Alabama could give so much trouble to the whole of the American fleet, and paralyze the American trade, a fleet of such vessels must do immense damage to an enemy;" which important point our admirals have not taken into consideration at all.

THE SEA SERPENT AGAIN.—J. Cobbin of Durban, forwards to the Natal (Africa) Colonies the following account of a "sea serpent" seen by him: During my passage from London I saw no less than three sea serpents, but an account of the last will suffice. On the 30th of December last, on board the Silvery Wave, in latitude about 35 deg. S., and longitude 33.30 E., at 6.20 P. M., solar time, an enormous serpent passing nearly across our bows compelled the alteration of our course. He was at least one thousand yards long, of which about one-third appeared on the surface of the water at every stroke of his enormous fan-shaped tail, with which he propelled himself, raising it high above the waves, and arching his back like a land snake or a caterpillar. In shape and proportion he much resembled the cobra, being marked by the same knotty and swollen protuberance at the back of the head on the neck. The latter was the thickest part of the serpent. His head was like a bull's in shape, his eyes large and glowing, his ears had circular tips, and were level with his eyes, and his head was surmounted by a horny crest, which he erected and depressed at pleasure. He swam with great rapidity and lashed the sea into a foam, like breakers dashing over jagged rocks. The sun shone brightly upon him, and with a good glass I saw his overlapping scales open and shut with every arch of his sinuous back, colored like the rainbow.

THE THERMOMETER.—All the curses of all time are not too many to be heaped upon the head of the wretch who invented the thermometer.

Half of the year we worry because the thermometer is too low, the other half because it's too high, the rest of the year because one never can tell whether it's going to be one way or the other.

The bother of it all is that the man invented such a long thermometer. If he had made it from only forty to seventy degrees, we should never have been troubled by its being below zero or above blood heat.

For now that the thing is invented there is no use in cutting it shorter; other people will persist in keeping whole ones and telling you that it's 64 in the shade.

And it makes one's blood boil!

It would be a great blessing if Mr. Bergh would organize a Society for the Prevention of Thermometers to Animals. Or perhaps his present organization wouldn't object to adding this specialty to its brief name.

But if we had no thermometers we should have no ice water, because ice doesn't freeze—no, water doesn't freeze—except the thermometer is below freezing point, and how could it go below zero if there wasn't any?

Like all things in life there are two sides—or two ends—to the thermometer.

Unfortunately we are at the wrong end just now—but "keep cool," and by-and-by it will be Winter.—N. Y. Mail.

WORTH KNOWING.—Who that has warts on their hands does not want to get rid of them? Here is a safe, sure and inexpensive remedy. Put a cent's worth of copperas into a gill of soft water. Apply this solution two or three times a day rubbing into the warts, and letting it dry in thoroughly. My little girl had twenty or more warts, some of them quite large. I began to treat them as above six weeks ago, and they are all gone but three and those are going fast.—Cor. Exeter News-Letter.

CHEAP PAINT.—A cheap paint may be made for outbuildings by taking milk and cement—or "water lime" as some call it; mix and apply three or four coats; any dry color may be added. This will last for years, and by renewing once in two or three years, a building will look as well as if painted with oil paint. Stir constantly while putting on, or the finer parts will soon be used out and at last you will have nothing but sand. Have a boy to stir all the time.

HORSE DISTEMPER.—The best mode to treat horse distemper is to feed plenty of bran mashes, and poultice the throat with bran or turnips, and as soon as the swelling begins to soften, if it does not break, it should be opened with a knife. Also smoke the nostrils with old boot leather, in a kettle or tin, once a day, which helps to loosen the discharge from those parts. Do not get him wet or exposed to cold, and he will certainly come round all right.

Mr. E. S. Payson, secretary of the press committee at the Jubilee, has been made the recipient of an elegant scarf pin and cameo ring, with a head of Charles Dickens cut in it.

—The land on a Sugar Hollow, Conn., farm is so wet that the owner does his corn with a dipper, and digs his potatoes with a hook and line.

—One of the Central Park leopards undertook to claw a little boy into his cage the other day, but only succeeded in getting a small part of him. The balance of the boy will get well.

—The physicians in New York report an alarming increase of cancer in the nose caused by the practice of wearing eye glasses that are held to the bridge of the nose by a spring.

—Missouri editors do not indulge in coarse epithets. They merely remark of a contemporary, in the spirit of quiet sarcasm, that "his ears would do for awnings to a ten-story wholesale hog-packing establishment.'

RESIDENCE 28 Washington St., Portsmouth

Morning Chronicle.

he bowed and she returned the salutation, then turning to Miss Williams remarked: "Poor fellow, how grey he is." The jury sat immovable, leaning forward, with eyes fixed on the prisoner while he told his story, and during the examinations the court-room was packed to the doors. At the recess, Josie stood up, and, followed by her companions, sailed out of the room with the air of a grand duchess. Her appearance created a most extraordinary sensation, and a crowd rushed after her to see her down stairs. After recess, another sensation was created by the return of Josie, bowing and smiling to the men who stood up to make way for her.

Stokes again took the stand, and in reply to Mr. Tremaine, said: I knew the character of the deceased. I knew him to be a desperate, unscrupulous, vindictive man, that would stop at nothing to carry out his designs.

Question—Before you met him that day, had you been followed by ruffianly looking men, who you were informed were sent after you by Fisk? [Excluded].

A strong discussion took place, and finally the question was allowed. The counsel then repeated the question, but Stokes was thinking of something else with his head drooping on his breast.

Mr. Tremaine—Answer the question, Edward.

Witness—Yes, sir. For a month before the occurrence he told me that he had arrangements made to railroad me to State prison. He told me in Mrs. Mansfield's that he had graves for his enemies.

A question whether at dinner at Mansfield's Fisk told Stokes, "We rule New York with a rod of iron as completely as Robespierre ever ruled Paris," was excluded.

Question—How long was the pistol you carried loaded?

Answer—I loaded it when I bought it.

Question—And you never discharged it during that time.

Answer—No sir, it was loaded all that time.

Question—Did you intend to hit Fisk when you fired?

Answer—I did, sir.

Question—And knew your pistol was loaded with four balls?

Answer—yes, sir.

Mr. Tremaine—How far had you got down when you fired?

Answer—Four or five or may be six steps.

Question—Did you lean on the rail.

Answer—Yes. I was going down on the right; when he came up we were on a line; I jumped to the left and fired.

Josephine Mansfield took the stand and was sworn. She testified: I reside in No. 359 Twenty-third street. I received a note from Mr. Fisk for an interview in my house.

Question—What did he say?

Answer—He said that unless I turned to him he would kill Mr. Stokes.

Question—Did he take out a pistol?

Answer—He took out his pistol at the time; it was a nice one, silver-mounted and I think an ivory handle. He said: "You had better release me from this, I think." I said, "Yes, if you come out publicly and acknowledge that I was right and that the affidavits against me were a fraud." He said as far as he was personally concerned he would, but there were so many persons involved that he couldn't do so. "Then, I won't withdraw." "Then," he said, taking out a revolver, "I will kill Stokes and there will be bloodshed before you get through." I told Mr. Stokes and advised him to be careful. On another occasion Mr. Fisk showed her affidavits which he got up against the character of Mr. Eaton, at the same time admitting that they were false and that Eaton was an honorable man. After that he came in one day and was very excited and told her that blood was to be drawn, the first he ever drew. He went out pale and told her that Mr. Eaton had been attacked, but whether he was killed or not he couldn't tell them. He was very nervous and could not rest, though usually he was a very quiet man and always wanted to go to sleep. [Laughter.] Mrs. Mansfield's cousin heard him threaten to kill Stokes. Fisk had eight or ten pistols. They were accumulating in the house, as he got presents of pistols. He used to carry one after "Black Friday," and at other times. I knew him since November, 1867, and I knew Stokes since November, 1869.

I was introduced to Mr. Stokes by Harry Hardy of the Erie Railway, who is interested in Fisk's oil business.

Marietta A. Williams, testified that she communicated to the prisoner repeated threats by Fisk against his life.

Robert F. Stabo, a merchant residing in New York; was near the Grant Central Hotel, and saw Stokes coming down with a friend; saw him bow and point toward somebody in the hotel, then go inside; saw Fisk's carriage come down Broadway immediately after; the carriage was not in sight when Stokes entered.

Mr. Shanks then related how the prisoner and he were walking up Broadway. Stokes told him he was followed. Witness noticed that two men went after them everywhere. Whenever they stopped, the men passed and halted; if they turned back down Broadway the two men came after them. Mr. Stokes told him that he was afraid of those two men, that they were Erie detectives. He took a carriage and drove away as the best means of getting rid of them.

—A Georgia white man was lately sentenced to ten years in the State Prison for trying to kill a negro named Means, and yet he was only adapting Means to his end.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

A PIG IRON JOE BOWERS.

(Our post having intoxicated himself on corndodger and salt pork, became a victim to what the learned Mrs. Partington calls divine flatulence, and exhaled the following: Pedigree of the poet—by Thunder, dam Greeley.)

Sot to the Upperatific Air of Joseph Bowers.

BY THUNDER.

STANZA THE FIRST.

My name it is H. Greeley, I had an infant pig;
I fed it on Protection, to make it grow up big.
I'll tell you how I left it, and how I went to roam,
And took its poor old mammy so far away from home.
Cho-ri-ouse for the pigs, on the Swinette a Piston:
Wooes! Ahwoon! Ugh-gh-gh-gh!

STANZA THE SECOND.

I once did love a Post Office, and Seward knew it well,
And when I up and went for it, I didn't get a smell;
They said it had gone elsewhere, the office was not here—
My heart it was a bursting, I felt so very queer.
Cho-ri-ouse for the Post office:
Let her B.!

STANZA THE THIRD.

I ball-ed out J. Davis and took a Secesh crew,
I took aboard the Liberal and all the scrubends too,
I tried a Loco-motive my shaky boat to drive;
I steer-ed for the White House, but sure as I'm alive—(Cho-ri-ouse for the boat J. Davis:
Keep to the upper berths!)

STANZA THE FOURTH.

The masheen went to backing—the tariff sails stood full—
The loco-motive snorted—the canvas it did pull—
The free trade steam pulled one way—the tariff wind pulled tother,
And busted us ka-sideways, and stopped us suddenly—rather!
Cho-ri-ouse to the busted vessel:
Down to D. Jones, esquire!

MORAL STANZA.

Now, all young sucking editors, a warning you should take—
Don't you be too fastidious, your fortune for to make—
You'd better be an organ and play a party tune,
Than be like poor H. Greeley, a sailing to the moon.
Moral Cho-ri-ouse:
Be virtuous and you will be eccentric.

—Ohio State Journal.

"Dat is my Tipton."

The campaign is not to be destitute of fun after all. Hon. Mr. Tipton of Nebraska recently addressed the people of his State in Fillmore county, and after listening to his tirade against Grant with quiet attention, they gave three cheers for Grant and Wilson and adopted the following resolutions:—

Whereas, The Hon. Senator has labored long and earnestly with his astonishing misrepresentations and feeble arguments, extracts from Sumner's speech and his own dissatisfaction; and

Whereas, After patiently hearing the eloquence of the Hon. Senator, we, the republicans of Fillmore county, Nebraska, are convinced beyond a doubt of the following facts:—

That Hon. T. W. Tipton is dissatisfied with the present administration, and opposes the re-election of U. S. Grant for the reasons stated as follows:—

That the President has not appreciated the wisdom and statesmanship of Hon. T. W. Tipton;

That the President has not used his appointing power with a view to the political interests of T. W. Tipton;

That Senator Tipton cannot control the political influence with U. S. Grant and the administration in power;

That Tobias Wellington Tipton is condemned by the republican party of Nebraska, who elected him to the high office which he now holds, and that unless Horace Greeley shall be elected president, the Right Reverend Hon. Tobias Wellington Tipton will be forever, politically, dead:

Therefore, be it Resolved, That the republicans of Fillmore county gladly deliver him unto the democratic, liberal, anything for office party, to be dealt with as they may deem proper.

Resolved, That we indorse the administration of President Grant, and heartily support U. S. Grant and Wilson, for President and Vice-President of the United States.

—Motto for a cat-show—"Come to the scratch."

—Melton suits are appropriate for the heated term.

—In reply to the question why George Washington's sister was not with him when he made his famous raid on the cherry tree, some one says, because she had not got her little hat yet!

—One who knows says that the difference between eating strawberries and cream and kissing a pretty girl, is so small that it cannot be appreciated; but the "season" for strawberries is a good deal the shortest.

—A countryman created a sensation in Troy, Kansas, by bringing two large skunks in a bag to the Democratic convention. The committee on credentials excluded him, and a motion to take the scents of the meeting on the question of admitting him failed.

—An old lady who was on board the steamer which carried the new six oared boat of the Bowdoin crew to its owners, poked a hole in it with her umbrella to see how strong it was, saying that it would not hold a mosquito. The boys have sent the boat to be mended and have ceased to love old ladies.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is lighter speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON, After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glossy and fresh hue of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, unsightly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

JURUBEBA

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful Tonic and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges put the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Scrofulous Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain which is produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

CORNS, Bunions, Bad Nails, and other diseases of the feet, Scrofulous and Cancerous Humors, Piles, etc., skillfully treated at the great central Chiropodical and Healing Institute, No. 765 Broadway, New York. DR. J. BRIGGS, President; DR. ALEXANDER WEBBER, Secretary. ap9

THE DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL CONVENTION met at Baltimore on the 9th. Thomas Jefferson Randolph, of Virginia, was temporary chairman, and James Renegadé Doolittle, permanent president. Hon. Frank Jones was a member of the committee on credentials. The committee on resolutions, after a long discussion, decided to recommend the adoption by the convention of the Cincinnati platform, pure, simple and unchanged. There were only three votes against this section, Mississippi, Georgia and Delaware, whose delegates desired Greeley's letter should form a part of the platform. The Delaware delegate, Briggs, refused any compromise whatever.

On Wednesday, the convention adopted the Cincinnati platform by a vote of 670 to 62. On the first ballot for a candidate for President, Horace Greeley received 686, Jere. Black 21, Jas. A. Bayard 16, Wm. S. Groesbeck, 2, blank 7; and Greeley was nominated. The nomination fell flat on the convention, but little enthusiasm being shown. For a candidate for Vice President, B. Gratz Brown received all but nineteen votes. There will be a separate Democratic ticket.

The News.

Portland has voted to loan its credit to two Portland and Ogdensburg Railroad by a vote of 2939 to 961.

The sentence of Libbie Garrabrant, the New Jersey prisoner, has been commuted to imprisonment for life.

Gen. J. L. Chamberlain was installed as president of Bowdoin college on the 9th.

The Erie Railroad election Tuesday passed off quietly, the ticket of the McHenry party being elected without opposition. Peter H. Watson was elected president and Alexander S. Diven vice-president.

The Cuban privateer Pioneer was captured off Point Judith on Monday by the revenue cutter Moccasin, and now lies in port at Newport, R. I., in the custody of our authorities, who await orders from Washington. The Pioneer when captured was waiting for the officer who was landed at Charleston, S. C., with despatches, and was supplied with guns and ammunition and provisions for a long cruise.

The sum of $282,856 is awarded by the army and navy board of appraisers to Lieutenant Cushing and his associates for the destruction of the rebel ram Albemarle.

State News.

On Monday evening of last week, as Mr. and Mrs. V. Willoughby were passing the hut of Joseph Lyon, a Frenchman of low and dangerous character in North Pelham, they were induced by Lyon and his wife to enter their house. Soon after entering the hut, Lyon insisted on their singing, which they did. In a few moments more, Lyon jumped up and drew a pistol and fired two shots, aimed directly at Willoughby's head. One shot only took effect, entering under the left eye and penetrating back of the ear. The wound is a serious one, but is not regarded as fatal. On being shot, Willoughby immediately sprang at Lyon, grasping him by the throat, and soon compelled him to give up the pistol. He then made his escape with his wife. Willoughby was greatly exhausted and soon became insensible.

Political.

The Democratic papers are speaking of the "Greeley undercurrent." The term is felicitous; Horace is being sucked in.—Toledo Blade.

The last argument against the election of Greeley is found in the diminution of the annual rain fall produced by his indiscriminate hacking of trees. We must have foliage.

POLITICAL GOSSIP. — The Boston Globe has the following as one of the programmes in the approaching election:—

"Rumor has it that a new combination is forming for the purpose of putting forward Dr. Loring as the Republican candidate for Governor at the next election, with Sylvander Johnson, of North Adams, or Gen. Briggs of Pittsfield, for Lieut. Governor, the other names on the tickets to be new ones, with the exception of Mr. Adams for Treasurer. The abolition of the Board of State Charities and the election of Col. Tufts to Col. Morissey's place as Sergeant at-Arms, is also said to be a part of the programme. The gossips further state that the Woman Suffragists are strongly in favor of running Hon. George F. Hoar, of Worcester, for Governor. In the event of such a movement, the Labor Reformers would doubtless unite with the Woman Suffragists, the Congressional career of Mr. Hoar making him a general favorite with the Labor men. Both parties, however, are doubtful of receiving the permission of Mr. Hoar to use his name in connection with the Governorship, the well informed ones among them conceding that the gentleman named would not accept any but an out and out Republican nomination, even if he could be prevailed upon to accept that. The position of Gen. Butler in connection with the Governorship is still a question of no little interest. Many of his strong friends are desirous of seeing him again in the field."

If Essex county is to furnish a republican candidate for Governor, some of the democrats and Greeley men think they should have their candidate from the same county, and Hon. Elbridge Gerry Kelly, the present popular Mayor of this city, is talked of as the coming man. Dr. Kelly has been talked of by members of the new party as one of the most available opponents to run against Gen. Butler for Congress, but we have considered the doctor as a pretty good Butler man and with strong proclivities for free trade.—Newburyport Herald.

BROKEN HEARTS.—"My son, they have broken my heart, but it is not a bad heart, after all," are reported to be the last words of Judge McCunn. It is literally true, we have no doubt, that such was the fact; Judge McCunn really died of a "broken heart," as the phase is generally understood. His nervous system had received a blow from which it could not rally. The case is by no means unusual of men succumbing to blows of this sort, sometimes in a few minutes, sometimes in a few hours or days, sometimes in a few months. It was not so much Stokes' bullet that killed Fisk, according to the medical testimony, as "shock," the blow to the nervous system; from the pistol shot, recovery, though unlikely, was possible, but "shock" was deadly. In his case undoubtedly it was mortal fear, to which, it may be believed, from his conduct on the day of the riot last summer, Fisk was particularly liable to be the victim, that was fatal. When this shock is not so altogether ignoble as cowardice, but involves some of the higher sentiments, as remorse, or dissappointment in some high purpose, or despair, then it is dignified with the name of "broken heart." In all cases, however, it is the loss of vital force, the impossibility of rallying sufficient nervous energy to resist a blow. McCunn unquestionably died of it, as he said. So did Ananias; so do many men all about us every week. It was one of the remarkable results of the Chicago fire that the "shock" of loss of property, of the intense fear at the moment, of anxiety for the future, caused an unusual number of deaths there through the winter. Men died of "broken heart;" that is, broken courage, broken hope, broken spirits, broken energies, broken elasticity, from time to time, for months.

"To die of a broken heart" has a pathetic and sentimental sound, and appeals to our pity or our sympathies. Yet it is sometimes a very ignoble thing to die of, and is usually indicative of radical weakness of character. In Judge McCunn it was an altogether natural cause of death. Unscrupulous, ambitious, uncultivated —his fine library was a vanity and a show only—without resources within himself to fall back upon, and at the same time living upon the breath of others, having in excess wat the phrenologists call "approbativeness," it was entirely in accordance with his nature when a blow should come that cast him down from the false eminence to which, by crooked paths and devious ways, he had raised himself, that the "shock" should kill him. There was no bad thing, inside the law, that McCunn was not capable of, so long as it won him applause or contributed to his success. With negroes hanging in his very sight, murdered by the mob, in the riots of 1863 he could stand and address the savage wretches, not only without compunction, but with great inward satisfaction. But convict him of outraging the public sense of right, of any infringement of morality within the reach of law, or with the law's hand upon him, and he sinks stricken, unnerved, helpless, to a cowardly death. So dying, death comes to him as a just retribution for a life misspent, a career pursued without scruples, unmarked by one worthy act, marked by many that were disgraceful to him as a man and a magistrate. That others of his companions in judical crime have not come to a similar end is only because they are made of sterner stuff and coarser fibre. —N. Y. Post.

ALLIGATOR SKINS.—The traffic and shipment of alligator skins is becoming quite an item in the commercial circles in this city. During the past five months J. H. Crowell has shipped to parties in Boston one thousand four hundred and ninety alligator skins. If the traffic in these hides should continue unabated during the next season, those who come to Florida for the purpose of shooting these reptiles will be obliged to penetrate farther into the wilds of the State than heretofore, and the exercise of the sport will be somewhat limited.—Jacksonville Union.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adopts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

"CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT."—This is what the stage and horse car companies, livery-stable keepers, members of the turf, and all grooms and trainers say of the Mustang Liniment. They "can't do without it." And why? Because it infallibly reduces the external swellings, &c., which, under various names, impair the usefulness and value of the king of quadrupeds, and also because, for sprains, strains, galls and other injuries to which horse-flesh is liable, it is the most trustworthy preparation in the market. Yet these recommendations comprise only a portion of its claims to public confidence. During a period of more than sixteen years, it has been recognized as a specific for many of the most agonizing disorders which afflict the human family—such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, tic-doleroux, sore throat, earache, toothache; and likewise as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.

Suggestions for Summer.

It is of great importance that the system should be in a vigorous condition when the hot weather commences. The effects of a high temperature upon an enfeebled frame are always more or less disastrous. The loss of substance and the declension of nervous power, occasioned by excessive heat, can only be compensated by the active, healthful, and regular exercise of all the bodily functions by which the waste of nature is replenished and the vital energies renewed. The great utility of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as a means of toning, invigorating and regulating the organs of the body, is universally acknowledged. As a tonic it stimulates the flagging appetite and accelerates digestion; as a corrective it neutralizes acidity of the stomach and relieves flatuency; as an alterative and mild aperient it regulates the liver and the bowels; as an anodyne it promotes tranquil sleep; as a wholesome stimulant it imparts firmness and elasticity to the relaxed and trembling nerves, and as a blood depurent it purifies the vital stream. The value of such a specific to the weak and debilitated is beyond all estimate. To invalids wilted down by the sultry heat of midsummer, it is as refreshing and vitalizing as the cool night dew to the sun-scorched flowers. Composed of vegetable elements only, with a basis of pure diffusive stimulant, it is safe and palatable as well as medicinal. In fever and ague districts, and wherever the natural conditions are conducive to epidemic disease, it is considered the best safeguard against malarious infection, and the speediest remedy for intermittent and remittent fevers.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croup, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of reach of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay; no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it that time he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

HAVING this day removed our Carriage Manufactory, and commenced business at our new quarters, in the ROCKINGHAM AND SAGAMORE MILLS,

On McDonough Street,

we take the earliest opportunity to return grateful thanks to numerous patron-, near and far, for their generous favors, and assure them and others who may now call, that we shall in the future as in the past aim to manufacture only the BEST GOODS OF THE BEST MATERIAL.

With our present commodious quarters, large and well seasoned stock, and greatly increased facilities for making shipments, we are now able to turn out more rapidly anything in the conveyance line,

From the Heaviest Express Wagon to the Smallest Pony Carriage, always endeavoring in our work to conform to the requirements, tastes and means of those who call, and pledging our united endeavors to answer all orders received personally or by mail, in the most thorough and prompt manner.

We invite critical inspection of the many styles of Carriages of our own manufacture now on exhibition and for sale a, our capacious Repository attached to the above buildings. We have no hesitancy in challenging competition.

Corporation Meetings.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire was held here on Tuesday. The board of directors elected consists of Benjamin T. Reed, William H. Y. Hackett, Robert W. Hooper, Ichabod Goodwin and F. W. Choate. B. T. Reed was re-elected president, William H. Hackett, clerk, and John B. Parker, treasurer.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Portsmouth, Great Falls and Conway Railroad was held here on Tuesday. Thornton K. Lothrop, president presided. Many stockholders from Massachusetts, in the absence of a dividend, deemed it avisable to look over their property and made a pilgrimage to North Conway, receiving a fair dividend in transportation. The committee to receive, sort and count the votes consisted of Isaac Sweetser of Boston, Judge Odell and William H. Rollins, Esq., of Portsmouth. They reported the unanimous election of Thornton K. Lothrop of Boston, Ichabod Goodwin and William H. Y. Hackett of Portsmouth, Benjamin T. Reed of Boston and George William Burleigh of Great Falls, as directors. At the subsequent organization of the board T. K. Lothrop, Esq., was elected president; William H. Hackett of Portsmouth, clerk; and J. B. Parker of Salem, treasurer.

At a meeting of the proprietors of Portsmouth Bridge, holden Monday, the 9th inst., the following named gentlemen were elected directors: Ichabod Goodwin (president,) Samuel Hooper, Benjamin T. Reed, William H. Y. Hackett, Thornton K. Lothrop, Chas. E. Barnell and S. Lothrop Thorndike. The directors re-elected Ichabod Goodwin treasurer, and William H. Hackett clerk.

Laconics.

The members of the several Republican Ward Committees are requested to meet at the Grant Headquarters, on Market and Daniel Streets, Friday evening at half past 7 o'clock.

Strawberry Bank Encampment, No. 17, I. O. of O. F., attended the funeral of their late Brother, James Gunnison, Wednesday afternoon, accompanied by the Portsmouth Cornet Band.

The Greeleyites raised a campaign flag at the American House on Vaughan Street, Wednesday evening. Three cheers were given by three men, the band played and that shop worn yet conseqential politician, Albert R. Hatch found the occasion a time to relieve himself of the speech he is so fond of.

A nice chance for a moonlight excursion is offered this evening, by the proprietors of the steamer Appledore. A trip to the Shoals and return for 50 cents is well worth enjoying, and cheap. The boat will leave Pier Wharf at half past 7 o'clock. Music by the Portsmouth Cornet Band.

Leavitt's Minstrels will appear at the Temple, this evening. In addition to the usual features of such entertainments, the management have secured the services of Henry Leslie, the celebrated tight-rope walker, who recently created such a sensation at Niagara; and he will give a public exhibition of his wonderful feats on a rope stretched to the top of the hall, at 7 o'clock.

On Wednesday our sanctum was illumed by the ever-welcome countenance of the illustrious Mrs. Partington; and we were happy to find the venerable dame — albeit somewhat heavy of form and foot—as light hearted and cheery as ever. If there is anybody in the world who can extract sunbeams from cucumbers Mrs. Partington is the man—the lady, we mean,—and as a proof we may mention that the sanguine old dame is delighted with Horace Greeley's prospects of getting boosted into the Presidential chair!

Mr. Richard H. Beacham, at his stable on Congress Street, has one of largest livery stocks in this State, including some fast steppers with plenty of "go" in them. Persons desiring quiet horses that ladies or children may drive can also be accommodated at Beacham's. His stock of carriages is new and elegant in finish, embracing open and top buggies, carryalls and teams of all desirable styles and kinds. If ever perspiring humanity desired to get to the sea-shore, now is the time; and Beacham's is the place to get your teams. A day spent in this manner by families, is a day well spent.

On Monday, the 8th inst., a court was held in the town house at Seabrook, Justice Nathan Robie presiding. A Mr. Blazo having been witness to an assault made by a Mrs. Rowe upon a little girl, and testified concerning the same in court, Mrs. Rowe has at various times since threatened to poison Mr. Blazo's horse, hens, etc., and has used violent language towards him, in which her husband has joined. J. S. H. Frink, Esq., of this city, appeared for Mr. Blazo, and Mr. Johnson of Newburyport for the defendant. Mr. and Mrs. Rowe were each put under $200 bonds to keep the peace for six months and ordered to pay the costs of court.

For Pensioners.

Persons who are already pensioned at either the rates of fifteen, twenty or twenty-five dollars are entitled to the increased rates provided by the late act of Congress without formal application and without the intervention of any attorney, and the commissioner of pensions will not recognize attorneyship in such cases. A letter from the pensioner (pensioned as above) addressed to the commissioner of pensions, Washington, inclosing his pension certificates, and giving his post-office address, will be a sufficient presentation of his claim for the increase. The certificate will then receive such indorsement as will authorize the payment of the increased rate, and then be forwarded to the pension agent, and the pensioner will be notified of such transmission.

Of what use to the Republican party is the Concord Monitor as at present conducted?

SUMMER DRINKS.—Ice-water should be drank but sparingly. A most excellent substitute for it is pounded ice taken in small lumps into the mouth and allowed to dissolve upon the tongue. This will prove very refreshing and much more enduring in its effects.

Lemonade is a simple and grateful beverage. To make it; Roll the lemons on something hard till they become soft; grate all the rinds, cut the lemons in slices and squeeze them in a pitcher (a new clothes-pin will answer for a squeezer in lieu of something better); pour on the required quantity of water, and sweeten according to taste. The grated rinds, for the sake of their aroma, should be added too. After mixing thoroughly, set the pitcher aside for an hour; then strain the liquor through a jelly strainer, and put in the ice.

Travellers who find it inconvenient to use lemons can carry a box of lemon sugar prepared from citric acid and sugar, a little of which in a glass of ice water will furnish quite a refreshing drink, and one that will help oftentimes to avert sick headache and biliousness. Citric acid is obtained from the juice of lemons and limes.

Perry is a delicious beverage made from cherries, and will keep a year or more. Take six pounds of cherries and bruise them; pour on a pint and a half of hot water and boil for fifteen minutes; strain through a flannel bag, and add three pounds of sugar. Boil for half an hour or more, until the liquid will sink to the bottom of a cup of water (try it with a teaspoonful of the liquid); then turn into jelly cups and cover with paper dipped in the white of an egg.

To prepare the drink: put a spoonful of the jelly into a goblet of water and let it stand about ten minutes; then stir it up and fill with pounded ice. Currants and raspberries made into shrub furnishes a pleasant and cooling drink when mixed with ice water. Pounded ice is also an agreeable addition to a saucer of strawberries, raspberries or currants. Pound it until it is almost as fine as snow and spread it over the berries. With fruit it is also an excellent substitute for cream.

Water ices are always acceptable. Those made of orange, lemon, currant, strawberries, raspberries and pineapple are much improved by adding the stiff beaten whites of four eggs to every two quarts of the liquid. Put it in just as it is turned into the freezer, and it will freeze in a foam.—Scribner's for July.

AMERICANS PHYSICALLY.—A correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, who has travelled extensively in Europe and instituted comparisons in regard to the size of our own and other people's, concludes that the skeleton of the average American man is larger than that of the man of any other country. He further remarks, "No men in Europe can compare in size and strength with Kentuckians, Tennesseans, Virginians, and men of some other parts of the country, and I am fortified in this assertion by the evidence of Dr. Russell, of the London Times, who, when walking by a regiment of Tennesseans in line found the top of his hat about even with the chins of the soldies. I was some time in England before my eyes rested on the typical John Bull as portrayed by Punch. They are very scarce—as scarce as the caricatured Yankee.

—A Georgia editor refuses to support Greeley as it is as much as he can do to support himself.

—During a storm in Newbero, N. C., a few days since, a goose was struck and killed by lightning, whereupon the local paper asks: "How about the theory that feathers are a protection to those other geese who get into a feather bed during a thunder storm, now?"

"Dr. Stevens' Place."
Situated in Greenland, N. H., in close proximity to the Railroad station, on the old stage route from Portsmouth to Exeter, and four miles from the first named place.
The property consists of 25 Acres most excellent Land, all to grass or tillage, and in a high state of cultivation, upon which are some fifty lofty and beautiful Shade Trees, 120 thrifty Apple Trees, all in bearing, and some 90 Pears, Cherry and Peach Trees, a large Asparagus Bed, (will cut 300 bunches next season) Gooseberry Bushes in great profusion, Currant Bushes, a large bed of Rhubarb plant and Strawberry beds.
The buildings consist of a handsome Cattle Barn (the dwelling house having been burned last November), 40 feet square, with a splendid cellar beneath for storing fruit and vegetables, making manure and keeping hens in winter; a fine, well appointed Stable for three horses with spacious Carriage room; a large and well made Tool House and Workshop with Piggery attached; also a fine summer Hen House with splendid run and appointments. All the above buildings are in perfect order and are well painted.
The site for the house is all that could be desired, being well elevated and commanding, and having a large and beautiful lawn in front, well fenced and splendidly embellished with Hedges, Bushes, Spruce Maple and Elm trees.
To any one wishing a beautiful Farm for the sake of the health and pleasure of a farm life, or to any one desiring a Country estate for a Summer Residence with the privilege of erecting a house to unite that means and convenience, this offers a rare and inviting opportunity.
The subscriber will hold this offer of sale open only for a limited time,—to July 25th. If not disposed of previous to that time, it will be withdrawn.
Should a purchaser present, possession will be given immediately with the Crops, or later with the crops removed, as may be agreed upon.
☞ Terms $2000 down, the balance to suit the convenience of purchaser. Apply to DR. A. P. STEVENS, No. 5 Congress Street, Portsmouth, N. H., or to JOHN B. STEVENS, Esq., on the premises. j16

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO BE SUPPLIED TO THE NAVY YARDS UNDER THE OWNERSHIP OF THE BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., JUNE 23, 1872.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish Timber and other materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1873, will be received at this Bureau until 12 o'clock M. of the 23d of July next, at which time the bids will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed to the "Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, Navy Department, Washington," and must be endorsed "Proposals for Timber, &c., for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from ordinary business letters.

To prevent confusion, and facilitate the opening of the bids, parties bidding for supplies at several yards will enclose their bids in separate envelopes, each endorsed with the name of the yard for which the bid is made.

Printed schedules for such classes as parties deal in and intend to bid for, together with instructions to bidders, giving the forms of proposal, of guarantee, and of certificate of guarantors, with printed forms of offer, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the Commandants of the respective Navy Yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each Navy Yard, and the Purchasing Paymaster for each Station, will have a copy of the schedules of the other yards, for examination only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge whether it is desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposals must be for the whole of a class, but the Department reserves the right to reject the whole class, should the interest of the Government require it, before the execution of contracts. All applications for information, or for the examination of samples, must be made to the Commandants of the respective yards.

By direction of the Department, bids or offers will be received only from parties who are bona fide dealers in, or manufacturers of, the articles they offer to furnish. The guarantors must be certified by the Assessor of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract will be awarded to the person who makes the lowest bid and gives the guarantee required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant.

Under the provisions of the second section of the act approved March 3, 1863, the offer of any person who, as principal or surety, has not filed his contract for 1871-'72 will not be received.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to the satisfaction of the Navy Department.

As additional security twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contracts shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of each bill, approved in triplicate by the Commandants of the respective yards, will be paid by the Paymaster of the station designated in the contract, or, if none is specified, by the Paymaster of the station nearest the yard where the goods are delivered, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The classes of this Bureau are numbered and designated as follows:

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that have been made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of the members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

To M. S. G.

In earlier youth and happier hours,
When care sat lightly on my brow,
Hope glowed bright as summer flowers;
Alas! how all is altered now.

In vain I seek midst mirth and glee,
To fly the grief that soars my brain;
Still memory bids me think of thee,
Though misery break my heart in twain.

Once thou did'st; love me when I gazed
Upon thy brow so pure, so fair,
Thine eyes flamed with affection bright
And angels whispered, truth was there!

But thou art changed, ah! who can tell
The anguish now my bosom rends;
My cheerless heart no more will swell,
Sad blighted hope my path attends.

Condemned by thee to fall despair
In silence now my fate I mourn;
For thee to Heaven I'll breathe a prayer,
Which in the future you may scorn.

Portsmouth, N. H., June 27. WM. M. K.

RARE FAN TO SEE.—We are indebted to A. K. Loring for the sight of a fan which is indeed a rare fan to see. The precise form which this rare phantasy has assumed is that of the familiar face and head of a distinguished musico-agriculturo - typo - graphico - presidential candidate. It is ingeniously designed to catch the favoring breeze from every quarter. On one side are the expressive features of the gold-bowed wood-chopper of Chappaqua, fringed with a beard and top-knot of immaculate American wool, and this decoration, while it gives to the face the wise look of Father Time, also conciliates the wool-growing interests, as does the fact that the whole effigy is grasped like a pumpkin by its neck tend to secure the favor of the farmer. On the reverse, however, for we are, like Hamlet's mother, to look on this picture and on that, we are introduced to closer study of the mental workings of the head of of the Tribune. For here, by a lavish use of printer's ink, we are informed of the size and location of bumps, and the state of development of sundry mental characteristics. Thus "On to Richmondativeness" seems to have fallen away since the bump at Bull Run, but the neighboring organ of "On to Washingtontiveness" is excessively enlarged and crowding "benevolence," (formerly treated so considerately as to be spelled in full "Benjamin-evolence,") almost to the wall. "What I know about farming" still occupies a large zone and holds its ground against such portions of that great American Enclopædia of a brain as are given over to the planting of "strawberry shortcake," "loving your neighbor," and kindred topics pertaining to Baltimore politics and universal salvation. This fandango is worth seeingreeley.—Boston Transcript.

IN GENTS' CALF BOOTS, pegged and sewed, by CHAS. E. SHEDD & CO.

The Singer
SEWING MACHINE
STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture
—OF—
400 OF THE SINGERS
Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER
IS THE
OLDEST
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,
No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR.
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S compound skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of this art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

JURUBEBA
THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN
BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a specific in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Likewise nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S
SARSAPARILLA
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

$1000 REWARD.
BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for corns and bunions and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has succeeded in an absolute cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

Doolittle Does Little.

Hon. James R. Doolittle of Wisconsin was the chairman of the Baltimore convention. In the New York Tribune, March 3, 1869, Mr. Greeley said of him:—

"Able, adroit and early schooled in the arts of the self-seeking politician, he (Doolittle) has for years done his 'level best' against the party which has so honored and trusted him. He worked like a beaver, with tongue and pen to defeat General Grant, and his labors were crowned with the largest republican vote and the most sweeping republican victory ever realized in Wisconsin. We believe the majority there would have been twenty thousand had he remained faithful; it was swelled to twenty-four thousand one hundred and fifty-two by the intensity of the popular detestation of Doolittle, his work and his ways."

Political.

"Greeleymocracy" is the latest.

The Mormons unanimously indorse Greeley's nomination.

The State canvass in North Carolina is progressing amid unusual excitement, both parties making tremendous efforts.

Speaking of Mr. Belmont's resignation, the World says: A man may not unreasonably be proud of having accepted the leadership of the democratic organization when the tide of popular opinion was bearing Abraham Lincoln irresistibly upward into power. Not less reasonably may a man be proud of resigning the leadership of the democratic organization when the tide of popular opinion has lifted Horace Greeley from his ancient moorings, and brought him to accept if not to seek a Presidential commission from the hands of the democracy in convention.

The News.

It is reported that United States steamer Powhatan is destined for the fishing grounds, to protect the interests of American fishermen.

David Smith, the youngest son of Joseph Smith the Mormon prophet, lectured in Salt Lake City against polygamy.

The testimony for the defence in the Stokes trial is all in. It is believed that the jury will either acquit the prisoner or disagree, more probably the latter.

At a municipal investigation in New York, a wooden pavement contractor stated that he paid a leading ring politician $60,000 to secure his influence.

Troys 7, Mutuals 4.

State News.

A slander case in the Milford Police Court was rewarded with one cent for damages. It goes to the Supreme Court under Senator Wadleigh's auspices.

Thirty-six convicts of the State Prison have the past year died, been discharged or pardoned. The whole number now is eighty; seventy-six males and four females, the smallest number for many years.

SECOND HAND ARTICLES.—The decorations of the Opera House in which the Democratic Convention met were those of the Philadelphia Republican Convention, no doubt parted with at a liberal reduction from prime cost; and the platform which was adopted is also a second-hand one procured from a Republican establishment at Cincinnati where they undertake the renovating and repair of cabinets and the overhauling of bureaus.

MAINE.—The Portland Argus having bantered the Press to a bet of $100 that Maine will go for Greeley and Brown, the Press promptly accepts, and offers to make the amount $1,000, the stakes to go to the Maine General Hospital.

—A Florida nursery man has sent Mrs. Horace Greeley a crate of peaches weighing from nine to fourteen ounces each.—Boston Post.

What! presents already! Down goes the corner-stone of the Cincinnati movement!—Providence Journal.

—"Every one who chooses to live by pugilism or gambling or harlotry, with nearly every keeper of a tippling house, is politically a Democrat.—Horace Greeley.

As no stream can rise higher than its source, so no man elected to office can be better than his constituents.—Albany Journal.

BLODGETT, of Detroit, arose at three o'clock on the morning of the Fourth, in order to fire an old musket 1,000 times that day. He blazed away until sundown, when the over-strained weapon flew into a thousand pieces, taking Blodgett's scalp, nose, and one ear along as trophies.

A WONDERFUL ESCAPE.—One of the most amazing instances of escape from sudden and apparently inevitable death occurred a few nights ago on the Hudson River railroad. A man named James Darter of Hudsonville was walking up the road on the down track by night, about a mile south of the New Hamburg station. On his back he carried a trunk. Suddenly a train hove in sight, thundering down the track on which Carter was walking. It was an extra freight train, and moving very fast. To see the red glare and to hear the crashing advance of the engine was the work of one moment; in the next Carter had leaped for safety upon the other track. But it was stumbling from Scylla on Charybdis. The startled man could not hear, for the roar of the freight train, a new enemy that was close upon him. As he jumped upon the up track, the Pacific express came hurling along upon it at his back, running forty miles an hour. The engineer saw Carter, shut off steam and whistled "down brakes." But it was too late. The speed of the locomotive was hardly slackened when it struck the poor fellow, and he and his trunk were flung twenty feet into the air.

Probably it was a thousand to one at the moment of collision that Carter would never draw another breath. Yet he is alive and well to-day. The case proved to be one of those astonishing exceptions to ordinary experience that we instinctively call miraculous. When the ship Dunbar was wrecked some years ago off Sidney Heads, she foundered near a sheer precipice, almost absolutely smooth on its surface and rising eight hundred feet from the sea. On that smooth wall, far above the reach of any common wave, is a single tiny crevice or shelf, a few feet in length. It was a thousand to one when the Dunbar went down that no one on board would be saved. But the very fury of the tempest that destroyed his ship was one poor mariner's salvation. He was tossed up to this crevice by a monstrous wave as neatly as a billiard ball is shot into a pocket. There he lay insensible, but he was found in time to save him and was hoisted to the top of the precipice above. The chance of his going into the crevice, when the Dunbar broke up, was rather less than that of throwing a pea into a nail hole in a wall twenty feet off. The chance of Carter being saved when his body was struck by the engine seems even less. But when he fell it was on the fore part of the engine. His clothes caught in what is called the "drawbar," his person not striking any part part of the locomotive at all. Thus, when discovered, he was lying across the iron bar of the "cow-catcher" with his head down and his feet up—the head being within two or three inches of the rails. The train dashed furiously on, Carter continuing to hang in his perilous position until it reached New Hamburg. Carter had been seen by the firemen in the meantime, and one of them had crawled down the engine and seized his clothes, clasping with the other arm the flag-staff. At New Hamburg the train stopped and Carter was taken off. He was insensible, but soon revived with simple remedies, and was found to be absolutely unhurt. There was not even a scratch or abrasion of the skin, and Carter lived to tell an experience doubtless unknown, with one possible exception, to any other living individual.

We believe it is true that a lady is alive who has gone through something of this kind. This was at Cold Spring station, some years ago. She was crossing the track in a wagon, and was in like manner struck by a locomotive. The horse was instantly killed and the wagon was smashed to atoms. But the lady, strange to say, after being thrown into the air, was caught by the flag-staff through her hoop skirt—something as one plays the game of "graces"—and carried on unhurt. She was rescued as soon as the train could be stopped, and sustained no injury. This case strongly resembles Carter's, and we fancy there is no other recorded parallel; even the experience of this unfortunate lady is less surprising, not to say incredible, than the later one we have just been enabled to chronicle.—N. Y. Times.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

"CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT."—This is what the stage and horse car companies, livery-stable keepers, members of the turf, and all grooms and trainers say of the Mustang Liniment. They "can't do without it." And why? Because it infallibly reduces the external swellings, &c., which, under various names, impair the usefulness and value of the king of quadrupeds, and also because, for sprains, strains, galls and other injuries to which horse-flesh is liable, it is the most trustworthy preparation in the market. Yet these recommendations comprise only a portion of its claims to public confidence. During a period of more than sixteen years, it has been recognized as a specific for many of the most agonizing disorders which afflict the human family—such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, tic-doloreux, sore throat, earache, toothache; and likewise as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.

Suggestions for Summer.

It is of great importance that the system should be in a vigorous condition when the hot weather commences. The effects of a high temperature upon an enfeebled frame are always more less disastrous. The loss of substance and the declension of nervous power, occasioned by excessive heat, can only be compensated by the active, healthful, and regular exercise of all the bodily functions by which the waste of nature is replenished and the vital energies renewed. The great utility of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as a means of toning, invigorating and regulating the organs of the body, is universally acknowledged. As a tonic it stimulates the flagging appetite and accelerates digestion; as a corrective it neutralizes acidity of the stomach and relieves flatuency; as an alterative and mild aperient it regulates the liver and the bowels; as an anodyne it promotes tranquil sleep; as a wholesome stimulant it imparts firmness and elasticity to the relaxed and trembling nerves, and as a blood depurent it purifies the vital stream. The value of such a specific to the weak and debilitated is beyond all estimate. To invalids wilted down by the sultry heat of midsummer, it is as refreshing and vitalizing as the cool night dew to the sun-scorched flowers. Composed of vegetable elements only, with a basis of pure diffusive stimulant, it is safe and palatable as well as medicinal. In fever and ague districts, and wherever the natural conditions are conducive to epidemic disease, it is considered the best safeguard against malarious infection, and the speediest remedy for intermittent and remittent fevers.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cured for. The painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

The Exhibition Ball.

The friends of the young pupils of Mr. Lamprey were much pleased with the beauty and order of his class of some sixty masters and misses on Wednesday evening at Congress Hall. Although it may be true that manners do not make men and women, it cannot be denied that careful training substitutes a very desirable polish for the uncouthness which is apt to attach to boys and girls. Mr. Lamprey is entitled to much credit, for the skill and patience with which he has trained this class,—as he invariably does his pupils in the graceful accomplishment of dancing.

Dollars and Sense.

—Say what they will about the old white hat, it covers a big brain.—Democratic Paper.

So a Republican read, and while smiling over the adaptability of Democratic principles to circumstances, he strolled towards the locality where preparations were being made to raise a Greeley flag. Just then a Democrat hailed him, with "Say,——, just 'chip in' a dollar to help pay for this flag!" "Not I," responded Repub.; "if we furnish you the brains for your Presidential candidacy, you should certainly pay the expenses of the campaign." The Greeley man jammed his Greeley hat down over his Greeley eyes, shoved his Greeley hands into his Greeley pockets, and departed whistling

"And there's where the laugh comes in!"

An Omen.

On Wednesday, as soon as the nomination of the life-long abolitionist and semi-Unionist, Horace Greeley, by the Confederate convention at Baltimore, was positively announced by the telegraph, a Greeley and Brown flag was thrown to the breeze on Water Street, by one of the old-line, negro-hating, pro-slavery, secession Democrats of the third ward, whose name was brought promiaently before the people of Portsmouth by the anti-draft riots gotten up here during the war to aid the rebels in their attempted dissolution of the Union. Having completed his public swallowing of his former enemy, the flag-raiser was regarding his banner with tremendous enthusiasm, when along came—not a multitude of Republicans to cheer for Greeley and Brown, but a funeral procession, headed by a band playing a sad and solemn dirge! Thus a funeral procession, stepping slowly to the plaintive music of a dead march, was the first thing to pass beneath the first Greeley and Brown flag raised in this city by a "straight" Democrat. And what could be more appropriate? The Democratic party, in its wild despair, has committed suicide by taking poison; and the wailing of the band was a fitting recognition of the approaching dissolution and obsequies of the once mighty organization which was hurled from power because it basely yielded to the dictation of the slave-holding aristocracy.

Nasty, but Necessary.

Many of our "Democratic brethren,"—men whose whole lives have been spent in defending the Divine origin of human slavery and in opposing the abolitionist theory that a black man had rights which a white man was bound to respect, and who have for twenty years regarded Horace Greeley as the bitterest enemy of Democratic "principles" and practice,—now find it very hard to cheer for "Greeley, the patriot, statesman and philosopher." It's of no use, gentlemen; you may not like the medicine, but you must take it. The dose is nauseous, no doubt, but you've got to swallow it. "The party" in convention has said that nothing can save its life—or what amounts to the same thing, the political lives of its ancient and office-hungry wire pullers—but a flat renunciation of all its former "principles" and the adoption of its most hated opponent (barring Ben. Butler) as its standard bearer. You may make wry faces if you like, gentlemen, but the medicine you dare not refuse.

Laconics.

If at first you don't succeed, try, try again.

There was a slight earthquake shock at Rye on Thursday, at 5.30 A.M.

The members of the several Republican Ward Committees are requested to meet at the Grant Headquarters, on Market and Daniel Streets, Friday evening at half past 7 o'clock.

It is reported that Hon. Frank Jones, delegate to the Democratic National Convention, is to be publicly received on his return. Mr. Jones is the most popular man in the Democratic ranks in this region, and being the only Democrat who would stand any chance of being chosen Governor of New Hampshire, will probably receive the nomination should he not decline to allow the use of his name.

The mercury in thermometers was higher in Portsmouth during the hot days of last week than it was in New Orleans at the same dates.

Many of our readers will sympathize with the Louisville Courier-Journal, which says: If the weather does not grow cooler very soon, Mr. Fahrenheit, in justice to his patrons, should at once add a second story with a mansard roof to his thermometer.

The residence of Mr. Reuben Wiley, submarine diver, in Seabrook, was totally destroyed by fire on Wednesday. Loss $1000; insured for $600.

Mr. Alfred Jewell of South Hampton, recently employed as a brakeman on the Eastern Railroad, was seriously injured at Salem on Saturday last while shackling two cars.

A BRAVE LADY.—A singular visitation occurred at the residence of John B. Maude, Esq., corner of Lucas and Garrison avenues, on Friday night, or rather about three o'clock on Saturday morning. The second story of Mr. Maude's house is supplied with verandas, with windows opening upon them on a level with the floor. Mrs. Maude was lying awake, and thought she heard a rustling at one of the windows. Presently a man stepped into the room and commenced taking a survey of the apartment. He moved noiselessly over the floor, and the lady observed his whole appearance. He wore what is termed a stove-pipe hat, a dress-coat with brass buttons, white gloves with long tops, and a white cloth around his brow and chin, the end of which fell upon his breast—evidently intended to disguise his features. In his hand he had a long knife, the blade of which glittered in the starlight. The man looked at the bed and apparently satisfied himself that both occupants were asleep. He then went to a bureau, and finding nothing he moved into the children's room through folding-doors. The lady thought if robbing was his purpose he would not harm the children, and so she kept perfectly quiet until the ugly intruder reappeared through the door.

He then came to the side of the bed on which Mr. Maude was lying still fast asleep, raised the glittering blade over him with one hand, while he passed the other hand under the pillow. Mr. Maude did not stir, while the lady remained still as death. The robber finding nothing, gathered up Mr. Maude's pantaloons and came round to the other side of the bed. He was now on the side of the room in which the window was by which he had entered. Before he could place himself in the murderous position before described, to make another search under the pillow, Mrs. Maude sprang up with a bound that must have startled him, and commanded him in a loud voice, "Get out of this house!" He dropped the pantaloons and retired precipitately to the window. Mr. Maude now first awoke, and soon realized the situation. Mr. M. went for him quick as lightning, saying: "I've got you now," upon the supposition that there was no way by which the fellow could escape. The lady tried to tell her husband that the man had a knife, but he was too intent upon bagging the game to pay attention to this warning.

As it happened, however, the intruder evidently thought it was better to go than make fight, so he quickly got over the veranda railing and dropped to the pavement, where he lay apparently stunned by the fall. Mr. Maude seeing his condition, got a pistol and went down stairs for another engagement, but when he arrived at the spot the thief was nowhere to be seen.

The lady's presence of mind under the trying ordeal was something marvelous. She seemed to appreciate the whole situation between an armed robber on the alert and her unarmed husband suddenly awakened out of a deep sleep. She was not willing to risk the chance until a fright might drive the robber towards the window. This had precisely the effect she must have calculated, without being aware of it. In any other position the robber would have been forced to cut his way out, as he doubtless would have done. She knew there was nothing lying around loose for him to steal, and quietly awaited the proper time to make a charge. It was bravely done. A woman's strategy won that battle handsomely. The neighborhood has engaged a private watchman to guard against such visitations in the future. St. Louis Republican.

NASBY'S DREAM.

MR. NASBY DREAMS A DREAM IN WHICH THE FUTURE OF A "GOOD AND GREAT" MAN IS FORESHADOWED.

CONFEDRIT X ROADS,
(wich is in the State of Kentucky,)
June 12, 1872.

I am getting old and am feeling my years. Time wuz when ten or a dozen drinks more than yoosual didn't make any difference with me, but its quite different now. It tells on my old body, and I hev to be guarded.

We had a ratifiosshun meetin last nite, at which I did indulge more than I shood, and I fell asleep in a chair at Bascom's and dreamed a dream.

In my dream I saw a high, elevated plain, bounded on three sides by a steep, precipitus bluff. On the top of that plain (wich a pleasant and breezy place it wuz) and back a little from the edge of the precipice, stood that bildin wich is the Mecca to wich all Dimocrats hev been turnin their eyes for the past 12 years, the White House. On the very edge uv the precipice wuz a groop uv individooals wich I had no difficulty in identifyin. There wuz Grant and Colfax, and aroundem stood Morton, Butler, Sherman, Shellabarger, and a thousand others uv sich, while jist over their heads wuz a floatin in the air the spirits uv Washington, Adams, Jefferson, Linkin, and all uv them deceest individyooals wich would hev sympathized with the republikin party if they hed continyood in the flesh.

Down at the foot uv this precipice there wuz a low swampy, marshy, malarious deestrik, wich wuz the most uncomfortable seckshun of kentry I ever see. The ground wuz full uv cess-pools uv quagmires and quicksands. There wuz bones uv niggers scattered all over it—there was rooins of old skool houses; there wuz groceris and bloons scattered about it in wild profusion; there wuz broken printin presses, and the lively gallows tree on wich John Brown hed bin hung wuz distinctly visable. Attemps hed bin apparently made to kiver up the burnt skool houses and broken printin presses and the gallows with rezolooshens, but the kiverin was too thin and they showed thro very plainly! This spot was tenanted by Boss Tweed and Hoffman, surrounded with Connolly, Oakey Hall and all uv them fellows, and over their heads wuz the ghosts uv Wigfall, Yancey, and Benedict Arnold. I thought that I saw His Majesty, Satan, sailin about with the ghost of Yancey, but it mite hev bin some one else. There wuz one quicksand marked where Seward went down—in a very bad smellin pool. Chase was floating about on a board marked "Supreme Bench," makin feeble attemps to land somewhere. There wuz a few solid spots uv ground, Noo York, Kentucky and Maryland, and on them the live men were standin. From this unpromisin locality there wuz a path up to the heights above, but it wuz narrer, broken crooked and steep, and besides that, passage from the lower to the higher regin wuz desperately opposed by the array of men who okkepied it.

I noticed that the party on the bluff all wore a sad expression. The ghost of Linkin let fall a spirit tear, and Grant and Morton lookt as sad ex tho they wuz losin their fathers. Colfax, in perticuler, seemed inconsolable, and wuz a tearin his hair with grief. Curious to know what it wuz that wuz causin all this commoshen, I shifted my posishen so as to geta view uv the entire arrangement, and I saw it at once. Tweed and Hoffman had histed up a long ladder to the top uv the rock wich wus really a curiossity. The sides wuz made out uv hickory campane poles which hed done servis from the time uv Polk down to Seymour; and the rounds were spokes from the wheels of Confedrit cannon. The ladder wuz labelled "Cincinnata," and the rounds "civil servis reform," "one term," and so on. Hoffman and Connolly wuz a holdin the feen uv the ladder steddy; Boss Tweed stood by em, holding out a scroll labelled "Presidency." On the top of the bluff stood Horris Greeley, clothed in glory, and perfeckly radient in his attire. His hed wuz crowned with laurels—in fact he was a walking arbor uv em. He hed one foot on the first round of the ladder.

"Come back!" shouted Colfax.

"Come to us!" shoutid the crowd below.

"Come back to yoor friends, you idiot!" sed Morton.

"Come to us, and you shel hev this!" sed Tweed, flaustin the scroll.

That settled him. His face changed from the innosence uv the lamb to the hungry eagernis of the wolf, and down he went. He made a misstep and parshelly fell, knocking off all his laurels. His appearance changed. The ladder hed bin roughly made, and wuz full uv splinters. His ekal rites cloak caught on one uv em and wuz torn off. A nail head on the next rounds tripped off his protekshen coat, another on the next knockt his anti-corrupshen vest into smithereens, his civil rites pants wuz taken off by the next, and by the time he got to the fourth, he wuz divested of everything under heaven wich made him sizable, and stood there shivering in the wind, a mizable, deformed, weak, shaky, diminutive, shrunken man; with nothin under Heaven remarkable about him but his white hat, and the fact that he hed one boot and one shoe on.

Tweed and his friends saw this shrinkin process goin on ex he approached them, and they became alarmed.

"Good Lord!" sed Okey Hall, "ef he ain't any bigger and more muskeler than he looks now, we can't make any yoose uv him. He'll never be strong enough to pull us out uv this!"

Them on the bluff wich hed regardid his depercher with sich looks uv sadness, bust out into peels uv laffture.

"There ain't a hundredth part ez much uv him ez we sposed," shouted they. "We've nothing to fear from him!" and they laffed vociferously at the ridikulous figger he wuz makin uv hisself.

All this time Horris wuz a standing on the one-term round uv the ladder, which wuz the thinest uv all uv em.

"Come down to us!" shouted Tweed.

"I can't go any further down than this," replied Horris, shudderin ez he saw the plite he wuz in.

Whereupon Tweed and Hall and the others run up the ladder to support him. They wuz drippin with the nastiness uv the slum below, which fairly kivered the poor man ez they rubbed agin him. Then they threw upon him a Tammany banner and a Confedrit flag. To keep him siddy both uv em run up the ladder and got on the same round. Sanz Sinclair, John Cochrane and sum others cum down close behind him to assist and the yoonited weight wuz too much. The ladder broke in two, and Tweed, Hoffman, Greeley, Sinclair, Triboon and all plunged into the quagmire. There wuz a splash, a gurgle, or two, and the entire bilin uv em sank out uv site.

The splash awoke me, and I meditated a half hour over the singular dream, afore taking another drink and goin home. "Kin it be," thot I, "that all there is in Horris is in his Republicanism? It has trooly bin so with all our venchers. Chase comes to us, but when he stepped over the line, he left all his strength behind him. Seward, insted uv being a help to us, proved to be a load to carry. Hev we taken Horris to our boozums only to find him a helpless dead weight to be carried, instead of a giant strong enuff te carry us? Is this dream prophetic? Is the Cincinnati ladder to weak to hold Greeley and us uns, and will it break down with our yoonited weight? I fear me.

And pensively I drained my glass, and carelessly goin thro the reglar form uv tellin Bascom to mark it down, went sadly home. I fear me the day of our deliverance isn't yet at hand.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has probably robbed those dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded. If the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. —An eleven months' baby at Bloomington, Ill., rolled down two flights of stairs without serious injury.

—A Wisconsin man has at last discovered some use for the peacock. The ornamental ornithological idiot will actually eat potato bugs.

—About three months ago a Schenectady lunatic bit the finger of a gentleman who was trying to restrain him, and about a week ago he was compelled to have his arm amputated as it had become a mass of mortified flesh.

—Of Hannah Thellusion it has been written "Hers was essentially a peaceful nature; when she had done a thing, and done it for the best, she usually let it alone, and did not 'worry' about it any more." In this respect Hannah may be considered a "pattern."

—A sentimental and spooney youth having in a transport of ardor told his love that "a hundred million years of eternity might pass away and still better than his God would he love her," the young lady naively remarked that at the end of eternity she would reciprocate his attention.

—A bevy of young ladies, while crossing Millcreek, at Salem, California, by moonlight, thought they observed a goose swimming in the creek, and began pelting it with stones, when they were greatly astonished to hear the aforesaid goose exclaim: "Why can't you let a fellow alone? I ain't botherin' you folks any."

BARGAINS

IN GENTS' CALF BOOTS, pegged and sewed, by CHAS. E. SHEDD & CO.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; others of them dispose to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of this art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

JURUBEBA.

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes effective cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c. It equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, clergymen, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUCHS, and Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for corns, and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for Internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

Campaign Rates.

To all new subscribers, we will furnish the DAILY CHRONICLE until after the Presidential Election, for 81; or the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for 50 cts.,—payable in advance.

A Democratic Victory.

One of our Democratic exchanges, which up to the time when "the people" (meaning Reuben E. Fenton, the bold contemner of wire-pulling,—Wm. H. Gove, the stern devotee of the "principle" that Wm. H. Gove should, must and will have an office,—George Alfred Townsend, whose bowels of compassion would not allow him to see a little State like Delaware unrepresented while he was around,—and others of like public spirit, together with some men who have been turned out of office and more who wanted to get into office and couldn't,) nominated the "great Chappaquack" at Cincinnati, had always been a bitter opponent of every great measure which the Republican party had carried out or Greeley had supported, enthusiastically points to the adoption of Greeley and Brown by the Democrats, as their candidates for President and Vice President, and claims that "It is a revolution that is a victory for the Democracy." A victory over what? Not over the Republican party nor its principles, certainly, but only over the principles of an ambitious old man who fought the Democratic party all his life until bought off with the Presidential nomination. But if our copperhead contemporary means that Greeley's election would be "a victory for the Democracy," its position is impregnable; the Democratic party returns to power—happily for the country that evil day is afar off—whenever the candidate of that party takes his seat in the Presidential chair; and it matters not whether his name be Greeley, Seymour, Blair, Pomeroy or Patrick Donan,—a Democratic President means a Democratic victory and the repudiation of the principles of the party which preserved the Union, destroyed the traffic in human flesh and blood, elevated the slave to the dignity of a citizen and proclaimed and maintained equal rights for all men before the law. Moreover, there are proofs in abundance that the whole development of the Greeley movement has been a Democratic scheme from the beginning. A New York paper gives the evidence of a bargain between Greeley and Seymour, before the Cincinnati Convention, by which the former was to receive the two nominations he has received, in consideration of his promised subserviency to the Democratic party. A denial of these allegations has not yet been produced. Again, when the question of the mode of accepting Greeley at Baltimore was under consideration, a leading Democratic organ said: "The only thing that can reconcile Democrats to Mr. Greeley's candidacy is the moral and political control the party would have over him as its regular candidate;" and hence it advocated his nomination in the usual way, so that if elected, Mr. Greeley "will be compelled to acknowledge his obligations to the party, and will make him dependent on it for the success of his administration." Accordingly, he was so nominated. No man can serve God and Mammon—no Republican can aid in securing "a victory for the Democracy;" and notwithstanding the Democratic buncombe about an "unpartisan" nomination, the fact that Seymour, Ben and Fernando Wood, Brooks, Morrisey, Kinsella and scores of other ancient Democratic fossils are in the front ranks of Greeley's supporters, shows that the contest on the 5th of November next is to be fought out between the same old Republican and Democratic parties that have met so many times already,—and we have no fear but it will be with the same old result.

St. Greeley.

The following conversation between Parke Godwin and Mr. Pillsbury, at the Fifth Avenue conference in New York, has been widely quoted by the copperhead press as a complete answer to the Republican assertions that those acts of the present Administration which the Democrats complain of most bitterly had no more ardent advocate than Horace Greeley:

Mr. Godwin—I heartily agree with all the gentleman has said against centralization, but I ask him if it is not true that Mr. Greeley has approved of all these centralizing measures?

Mr. Pillsbury—The Christian world never quotes from St. Paul previous to his conversation.

Setting aside the constantly re-iterated statements of the Democratic press that Mr. Greeley has not been "converted" to copperheadism at all but is still a ("liberal") Republican, and accepting Mr. Pillsbury's "conversion" idea, we fancy that his parallel between St. Paul and St. Greeley will hardly bear critical analysis. The cases of the two saints are alike only in this,—that each made a sudden turn and struck out for himself an entirely new path in life. But Saul of Tarsus turned from principle; the moment he felt that his course in life had been wrong he altered it, giving up high public office and worldly honor for the sake of the right, and accepting contumely, poverty, persecution and finally martyrdom as a reward for his lofty devotion to the dictates of his conscience. But how is it with St. Greeley's conversion? [True, the "Liberal Republican" hosts (!) are told that Mr. Greeley has not been converted, but we are looking at the pill as it has been gilded that the rank and file of the Democracy may the more easily swallow it.] Not even his own personal organ, the New York Tribune, pretends that he has experienced any change of heart concerning free trade, "bayonet laws," centralization and Ku-Klux "enforcement acts;" the most that can be said is that Horace Greeley has been willing,—more than that, anxious—to sell his principles for office and political advancement. St. Paul sealed his devotion to his principles by sacrificing brilliant prospects and laying down his life rather than desert them; St. Greeley seals his devotion to his "principles" by offering them for sale to the highest bidder. Evidently, the parallel between the two saints ends where it begins.

Political.

Senator Cameron predicts the election of Gen. Hartranft, the Republican candidate for Governor of Pennsylvania by a large majority.

A large number of letters received by the National Republican committee indicate that there will be a stampede of Democrats against Greeley to the extent, in the States of Virginia, North Carolina, West Virginia, Georgia and Alabama, of at least 20 per cent. This is an under-statement of estimates made by the partisan correspondents who make these calculations.

The Baltimore American puts it in this way: "Secretary Welles, shaking off the cerements of the tomb, announces that so far as the corpse is concerned he is in favor of the election of Greeley. Welles is lonesome in his political grave and wants company—even if it is Greeley."

NORTH CAROLINA.—The campaign goes briskly on. Hon. Tod R. Caldwell, the present Governor, who succeeded to the office on the removal of Ex-Gov. Holden, is the Republican candidate for re-election. Hon. August S. Merrimon is the Democratic candidate. In 1868 the total vote for Governor was 165,000 and the Republican majority was 18,000. General Grant's majority the same year was 12,000. In 1870 the Democrats had five thousand majority for Attorney-General. The Democrats at the same time elected their Congressmen in all the districts but the first two. As the districts have been changed under the re-apportionment act, it is impossible to give a fair comparative estimate of the vote this year. Later advices make almost certain the election of Governor Caldwell and the balance of the Republican State ticket by ten thousand majority in August. Five Republican Congressmen will, it is also expected, be elected, among them being Judge Settle, brother-in-law of Stephen A. Douglas.

DUTCHER'S LIGHTNING FLY KILLER sweeps them off and clears the house speedily—Try it. Sold by dealers everywhere. 1m

DR. O. FITZGERALD, the wonderful clairvoyant Physician and Surgeon, will visit Portsmouth again Tuesday and Wednesday, July 9th and 10th, and will remain at the Franklin House for two days only; those wishing to see him must not delay. tf

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. a12

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

We clip the following from the Troy (N. Y.) Whig: "Some three months since Dr. R. V. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., commenced advertising in the Whig, an article called Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. We believed at that time it was one of the many catch penny arrangements to swindle people out of their money, but during the past few weeks have become convinced to the contrary. We know of several prominent citizens who have suffered from that loathsome disease Catarrh, and they pronounce Dr. Sage's Remedy no humbug, and in several instances have been entirely cures. We desire to give Dr. Pierce the benefit of the same."

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT enable the victims of disease to dispense with all other medicines. The former relieve the stomach, liver and bowels of all obstructions; the latter heals every external sore, eruption or wound. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cent per box or pot: Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These sudden attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no time to delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous practitioners, the late EZEKIEL FURBEAR, who, as he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LICORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S

PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor is one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified; in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The NORTH-WESTERN (BABCOCK) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY having brought suit against the PHILADELPHIA (GARDNER) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY, for alleged infringement of the Carlier and Vignon Patent, (dated April 12th, 1869,) which the said Babcock Company professes to own, in the use of water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas as a means to extinguish fires, we desire to make the following statements all of which, we are prepared to fully substantiate by proof:

First. The so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent is invalid for want of novelty, in that a patent was issued to W. H. Phillips in England, in 1844, and in this country in 1850, for a Fire Extinguisher, in which water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas was used as the extinguishing agent.

Second. The said so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent has no legal existence, no legal application for having been made for it to the Patent Office; and its issuance therefrom was accomplished by gross fraud.

Third. The lawyers conducting the suit against us, brought suit for the same claims on the same Patent, against one Duryea, in the U. S. Court in New York, 1870, and the answer of Duryea being filed, setting forth the facts herein alluded to, said suit was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiffs.

The Babcock Company expects to destroy the sale of the Gardner Extinguisher, which has so seriously interfered with their long-enjoyed monopoly by extensively advertising this suit, and thus intimidating the public. It is our purpose to defeat their fraudulent design, and to this end, we will defend, prosecute to the end of the matter, which will undeceive the public and expose the worthlessness of that sham, called the Carlier and Vignon Patent.

Copies will be mailed to any address on application. This Company will give guarantees against all loss, damage or trouble for use of the Gardner Extinguisher, and will, at its sole expense, defend all suits that may be brought against it. D. B. WAUGENER, Secretary,

Disastrous Fire.

LOSS $75,000. FIFTY WORKMEN THROWN OUT OF EMPLOYMENT.

About 7 o'clock on Friday evening, Messrs. Geo. B. and Samuel W. Came, the well known carriage builders, heard an explosion in their paint-room while they were sitting in the office of their new manufactory on McDonough Street, into which they had just finished removing their stock. Hardly had they reached the door when the building seemed all aflame, and they dashed in opposite directions to escape. Each succeeded in getting into the street, singed, half suffocated and terribly exhausted,—and each thought the other must have perished, until they met outside the burning building, which in five minutes after the explosion was a mass of flames.

An alarm was quickly given but before the engines could possibly arrive the flames had full possession. Two carriages in the building were saved; nothing else, and the entire building with its contents, thirty carriages, a large amount of stock and tools were consumed. The fire was grandly beautiful, wrapping its unmerciful folds about every timber in the building and scattering a constantly dropping shower of cinders to the ground, while overhead a dense volume of black smoke sailed away before the fresh breeze. The floors of the building were of hard pine and saturated with oil, and the firemen found it useless for them to pour water on it, the only effect being to raise a dense volume of steam.

The cement pipe manufactory of Dennis Shea & Co., next east of Came's, caught and soon was in a roofless condition. The building was owned by Mr. B. F. Webster, who also owned the tenement house in the rear occupied by three families. This house being in direct range of the wind from the burning manufactory, the firemen were unable to remain in it, and the flames rolled through the attics from the westerly to the easterly ends and finally broke out all along the roof. The furniture of the tenants was mostly saved, and was insured. The building was completely gutted and flooded.

The lossess by the fire are very heavy and are estimated at from $75,000 to $90,000. The Came Bros. paid about $9,200 for their building, which it is said was worth $40,000, as it could not be replaced for that sum. They had a lot of carriages and stock, said to be worth $25,000. Their insurance we are informed amounts to $33,500, having been reduced $20,000 recently. The tools owned by the fifty workmen employed at the manufactory were not insured. Shea & Co.'s loss is about $1000; uninsured. Mr. Webster's loss is about $2,800; partially insured. The great loss by the Came Brothers and their workmen will be a serious matter, and they have the earnest sympathy of the community.

The fire expanded the rails of the Eastern Railroad and delayed trains to and from Boston for two hours—the six o'clock train having been previously delayed by a locomotive running off the track. A baggage car on the Eastern track near the fire was somewhat burned before it could be removed. A train of coal cars on the Concord Railroad was moved just in season to save it.

The heavy showers of the afternoon had soaked the roofs in the vicinity, and prevented the cinders from kindling other fires; but for this we should undoubtedly have had to chronicle a much more extended disaster.

We are informed that a Mr. Obrey states that he saw a man run up the railroad from Cames' manufactory, just before the fire was discovered; and his statement gives color to the rumor that an incendiary was at the bottom of the mischief.

A Thunder Storm

Passed over this city, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rain fell in torrents and at times it was next to impossible to see across the street. A greater volume of water fell in Portsmouth than was ever known before in so short a time. Hail stones as large as peas clattered on the roofs and smashed panes of glass. The lightning struck in the vicinity of Market Square and elsewhere. A heavy squall of wind blew down trees in all directions. The damage to the growing crops by wind, hail and rain must be great.

Pigeons were beaten down by the rain and eddying currents of wind. We saw one whacked down on the roof of an outbuilding, whence he was washed off by a sheet of water and tumbled into a pig-pen; and the last we saw of him he was sneaking across the large garden belonging to Jona. M. Tredick, Esq., through the grass, dodging behind every bush and tree he came to, in vain search for shelter. A pane of glass was blown into our composing room in small pieces, and a tree in front of the building had its top twisted off.

A second thunder shower passed over at 4:30, and while two gentlemen who had called at our sanctum were looking out of one of the windows, they observed the descent of a fiery bolt which expanded to the size of a horse-cart and seemed to expend itself in the custom-house yard within a foot of the ground. A terrific crash followed instantly and a sulphurous smell pervaded the atmosphere for several minutes.

We hear of no loss of life, though many buildings were struck. The flag-staff on the Rockingham House was shaken to pieces, the lightning leaving the building by the lightning rods in the rear. The house of Dr. John W. Parsons had the shingles on the northerly end of the roof ruffled considerably and a chimney knocked over; and the Clark building on Vaughan Street near Congress was also struck, as was a schooner at the north-end. The Democratic flag on Vaughan Street was taken in just in season to prevent being stripped into shreds. The flag-staff was toppled over considerably. The blinds of the Kearsarge House were blown off and awnings, signs and shutters were torn away. On Richards Avenue, the limbs partially obstructed travel. The streets about town are badly gullied. A poplar tree, 14 inches in diameter, in the yard of Mrs. Burroughs on Pleasant Street, was blown down. A half dozen men who had been haying took shelter in the slaughter house on Richards Av-Avenue. A lightning shock made Mr. Henry L. Garrett numb in his lower limbs and seriously affected Mr. James W. Nutter.

Capt. Baker of the steamer Appledore reports having passed on the return trip from the Shoals, when near Wood Island at the mouth of the harbor, a sunken whale boat with her mast-head just showing out of water. It is feared that life was lost when she was upset by the heavy squall. It is rumored that her crew consisted of two Isle of Shoals men.

The lightning struck in many places in Kittery; trees were broken off or torn up by the roots, by the force of the wind, many chimneys were thrown down and a barn was turned around on its foundations some ten feet. We are informed that several vessels in the lower harbor dragged their anchors and that one at least went ashore, but was soon got off.

City Councils.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, the Mayor made the following appointments on committees formerly occupied by himself: Fire Department, Ald. Waldron; Accounts, Hatch; Streets, &c., Wendell; Printing, Wilson; Finance, Mendum.

The Committee on Accounts reported John E. Giddings' bill for goods destroyed by order of Health Committee, $183.75, which was ordered to be paid.

The further hearing on the petition of Frank Jones and others for widening a part of Warren Street, was assigned for next Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

The bill of Rider & Son for refreshments furnished to firemen, was taken from the table and ordered to be paid.

City Solicitor's opinion on the widening of Pleasant Street in 1814 was received.

The subject of widening Pleasant Street was referred to a special committee,—Hatch, Annable and Wendell.

Voted, that the Committee on Fire Department be requested to report at the next meeting an estimate of cost of building a reservoir in Bridge Street to hold not less than 50,000 gallons.

In Common Council there was no quorum, one member being lacking of the number necessary; the meeting adjourned for one week, when a full attendance is desired as important business will probably be brought up.

Personal.

President Thomas Holmes and wife, of Union Christian College, are spending a few days with their old friends in this city. Rev. Mr. Holmes was for many years pastor of the Christian Society on Pleasant Street in this city. Under his administration, the Union Christian College at Merom, Indiana, has become an assured success. The Herald of Gospel Liberty, referring to President Holmes' baccalaureate sermon at the recent Commencement says:—

His exposition of the subject "Manhood," from the text "Show thyself a Man," contained instruction in science, morals and religion; and his touching and sublime appeal to the young men could not fail to have instilled in their minds an earnest desire to lead higher, nobler, and more useful lives. Dr. Holmes is an original thinker and a fearless proclaimer of truth. His delivery is excellent, his language rich with figures particularly adapted to illustrate the subject under consideration, and this together with his very distinct pronunciation makes him one of our foremost pulpit orators.

President Holmes is Professor of Intellectual and Moral Philosophy and Political Economy, and his estimable and talented wife is Professor of Latin, French, German, and their Literature.

Clippings.

We take the following items of local interest from the Journal:—

—Steamer Enterprise has been chartered to carry granite between Rockport, Mass., and Race Rocks, off New London, Conn., for the construction of a lighthouse. Consequently she has been taken off the Boston route.

—Two boys, named Andrew Callahan and George Fernald, aged about 10 years, were sent to the Reform School on Saturday for three years, for breaking into a vessel and stealing therefrom ropes, matches and sundry other articles.

—O'Brien's Museum, Menagerie, Caravan and Circus, are to visit this city sometime during the present season. They are now on their way from Vermont to New Hampshire. This circus has a chariot which is drawn by 100 Spanish mules.

—An elegant Chickering piano has been put into the Appledore House this week.—The immense building is rapidly filling up. Among the present guests are Celia Thaxter and John G. Whittier. Capt. Baker, of the steamer Appledore, meets with varied experiences as skipper of this staunch boat. He came very near being "blown up" on Saturday evening last while endeavoring to accommodate passengers—by the passengers themselves of course, —The annual examination of the Girls' High School takes place Wednesday next, and that of the Boys the day following. Admission will be by cards as usual. The graduating classes of the several schools are as follows:—

BOYS.—Four Years Course—Fred Balcom Coleman, George Arthur Holbrook, Cornelius Lewis, Edward Curtis Matthews, Edwin Curtis Richardson, John Woodbury Stimson, Charles Edward Stringer, Richard Irving Walden, Albert Emery Woods. Three Years Course—William Henry Canty, Wallace Hackett, Gustave Peyser, Louis Jackson Wyman, Charles Fremont Larrabee.

GIRLS.—Annie Blaisdell, Clara Augusta Browne, Corinda Anna Cunningham, Clara Marvin Dame, Mary Wendell Harris, Florence Hayes, Florence Ann Ham, Emma Frances Hilton, Mary Josephine Knowlton, Ida Lovell Marston, Helen Louisa Philbrook, Ella Phillips Payson, Gertrude Parker, Louise Bryant Rand, Alice Mary Swasey, Ida Estella Shackley, Sarah Edith Tarleton, Clara Emogene Williams.

Auction sale of furniture and cloths by H. F. Wendell to-day at 10 o'clock.

The Republicans will raise a large campaign flag this evening at 7 o'clock at the head of Market Street.

Mr. A. J. Trefethen has provided new chairs for his customers at No. 4 Daniel Street; they are a little ahead of anything we have reclined in.

The steamer Emerald, which has been laid up for some months undergoing extensive repairs, will resume her trips between the Navy Yard and this city this morning.

Aaron Young, Esq., has been removed from the office of Inspector, Weigher, Guager and Measurer at this port. Mr. Young has held a position in the Custom House since April, 1861, more than eleven years—and leaves it with many more friends than he had when he was appointed. It is reported that the office he held is abolished.

The excursion in steamer Appledore, Thursday evening, was an occasion of much enjoyment to a large and most orderly party of pleasure seekers. The temperature was just right, the sea was so smooth that no suspicion of sea-sickness was aroused, and the passengers were landed shortly before 11 o'clock, after having been taken to the Shoals and back, refreshed and invigorated by the pleasant trip. The Portsmouth Cornet Band furnished fine music to enliven the occasion.

Leavitt's Minstrels performed at the Temple, Thursday evening, to a very small audience. The evenings are too hot now-a-days for people to willingly coop themselves up to witness even a minstrel performance. The outside audience, to look at a man walking on a wire, was very good in point of numbers; but having seen him walk and being disappointed in their latent expectation of seeing him break his neck, most of them went down river or home.

The Postmaster-General has appointed Nathaniel G. Giddings route agent from Portsmouth to Concord; Clarence L. Chapman from Brock's Crossing, Me., to Conway, N. H.; George A. Dearborn transferred to route from Boston to South Berwick Junction, Me. George Robbins is appointed route agent from Newport, N. H., to Lawrence, Mass.

RECOVERY OF A LOST CHILD.—On the 18th of June Edith Wallace, fifteen years of age, mysteriously disappeared from the home of her parents, at Boston, with very little clothing, and although extensively advertised nothing was heard of her until Wednesday, when she was found at the Reform School in Westborough, having been committed to that institution under the name of James Wilson. According to her story she obtained a suit of clothes belonging to her brother, which she donned in a wood near home, where she left her own apparel, and then, after having her hair shorn close to her head, went to Fall River and worked for about two weeks in a cotton factory. Becoming dissatisfied with this kind of employment she hired out with a farmer and did light work for a few days. In neither of these places was her sex suspected. She went to Boston a few days since, and having no visible occupation, and apparently no friends to care for her, she was arrested as a vagrant, and under the name of James Wilson, as above stated, was sent to Westborough. Here her true sex was discovered, and this fact was communicated to a deputy chief of police. He knew the description of the Wallace girl, and in accordance with his orders, a detective, in company with Mrs. Wallace, visited Westborough, where the mother at once recognized her lost child, and she was permitted to return home with her.

SAVED FROM DROWNING.—An interesting example of how a person apparently drowned may be resuscitated by the adoption of proper means, occurred in Toronto on Tuesday, when a little child, who had been immersed in a cistern for half an hour, was restored to life by the skill of a physician.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.
The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

OLD PROBABILITIES.—I suppose it will come to this:—attached to cards of invitation sent out a week or two in advance:

"Guests living on the East Side will order their carriages at 11 P. M. on account of rain at 11.30 P. M. As there will be only a slight shower on the West Side, carriages from that Side at convenience of guests."

And to this advertisements of concerts and the like:

"Performances will conclude at 10 P. M., allowing ample time for audience to reach before the storm."

No more anxious watchings at windows in those days—no more surprises, scamperings, huddlings together as at picnics, in the sweet old shrieking fashion. Nobody who reads the newspapers will ever get caught in the rain.

Then, of course, when Mr. Leakin succeeds in securing general recognition for his Law of Periodicity, nothing will ever "happen" at all. The word "accident" will be marked obsolete in the dictionary, as so many other good words have been already marked. Things will take place, I suppose, in their regular sequence, as foreordained and foretold. Life will be a Morphy-Paulsen game of chess; except that we shall keep on pushing the men around, in a night-mareish sort of way, after "checkmate in seventeen moves" has been announced.

It's all of a piece—weather probabilities; Leakin's Law; composition backlogs; cast-iron tree stumps; spring-fastenings to keep children from kicking off bed-clothes; canned vegetables; steam yachts on the Sea of Galilee; parlor skates; protoplasm.

Tomatoes in winter are as much out of place as sunlight in a theatre. (If you were at the Nilsson matinee at Wallack's the other Saturday, when the shutters would fly open now and then, you know how ghastly that is!) Things must be in keeping. Tomatoes must be flanked by radishes, and fresh peas, and lettuce—with a scent of summer in the air. And besides tomatoes must be tomatoes, not a tantalizing semblance—a mixture of carpet rags, vinegar and bullets, just racy enough of the genuine dish to take off the keen edge of one's delight when, in due time, the first toothsome taste of the vegetable comes to you with the twitter of birds, and the cool-warm air upon your brow.

Well, there is another side to all this.

The beauty of it is that spring is spring, no matter how it comes at last, or where—in the city, hearalded by small boys calling "fans" between the acts of the opera; in the country by birds and flowers and flavor of garlic in the butter. Spring is spring and will have its way.

And as to parlor skates, when I come to think of it! The Professor made me go with him to the Ring one night, last winter. He went down, he said, every evening, after Greek, for a half-hour's "fun." And the Professor's pretty daughter, she was going for the "fun," too,—seemed to be really excited about it. One night have thought, to look at her cheeks, it was to be a moonlight frolic on a frozen mill-pond. I didn't want to go at all; it seemed to me sacrilege, sliding around on rollers over pine boards, and calling it skating! It's bad enough to skate with real skates, under a corrugated roof and by gas-light; but this mockery! No, I protested, I shall be true to the runners and bonfires of my boyhood!

But I went. I didn't go so far as to put the rollers on; I merely stood and looked.

Shade of Winthrop! Instead of the ring and scrape of steel upon the ice, there was a hollow rumble as of machinery; and over in one corner the Champion cutting chalk eagles on the floor!

If they had gone about it sadly and solemnly, like mourners at a funeral, it would not have been half so bad. It was their cheerfulness that was so pathetic. It seemed as if this great procession of youths and middle-aged that swayed and swung past me where I stood, were under the influence of a horrid enchantment.

In a moment, I said to myself, the little man in black, leaning over the balcony railing yonder, will drop his cane upon the floor below; the music will cease, the lights will go down, and suddenly awaking from their dream, the skaters will shrink into the street and back to their homes in terror.

But even parlor skates do sometimes get loose, and one must kneel to fasten them while the other gently rests her hand on his shoulder for support. And here, too, the girls have to be taught; and rollers, like runners, are treacherous, and will slip—if he does not hold so tight—so tight!

O this great-hearted blessed humanity of ours, how it takes to itself, at last, every artificial custom and contrivance brought within its domain—just as nature resumes, with ivy and lichen and rust, every piece of human handiwork planted in her deep woods!

I shouldn't wonder if there were times when Old Probabilities himself forgets his umbrella. And maybe he's so very old after all. Maybe to some body—far off—the summer rain is dearer because Old Probabilities, in that formal scientific way of his, said that it was coming.—Scribner's for July.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Falling to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or price—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

We Advise in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cause, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and rend gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of this art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

JURUBEBA

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA is the positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance BILLS expels these humors from the system. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, blisters, &c. It equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUCHS, and Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so entirely successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain have produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest, tightest, the largest and severest Blisters, the most tenacious Callosities on the extreme heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

Presidential Prospects.

Now that the nominations are made, frequent reference to the electoral votes of the different States and their past political standing is indulged in by the ready figurers of both parties. On the 5th of November the people are to vote for members of the electoral college, which will consist of 366 electors apportioned among the 37 States as follows:

Alabama	10
Arkansas	6
California	5
Connecticut	6
Delaware	3
Florida	3
Georgia	11
Illinois	21
Indiana	13
Iowa	11
Kansas	5
Kentucky	12

Total	214	80

In this list are twelve States in which the electoral vote would not be changed were President Grant to lose ten per centum from the popular vote of 1868 and Horace Greeley to gain it—making a change of 20 per cent. in favor of the latter—which no sane man anticipates. We have added the State of Mississippi which did not vote in 1868. The increase in the total vote we divide evenly. From this standpoint we find the following States which are as sure to vote for Grant electors as the day of election comes:—

Illinois	21
Iowa	11
Kansas	5
Maine	7
Massachusetts	12
Michigan	11
Minnesota	5
Mississippi	8
Nebraska	3
Rhode Island	4
South Carolina	5
Vermont	5
Wisconsin	10
Total	110

In this reckoning we have omitted Missouri and Tennessee, which by the enfranchisement of rebels have been lost to the Republican cause. They cast 27 electoral votes.

In addition to the Republican States casting 110 electoral votes which a defection of ten per cent. would not affect, we give a list of States which at their last elections chose the Republican candidates. They are:—

	Maj.	Electoral Votes.
Arkansas		6
California	5681	5
Connecticut	106	6
Louisiana	24,477	8
New Hampshire	1092	5
New York	18,467	35
Ohio	16,664	22
Oregon	1000	3
Pennsylvania	14,846	29
Total		120

The States voting against the Republicans at the last elections are these:—

	Maj.	Electoral Votes.
Alabama	1771	10
Delaware	2384	3
Florida	236	4
Georgia	24,639	11
Indiana	2959	15
Kentucky	37,154	12
Maryland	15,135	8
Missouri	41,036	15
Nevada	1053	3
New Jersey	4879	9
North Carolina	9600	10
Tennessee	37,470	12
Texas	18,784	8
Virginia	18,317	11
West Virginia	2761	5
Total		136

Should all the States remain unchanged at the November election, President Grant would receive 230 electoral votes and Mr. Greeley 136, 184 being necessary to a choice. Even should the Republicans lose Louisiana and New York, casting 43 electoral votes, President Grant would be re-elected. But the Republicans are sanguine of gaining from the Democratic column the States of Alabama, Florida, Indiana, Nevada, North Carolina and West Virginia, which cast 47 electoral votes. Should the Republican States remain firm and these gains be made, Mr. Greeley can secure but 89 of 366 electoral votes, just nine more than Mr. Seymour received, the States of Mississippi, Texas and Virginia voting for the first time since 1860.

It is a noticeable fact that in the States of Florida, Indiana, North Carolina and West Virginia, classed in the Democratic list, the anti-Republican vote has never reached that received by President Grant in 1868. In Indiana, the Grant ticket received 16,493 votes in 1868 more than the Democratic State ticket did at the last election when the State went Democratic by 2568 majority—which shows that a large portion of the Republican vote was not polled at that time. The four States mentioned above will cast 34 electoral votes.

Should our sanguine Greeley friends still persist in believing that his election is probable, they may be undeceived by the coming State elections. North Carolina votes August 1st, and if the Republicans win, one State drops from the Greeley column. California votes Sept. 2d, Indiana, Ohio and Pennsylvania Oct. 8th, and West Virginia Oct. 9th, casting 87 electoral votes, go Democratic, Greeley would then lack quite a number of votes to elect him. Should the Republicans carry two of them, President Grant's re-election is assured.

It is evident that in these States, the Presidential campaign is to be fought. The Republicans of Pennsylvania are embarrassed by State issues, no less than twenty-five Republican papers which support Grant being opposed to Gen. Hartranft, the Republican candidate for Governor. We presume the Republican State ticket will be chosen with the exception of the candidate for Governor — who, however, may be elected over all opposition. President Grant is many thousand votes stronger than Gen. Hartranft, and we confidently anticipate that Pennsylvania's 29 electoral votes will be cast for him. Great interest will be attached to the elections in Indiana and Ohio, as their 37 electoral votes would render President Grant's re-election an overwhelming one.

THEN AND NOW.—The Washington Star calls attention to the following indication of the difference between the late convention and the democratic convention in Baltimore in 1860:—

Things have changed in Baltimore since the democratic convention there in 1860, when two young men named Berringer, dressed to represent Horace Greeley and a negro wench, rode through the streets on mules, embracing each other, and were greeted everywhere with the same shouts of applause with which the nomination of the same Horace Greeley for President of the United States by a democratic convention was received yesterday in the same city of Baltimore.

THE FALL ELECTIONS.—Previous to the Presidential contest in November, elections will be held in the following States: North Carolina, August 1; Kentucky, Montana and Utah, August 5; New Mexico, September 1; California, September 2; Vermont, September 3; Maine, September 9; Colorado Territory, September 10; Dakota, Indiana, Iowa, Nebraska, Ohio, Pennsylvania and District of Columbia, October 8; South Carolina, October 16; West Virginia, October 24. All the States vote for Presidential electors on the 5th of November, and on the same day the following choose State officers: Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Illinois, Kansas, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Tennessee, Virginia and Wisconsin. Arizona holds its Territorial election on the 8th of November.

Horace Greeley has accepted the Democratic nomination for President.

Hon. P. Clayton, a prominent Democrat of Georgia, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury under Buchanan's administration, has left the Greeley ticket and declared his intention to vote for Grant.

Senator Sumner declines to support Greeley, giving as his reason that a Democratic victory would be disastrous to the freedmen of the South.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

DUTCHER'S LIGHTNING FLY KILLER sweeps them off and clears the house speedily —Try it. Sold by dealers everywhere. 1m

DR. O. FITZGERALD, the wonderful clairvoyant Physician and Surgeon, will visit Portsmouth again Tuesday and Wednesday, July 9th and 10th, and will remain at the Franklin House for two days only; those wishing to see him must not delay. tf

"CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT."—This is what the stage and horse car companies, livery-stable keepers, members of the turf, and all grooms and trainers say of the Mustang Liniment. They "can't do without it." And why? Because it infallibly reduces the external swellings, &c., which, under various names, impair the usefulness and value of the king of quadrupeds, and also because, for sprains, strains, galls and other injuries to which horse-flesh is liable, it is the most trustworthy preparation in the market. Yet these recommendations comprise only a portion of its claims to public confidence. During a period of more than sixteen years, it has been recognized as a specific for many of the most agonizing disorders which afflict the human family — such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, tic-doloreux, sore throat, earache, toothache; and likewise as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. al2

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT enable the victims of dyspepsia to dispense with all other medicines. The former relieve the stomach, liver and bowels of all obstructions; the latter heals every external sore, eruption and ulcer. Hollowayites Pills are a specific for all liver complaints. Price 25 cent per box or pot. Use no other, new style; the old is counterfeited.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor oil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—The penetrative and healing action of this potent salve is a marvel throughout the world. Nothing else could be relied on in scrofula, cancer, salt rheum, erysipelas, and external injuries. Sold at 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

Special Notices.

Fraud Loves a Shining Mark.

A great medicine is always a target for fraud. Shallow cheats, without the talent to originate anything useful, or the decency to permit an article of superior excellence to perform its mission, without striving to turn a dishonest penny by attempting to substitute trash in its place, are now engaged in imitating and counterfeiting HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most popular tonic and restorative in the civilized world. A brood of local bitters, mixtures of damaged drugs with worse liquor, has cropped out all over the country; although the sales of these pernicious slops are too insignificant to affect the interests of a staple remedy, it seems a duty to warn the public against them. The color of the true specific may be simulated, but its cures of dyspepsia, liver complaint, rheumatism, intermittent fever, constipation, nervous debility, &c. cannot be imitated.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES to all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As a stitch in time saves nine, so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Laconics.

The Conway trains are heavily loaded with travellers to the mountains.

Aaron Young, Esq., will not remove from this city, as reported, we are pleased to state.

Mr. Chandler Martin of Newcastle has been appointed keeper of Whale's Back light-house.

Mr. Josrah F. Adams raised a Grant and Wilson flag on Washington Street, Saturday evening.

During the storm of Friday, the telegraphic batteries at the Ocean, Farragut and Boar's Head Hotels were destroyed.

Commodore William Reynolds, chief of the bureau of equipment and recruiting, visited the navy yard on Friday and received the customary salute.

The Fourth Auditor of the Treasury is now ready to settle the claims of those entitled to prize money who took part in the engagement of the Kearsarge with the Alabama.

Mr. James R. Morrison, of the Hook and Ladder Company, was injured by a blow on the face from a hook which gave way from its hold on a building, at the fire, Friday evening.

The editors and publishers start on their annual excursion this morning and will rendervous first at Wolfeboro'. From there they go to North Conway and the mountains.

Postmaster-General Creswell is good at fishing. He caught thirty fine cod and haddock one forenoon off the Shoals, during his recent visit to that famous fishing resort.

The Republicans raised a large and handsome Grant and Wilson flag at the head of Market Street, Saturday evening, and gave it a rousing salute of cheers. Music by the Cornet Band. Speeches by Mayor Marvin, and Messrs. Thos. S. Nowell and Wm. H. Rixford.

A draft of 64£ 11s. has been received in this city from the officers and crew of U. S. S. Plymouth, subscribed by them for the widow of Patrick Casley, a sailor who accidentally lost his life by falling from a cliff at a European station. Mrs. Casley resides in Dover.

On the Portland, Saco & Portsmouth train on Thursday evening a boastful Democrat wanted to measure the "tidal wave" for Greeley. Agreed to; but the result in one car satisfied him that it wasn't the kind of flood he anticipated, the vote standing 15 for Grant, 5 for Greeley, and 1 undecided.

The boat capsized off Whaleback during the tornado on Friday, which it was said was the property of two Shoals men, was owned by Mr. Alpheus Blake, of Kittery Point, who was drowned. Mr. Blake was fishing at the time of the accident. He was 45 years old and leaves a wife and two children. The body was found on Sunday near the scene of the accident.

A large party of the friends of Civil Engineer B. F. Chandler met at his residence on what was once Seavey's Island but is now part of the Navy Yard, on Friday evening, to congratulate him on having completed his twentieth year of service at this Naval Station. The house was splendidly decorated and the visitors found a feast provided surpassing even what their knowledge of the host's hospitality had led them to anticipate. The fire which destroyed Messrs. Cames' manufactory prevented several parties who had arranged for a call upon Mr. Chandler from carrying out their arrangements, thus depriving them of a share in what was a most enjoyable occasion for all concerned.

The hundreds of visitors at the Shoals and other watering places in this vicinity can secure no more attractive souvenirs of the region than a score or two of the beautiful stereoscopic views furnished by Davis Brothers, photographic artists. Among the finest (or at least the most interesting and pleasing to us) are their views of the various points of interest at the Shoals; these pictures not only compare favorably with those of any photographers we have seen, as specimens of the best style of the art, but show excellent taste and judgment in the selection of the points chosen for representation. And no more appropriate present for a distant friend can be found than a series of these beautiful views.

Hon. E. E. Bourne, Judge of Probate for York County, Me., in consequence of the hot weather of the past week, adjourned the session of his court from the celebrated though by no means comfortable court house at York village, to the airy parlor of the Marshall House. Members of the bar were in attendance from many towns in York County, from Boston, Portsmouth and other places, and the change was highly appreciated. It said the Judge will not be a candidate for re-election. Among those on the Republican side mentioned for his successor is Hon. Nathaniel Hobbs of North Berwick, formerly of the Maine Senate. The convention called to nominate candidates for this and other County officers will be held at Alfred, August 7th. H. H. Burbank, Esq., the popular Register, will doubtless be renominated by acclamation. He is the right man in the right place.

The hail storm which passed over this city on Friday did great damage to the crops in that part of Newington along the Piscataqua river, and broke a great deal of glass. At the side the of town nearest Greenland there was no hail or any unusual wind.

State News.

Associate Justice Ladd, the only Democratic member of the Supreme Judicial Court, has resigned, assigning as a cause the insufficiency of the salary, which is $2200. The Legislature refused to increase the salary at its recent session.

At Farmington, on the 8th, Mr. Geo. Whittier, while mowing, had an apoplectic fit, falling upon his scythe and cutting his left arm through the muscle to the bone. He was unconscious when found, and remains in a stupor most of the time.

As four men were at work on a derrick car, building a bridge on the Contoocook River Railroad at West Henniker, and while the car was standing upon the temporary bridge, it tipped over, and carried two men with it twenty-five feet down. No one was severely injured.

A two years old daughter of Mr. Austin Leach of Newmarket, went on a stroll with older children lately, was left by herself, got stuck in a bed of mud, and was watched over by a dog until her companions made search and saved the child.

The News.

A picnic given to the poor children of New York on Thursday was attended by some 600 little ones, and was a gratifying success.

Counting the International Jubilee guarantee fund at its full value, $200,000, and estimating the Coliseum at from $25,000 to $30,000, there are assets as the result of the late festival of some $50,000. The receipts from admissions amount to about $430,000, and the expenses from $550,000 to $600,000.

The public schools in Paterson, New Jersey, are closed in consequence of the alarming prevalence of small-pox in that city.

Now it is B. Gratz Brown. He cholera-morbused at the Fifth Avenue hotel, New York, on Friday. Cause, cherries. He will recover.

The Orangemen's demonstration in New York, Friday, was in marked contrast to the events of the 12th of July, 1871. The societies turned out only about four hundred men and they were guarded by twice that number of policemen. There was no attempt at rioting and the procession passed over its route and was dismissed in quiet.

Five robbers broke into the residence of Mr. E. Hayward, cashier of the Uxbridge (Mass.) National Bank, at 2 o'clock, Saturday morning, and after binding, hand-cuffing and gagging each member of the family, including the clerk of the bank, Mr. Charles Wessen, they compelled the latter to go with them to the bank and unlock the vault, from which they took out $14,000. They then returned to Mr. Hayward's residence, carried him to his room, ungagged the whole family, gave them a drink of water, regagged them and left.

The Portland Republicans had a great ratification meeting, Friday evening, with speeches from Senator Morrill and Dr. Loring.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The NORTH-WESTERN (BABCOCK) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY having brought suit against the PHILADELPHIA (GARDNER) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY, for alleged infringement of the Carlier and Vignon Patent, (dated April 13th, 1869,) which the said Babcock Company professes to own, in the use of water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas as a means to extinguish fires, we desire to make the following statements all of which, we are prepared to fully substantiate by proof:

First. The so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent is invalid for want of novelty, in that a patent was issued to W. H. Phillips in England, in 1844, and in this country in 1850, for a Fire Extinguisher, in which water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas was used as the extinguishing agent.

Second. The said so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent has no legal existence, no legal application ever having been made for it to the Patent Office; and its issuance therefrom was accomplished by gross fraud.

Third. The lawyers conducting the suit against us, brought suit for the same clients on the same Patent, against one Duryea, in the U. S. Court in New York, 1870, and the answer of Duryea being filed, setting forth the facts herein alluded to, said suit was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiffs.

The Babcock Company expects to destroy the sale of the Gardner Extinguisher, which has so seriously interfered with their long-enjoyed monopoly, by extensively advertising this suit, and thus intimidating the public. It is our purpose to defeat their fraudulent design, and to this end, we will shortly publish a history of the matter, which will undeceive the public and expose the worthlessness of that sham, called the Carlier and Vignon Patent.

Copies will be mailed to any address on application. This Company will give guarantees against all loss, damage or trouble for use of the Gardner Extinguisher, and will, at its sole expense, defend all suits that may be brought against it. D. B. WAGGENER, Secretary.

SPLENDID COUNTRY REAL ESTATE FOR SALE.

The beautiful property known as the

"Dr. Stevens' Place."

Situated in Greenland, N. H., in close proximity to the Railroad station, on the old stage route from Portsmouth to Exeter, and four miles from the first named place.

The property consists of 25 Acres most excellent Land, all to grass or tillage, and in a high state of cultivation, upon which are some fifty lofty and beautiful Shade Trees, 250 thrifty Apple Trees, all in bearing, and some 90 Pear, Cherry and Peach Trees, a large Asparagus Bed, (will cut 600 bunches next season) Gooseberry Bushes in great profusion, Currant Bushes, a large bed of Rhubarb plant and Strawberry beds.

The buildings consist of a handsome Cattle Barn (the dwelling house having been burned last November), 40 feet square, with a splendid cellar beneath for storing fruit and vegetables, making manure and keeping hens in winter; a fine, well appointed Stable for three horses with spacious Carriage room, a large and well made Tool House and Workshop with Piggery attached; also a fine summer Hen House with splendid run and appointments. All the above buildings are in perfect order and are well painted.

The site for the house is all that could be desired, being well elevated and commanding, and having a large and beautiful lawn in front, well fenced and splendidly embellished with Hedges, Bushes, Spruce Maple and Elm trees.

To any one wishing a beautiful Farm for the sake of the health and pleasure of a farm life, or to any one desiring a Country estate for a Summer Residence with the privilege of erecting a house to suit their means and convenience, this offers a rare and inviting opportunity.

The subscriber will hold this offer of sale open only for a limited time—to July 23d. If not disposed of previous to that time, it will be withdrawn.

Should a purchaser present, possession will be given immediately with the Crops, or later with the crops removed, as may be agreed upon.

☞ Terms $2000 down, the balance to suit the convenience of purchaser. Apply to DR. A. P. STEVENS, No. 5 Congress Street, Portsmouth, N. H., or to JOHN B. STEVENS, Esq., on the premises. j16

Morning Chronicle.

—Postal cards won't be ready for a month yet.

—A farmer in the vicinity of Indianapolis a few years ago sold his farm for $4000 and went West to grow up with the country. Recently he was in that city seeking employment at $60 a month, while the ground that used to be his farm is now worth nearly a million dollars.

— A new alarm clock belonging to Mr. Slifer, of West Philadelphia, sounded at midnight. The baby screamed, Mrs. Slifer had hysterics, and her husband fired six shots out of the window at a supposed burglar and wounded a passer-by. When the police came, they found him trying to drown the disturber of his peace, which he finally threw into the yard where it whizzed all night, while the neighbors threw things at it, mistaking it for cats.

—A fellow, full of cityisms, but a little ignorant of pastoral ways, attended a picnic a short time since in the country. He was very fond of snipe, and was assured that they abounded in that vicinity. He was given an open bag and cautioned to hold it in a narrow ravine while "the boys" drove up the birds. His only duty would be to take care of them. He held the bag for hours. "The boys" went on with their picnic, and when it was over the hunter was informed that game was not very plenty that day.

PROPOSALS FOR MATERIALS TO BESUPPLIED TO THE NAVY YARDS UNDER THE CHARGE OF THE BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 22, 1872.

SEALED PROPOSALS to furnish Timber and other materials for the Navy for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1873, will be received at this Bureau until 12 o'clock M. of the 23d of July next, at which time the bids will be opened.

The proposals must be addressed to the "Chief of the Bureau of Construction and Repair, Navy Department, Washington," and must be endorsed "Proposals for Timber, &c., for the Navy," that they may be distinguished from ordinary business letters.

To prevent confusion, and facilitate the opening of the bids, parties bidding for supplies at several yards will enclose bids in separate envelopes, each endorsed with the name of the yard for which the bid is made.

Printed schedules for such classes as parties deal in and intend to bid for, together with instructions to bidders, giving the forms of proposal, of guarantee, and of certificate of guarantors, with printed forms of offer, will be furnished to such persons as desire to bid, on application to the Commandants of the respective Navy Yards, and those of all the yards on application to the Bureau.

The Commandant of each Navy Yard, and the Purchasing Paymaster for each Station, will have a copy of the schedules of the other yards, for examination only, in order that persons who intend to bid may judge of whether it is desirable to make application for any of the classes of those yards.

The proposals must be for the whole of a class, but the Department reserves the right to reduce the whole class, should the interest of the Government require it, before the award of contract. All applications for information, or for the examination of samples, must be made to the Commandant of the respective yards.

Proposals from parties who are not bona fide dealers in, or manufacturers of, the articles they offer to furnish. The guarantors must be certified by the Assessor of Internal Revenue for the district in which they reside.

The contract with the accepted bidder will be made the lowest bid and gives the security required by law, the Navy Department, however, reserving the right to reject the lowest bid, or any which it may deem exorbitant.

Under the provisions of the second section of the act approved March 3, 1863, the offer of any person who, as principal or surety, has not filled his contract for 1871-'72 will not be received.

Sureties in the full amount will be required to sign the contract, and their responsibility must be certified to the satisfaction of the Navy Department.

An additional security twenty per centum will be withheld from the amount of the bills until the contracts shall have been completed, and eighty per centum of the amount of bills, approved in triplicate by the Commandants of the respective yards, will be paid by the Paymaster of the station designated in the contract, or, if none is specified, by the Paymaster of the station nearest the yard where the goods are delivered, within ten days after the warrant for the same shall have been passed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

The classes of this Bureau are numbered and designated as follows:

No. 1, White Oak Logs; No. 2, White Oak Keel Pieces; No. 3, White Oak Curved Timber; No. 4, White Oak Plank—Oregon Pine Deck Plank at Mare Island yard; No. 5, White Oak Boards; No. 7, Yellow Pine Logs — Oregon Pine Logs at Mare Island yard; No. 8, Yellow Pine Beams —Oregon Pine Beams at Mare Island yard; No. 9, Oregon Pine Mast Timber at Mare Island yard; No. 11, White Pine Logs; No. 12, White Pine Mast Timber; No. 13, White Pine Plank; No. 14, Spruce Boards at Mare Island yard; No. 15, White Ash, Elm, Beech—White Ash, Redwood at Mare Island yard; No. 16, White Ash Oars; No. 18, Brk Walnut, Mahogany, Maple, Cherry; No. 19, Locust Timber; No. 20, Locust Treenails; No. 22, Cypress, Cedar; No. 23, Black Spruce; No. 25, Lignumvitæ; No. 30, Ingot Copper; No. 32, Wrought Iron, round and square; No. 33, Wrought Iron, flat; No. 34, Iron, plate; No. 35, Steel; No. 37, Iron Spikes; No. 38, Iron Bolts; No. 39, Iron Cut Nails; No. 42, Lead, pipe, sheet; No. 43, Zinc; No. 44, Tin; No. 45, Solder; No. 48, Locks, Hinges, Bolts, of brass and iron; No. 49, Screws of brass and iron; No. 50, Files; No. 51, Augers; No. 52, Tools for ship stores; No. 53, Tools for use in wood and shops; No. 54, Copper; No. 55, White Lead; No. 57, Zinc Paints; No. 58, Colored Paints, Dryers; No 59, Linseed Oil; No. 60, Varnish, Spirits Turpentine; No. 62, Sperm and Lard Oil; No. 64, Tallow, Soap; No. 65, Fish Oil; No. 66, Glass; No. 69, Brushes; No. 70, Dry Goods for upholstering; No. 71, Stationery; No. 72, Crucibles; No. 73, Ship Chandlery; No. 74, Acids; No. 75, Rosin, Pitch, Crude Turpentine; No. 77, Belting, Packing; No. 78, Leather, Pump, Rigging, Lacing; No. 80, Junk; No. 82, Rope; No. 85, Anthracite Coal; No. 86, Semi-bituminous Coal; No. 87, Bituminous Coal; No. 88, Charcoal; No. 89, Wood; No. 90, Miscellaneous Articles.

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

"THEM ASSES."—We make it a matter of conscience to give our readers abstracts of the various reports laid before the Legislature as soon as possible after their issue. But the report of the Commissioners on the Bureau of Labor Statistics is too many for us, and we defy anybody to simmer it down into a newspaper article. On page 43 of the report we find the following paragraph;

People on farms worked from five o'clock in winter and sunrise in summer, until sunset in summer or nine o'clock in winter, when necessary. They had more morality and as much intelligence of the right kind as them asses have now."

The above is in reference to the habits of 1825—27, but the printer has made it an exemplification of the power of little things. "Little drops of water, little grains of sand," is a familiar proverb to our ears, but by the misplacing of a "little" space "the masses" have received the dubious compliment to be seen in italics above.—Concord Patriot.

A SCRIMMAGE.—One of the young and dashing married feminines of Kingston, while en route for church on a recent Sabbath, was greeted by the barking of a juvenile dog, belonging to her husband's brother. She seized a rock and threatened young canis, whereupon the owner, assuming the dog's defence, sternly told Mrs.——to touch the said dog if she dared, and he would mete out to her a like service. Probably having been recently reading a woman's rights article, our heroine returned to the exasperated brother-in-law, and just smashed him with the rock, making a hole in his scalp something near an inch long. She then walked quietly away with a victorious air. We understand the woman is for Greeley.—Haverhill Bulletin.

GALLANT CONDUCT.—As the down freight train was nearing the Junction station, on Wednesday afternoon, a small child ran on the track just in front of the engine, and would have been instantly killed but for the presence of mind of Mr. George Jenness, a member of the Dover Cornet Band, who leaped on the track, seized the child, and jumped off, so narrowly escaping the engine that it struck his instrument, making a large bruise in the metal. The platform was covered with the Temperance picnic party, and the excitement of the crowd found vent in rousing cheers for the hero of the gallant action.—Exeter News-Letter.

—Nebraska is the only State that had a railroad in running order when admitted into the Union.

—It is said that during the month of May last no less than 25,000 bison were killed south of the Kansas Pacific railroad for their hides alone.

—Detroit dog-owners neither buy muzzles nor allow their valuable animals to be poisoned. Taking a bit of meat they sprinkle it with cayenne pepper, drop it down, and the dog goes through some wonderful performances after eating the piece. He can't be made to pick up another piece, but will carefully avoid the sight of loose meat.

—At Elkhart, Indiana, there is a strange child who, whenever he hears a cock crow, rushes to the door, flaps his arms and crows lustily himself. Another peculiarity of the phenomenon is that his mother can't make him sit still for any length of time. He is now ten years old and has crowed ever since he was three months old. He labors under the inappropriate nick-name of "Hen." His mother explains these peculiar actions on the ground that shortly before his birth she was very much interested in contests of a pair of roosters that always crowed when they began to fight.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or price—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the world-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

N. B. Those purchasing for cash, before the 1 of January next, will have a consideration allowed them.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in the strongest form for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of this preparation. Ladies, who are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

JURUBEBA

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a specific in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful Tonic and restoring effects produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too troublesome. It purifies the blood, and thus eradicates the germs of disease into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the secretion of the hair, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUCHS, Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing Ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

Campaign Rates.

To all new subscribers, we will furnish the DAILY CHRONICLE until after the Presidential Election, for $1; or the NEW HAMPSHIRE GAZETTE for 50 cts.,—payable in advance.

A Loud Appeal.

The Manchester Union says "Mr. Greeley will be elected," and gives as its reasons for believing what it says that "The Democratic party will be substantially a unit in his support," and it thinks "Mr. Greeley will receive at least one-quarter of the votes which any respectable Republican would have received, against any straight Democrat." A third reason is that "Mr. Greeley will receive nearly the entire vote of our adopted citizens," as the Irish love him and the Germans originated the "Reform" movement. Having thus secured for Greley the entire Democratic vote and twenty-five per cent. of the Republican, the Union goes on to say: "The negro vote can be taken from Grant,"—with the proviso added, if Sumner and Greeley work for it. No doubt the Union would like to credit all its own statements, were it possible; but we do not believe it is quite such an anaconda at deglutition, though its swallowing capacity is by no means to be sneezed at, as the way in which it has disposed of Greeley shows. But what does the Union mean by securing the negro vote? And what "negro vote" is meant? It cannot be the "Radical nigger" vote which the Union used to talk so contemptuously of, which it is now so anxious to secure; the white man's Manchester Union can hardly be willing to swallow the "Radical niggers" so soon after swallowing Greeley, for such a tremendous emetic would certainly injure its Democratic "principles." But there are wonders in these days, and we may yet hear the Union talking of "our colored brethren,"—which is not wholly impossible after its surprising change in the orthography of the good old Democratic word "nigger." Having added the colored men's votes to Greeley's already immense majority —on paper— the Union closes its article by a loud appeal to the Republicans to fall into the Democratic ranks "at once," and assure the State to Horace Greeley by 10,000 majority! As the Republican readers of the CHRONICLE may not all see the Union, we copy the paragraph, as follows:—

This State can be carried for Greeley by a very large majority—as many as 10,000. It only needs that every Democrat shall do what we religiously believe to be his duty, and for those Republicans who would be glad to see such a result to say so at once. We need not have any noise or excitement in this campaign. The whole thing can be settled in two weeks—and that is the best way to do it. Let all the friends of Greeley and reform speak out at once.

There, Republicans! You see how easy it will be for you to secure a Democratic victory in New Hampshire. All you have got to do is to come out for Greeley, and "say so at once." No enthusiasm is needed,—which is fortunate indeed, there being but a small stock of the article on hand among the "Granite clubs" of the State, or anywhere else, for Greeley,— all you have to do is to go quietly over to the Democratic camp "at once," and a Greeley victory is assured. But the last three words of the paragraph we have copied are paradoxical. "Greeley or Reform" would do; "Greeley and Reform"—oh! What sort of a "reform" would Horace Greeley initiate under the loving guardianship of Tammany—"Tammany endorses Baltimore"—Fenton, Seymour, Kinsella, Brooks and Ben Wood, assisted by Judge Wright of Indiana, Greenbacks H. Pendleton, Ex-Secretary Floyd, and Patrick Donan of the Missouri Caucasian, who claims to be the "original Greeley man" and displays in his paper a big head-line,—"Repudiation is Liberty?" "Greeley and free trade," "Greeley and a white man's government," or Greeley and anything else the Democratic party chooses (he won't object, being too honorable to draw back in a fair bargain after having taken payment) except "Greeley and Reform." The latter mixture won't mix.

A "Liberal" Party.

One of the best traits of the leading wire-pullers of the simon pure Greeley Democracy is their unbounded generosity; they think no more of giving their "patriot statesman, Greeley," a State or two, than Tammany did of paying a good price for plastering a court house. Gratz Brown "pledges" Missouri for 100,000 majority for the Democratic candidates; Hoffman "pledges" New York for a larger majority than the whole number of votes Missouri will cast—not an idle promise, perhaps, when we remember the noble way in which Tammany improvised a majority for Seymour and that now "Tammany endorses Baltimore;" one Norris of Tennessee gives away Alabama, Georgia and Virginia, and thinks likely he will add Mississippi; Senator Trumbull's son hands over Illinois, with 50,000 majority; some other open handed (open-headed, too) individual has pledged Massachusetts for a copperhead majority,—and Maine, New Hampshire and other States are handed over to Greeley, Tammany and "reform," just as though they were worth nothing at all. If these Democratic presentations to Greeley keep on he will have every State in the Union before three months are out, and a popular majority in November of at least double the number of men, women and children in the country,—while President Grant will not have a single vote. It is possible, however, that these liberal fellows, in their wholesale dealings in real estate, resemble the chap who offered to give away the world eighteen hundred years and more ago—generous with what don't belong to them. Tammany, we all know, has been troubled that way in the past.

SENATOR SUMNER'S POSITION.—Ex-Senator James A. Shields of Missouri has been trying to persuade Mr. Sumner to adopt the course which leading liberals have urged upon him, namely, to speak upon issues of the hour in Boston and then go through the West and South. After hearing various arguments which Shields presented, Mr. Sumner replied that, while he had strong sympathy with the Greeley movement there was one thing which caused him to hesitate, and that was the probable treatment of his colored wards by the democracy. For these he had nothing to hope at the hands of that party, and for himself he had no intention of deserting them. He could not see his way clear to co-operate actively with the party that would never accept the principles of his civil rights bill. Last winter, when he with some of his associates were battling the administration, and his civil rights bill was pending, he went over to the democratic side of the Senate chamber and appealed to them there to vote with him so as to give him a chance to go with the new movement, so that he could support it consistently, feeling that the rights of the colored race would be safe with the new party. But in spite of his appeals and his reasons no one of the democratic Senators would vote with him. Now his only difficulty in joining actively in the effort to elect Greeley was this refusal of his democratic friends to give him the least assurance that the rights of the colored men would be respected. Shields in reply argued that these Senators belonged to the dead past and did not represent the democracy of the present, but Mr. Sumner ended as he began, by re-asserting his doubts whether he could depend upon the new party to do justice to the negro.

The News.

At a fire in Alpena, Mich., July 12, a woman and three men were burned to death.

A train of cars was wrecked on the Mobile and New Orleans Railroad, July 13, in consequence of a wash-out, and two men were killed.

It is officially stated that the reports of frauds upon the government in the registry of vessels are greatly exaggerated.

The German consul at Port-au-Prince has resigned on account of the course of the German fleet when capturing the Haytien war vessels.

United States Consul Butler at Alexandria, Egypt, has had an altercation with some of the Khedive's officers and shot and wounded one of them. He claims that they attempted to assassinate him, but this is denied.

Brazil has refused to receive the plenipotentiary sent by the Argentine Confederation, and is preparing for hostilities. The trouble is about the non-fulfilment of the treaty concerning Paraguay.

The jury in the Stokes case failed to agree and were discharged. Stokes is remanded, without bail. The jury stood,—eight for murder in the first degree and four for manslaughter in the third degree.

The wife of Henry Duchiane, residing on Middlesex place, Lowell, Mass., was burned Saturday evening by breaking a kerosene lamp, so as to cause her death on the 14th. She ran, enveloped in flames, into an adjoining room where there were three women, who left, rendering no assistance. Her body was fearfully burnt. She was 21 years old and leaves two small children.

An Italian woman died in the Massachusetts General Hospital, Sunday, from burns occasioned by the bursting of a kerosene lamp.

On Fridsy a steam threshing machine exploded in a field in Missouri, killing three men and wounded four; in New York a lunatic killed a man; in Illinois one man clubbed another to death; in Tennessee a boatman killed a boy for bathing near his boat house; and in Rochester, N. Y., a young man shot and killed his step-mother and wounded a man, while delirious. On Saturday one soldier killed another at Fort Pulaski, and a gang of New York strikers murdered two men who would not leave their work.

"CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT."—This is what the stage and horse car companies, livery-stable keepers, members of the turf, and all grooms and trainers say of the Mustang Liniment. They "can't do without it." And why? Because it infallibly reduces the external swellings, &c, which, under various names, impair the usefulness and value of the king of quadrupeds, and also because, for sprains, strains, galls and other injuries to which horse-flesh is liable, it is the most trustworthy preparation in the market. Yet these recommendations comprise only a portion of its claims to public confidence. During a period of more than sixteen years, it has been recognized as a specific for many of the most agonizing disorders which afflict the human family — such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, tic-doloreux, sore throat, earache, toothache; and likewise as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. a12

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT enable the victims of disease to dispense with all other medicines. The former relieve the stomach, liver and bowels of all obstructions; the latter heals every external sore, eruption or wound. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cent per box or pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

Roll on! great Pill of Ayer, roll on!

Roll down the Andes—to wering mountains!
Roll over Afric's golden fountains!
Through India and the Cheronese!
Through distant isles of Japanese!
Wherever dwells a sinking heart
Roll on, to do your mighty part,
Ayer's Pills, roll on —Putnam for Oct.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—The penetrative and healing action of this potent salve is a marvel throughout the world. Nothing else could be relied on in scrofula, cancer, salt rheum, erysipelas, and external injuries. Sold at 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

Special Notices.

Fraud Loves a Shining Mark.

A great medicine is always a target for fraud. Shallow cheats, without the talent to originate anything useful, or the decency to permit an article of superior excellence to perform its mission, without striving to earn a dishonest penny by attempting to substitute trash in its place, are now engaged in imitating and counterfeiting HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most popular tonic and restorative in the civilized world. A brood of local bitters, mixtures of damaged drugs with worse liquor, has cropped out all over the country; although the sales of these pernicious slops are too insignificant to affect the interests of a staple remedy, it seems a duty to warn the public against them. The color of the true specific may be simulated, but its cures of dyspepsia, liver complaint, rheumatism, intermittent fever, constipation, nervous debility, &c. cannot be imitated.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-laying alliance of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Cough, Croup, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the once of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the professions and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

John G. Whittier, the Quaker Poet, is at the Isles of Shoals.

Willie, formerly editor of the Portsmouth Democratic organ—when Portsmouth had a Democratic organ—and now general whipper-in and enthusiasm-manufacturer for Horace Greeley, once more offers to assist in editing the CHRONICLE. This is kind of him, certainly, considering that half our editorial staff is of for a week's excursion; and if Willie was either a Republican or a Democrat we might be inclined to accept his offered aid. But as he is in a transition state we must decline it, with thanks; we couldn't stand it to have an associate whose political "principles" were so mixed that we couldn't tell what he was.

The steamer Emerald will until further notice make trips as follows: leaving the Navy Yard at 8, 10 and 11:30 o'clock, A. M., and 1:30, 4 and 5:10, P. M.; leaving this city at 9 and 12, A. M., 12, M., and 3, 4:30 and 6, P. M. An evening trip will be made Wednesday, Friday and Saturday, when the weather is clear, the boat leaving the Yard at 7:30 and returning at 9:30. On Sunday she will leave the Yard at 9:45 and 10 A. M., and 12:30, P. M.; leaving this city at 12:15 and 12:45 P. M. We copy the above as it is given in a time table before us; but the Emerald will never be able to make a round trip in 15 minutes as she must do to make all her Sunday trips as announced, without crowding on steam tremendously.

The Millenium

Is not far distant. The signs are unmistakable. In the neighboring town of Rye flies a flag bearing the expressive motto, "Equal Taxation." We hail this step in the right direction, by the Democrats of Rye, with much satisfaction. If there has been unequal taxation anywhere in our State it was in Rye. The proper share of the State tax falling upon Rye has been dodged by low valuations, which the oath of office of their neighboring officials would never permit them to practice; a farm or any piece of personal estate in Rye has always been valued wickedly low in comparison with the same kind of property in the adjoining towns. For years it was notorious that one of the largest stockholders in one of our City Banks was by an illegal understanding taxed at a low rate and in a fictitious name for bank stock on which he would have been taxed at a valuation of a hundred dollars per share in Portsmouth. We are glad that there is to be an end of these things and we are glad to see that some Republican or perhaps some honest Democrat in Rye now advocates "equal taxation." In the words of the poet, "bully for you." When Albert R. Hatch makes a speech in the stable yard of the American House and denounces the corruption of office holders (of which, his experience ever since he was a voter in holding office enables him to judge),—when Chas. Levi Woodbury eulogies the efforts of Charles Summer in behalf of the downtrodden black race,—when Democratic orators put out feelers that Horace Greeley was always right, and they heretofore were always wrong, and when old Rye believes in "equal taxation," then the time cannot be far off when the political lion and lamb shall lie down together,—but as Josh Billings would remark, we even then would not give much for the lamb's chances of getting up with a whole carcass.

Political.

The Republicans of Gloucester, Mass., held a rousing ratification meeting on Saturday, and listened to an address by General Butler, in which he spoke of the issues of the coming campaign, and defended the administration from the attacks made upon it of corruption and malfeasance.

The Detroit Free Press (Dem.) continues its fight against Greeley.

The Obcanske Listy of St. Louis has an article in favor of Henryho Wilsona for the Vice Presidency.

The Democrats of Oregon are to send delegates to the straight Democratic convention at Louisville.

The Democrats have long urged "He can't make a speech" as a reproach to President Grant. Don't they wish their candidates for President and Vice President were afflicted in the same way? No wonder Mr. Greeley's guardians object to his speaking in public; his great effort in the Coliseum press-room fully justifies their extreme caution. And judging from Gratz Brown's speech before the Yale Alumni it wouldn't be a bad idea for Greeley's managers to include Gratz and Horace in one list,—unless they can buy up the entire supply of buttered watermelon.

A salute was fired on the Staten Island shore in honor of the Democratic nomination. A kind-hearted Irish woman, hearing the guns, said: "There they go again! trying to bring up another dead body!"

The Los Angeles, Cal., Daily News, a Democratic paper, repudiates the Baltimore nominations.

The New York World says: "With the Democratic cabinet which Mr. Greeley will be constrained to appoint, and the Democratic Congress which will be elected with him, there will be an opportunity for reforming administrative and legislative abuses; and the certainty of a Democratic cabinet and Congress gives fair promise of important subsidiary reforms."

There are now over 900,000 colored voters in the United States. There were 250,000 of this race who served in the Union armies. They have a majority of the votes in four States, and are an important element in eight or ten others; nevertheless the Baltimore Convention, representing all the States, contained not one member of this race. How different at Philadelphia!

On purpose that we might our principles swaller."

TO THE PUBLIC.

The NORTH-WESTERN (BABCOCK) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY having brought suit against the PHILADELPHIA (GARDNER) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY, for alleged infringement of the Carlier and Vignon Patent, (dated April 13th, 1869,) which the said Babcock Company professes to own, in the use of water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas as a means to extinguish fires, we desire to make the following statements all of which, we are prepared to fully substantiate by proof:

First. The so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent is invalid for want of novelty, in that a patent was issued to W. R. Phillips in England, in 1844, and in this country in 1850, for a Fire Extinguisher, in which water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas was used as the extinguishing agent.

Second. The said so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent has no legal existence, no legal application ever having been made for it to the Patent Office; and its issuance therefrom was accomplished by gross fraud.

Third. The lawyers conducting the suit against us, brought suit for the same clients on the same Patent, against one Duryea, in the U. S. Court in New York, 1870, and the answer of Duryea being filed, setting forth the facts herein alluded to, said suit was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiffs.

The Babcock Company expects to destroy the sale of the Gardner Extinguisher, which has so seriously interfered with their long-enjoyed monopoly, by extensively advertising this suit, and thus intimidating the public. It is our purpose to defeat their fraudulent design, and to this end, we will shortly publish a history of the matter, which will undeceive the public and expose the worthlessness of that sham, called the Carlier and Vignon Patent.

Copies will be mailed to any address on application. This Company will give guarantees against all loss, damage or trouble for use of the Gardner Extinguisher, and will, at its sole expense, defend all suits that may be brought against it. D. B. WAGGENER, Secretary,
Philadelphia Fire Extinguisher Co.,

Morning Chronicle.

OLD TIME CHRONICLES, No. 54.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

John Wentworth, the last Provincial Governor of New Hampshire. Mr. Wentworth was of the family of that name then among the most honorable in the State. He was nephew of Gov. Benning Wentworth, his predecessor. Probably he was born in Portsmouth, but we have not the name of his father. He was in England at the time of his appointment. Having obtained his commission from George II., in 1767, he hastened home, landing in Charleston, S. C., and then pursuing his way north. At the New Hampshire State line he was met by members of the Council, a committee of the assembly, and a troop of horse. Before arriving at Portsmouth many others fell in, making quite a cavalcade. At the entrance of King Street (now Court Street) a regiment of militia and independent companies gave a military salute. In the evening Gov. Wentworth held a reception at his seat. The guns at the Fort at Newcastle fired a salute, and the ships in the harbor displayed their colors.

The first notable event in the State under his administration was the founding of Dartmouth College at Hanover in 1769. The Governor had a collegiate education, (having graduated at Harvard College in 1755,) was the friend of education, and gave all the encouragement in his power to the infant college; and under his fostering care it flourished while he was in office.

That same year, 1769, the Governor married. On the 28th of October, T. Atkinson, Jr., a member of the Council, died, probably in Newcastle. Just fourteen days afterward the Governor married the widow Mrs. Frances Atkinson. The ceremony took place in Queen's Chapel, Rev. Arthur Brown officiating. The bride was gay and accomplished, and quite young, but the discrepancy of age between the newly married pair was not so great as to render that part objectionable. It is said if one marries so soon after the loss of a partner, it would seem there was not much love for one who died. On the other side it is said, the evidence is that there was great love and another partner desired as good. The wise will judge these matters as rightly as possible.

In 1771 the State was divided into four counties. The Governor gave the names. Rockingham was for the Marquis of Rockingham, a nobleman in England.

A charter of a town named Wolfeborough had been granted in 1770. The distance from Portsmouth is 45 miles, northerly. That section was then mostly a wilderness; but very soon forty-five families were in the new town. They emigrated thither from Portsmouth and vicinity, with some from Pembroke. It has before been stated that Gov. B. Wentworth, the predecessor of Gov. John, fixed his seat at Little Harbor, two miles from the business part of Portsmouth. Gov. J. Wentworth was distinguished for taste, enterprise, fondness for agricultural pursuits, and what was romantic. So not long after Wolfeborough was settled he resolved to strike for the wilderness and fix his country residence there. Accordingly a road, but little more than a cow path in the north portions of it, was made to that town, and a splendid mansion was erected there. The story of the frolic of his gay wife in that place is familiar to many. We know not whether it is well authenticated. It is that his wife was out late at night on a party of pleasure, and on her return found the doors fastened against her. Her husband refusing to open them, she feigned drowning herself in the well, throwing in a heavy object. The Governor hearing the splash, hastened out to save her, when she slipped in, barred the door and the Governor in turn found himself shut out.

Gov. Wentworth was a wise magistrate, and as a whole popular with the people. His efforts were of course to satisfy the British government, but at the same time he had the interest of the colony at heart. Before he was Governor his influence was against the Stamp Act, but while in office he did not oppose the tax on articles brought into the country. He was unwearied in efforts to preserve the peace and harmony of the two countries. But in 1774, by attempting secretly to provide barracks for the king's forces near Boston, he lost his influence in the Colony. In 1755 the threatened storm of war was commencing and things were hastening to a complete rupture between him and the legislative body. He repeatedly adjourned the Assembly, and in July an expelled member, in the interest of the Governor, offending the people in the streets, was assaulted and took refuge in the Governor's house. A field-piece was pointed to the door with threats to discharge it. The offender surrendered and was lodged in jail. The Governor soon took refuge in the fort at Newcastle; soon he went to Boston, then went to the Isles of Shoals and from there sent to the Assembly, adjourning it till April following. This was his last act in the Province. He went to England, was created Baronet and sent to New Brunswick as Lieut-Governor. Oxford conferred on him the degree of L. L. D., and the College of Aberdeen in Scotland the same. He died in New Brunswick in 1820. He must have been aged. It was 65 years after he graduated at College, so probably he was 80 or more. His talents were brilliant, and from a portrait of him we have seen his person was dignified and noble.

VERY PAT!—The Coos Republican says of Mr. Greeley:—

"He was always one of the best of men to write up a measure, or an idea, and the very worst to carry it into practice."

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

GUMBS' DOG.—Gumbs, who lives next door to us, has bought a new dog. He needed a new one. His last one used to bark all night in the yard, until in frantic desperation we would shy boots and cologne bottles and furniture at him. But he always went on worse; and in the morning Gumbs would come calmly out and gather all these missives and carry them into the house. He has more than twenty pairs of boots and slippers in his possession besides chair-legs and cakes of soap and hair-brushes and match-safes and towel-racks. And he never had the manliness to offer to give them back. On the contrary, he trained that dog to sit by the front gate and to seize us by the leg when we came out, three or four times a week apparently for the purpose of securing some more boots. But we poisoned him one night, and the next morning Gumbs threw the carcass over into our yard. We threw it back. Gumbs returned it. We both stayed at home that day, and spent the time handing the dog to one another over the fence. Then we hired an Irishman to stand there night and day to return the deceased to Gumb's yard. Then Gumbs also hired an Irishman. It was exhilarating work. The corpse probably traversed that fence six or seven thousand times in twenty-four hours. He must have become familiar with the route, even if he was dead. At last he wore away with so much handling, and on the last day the Irishmen whiled away the hours by flinging only the tail at each other. Our Irishman at last quired the tail and resigned. And now Gumbs has got a new dog. It will be excessively singular if we do not fish for that dog some evening soon, with a codfish line and a piece of beef, and run him up all of a sudden to our window and launch him into the sewer. No dog owned by a man named Gumbs shall exult over us.—Philadelphia Dispatch.

AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY, SOLICITOR OF PATENTS, For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs, No. 76 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON, After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for PATENTS, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakably proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him in preference to any other they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them dispose to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes restores lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

JURUBEBA

THE GREAT SOUTH AMERICAN

BLOOD PURIFIER.

Is a Powerful Tonic, specially adapted for use in Spring, when the LANGUID and DEBILITATED system needs strength and vitality; it will give vigor to the feeble, strength to the weak, animation to the dejected, activity to the sluggish, rest to the weary, quiet to the nervous, and health to the infirm.

It is a South American plant, which, according to the medical and scientific periodicals of London and Paris, possesses the MOST POWERFUL tonic properties known to Materia Medica, and is well known in its native country as having wonderful curative qualities, and has been long used as a SPECIFIC in all cases of Impurities of the Blood, Derangement of the Liver and Spleen, Tumors, Dropsy, Poverty of the Blood, Debility, Weakness of the Intestines, Uterine or Urinary Organs.

DR. WELLS' EXTRACT OF JURUBEBA

Is strengthening and nourishing. Like nutritious food taken into the stomach, it assimilates and diffuses itself through the circulation, giving vigor and health.

It regulates the bowels, quiets the nerves, acts directly on the secretive organs, and by its powerful TONIC and restoring effects, produces healthy and vigorous action to the whole system.

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are such a terrible affliction to so many, that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lapulina, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the remedy, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS. Much has been said and written, and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREPETHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

CORNS, Bunions, Bad Nails, and other diseases of the feet, Scrofulous and Cancerous Humors, Piles, etc., skillfully treated at the great central Chiropodical and Healing Institute, No. 765 Broadway, New York. DR. J. BRIGGS, President; DR. ALEXANDER WEBBER, Secretary. ap9

Correspondence.

PORTLAND, ME., July 15.

Editors Chronicle:—The summer solstice, as perhaps none need be informed, is at hand. The grasshopper sings his buzzing song, the beating rays of Sol come down, for cool retreats all mortals long, heigh ho! for the seaside!

Portland is one of the most popular summer places in New England,—the thermometer here being some ten or fifteen degress lower than in Boston and elsewhere. Its islands so near by are frequented by crowds daily, the several steamers doing a large business. The Falmouth and Preble, the two leading hotels, are also in high clover. The United States, on Market Square, is being remodelled and made modern, after its heavy damage by fire and water. A new story with French roof is being added and it will take three months before it is reopened. Mr. C. Cram, formerly of the United States and recently of the Commercial House, will again take charge.

North Conway is largely patronized this year; in fact, more so than ever. The extension there of the Portsmouth, Great Falls & Conway Road and the building there of the Portland & Ogdensburg Road has given the place a new start in life. The Kearsarge House, (Thompson, Son & Andrews,) is now enlarged and is one of the most extensive and metropolitan hotels in the State, capable of accomodating some 300 guests. The Eastern Railroad depot, near the Kiarsarge House, is a model of neat and tasty architecture, with its round towers and unique corners, pleasant lawns and delightful situation.

The city of Portland having voted to loan its credit by over three to one, for $1,350,000, towards completing the Portland & Ogdensburg Road to the Connecticut river, has woke up the citizens here and they feel in gay spirits, counting this month as the grand turning point towards a glorious future for the Casco City. Messrs. Fuller and Harding, the contractors,—enterprising, experienced and responsible men,—will in a few weeks be hard at work on the extension. The P. & O. managers are confident of proving the remark of Gov. Smith of Vermont true, when he said that the Notch route was the best for Portland, and also attest his sagacity in advocating it in the early stages of the enterprise.

The Portsmouth & Dover Road, after a long spell of doubt and complaining, is at last, we are glad to know, to be built. The Eastern Railroad's guaranteeing the P. & D. at 6 per cent. for fifty years is a wise move. Hon. Frank Jones of your city deserves great credit for pushing this enterprise to a successful result. It verifies his assertion made some time since, "that he would not be President of a dead railroad." So mote it be!

The leading sponsors of the anti-Republican-Liberal-Greeleyite movement in Maine, mysteriously mute and misanthropic managers, — met at the Preble House, Friday, and laid out the plan of operations. The g-r-e-a-t and g-l-o-r-i-o-u-s Democracy was also represented by its fuglemen, including C. P. Kimball, the enterprising carriage manufacturer and their nominee for Governor, Hon. Bion Bradbury, Hon. J. C. Madigan of Houlton, and others. Look out for sensation political movements; the Greeleyites mean business in Maine and it looks as though the contest would be red-hot.

The Democratic Congressional Convention for this First District is to be held on the 25th inst., a week from Thursday. The plan now is to nominate Ex-Gov. Chamberlain and not ask him to decline or accept. But the friends of W. H. Clifford, the eloquent champion of the young Democracy, are confident of his nomination.

Several Boston, New York, Lynn and Dorchester yachts have been in this harbor the past week, making it quite lively hereabouts.

Among the most popular summer resorts in this section of the country is Old Orchard Beach, with its nine miles of broad, beautiful beach. There are some four or five hotels, besides a few boarding houses. The two leading hotels, the Ocean House and the Old Orchard House, face the sea from commanding positions and are large establishments, capable of accommodating some 500 or 600 guests each. The Ocean House was erected in 1870 and is one of the best kept hotels on the coast, the proprietor, Mr. B. Seavey, and the clerks, A. McD. Allan and Mr. Seavey, being the right men in the right places. Mr. Seavey is liked by everyone and labors zealously for the comfort of all. The evening parties, hops, concerts and dramatic entertainments in the grand hall are delightful. The sea view from the piazza is charming, especially these moonlight evenings. The Boston & Maine extension runs a short distance below the Ocean House and the depot will probably be near the end of Mr. Seavey's wide and accommodating plank walk which extends from the house to the beach. Ladies can in slippers take a stroll down to the very shore of old Ocean, as conveniently as about the house. Make a trip to Seavey's and verify our observations!

The News.

Catacazy has published a pamphlet in Paris in justification of his course while representing the Russian government in the United States.

About three thousand natives of Alsace and Lorraine paraded in New York and signed papers of allegiance to France.

General Ryan has arrived at Key West and denies the truth of the Spanish account of the capture of the Fannie expedition.

As the express train which left Boston at 2 o'clock, P. M., Monday, on the Boston and Maine Railroad, was passing East Foxborough station, it ran into a butcher's cart and killed the horse and driver. The train, consisting of five heavily laden passenger cars, was thrown from the track down an embankment, but no person was seriously injured. The Miller platform effectually prevented the cars from telescoping. The cars were all new ones and were damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars.

Mr. William Woodruff, the veteran horse trainer and turfman, died Sunday noon, aged about 50 years.

The New York underground railroad, of which so much has been said, is now in a fair way towards construction. The contracts for its construction will soon be let out.

State News.

Hiram A. Daniells, treasurer of the Wilton Manufactoring Company of East Wilton, (whose mills were burned March 6th,) is a defaulter in the sum of $40,000 or more.

A horse and carriage found on the Dunstable road, four miles from Nashua, recently, has been claimed by Professor Jenks of Brown University. The team was stolen from the professor at Middleborough, Mass., on the 5th of June. A boy at work for Mr. Jenks ran away with it, and deliberately abandoned the team, taking off the harness and safely packing it away, and then turning the horse loose in the woods.

The thermometer at the State house recently indicated 100 degrees.

A new saw mill, owned by A. M. Sawyer of Nashua, is nearly ready for operation in the "New Colony" woods in Orange.

A new passenger engine has been turned out by the Manchester locomotive works for the Boston and Maine Railroad, named for the former president of the road, Francis Cogswell. Its weight is thirty-three tons.

Laconia is to have a public library.

Seven cattle were killed by lightning in a pasture at London on the 12th.

John F. and William F. Hillsgrove of Concord were arrested Monday on a charge made by Deputy Sheriff Henry Andrew of Strafford for breaking and entering the house of John C. Huckins, at that place, and stealing $90 in money, two watches and notes valued at from $200 to $300.

Mr. Thorster Conner, a prominent citizen of Barnstead, died on Saturday last, aged 85 years. He was a soldier in the war of 1812.

The track of the Sugar River road is now laid beyond the east line of Claremont, and the last bridge is nearly completed.

The Hedding camp-meeting at East Epping will take place on the 28th of next month.

A SLEEP OF DEATH.—An old lady of 70 years, named Smith, was fatally injured, Friday morning, under singular circumstances. She resides on the second floor of No. 264 Blue Island avenue. Owing to the extreme warmth of the room, she laid down on the table, close to the front window, and went to sleep. At half past one she rolled off the table and out of the window, alighting bodily on the walk below, and receiving fatal injuries.—Chicago Mail.

"CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT."—This is what the stage and horse car companies, livery-stable keepers, members of the turf, and all grooms and trainers say of the Mustang Liniment. They "can't do without it." And why? Because it infallibly reduces the external swellings, &c., which, under various names, impair the usefulness and value of the king of quadrupeds, and also because, for spraing, straing, galls and other injuries to which horse-flesh is liable, it is the most trustworthy preparation in the market. Yet these recommendations comprise only a portion of its claims to public confidence. During a period of more than sixteen years, it has been recognized as a specific for many of the most agonizing disorders which afflict the human family — such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, tic-doleroux, sore throat, earache, toothache; and likewise as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Dec 13, 1870.

Dr. R. V. Pierce:—For the past six months I have used your Golden Medical Discovery in my practice and in that time I have tested its merits in severe coughs, both acute and chronic, in chronic diseases of the throat, severe cases of bronchitis, general derangement of the system, constipated condition of the bowels, and whenever a through Alterative, or blood purifier has been indicated. In all cases I have found it not merely an adjunct, but actually in removing the various diseased conditions, and bringing about a healthy action throughout the system.

Yours faternally, H. L. HALL, M. D.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. al2

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT enable the victims of disease to dispense with all other medicines. The former relieve the stomach, liver and bowels of all obstructions; the latter heals every external sore, eruption or wound. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cent per box or pot: Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Dipping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

Roll on! great Pill of Ayer, roll on!
Through miles of ambs welod roll!
Roll on!

Through those whose livers chafe the soul!
Through those whose feeble stomachs fail!
Through those mesentaries waxen pale!
Through all who live in aches and ail!
Ever roll on!

Roll o'er the prairies of the nation—
For the sick and ill of every station!
Roll down the Andes—towering mountains!
Roll over Afric's golden fountains!
Through India and the Cheronese!
Through distant isles of Japanese!
Wherever dwells a sinking heart
Roll on, to do your mighty part,
Ayer's Pills, roll on —Putnam for Oct.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—The penetrative and healing action of this potent salve is a marvel throughout the world. Nothing else could be relied on in scrofula, cancer, salt rheum, erysipelas, and external injuries. Sold at 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal blooding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

Special Notices.

Fraud Loves a Shining Mark.

A great medicine is always a target for fraud. Shallow cheats, without the talent to originate anything useful, or the decency to permit an article of superior excellence to perform its mission, without striving to turn a dishonest penny by attempting to substitute trash in its place, are now engaged in imitating and counterfeiting HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most popular tonic and restorative in the civilized world. A brood of local bitters, mixtures of damaged drugs with worse liquor, has cropped out all over the country; although the sales of these pernicious slops are too insignificant to affect the interests of a staple remedy, it seems a duty to warn the public against them. The color of the true specific may be simulated, but its cures of dyspepsia, liver complaint, rheumatism, intermittent fever, constipation, nervous debility, &c. cannot be imitated.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all the afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Laconics.

An inquisitive gentleman asks when the large vessel Hon. Daniel Marcy was going to build at the South End ship yard, just previous to our State election, will be launched. If the querist will wait till the latter part of October his question will be answered, as that will be about the right time to be "going to build" her once more.

An Irishman named Gallaher, who has been working in the Eastern Railroad gang at the gravel pit at the Plains, was severely beaten on Tuesday by others of the gang, from Salem, on suspicion that he was an Orangeman. Gallaher says he is a Roman Catholic, but he would not tell the men who assaulted him what his religious faith is though they have been threatening him for some time past, as it is not their business what he believes so long as he does not interfere with them. They evidently think otherwise.

A correspondent of the Boston Journal, writing of the 4th of July celebration at Walden Pond, Mass., says: "The Hudson Brass Band, under the leadership of Mr. C. H. Tompson, former leader of the Portsmouth Band, were early on the ground, and heralded the speech-making under the canopy of the amphitheatre by performing several excellent selections. From one to two o'clock the Band gave a very fine concert, including several well rendered operatic selections, and among other music familiar to those who have attended the Jubilee, the anvil chorus was given with a grander than Gilmorean accompaniment, for the muttering thunder of an approaching tempest rolled in its peals in nearly as good time as some of the Coliseum cannon." The Hudson Pioneer copies the foregoing, and adds: "We are happy to learn that the services of Mr. Tompson have been engaged for another year and we hope our citizens will contribute liberlly towards making up his salary, which has been increased for the coming year."

Political.

A World correspondent who interviewed Gen. Sherman at Geneva drew from him this view of the situation: "The Democrats are in a position of difficulty.. They represent that party who broke the old civil war, and I do not believe any party so circumstanced in sympathies will, in our generation at least, win the confidence of a majority of our people. The war had to be fought—it was inevitable. Once over we must all wish to see its bitter memories buried, but we cannot consent to have its work undone."

A Southern paper, which hoists the Greeley ticket, prints the following for its own platform: "White supremacy and repudiation!" "The Constitution of 1860 and the rights of States!" "This is a white man's government, made by white men, for white men and their posterity for ever!" Down with the fifteenth amendment!" "Total repudiation of the monstrous Yankee war debt!—that accursed unconstitutional burden! accumulated by an unconstitutional mob, styling itself a Congress, in the prosecution of an unconstitutional crusade, for the accomplishment of their unconstitutional and horrid purpose!"

A correspondent writing from Indiana, says: "You hear terrible reports about Greeleyism in various places, but go upon the ground and it is like milk sickness—just over in the next county. It all vanishes as you proceed."

The Linn (Mo.) Democrat refuses to be delivered to its life-long opponent. For itself it says: "Mr. Auguste Belmont is reputed to have said the Democracy must take Greeley or die. Then we propose to die a little, as it is but death, anyhow."

Ex-Gov. Swan of Maryland, in a speech at Baltimore, announced that he had authority for saying that the policy of Mr. Greeley, if elected President, would be "the policy of the Democratic party." Yet Horace Greeley is none the less a Republican for having sold himself to the Democratic party!

All the members of the Michigan Democratic State Committee have resigned, not being able to swallow a Presidential candidate who has himself swallowed every principle he ever professed to hold, in a desperate attempt to get into office.

It is a good thing to take care of one's relations, if it be done in a modest, quiet way. Grant's father is postmaster at Covington, Kentucky, at the salary of $800. John T. Hoffman, Governor of New York, (who is to be made United States Senator in the place of Conkling, in case the Cincinnati coalition is successful,) made his father-in-law, Starkweather, commissioner of the Church street widening in New York, whereby he made $650,000 in four years.

Some of the Democrats complain because the Republican candidate for Vice-President proposes to take the stump. The Republicans will not complain of Gratz Brown's speaking, if he will keep up the style of his New Haven addresses. —Traveller.

The Republicans of Burlington, Vt., had a mass meeting to ratify the nomination of Grant and Wilson, Monday evening; it was the greatest political demonstration in Burlington since 1840. Between eight and ten thousand people were massed in the square in front of the court-house. Hon Levi Underwood presided, and among the vice-presidents were many of the leading merchants and professional men of the place. Senator Carpenter of Wisconsin made a masterly speech, and was followed by Hon. Lucius E. Chittenden of New York, register of the Treasury during Lincoln's administration. Both speeches were greeted with cheers and frequent applause. Delegations with bands of music were present from St. Albans, Plattsburg, Keeseville, Winooski and Vergennes. The St. Albans Grant and Wilson club was present, 200 strong. After the speeches a grand torch-light procession paraded the streets. Many public buildings and private residences were brilliantly illuminated. The greatest enthusiasm prevailed and the campaign in Vermont for Grant and Wilson may be said to have begun grandly and successfully. The demonstration clearly shows that Greeley has but little hold on the people of that State.

"Very well, sir," said a Democrat to us last evening, "as my party has finally confessed that Republican ideas are right, and Republican legislation is to be maintained, I will go for Grant, who carried these ideas, amendments and laws to success."—Philadelphia Press.

Greeley's remark to the copperhead committee who notified him of his nomination, "you are no less Democrats because you have pursued the course you have, and I am no less a Republican because I accept your nomination," is a little ahead or anything we ever read in the shape of first class twaddle and buncombe. Did Greeley imagine his auditors fools, that he thus boldly told them, white is none the less white for being painted black? Messrs. Greeleycrats, why don't you keep the mouth of your purchase shut?

Hon. P. Clayton, of Georgia, who Buchanan, gives his reasons for supporting Grant, as follows: "When you take into consideration who is his opponent, the motives which have influenced him to desert his party, and the coalition he has formed to get into power, I think Gen. Grant is entitled to a full vote, and so far as I am concerned he shall have it."

Senator Trumbull of Illinois is a Liberal Republican and a Reformer. Such at least, he is termed by his present admirers. Nevertheless he secured the removal of a crippled soldier from an Illinois pension agency and the appointment of his own brother-in-law to the place. "Reformer," indeed!

Hon. James Brooks, M. C. of New York, has been all the way round the world. He arrived at home just in time to do two things, viz: 1. Draw his pay for the time he was absent. 2. Denounce General Grant for absenting himself from Washington. — Toledo Blade.

American Homes for July is exceedingly pleasant reading for any weather, and particularly for this warm season. The publishers, Chas. H. Taylor & Co., of Boston, will give the new oil chromo of "The Two Pets," which is mounted, sized and varnished, ready for framing, with the magazine for a year, for $1.25.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE NORTH-WESTERN (BABCOCK) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY having brought suit against the PHILADELPHIA (GARDNER) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY, for alleged infringement of the Carlier and Vignon Patent, (dated April 13th, 1869,) which the said Babcock Company possesses to own, in the use of water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas as a means to extinguish fires, we desire to make the following statements all of which, we are prepared to fully substantiate by proof:

First. The so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent is invalid for want of novelty, in that a patent was issued to W. H. Phillips in England, in 1844, and in this country in 1850, for a Fire Extinguisher, in which water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas was used as the extinguishing agent.

Second. The said so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent has no legal existence, no legal application ever having been made for it to the Patent Office; and its issuance therefrom was accomplished by gross fraud.

Third. The lawyers conducting the suit against us, brought suit for the same clients on the same Patent, against one Duryea, in the U. S. Court in New York, 1870, and the answer of Duryea being filed, setting forth the facts herein alluded to, said suit was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiffs.

The Babcock Company expects to destroy the sale of the Gardner Extinguisher, which has so seriously interfered with their long-enjoyed monopoly, by extensively advertising this suit, and thus intimidating the public. It is our purpose to defeat their fraudulent design, and to this end, we will shortly publish a history of the matter, which will undeceive the public and expose the worthlessness of that sham, called the Carlier and Vignon Patent.

Copies will be mailed to any address on application. This Company will give guarantees against all loss, damage or trouble for use of the Gardner Extinguisher, and will, at its sole expense, defend all suits that may be brought against it. D. B. WAGGENER, Secretary,
Philadelphia Fire Extinguisher Co.,

PROPERTY IN SAVING'S BANKS AND RAILROADS.—We publish from the Patriot a complete list of towns in the State giving the amount of property invested in Railroads and Savings Banks, as officially corrected by the Legislative Committee. George A. Pillsbury, Esq., of Concord, Chairman of the Committee, furnished the figures. They represent the total value as returned to the State Treasurer on the 1st day of April, 1872. The first column is the amount of money deposited in Savings Banks, and the second the amount of money invested in Railroad stock reckoned at market value. The total amount in Banks does not vary much from $24,609,000:—

AYER'S

CHERRY PECTORAL

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

SARATOGA.—Saratoga, if not crowded, is fuller than usual at this early date. After dinner, when the lazy and gorged visitor waddles out on the piazza to enjoy the delights of post-prandial torpidity, and when Bernstein and Mollenhauer, Junior, soothe the satiated soul and stomach with the sounds of their summer music, the scene is certainly pleasing and populous. It is prettier at night, when the street is crowded with strollers and the foliage is brilliant with gaslight; what time the orchestras in the parlors woo the terpsichorean toe to trip in fantastic measure.

But the toe is not easily wooed. There are very few good dancers here, and the bands play chiefly to little children or to the dancing of female couples. It is deplorable. Pretty girls are forced to waltz with each other or else not to waltz at all; and a quadrille consists of five children, two young ladies and old gentleman. Then there is no display of fine clothes. The ladies dress pretty, to be sure, and look well, but there is none of that extravagance of attire we are wont to associate with the idea of Saratoga.

One lady last night was flashing with diamonds. Diamonds in the ears, diamonds on the fingers, diamonds sparkling on the neck, diamonds twinkling in the hair. This used to be a common sight enough at Saratoga; but this year it is so unusual that it attracted general attention. Is it possible that folks come here to be comfortable rather than to make a display? Perish the unworthy suspicion! Saratoga without its usual tasteless, extravagant show of dry goods and jewelry is Saratoga no longer. Let us rather fondly believe that the next four weeks will bring forth the wardrobes and gems which are in place here if anywhere. As things are now, the Jenkinses who delight to describe the costumes of the lady visitors would be sadly at a loss in this famous resort of fashion and beauty.

The men dress worse even than the women. They enter the parlor arrayed in tweeds and light travelling suits. Alpaca coats, the most comfortable and ugliest garment a man can wear—a garment without style, fit or fashion, a garment limp, shabby and forlorn; a garment to draw tears from the eyes of a fashionable tailor; a garment which is an insult to the name of garment—alpaca coats, I say, are in vogue. Half the men at the hotels wear them; and, again, the awful thought arises: Are we becoming more devoted to comfort than to style? Has American taste culminated and passed into the decline? Melancholy idea! Ominous suggestion! These thoughts open a wide field for scientific reflection.

Is it not possible that Americans, recognizing the fact that half the year they are practically living in the torrid zone, are unconsciously adapting their garb to the exigences of their position? My prophetic soul, darting o'er the abysses of time and springing at once to the year 1950, beholds the Central Park crowded with tawny personages attired in sandals and umbrellas, with perhaps, on full-dress occasions, cool diaphanous drapery loosely enveloping their forms. Tailors have vanished like a dream. Dry good, stores exist no longer, and the successors of Stewart and Claflin earn a precarious subsistance by the sale of ice cream and fans. In museums are shown specimens of the broadcloth suits worn in 1872, at which the public gaze with that feeling of pity for the long-dead wearers which the Briton, of to-day experience when gazing upon the suits of heavy mediæval armor in the Tower of London.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or price—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is higher speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

We Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in advising inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such numistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. JOHN TAGGART."

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. DR. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for them from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the glose and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of his art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and ugly, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

HOLLOWAY'S

PILLS AND OINTMENT.

Every Man His Own Physician.

CAUTION.

THE immense demand for HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT, has tempted unprincipled parties to counterfeit these valuable medicines.

In order to protect the public and ourselves, we have issued a new "Trade Mark," consisting of an Egyptian circle of a serpent, with the letter H in the centre. Every box of genuine HOLLOWAY'S PILLS and OINTMENT will have this trade mark on it; none are genuine without it.

BRIGGS' ALLEVANTOR is composed of Ammonia, Chloroform, Spirits of Camphor, Tincture of Lupuline, Oil of Juniper, and Alcohol. This compound is unequalled in the annals of medicine for the cure of Nervous or Sick Headache, Neuralgia, Trembling or Twitching of the Nerves, and all Nervous Diseases. It will counteract all poisons, banish pimples, cure scaly eruptions, itching, humors, &c.; it equalizes the circulation, invigorates the system, increases the action of the heart, without exciting the brain, cures Heartburn, Palpitation and Fluttering of the Heart, Dyspepsia, &c. Briggs' Allevantor absolutely possesses more curative properties than any other preparation. Physicians, chemists, and others are requested to examine and test the merit, and $1000 will be paid if found different from representation.

COUGHS, Much has been said and many remedies have been offered for the relief and cure of throat and lung diseases; but nothing has been so eminently successful, or obtained such a wide celebrity, as Briggs' Throat and Lung Healer.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distracting pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Festered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the severest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. THOMPSON, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

CORNS, Bunions, Bad Nails, and other diseases of the feet, Scrofulous and Cancerous Humors, Piles, etc., skillfully treated at the great central Chiropodical and Healing Institute, No. 765 Broadway, New York. DR. J. BRIGGS, President; DR. ALEXANDER WEBBER, Secretary. ap9

PAVILLION, WOLFEBORO', July 16.

Life on the Lake seems alone endurable, and the ladies and gentlemen who have escaped from the routine of duty at home, hoping for release from the parching heat, find their efforts unavailing. At Centre Harbor, yesterday, the mercury went up to 95, and the temperature was about the same here. Fifteen of the eight-three excursionists now here are from old Strawberry Bank. Yesterday was the initial day of the summer reunion of the New Hampshire Association, and it brought together such a jolly company as has never gathered before on the annual trips. Capt. Wiggin of Steamer Mount Washington and Mr. E. A. Hardy of the Pavillion House have been unremitting in their attentions. Already two trips on the Lake have been tendered the excursionists, including last night's moonlight excursion; and a third trip (to Alton Bay and return) is the first thing in the programme for to-day. The dancers, aided by most excellent music, monopolized the ladies' parlor until near midnight of yesterday; and the bathers, bowlers, croquet players and rowers have enjoyed themselves hugely. The Massachusetts Association will arrive here this evening en route for the mountains, but by that time the present guests of the Pavillion will be traveling by stage and special train over the Wolfeborough Branch to Sanborn's and on to the Kearsarge House at North Conway, which is to be our abiding place until Thursday.

Political.

Not the least remarkable feature of the abolitionist-worship to which the old slaveholder-worshipping Democratic party has suddenly become converted is the eagerness manifested to get rid of some of the old high priests of the party. The manner in which the Concord Patriot reads Brick Pomery, Toombs, Stephens, and Henry A. Wise out of the Democratic party, as "dead weights" and "dead beats," because they won't support a man who declares himself as much a Republican as ever, would be amusing were it less cruel.

Talking to Governor Hoffman, the Buffalo Commercial Advertiser ask him where the majority of fifty thousand is coming from? "If you base your calculations on the majority that you secured in 1868 you must bear in mind that Horace Greeley himself has repeatedly declared that the State was carried for you and Seymour at that time by 'crimes that ought to fill fifty State prisons to overflowing.' Since that time, he who is now the Democratic candidate worked for and earnestly approved of the passage of that 'Bayonet Law' which is intended to provide for a fair vote and an honest count. The day has passed when the ring Democracy in New York city can pledge the metropolis to as large a majority as may be needed to fulfil the exigences of the hour. It will hardly do, then, for Governor Hoffman to make promises for the empire State. Tammany may vote for Greeley, but it can't elect him. The people will protect the ballot-box."

The Washington correspondent of the Globe telegraphs as follows: "Letters from North Carolina are confident of Republican success. Great exertions are being put forth to bring out the twenty thousand and more negroes and poor whites who have heretofore been kept from the polls by fear of violence."

The Detroit Free Press, a democratic paper, shortly after the Greeley convention at Baltimore thus alluded to the candidate and the convention: "The man himself is the nominee of a self-constituted Republican convention of soreheads, to which no Democrat was admitted; and a parcel of Democratic soreheads have, in their desperation, taken him up in a most unprincipled manner. This cannot be covered up by declaring themselves Democrats. They have either sold themselves to radicalism and Horace Greeley, or they are, in a dishonest manner, seeking through victimizing him to regain the prominence and the offices they have held when the Democratic party was in power. There is hardly a man among them that does not talk of Greeley as a 'bitter pill,' as an 'awful dose,' as the last man they would choose if they could individually have a choice, and yet with this almost universal distaste for the man on account of his principles so honestly proclaimed for thirty years, and which are not even pretended to be changed, these men attempt, in their insane desire for prominence and plunder, to impose him upon the Democratic party. It will fail, and will bring into deserved contempt those leading men who have deluded and will continue to try to delude others." This sort of talk was disgusting to the Greeleyorats, so they have purchased the paper and it will not tell the truth any more.

On July 3, 1871, the Hartford Times, the leading Democratic daily in Connecticut, in an article suggested by the efforts being then put forth by his personal friends to secure Greeley's nomination to the Presidency, said among many other severe things: "Greeley is a clumsy and impolitic manager, and without the means of bringing his party to his support. He is what Napoleon called an idealogist—a man with a busy, teeming brain, with an infirm, erratic and impracticable judgment! With all his experience, it is safe to say that he is the poorest judge of character of any prominent man in this country. He is forever being gulled and imposed upon as he has repeatedly shown by his Quixotic support of public and worthless characters of his own party." And yet the Times now supports Greeley for the office of President!

The News.

A military investigation into the case of Consul-General Butler at Alexandria, Egypt, fully shows, it is said, that he intended to take Major Cambell's life, and that the act was premeditated.

The Saratoga cup was won by the horse Harry Bassett, beating Longfellow. The distance was two and one-quarter miles, and the time 3:59. Longfellow's leg was injured in the race, and it is said that he will never run again.

Fort Monorca, at Nuevitas, was struck by lightning on the night of July 10, and the magazine exploded. Seven of the soldiers were killed, and one of the rifled cannon was carried fifty yards from the embrasure.

A party of ladies and gentlemen, while bathing at Coney Island, near New York, July 15th, were robbed of nearly $8000 worth of jewelry, money and bonds.

Two Irishmen demanded employment on a farm near Benicia, Alameda county, Cal., on the evening of July 15th, and were told by the farmer that he had a number of Chinamen engaged to harvest his crops, and would not need their services. Next morning they were detected firing grain stacks and were captured. The prisoners were tried by the neighboring farmers and hanged.

Boss Tweed's trial was begun in Albany, N. Y., July 15th. The defence argued that the State has no right to bring the suit.

The Geneva tribunal held a session of only thirty minutes, July 16th. Considerable documentary matter was submitted and exchanged by the agents.

A week ago, Thomas Knowland of Henryville, Ind., was assaulted by his nephew Samuel Knowland, on account of an old grudge. On Tuesday evening, July 16, the parties met to arrange the quarrel, when Thomas drew a pistol and shot his nephew mortally. The latter then emptied his revolver at Thomas, killing him instantly.

The New York World publishes the official figures which prove that the Brooklyn Eagle, Thomas Kinsella's paper, was paid $165,260 in three years for alleged advertisements of "water sales." The Eagle is a staunch supporter of Greeley and "reform," and the New York Tribune endorses Kinsella as an honest man and a true patriot.

Montgomery Blair says the Southern Democrats forced the nomination of Greeley at Baltimore. True, no doubt; and should the Southern Democracy succeed in electing their candidate, how long does any reasonable man suppose the pensions of wounded and crippled Union soldiers would be paid unless the Confederate cripples were pensioned as well?

THE GERMAN VOTE.—Prior to the Cincinnati Convention, the so-called Liberal Republicans expected, through the influence of Senator Schurz, to carry with them the great bulk of the German vote. The nomination of Mr. Greeley not only disgusted Mr. Schurz, but repelled instantly the entire German suffrage. It was felt at Baltimore that, inasmuch as Schurz could not or would not attend, something must be done to keep up the appearance of holding on to the large class which he professed to represent. Consequently, Governor Hoffman, with a display of that dramatic power which characterizes him, went upon the platform and, in a speech intended to be effective, presented, as he said, an address of fifteen thousand Germans of the city of New York, endorsing and asking for the nomination of Mr. Greeley. And now comes the New Yorker Staats-Zeitung, and asserts that the document presented by Governor Hoffman was a sham, and intimates that it was a trick which none but dishonest men would have indulged in. We do not expect that the Tammany politicians are to be guided any more in this campaign than they have been in their management of the New York finances, by the rules of honor or of honesty, but if they play such shallow games as this, so soon and so easily understood and exposed, they will lose, what they value more than a decent character—their reputation for smartness.—Hartford Courant.

—Sunset Cox lost his money and watch at Baltimore. They were taken by a "liberal-minded" delegate who roomed with him.

—New Mexico recently decided against free schools, the vote standing 37 for to 2076 against. A poor place for a schoolmaster.

—The notorious Dutch Heinrichs has gone crazy at Sing-Sing prison and is to be transferred to the State insane asylum at Utica, N. Y.

—The Maine Democratic leaders held a secret conclave at the Preble House, Portland, Friday evening, and decided to ask the Greeley National Executive Committee for $25,000 to pay the opening expenses of the campaign.

—South American tourists should hasten to ascend the Andes while yet there are any Andes to ascend. The highest peaks have sunk from 200 to 250 feet within the last 125 years, and the process is going on with increased rapidity.

"CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT."—This is what the stage and horse car companies, livery-stable keepers, members of the turf, and all grooms and trainers say of the Mustang Liniment. They "can't do without it." And why? Because it infallibly reduces the external swellings, &c, which, under various names, impair the usefulness and value of the king of quadrupeds, and also because, for sprains, strains, galls and other injuries to which horse-flesh is liable, it is the most trustworthy preparation in the market. Yet these recommendations comprise only a portion of its claims to public confidence. During a period of more than sixteen years, it has been recognized as a specific for many of the most agonizing disorders which afflict the human family—such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, tic-doloureux, sore throat, earache, toothache; and likewise as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Brigg's Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. a12

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT enable the victims of disease to dispense with all other medicines. The former relieve the stomach, liver and bowels of all obstructions; the latter heals every external sore, eruption or wound. Sold 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cent per box or pot: Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL for all throat diseases.

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terribly nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

Roll on! great Pill of Ayer, roll on!
Through miles emboweled roll!
Roll on!

Through those whose livers chafe the soul!
Through those whose feeble stomachs fail!
Through mesenteries waxen pale!
Through all who live in aches and ail!
Ever roll on!

Roll o'er the prairies of the nation—
For the sick and ill of every station!
Roll down the Andes—towering mountains!
Roll over Afric's golden fountains!
Through India and the Cheronese!
Through distant isles of Japanese!
Wherever dwells a sinking heart
Roll on, to do your mighty part,
Ayer's Pills, roll on.—Putnam for Oct.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.—The penetrative and healing action of this potent salve is a marvel throughout the world. Nothing else could be relied on in scrofula, cancer, salt rheum, erysipelas, and external injuries. Sold at 78 Maiden Lane, N. Y. Price 25 cents per pot. Ask for new style; the old is counterfeited.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

Special Notices.

Fraud Loves a Shining Mark.

A great medicine is always a target for fraud. Shallow cheats, without the talent to originate anything useful, or the decency to permit an article of superior excellence to perform its mission, without striving to turn a dishonest penny by attempting to substitute trash in its place, are now engaged in imitating and counterfeiting HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most popular tonic and restorative in the civilized world. A brood of local bitters, mixtures of damaged drugs with worse liquor, has cropped out all over the country; although the sales of these pernicious slops are too insignificant to affect the interests of a staple remedy, it seems a duty to warn the public against them. The color of the true specific may be simulated, but its cures of dyspepsia, liver complaint, rheumatism, intermittent fever, constipation, nervous debility, &c. cannot be imitated.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphteria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the choice of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

LOCAL AFFAIRS.

Greeley Ratified!

Meeting of the Democratic Sachems.

The meeting of the chief managers of the new-departure Democracy recently held in our city is described by our reporter as having been both solemn and interesting. Our lively Young Democrat who went to Baltimore as a Democrat and returned as a humble follower of H. G., was called upon to give an account of the prospects of the campaign. He admitted that the Democracy were among the things of the past, but said that Democratic-Republican was a name once in vogue, and that by striking out the word "liberal" where it occurs, and inserting in its place "Democratic," everything would be lovely. "Why did you not fire one hundred guns?" said the Ex-Governor's aid; "I would have paid for them if no one else would. Don't I always pay?"

"Yes," replied the Esquire; "but you have all the honors. Even that—(here was an adjective which our reporter failed to recognize) CHRONICLE said the other day that you were the most popular Democrat in the State and could be our nominee for Governor whenever you wanted to."

Here spoke the conservative Colonel. "For my part I can't see my way clear for us as Democrats to make much noise over our bargain. I think I have known the Democratic party of the State as long as any of you, and I doubt if we do not lose more Democratic votes than what we gain from our opponents. I really feel that we have a poor sight. I never expected to be a party in such a corrupt set of political bargains as this."

A rotund gentleman who had for some time been rubbing his gold-bowed spectacles, to enable him more clearly to see the point, remarked: "For my part, I have always been a consistent Democrat; and I never voted for a man whose Democracy I doubted. Whenever you have nominated a 'nunny-fudgen' in city affairs, for example, I have always taken the liberty to vote against him, and I always shall. I don't know how far we have been compromised by our delegates. Perhaps they are satisfied that they did right, but I fail to see it—"

The 'Squire here stated that there must be enthusiasm at the outset or the thing was all over for four years longer, and corrupt office-holders and Grant's hirelings would still continue to steal from us and keep up our taxes. "For example," said he, "I happen to belong to the City Government, and—"

"Avast, there! Albert," sung out the Captain; "don't let us hear that again. What is our City Government to this great nation? The South seems to be satisfied with Greeley, and he helped out Davis; what have we to do but to take him? My friend here talks about paying. Good Heavens! I wish he had been a candidate for Senator last Spring. It seemed that every Irishman who voted for me saw the bottom of his flour barrel next morning. I stood up Pleasant Street, but was obliged to bear up and try Water Street. I never had so many friends anxious for my health before. Going to Congress was nothing to it. Judge Woodbury tells me if we can elect Greeley we shall have Navy Yard patronage enough to take care of my election next time. But now we can't promise them places till we are a little more out of the fog. I think we ought to have a ratification meeting, and have Charles Woodbury and John George here to wake us up,—though I am sorry to see that Woodbury found it necessary to praise Sumner when he abused Grant."

The Captain evidently had the best of the thing. The host moved to the bell-pull; "gentlemen," said, he "let's take something." Our reporter thought he would take something. He did; he took his departure.

Laconics.

A large schooner, coal laden, while on her way to Sise's Wharf recently, became headstrong and restive under the influence of strong eddies and a stronger tidal current, and ran her jib-boom into the gable end of a storehouse belonging to Mr. B. F. Webster, fronting on Bow Street, making a hole nearly big enough to have admitted the whole vessel had not the wharf been in the way. Such cases of breaking and entering are not rare on that locality. Masters of vessels, when unacquainted with the strong and varying currents of our river, would often save a bill for damages by taking a tug-boat when shifting their berth. Many of those acquainted with the river do so.

A large and handsome flag, bearing the name of the man who is none the less a Republican for having sold himself to the Democrats, was raised at the foot of State Street on Tuesday evening by the men who are none the less Democrats for having purchased a life-long opponent to serve as their Presidential candidate. The Corpet Band furnished good music and the Democracy did considerable cheering.

The annual exhibition of the Boys' High School takes place this afternoon

Sheriff Rowe's Removal.

We clip the following from a Boston paper:

The governor and council met at the council chamber in Concord, July 16. The address for the removal of Samuel Rowe from the office of sheriff of Rockingham county, passed at the late session of the legislature, being under consideration, William H. Hackett, Esq., appeared and presented a petition signed by many prominent business men of Portsmouth, of Republican politics asking, the retention of Mr. Rowe. William H. Hills, Esq., of Plaistow, subsequently appeared and advocated the claims of Caleb Moulton, who was removed by the address of the legislature of 1871, for reappointment. The address for the removal of Rowe was laid on the table and without further action the session was adjourned for two weeks. In case of the removal of Mr. Rowe, Messrs. Odlin of Exeter and Dustin of Salem are said to be candidates for the office.

School Exhibition.

The annual exhibition of the Girls' High School took place Wednesday afternoon, the following being the programme for the occasion:

PIANO-SOLO. By CARRIE G. NEIL.
MUSIC. "Rock of the Pilgrims," by School.
1. SALUTATORY (Eng.).....Helen L. Philbrick.
2. THE LAST TASCHASTAS, C. A. Cunningham.
3. " " " A. M. Swasey.
4. COMPOSITION, "Home,".....E. F. Hilton.
MUSIC, "I care not who owns the waving corn."
5. LATTER-DAY WARNINGS....E. P. Payson.
6. COMPOSITION,.....M. W. Harrat.
7. DIALOGUE, "May Queen,".....Fourth Class.
MUSIC. "There's a Musical Isle."
8. BURGOMASTER GULL.....I. E. Shackley.
9. RECITATION.....Third Class.
10. COMPOSITION.....C. A. Cunningham.
11. HER LETTER. (Bret Harte).....I. Marston.
MUSIC. "Pulling hard against the stream."
12. HOW THE MONEY GOES.....F. A. Ham.
13. COMPOSITION.....G. Parker.
14. DIALOGUE.....Part of Fourth Class.
15. ACT WELL YOUR PART, with Valedictory Addresses.....L. B. Rand.
MUSIC. "The Golden Age is coming yet."
16. PRESENTATION OF DIPLOMAS.
17. AWARD OF HAVEN MEDALS.
18. ADDRESSES BY COMMITTEE, &c.
MUSIC. "Home and Friends."
19. PRAYER.
20. PORTUGESE HYMN.

The exercises passed off in a manner creditable to the pupils and their teachers, the recitations were generally finely given, the compositions showed considerable ability on the part of their authors, and the singing was, we think, better than at any previous exhibition. The room was handsomely decorated, and many of the spectators,—of whom there were more than there was room for,—carried off beautiful bouquets at the close of the day. The whole afternoon was taken up, the school not being dismissed until about 6 o'clock. Mayor Marvin presented the diplomas to the graduates, and short addresses were made by Rev. Mr. Alden, Rev. O. F. Van Cise and Hon. Marcellus Bufford. The names of the scholars receiving the Haven medals we did not learn.

The following are the names of the graduating class of

GIRLS.—Annie Blaisdell, Clara Augusta Browne, Corinda Anna Cunningham, Clara Marvin Dame, Mary Wendell Harrat, Florence Hayes, Florence Ann Ham, Emma Frances Hilton, Mary Josephine Knowlton, Ida Lovell Marston, Helen Louisa Philbrook, Ella Phillips Payson, Gertrude Parker, Louise Bryant Rand, Alice Mary Swasey, Ida Estella Shackley, Sarah Edith Tarleton, Clara Emogene Williams.

—The Cincinnati Gazette says that if the provincial jealousy which characterized the descriptions of the Jubilee in New York journals is a true representation of New York spirit, then that city is in soul nothing but a village.

—When Joaquin Miller was at Niagara he was accosted by a Boston lady with the inquiry, "Now, do you really live all alone out in the woods, with no shelter but the leafy branches or the rocky caves?" "No, madam," he replied, "I have two squaws." The lady passed on, soliloquizing on the inhumanity of man to woman.

DEATHS.

In this city, July 16, Mrs. MARTHA TREDICK, aged 96 years, 6 months.

☞ Funeral to-day (Friday) at 11 o'clock from the residence of her son J. M. Tredick, Esq., No. 69 State Street. Relatives and friends are invited to attend.

In this city, July 14, ALICE B. CASWELL, youngest child of John W. and Hattie M. Caswell, aged 1 year, 3 months.

Mild and loving were her ways;
Very happy seemed she here;
Bright the sunshine that she brought
With her from the upper sphere.

Now, her little hand is pointing
Heavenward, as we journey on;
May it guide us, and receive us
When our earthly work is done.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The NORTH-WESTERN (BABCOCK) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY having brought suit against the PHILADELPHIA (GARDNER) FIRE EXTINGUISHER COMPANY, for alleged infringement of the Carlier and Vignon Patent, (dated April 13th, 1869,) which the said Babcock Company professes to own, in the use of water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas as a means to extinguish fires, we desire to make the following statements all of which, we are prepared to fully substantiate by proof:

First. The so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent is invalid for want of novelty, in that a patent was issued to W. H. Phillips in England, in 1844, and in this country in 1850, for a Fire Extinguisher, in which water impregnated with Carbonic Acid Gas was used as the extinguishing agent.

Second. The said so-called Carlier and Vignon Patent has no legal existence, no legal application ever having been made for it to the Patent Office; and its issuance therefrom was accomplished by gross fraud.

Third. The lawyers conducting the suit against us, brought suit for the same clients on the same Patent, against one Duryea, in the U. S. Court in New York, 1870, and the answer of Duryea being filed, setting forth the facts herein alluded to, said suit was dismissed at the cost of the plaintiffs.

The Babcock Company expects to destroy the sale of the Gardner Extinguisher, which has so seriously interfered with their long-enjoyed monopoly, by extensively advertising this suit, and thus intimidating the public. It is our purpose to defeat their fraudulent design, and to this end, we will shortly publish a history of the matter, which will undeceive the public and expose the worthlessness of that sham, called the Carlier and Vignon Patent.

Copies will be mailed to any address on application. This Company will give guarantees against all loss, damage or trouble for use of the Gardner Extinguisher, and will, at its sole expense, defend all suits that may be brought against it. D. B. WAGGENER, Secretary,
Philadelphia Fire Extinguisher Co.,

AYER'S

SARSAPARILLA

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking taint in the system, which undermine health and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, whose action they derange, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Erupting Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and ulcerous disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Morning Chronicle.

Political reminiscences are not only of interest as matters of history, but they often throw light upon the probable outcome of the present political problems. They often, also, rob of their claims to novelty many public changes which are christened "new departures." There are quite a number of analogies to the present condition of parties to be derived from a consideration of the Presidential campaign of 1812. At that time the country was on the eve of war. President Madison had nearly completed his first term, and was a candidate for re-nomination. It was manifest that Madison was not particularly inclined to favor hostilities with England, yet he desired to be President. The Democrats contained a war party and a peace party. The discussion of a foreign war resulted in an immediate political war. It broke out in Congress. While the Federals were in a minority, they were re-inforced by the anti-administration Democratic split-off. Among those who took a Sumner-Schurz-Trumbull attitude were Senators Smith, Lieb and Giles, with others of less ability. Mr. Madison was sore pressed to side for war. DeWitt Clinton stood ready to accept a nomination on that platform. Finally Madison yielded and was put in nomination, with Mr. Gerry for Vice-President. Upon this, the Democratic members of the New York Legislature nominated DeWitt Clinton for an opposition candidate. An energetic effort was put forth to persuade him to withdraw. He persisted in keeping the field, leading a large following of "Liberal" Democrats.

The Federalists then gathered in New York to nominate candidates for President and Vice President. They closed their doors to the outer world and wrestled with the issue. The question was whether or not to swallow Clinton, for the sake of possible victory. It was a bitter pill. They felt it to be a "wallowing in the mud." For three days the wordy warfare waged, and the perspiring contestants tried vainly to harmonize. Finally the old traditions of the party were laid upon the alter. "Anything to beat Madison" proved the successful war cry, and Clinton was endorsed for President, with Jared Ingersoll for Vice President. Thus the canvass of 1812 presents a complete analogue of the canvass of 1872, only then the split-off was from the Democracy, and the "Feds" furnished the "big end" of the transaction.

The campaign was an unusually exciting one, but the outcome was a triumph of the "straights." Madison received of the electoral vote 128, Clinton 89, while Gerry as Vice President received 131 and Ingersoll 86. Nevertheless Massachusetts, before strongly Democratic, gave Clinton a majority of 24,000. New York gave the Clintonites. Those of New Hampshire were all Federalists, and this party also carried the Legislature of New Jersey, and more than half the Congressional delegation of that State. It is worthy of notice that Clinton, although anxious to head the war party, when it was supposed that Madison was for peace, did finally head the peace party when Madison declared for war.—Chicago Post.

WONDERS OF LIGHTNING.—A flash of light rushes through space at such a rate that it might go from the earth to the moon in one second. Then what time is allowed a man's nerves th transmit to the brain the impression of a stroke of lighting? And what time has the brain to understand the crash? Absolutely none? The flash occurs, and in darkness life is cut off. Experience bears out this deduction, for Professor Tyndall relates thus his own experience:

"Some time ago I happened to stand in the presence of a numerous audience with a battery of fifteen large Leyden jars charged beside me; through some awkwardness on my part, I touched a wire leading from the battery, and a discharge went through my body. The sense of life was absolutely blotted out for a very sensible interval, without a trace of pain. In a second or so consciousness returned; I saw myself in the presence of the audience and apparatus, and by the help of these external appearances immediately concluded that I had received the battery discharges. The intellectual consciousness of my position was restored with exceeding rapidity; but not so the optical consciousness. To prevent the audience from being alarmed, I observed that it had often been my desire to receive accidentally such a shock, and that my wish had at length been fulfilled. But while making this remark, the appearance which my body presented to myself was that of a number of separate pieces. The arms, for example, were detached from the trunk, and seemed suspended in the air. In fact, memory and power of reasoning appeared to be complete long before the optic nerve was restored to healthy action. But what I wish chiefly to dwell upon here is, the absolute painlessness of the shock; and there cannot be a doubt that when struck dead by lightning, the passage from life to death occurs without consciousness being in the least degree implicated. It is an abrupt stoppage of sensation unaccompanied by a pang."

FOR BUSINESS MEN TO CONSIDER.—In the course of a speech at Galesburg, Ill., on the 2d instant, General Logan made the following remarks:

You business men who have money to loan, and those who are borrowers; you men who are producers and those who are consumers; laborers who are now getting wages, all, is there any reason for a change at this time? The first notice that Greeley gave after his nomination was that he would turn gold out of the treasury. A dangerous experiment at the start, my friends. With Mr. Greeley's inconsistencies and strange freaks it does seem to me that to trust him with the management of the finances of this nation would be like trusting your money in a "wild cat insurance company in a Chicago fire." I have no hard things to say against Mr. Greeley; he is a very good old gentleman, but every good old gentleman will not make a good President. It is for you to choose. If you elect Mr. Greeley, at the same time his election carries a Democratic Congress; and if misrule follows and a financial crisis is the result, then the responsibility is not ours, who support our tried man. If Mr. Greeley was a practical man, then there might be some argument made for him; but he is not, and the country all are aware of the fact.

—For the oldest conductors and one engineer of a leading railroad out of Boston were suspended last Tuesday because of negligence in the making up of their trains.

—It is said that by the expenditure of $36,000,000 for levees on the Mississippi River, 7,000,000 acres of cotton land and 2,500,000 acres of sugar land would be reclaimed, the annual product of which, it is estimated, would amount to $150,000,000 in gold.

AYER'S
CHERRY PECTORAL
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation or maintained it so long as AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, which have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicines. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the CHERRY PECTORAL has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, which is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Still, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords in sudden attacks, and by its timely use.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE CAMPAIGN. A dispatch from Washington to the New York Times says: "Political advices received here from Indiana within the past few days are very encouraging for the Republicans. There is a well-grounded belief among the best judges that the State will elect the Republican ticket in October next. This belief is only entertained because of the known facts in regard to the thorough organization of the canvass thus early in the campaign, and because of the vigilant and untiring efforts of the State committee and its accessions in the counties, towns and districts. An organization by school districts throughout the State is now being perfected, by which concert in action can be secured nearly as perfect as in New Hampshire. No roseate views of the campaign prevail in Indiana. The Republican workers too well know that nothing but hard work will win the victory. The men of coolest judgment here, among whom are several members of the administration, view the general situation somewhat as the Indiana Representatives view the situation in that State. They are confident of victory, but expect that it will be achieved only by hard work. What they look to especially for effective aid is local organization, initiated first in the State committees and running down through to township and school districts. They look to see this done with unusual energy in the States of New York and Pennsylvania. They do not mean to be deceived or allow anybody to be deceived by false estimates of Republican strength any more than they mean to be bluffed by the extravagant game of brag which the Greeleyites are now playing. They expect to see hard work done, and know that only will secure victory over a desperate and unscrupulous enemy."

"BOILED CROW."—The New York Nation is responsible for the following:

Mr. Greeley appears to be "boiled crow" to more of his fellow-citizens than any other candidate for office in this or any other age of which we have record. The anti-free-trade Cincinnati men say he is boiled crow to them; boiled crow he is to his former republican associates; and now the democrats are saying in a curious way that to them also he is boiled crow. "Whatever you do, don't nominate him at Baltimore," say the Missouri Republican, Springfield Rebublican and Cincinnati Commercial; "he is boiled crow to us, but he could get more republican votes if he was not to be swallowed along with you; make no nomination, 'recommend' him, and go out of sight." "But he is boiled crow to our men," the democrats say; "we must nominate, we cannot get him taken down and kept down unless we draw the lines tight and command the party to take him as the democratic party candidate regularly nominated in full convention." The straight ticket democrats in their turn declare that he is too much boiled crow for them, and that if he is nominated they will bolt. Was ever candidate in such a position before? And where are the people to come from for whose delusion this impudently open scheming is done? Is it no longer "in vain that the net is spread in the sight of any bird?" Is it that there are no democrats to revolt at this performance? or no republicans to be alarmed at the apparition of "the unterrified" again in full array? The democracy, which was to have been buried about this time, as our soft-hearted liberal republican friends used to say, appears on the contrary to be a lively corpse, and one with an appetite for eating whatever undertakers gather about it.

GREELEY'S PARTNERSHIP WITH TWEED.—A curious incident has been brought up during the week, which trifling though it be, helps to confirm what we have more than once said as to the great source of danger in letting Mr. Greeley into the Presidency—his weakness with regard to his "friends." He has been accused frequently during the past six months of having gone into a company for the manufacture of tobacco, within the past year, with Bill Tweed and other members of the Ring. Now he abhors tobacco, and preaches against it vigorously as against alcoholic drinks. He has also denounced Tom Murphy severely for going into real estate speculations with Bill Tweed and his kind. Consequently, when we are told, and told truly, that he has himself been concerned with them in a cigar enterprise, it seems on the surface as if he was a dreadful wicked and deceitful old fellow. But the truth appears to be that, in this as in so many other cases, he is simply weak. A Mr. Charles C. Eaton writes to the Tribune, declaring that Mr. Greeley went into the tobacco business, or rather lent his name for use in it, simply to "oblige a friend" who had neither credit nor money, and had, or thought he had got hold of a good cigar-machine. In our opinion, the number of needy "friends" who would be found in Washington during Mr. Greeley's Administration would be more than the nation could stand, unless population and resources grow more rapidly than they now do.—N. Y. Nation, June 7.

The Singer

SEWING MACHINE

STILL LEADS THE MARKET.

The Success of the Company is far beyond that of any other similar concern; the

Daily Manufacture

—OF—

400 OF THE SINGERS

Failing to Supply the Constant Demand.

All other machines call the public attention to some new loop or stitch or tension or finish, some advantage in running or needles or feed or prices—and many of these are as we have said very good points, and the agents selling them use them to divert entirely the would-be purchaser from fairly considering the facts in the case; but the

seems to unite the good qualities of all, and is never found wanting.

THE SINGER

IS THE

OLDEST

SEWING MACHINE

IN THE MARKET,

All others being copied from its first model. It does two-thirds the sewing done in this country and preserves its advantages over all others combined.

It is readily kept clean, and has THE BEST TENSION EVER INVENTED; it is lighter speeded and requires but little power to run; it works equally well upon the finest and heaviest goods; it does all the varieties of work known to the art.

For Inventions, Trade Marks or Designs,

No. 168 STATE ST., OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of thirty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms with dispatch. Research made to determine the validity and utility of Patents or inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office. EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges. AYER'S HAIR VIGOR.

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment, and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray; either of them disposes to fall off prematurely, and either effect is unsightly and unpleasant to behold. Dr. AYER'S consummate skill has produced an antidote for these deformities, which has won gratitude for him from multitudes of men and women. His HAIR VIGOR sometimes reproduces lost hair; and always restores to faded and gray hair its natural color, with the gloss and freshness of youth. The comparatively few bald and gray heads, that we now see, are those who have not yet discovered the virtues of AYER'S HAIR VIGOR for renewing the hair. The fresh and youthful hair we see on older heads is often the product of this art. If you are disfigured, or made old, austere and sombre, by gray hair, restore its youthful color, and with your features to their original softness and agreeable expression.

As an elegant dressing for beautifying the Hair, it has no superior.

CORNS! The excruciating pain produced by Corns, the unceasing twinging from Bunions, the piercing, distressing pain from Ingrowing Nails, cannot be described. Thousands suffer, not knowing there is a cure. Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies are no acid or potash compounds, but are reliable, soothing, and effectual, and just merit the success they have earned from an appreciative public. The Curative is a healing ointment; immediate relief is obtained by its application, and it will positively cure the worst cases of Pustered Corns, Inflamed and Ulcerated Bunions, the sorest instep, the largest and severest Blisters, the most extensive Callosities on the soles or heels of the feet, unequalled in the cure of Chilblains or Frosted Feet. The Allevantor for ordinary corns and preventing their formation is absolutely unexcelled by anything ever known.

PILES have been a terror to mankind for centuries, and almost every attempt to cure them has been baffled. By unceasing study and experimenting, Dr. Briggs has discovered an absolutely cure for internal, bleeding, external, and itching piles. Briggs' Pile Remedies are mild, safe and sure.

For sale by J. H. THACHER, WM. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth; JAMES O. TREFETHEN, Kittery; E. S. SAFFORD, Kittery Point; H. M. CURTIS, Newcastle, and dealers generally.

CORNS, Bunions, Bad Nails, and other diseases of the feet, Scrofulous and Cancerous Humors, Piles, etc., skillfully treated at the great central Chiropodical and Healing Institute, No. 765 Broadway, New York. DR. J. BRIGGS, President; DR. ALEXANDER WEBBER, Secretary. ap9

Political.

The New York World calls President Grant's acceptance of the judgment of the arbiters a disgraceful surrender to Great Britain. The very next day, in a long article in which it says the arbiters have done "just what England declared the tribunal never should do, which was to pass a valid and binding decision respecting the indirect claims," the World declares that "public opinion will forever award to Mr. Adams the merit of this brilliant coup." That is, the same act which one day is a disgraceful surrender by the President the very next day is styled a brilliant achievement, when the credit can be given to somebody else.

The Charleston (S. C.) News looks upon the nomination of Greeley as the dawning of the day when "the North and South shall alike respect the Stars and Bars as the flag under which dauntless Americans bled and died."

A letter from Charles Sumner to L. U. Reavis of St. Louis, which was recently telegraphed from that city and has been widely circulated by the Democratic press, was garbled by leaving out the closing sentence. As it is now given it does not seem to promise well for the fulfilment of the Democratic hope that Sumner's hatred of Grant might drive him into the Democratic party. The letter closes as follows: "The Republican party must be saved, and what I can do shall be done for it." Sumner may be brought to believe that the only way to save the Republican party is to labor for its overthrow, but he does not seem to be quite convinced of it yet.

Marshal Carrow of North Carolina has made a statement from books in his office in regard to the charge made by Congressman Beck, from which it appears that Carrow has drawn from the United States Treasury during the last fifteen months $214,271 all of which except $66,367 was drawn in 1871. In the same fifteen months, Carrow has paid on account of expenses of the federal courts in North Carolina, $225,619. For the spring term, fall and special terms 1871 and spring term 1872, every dollar drawn has been certified by the Hon. Geo. W. Brooks as judge for North Carolina, whose official conduct has never been questioned. The large expenses of the court are due to increased business, caused by the prosecution of Ku-Klux and the perpetrators of frauds upon the internal revenue. In these cases, besides the prisoners, thousands of witnesses have been transported to the place where the court was held, and subsisted there by the government, a large proportion of them being in the interest of prisoners.

The political campaign in North Carolina, which will be short and brisk, and which is of more than ordinary national importance, was opened in earnest Wednesday evening by an address by Secretary Boutwell in Greensborough. He told his hearers that it was not enough to "clasp hands across the bloody chasm," but that that chasm must be filled. The Secretary also discussed at length the financial policy of the administration, and showed the dangers of the change that would be effected should Greeley be elected President.

An officer of the Treasury, who has been on duty in North Carolina for the past year, and who of late has had occasion to visit every section of the State, expresses unhesitating opinion that North Carolina will go for Grant by a largely increased majority. The colored vote he represents as solid for Grant, as also nearly the entire white Republican element. He says the Democrats agree that the party cannot rally its full vote for Greeley.

William Dean, chairman of the Delaware democratic Stote committee, publishes a card announcing his resignation of that position on account of the nomination of Greeley, and says that he is ready to help form a straight Democratic ticket.

A conference of several prominent straight-out Democrats was held in Richmond, Va., July 17, with the alleged purpose of forming a coalition against Greeley and to stump the State for Grant. The conference was secret and the names of the participants were not reported, excepting those of James Lyons and J. Hammer Gilmer.

The account of Greeley's corrupt secret bargain with the Democrats, begun last October, explains to the Ogdensburgh (N. Y.) Journal several things which till now have been great mysteries to it. It says: "It would explain his trip to Texas, his speech at Memphis, his eulogy of the Southern Confederate soldiers, his pilgrimage to Atlanta; his letter to the editor of the Caucasian, in which he says the mistake of the Democratic party in 1868 was in not nominating Salmon P. Cease; his intimation that Mr. Chase would not do in 1872, and his conduct in constantly holding up Gen. Grant as a terror to be repeated if the Democratic party dared to make a straight nomination in 1872."

A resident of Sandusky county, Ohio, says that he knows of fifty Democrats in his own township who have declared that they will not vote for Greeley under any circumstances. Some of them will vote for Grant; many of them will not vote at all.

Just before the close of the war Mr. Greeley was willing that the rebels should be paid four hundred millions of dollars for their slaves. Is that the sum they are to receive from the National Treasury as the price for their supporting him for the Presidency? No wonder they are enthusiastic for him at that price.—Traveller

THE SOUTHERN PLATFORM. — The Caucasian is a Missouri newspaper gifted with the gift of prophecy. Whether it had knowledge on which to base its vaticinations, or whether it was only natural coteness that gave it the power to look into futurity, it is in vain to conjecture. But this is certain—it predicted the nomination of Greeley and Brown as the Democratic candidates months before the meeting of the Cincinnati Convention.

The Caucasian is not only a prophet, it is also a statesman. It has a platform of its own, and here it is:

"State Sovereignty, White Supremacy, and REPUDIATION! This is Liberty!

Our platform: The Constitution of 1860, and the Rights of the States!

This is a White Man's Government, made by White Men, for White Men and their Posterity, forever!

DOWN WITH THE FIFTEENTH AMENDMENT!

Equal Taxation and the Representation of all the States, or ANOTHER REBELLION!"

Except that the Fifteenth Amendment is of comparatively recent enactment, and that repudiation may be a consequence of acquisition of a war debt, this statement of principles has nothing new in it. It is in the least startling, it is only in its profuse use of notes of admiration, small capitals and italics; for from "State sovereignty" down to "rebellion" it is precisely the body of doctrine which "fired the southern heart" before the war. State sovereignty at the South means, as it always meant, State supremacy at the South only, or southern independence. It never meant sovereign local government, but the sovereignty of the Southern States over the Northern States, and the supremacy of a power based upon chattel slavery over all that section where slavery did not exist, and between whose interests and those of slaveholders there was an irreconcilable hostility. "White supremacy" means, therefore, not only the supremacy of white men over black men, but of white men owning or controlling negroes, over all other white men. This was the autonomy which the South endeavored to establish by force of arms in a civil war of four years.

Is this obscure sheet, called the Caucasian, the only southern rebel that has kept green the memory of what the South fought for and lost? We venture to say that not only does every rebel remember it but he believes in it still. Not only does he believe in it but he would fight for it again as well, if he thought it possible that he could gain anything by fighting. But the Caucasian is only absurd when it talks about another rebellion. The South learned that they lost by war that which they had always possessed, and might still have held in peace, through politics and the Democratic party. Through the Democratic party they hope now to regain all that can be saved from the wreck of their past power. A "white man's government," in which the blacks shall be a subject class without political recognition; repudiation, or more probably the assumption of the southern war debt; that sort of State sovereignty which means the subjection of northern States through Democratic rule—this the South still hopes is possible if the existing Democratic organization can be restored to power. They know, and the Democratic leaders know, that the people will never consent, if they know what they are about, to put the government again into the hands of the party that made civil war inevitable and did their best to end it by the subjugation of the North. But they hope to cheat the people into doing that which they would never do in their sober senses and clothed in their right mind, and therefore they have nominated Horace Greeley.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

—The New York 7th regiment spent one hundred thousand dollars during its six day's encampment.

—Joe Jefferson has recovered the use of his eyes. He is obliged to wear goggles during the day-time.

—It is said that the balcony of the Catskill Mountain House commands a view of about 10,000 square miles.

—On Friday last a party of Portland young ladies took the Portland and Ogdensburg cars for North Conway, starting from there on foot on a hundred miles tramp through and around the mountains.

—A young lady asked her mamma, "How long does the honeymoon last?" to which the practical mother replied, "Until you ask your husband for money."

—A thrifty Bostonian recently "placed" $10,000 insurance on the life of his wife, took home a box of little red Maryland plums and enjoyed a whole evening in seeing his wife eat them. His enterprise had its reward. Deducting $298 for the funeral expenses, he is now $9702 richer than he was a week ago.

—The last story of Horace Greeley is that he was sitting in a Connecticut depot the other day, looking very abstracted as is proper for great men to do, when a friend suddenly stepped up to him, and slapping him familiarly on the shoulder said: "How dy do; folks all well?" The sage suddenly flushed in an instant: "You lie, you villain, you——" he shouted, and then suddenly recalling himself he added, as the rich blood mounted to his face, "Go west, please."

—Something of the grandeur of the "boundless prairie," something of its fierce heat when the "direfiend" envelopes it is to be discovered in the rhetoric of the Western editor as he goes for the enemy who has trifled with his forbearance and defiaed the lightnings of his wrath:—"The flannel-mouthed poll-parrot of the Paoli Sentenger has too long roosted in the shadow of our good nature. Let him beware. Forbearance is no longer a virtue. We shall set his dainty plumage scurrying on the four winds of heaven, and give his bloated carcass to the vultures."

"CAN'T DO WITHOUT IT."—This is what the stage and horse car companies, livery-stable keepers, members of the turf, and all grooms and trainers say of the Mustang Liniment. They "can't do without it." And why? Because it infallibly reduces the external swellings, &c, which, under various names, impair the usefulness and value of the king of quadrupeds, and also because, for sprains, strains, galls and other injuries to which horse-flesh is liable, it is the most trustworthy preparation in the market. Yet these recommendations comprise only a portion of its claims to public confidence. During a period of more than sixteen years, it has been recognized as a specific for many of the most agonizing disorders which afflict the human family—such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, tic-doloureux, sore throat, earache, toothache; and likewise as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.

CORNS.—Since pride and fashion have had control of mankind, and shoemakers were compelled to make boots and shoes to fit fancy instead of the feet, the suffering from Corns, Bunions, Ingrowing Nails, Sore Insteps, Blistered Heels, Callosities on the bottom of the feet, &c., cannot be described. But Briggs' Corn and Bunion Remedies will cure all such torments, and proper fitting boots will prevent their reproduction. Sold by all druggists. a12

ONE-HALF the people cannot take Castor Oil from its terrible nauseating taste, and recoil in the throat. The Castoria prepared by Dr. Pitcher is purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, pleasant to take, and more effective than Castor Oil. It does not distress or gripe, but regulates the system, and operates when all other remedies have failed. It acts like magic for Stomach Ache, Constipation, Flatulency, Croup and Worms. It contains neither Minerals, Morphine nor Alcohol. Its soothing, quieting effect, produces natural sleep, and particularly adapts it to crying and teething children. No article has ever met such unqualified endorsement by the Physicians. Take no more Bitter Pills, Narcotic Syrups, Griping Purgatives or Sickening Oils. The Castoria costs but 35 cents, and when once tried you will never be without it. 53 Broadway, N. Y.

PILES.—The unceasing torture from internal bleeding, external and itching piles is fast wearing away the thousands of those who are afflicted and their hope and courage have long since given place to despair. Let those who see this cheer up, for a mild and sure cure may be had by using BRIGGS' PILE REMEDIES.

Special Notices.

Fraud Loves a Shining Mark.

A great medicine is always a target for fraud. Shallow cheats, without the talent to originate anything useful, or the decency to permit an article of superior excellence to perform its mission, without striving to turn a dishonest penny by attempting to substitute trash in its place, are now engaged in imitating and counterfeiting HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the most popular tonic and restorative in the civilized world. A brood of local bitters, mixtures of damaged drugs with worse liquor, has cropped out all over the country; although the sales of these pernicious slops are too insignificant to affect the interests of a staple remedy, it seems a duty to warn the public against them. The color of the true specific may be simulated, but its cures of dyspepsia, liver complaint, rheumatism, intermittent fever, constipation, nervous debility, &c. cannot be imitated.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England,

Pulmocine Cordial

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. EVERY FAMILY should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred THROAT DISEASES at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of PREVENTION. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this FAMILY MEDICINE prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best PULMONARY CURATIVE he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are WILD CHERRY BARK, SQUILL ROOT, LIQUORICE ROOT, BLOOD ROOT, &c. It is a BLOOD PURIFIER, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic, and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves restlessness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, &c.

USE BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified, in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.

A medicine that cures is a real public blessing. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA makes positive cure of a series of complaints, which are always afflicting and too often fatal. It purifies the blood, purges out the lurking humors in the system, which undermine health, and settle into troublesome disorders. Eruptions of the skin are the appearance on the surface of humors that should be expelled from the blood. Internal derangements are the determination of these same humors to some internal organ, or organs, whose action they disturb, and whose substance they disease and destroy. AYER'S SARSAPARILLA expels these humors from the blood. When they are gone, the disorders they produce disappear, such as Ulcerations of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Lungs, Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases of the skin, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Boils, Tumors, Tetter and Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Ulcers and Sores, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Pain in the Bones, Side, and Head, Female Weakness, Sterility, Leucorrhœa arising from internal ulceration and uterine disease, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Emaciation, and General Debility. With their departure health returns.

Award of Medals; Presentation of Diplomas; Remarks of Committee and Visitors; Prayer and Benediction.

On this occasion, as at the exhibition of the Girl's High School the day before, the school room was far too small to accommodate the visitors, many (including, as we are informed, not a few parents having children among the pupils,) being obliged to go away from want of room to accommodate. But the best was done that could be under the circumstances, as there is no public hall in the city large enough to accommodate the numbers desirous of attending these school exhibitions, tho' there probably will be such a place—after we get the new City Hall. We only fear it will be a new City Hall a century hence.

The school room was tastefully decorated, the picture of a Portsmouth & Dover Railroad train, which was looked upon as a myth a year ago, attracting considerable attention in view of the probable building of that road in the immediate future. The recitations were finely given, and the declamations and dialogues showed that the pupils have had able and concientious instruction in elocution, and have profited largely thereby. The singing was (what is not usual in a boys' school) really good; the "Jubilee chorus" was conducted by Master Bartlett, with a vim, steadiness and precision not unworthy the great Gilmore himself; and none of the pieces given but were well done. Mr. A. Pearson, who had charge of the musical part of the exhibitions of both High Schools this year, may well feel pleased at the result of his endeavors in each.

Taken as a whole, the exhibitions of this year, of both Boys' and Girls' High Schools, were fully up to those of any previous year; we have heard more than one person assert that they were the best ever given; and the general opinion of the visitors, so far as we have learned, is that the exercises in both shcools showed an advancement not less creditable to the intelligence and application of the pupils than to the ability and painstaking of the teachers.

The Haven medals were awarded as follows: for diligent study and general improvement, to Mark E. Noble, Frank H. Neal, second year, Oscar J. Pfeiffer, third year; for book-keeping and mathematics, to William H. Moore, third year, Edw. E. Mathes, fourth year; for English composition, Charles F. Larrabee, third year; for Latin and writing Latin, Richard Irving Walden, fourth year; for general good scholarship and conduct, Cornelius Louis, Albert E. Woods, fourth year.

The graduates numbered fourteen,—nine in the four years' (or Latin) course, and five in the three years' (or English) course. The following are the names of the graduating class of BOYS.—Four Years Course—Fred Balcom Coleman, George Arthur Holbrook, Cornelius Lewis, Edward Curtis Matthews, Edwin Curtis Richardson, John Woodbury Stimson, Charles Edward Stringer, Richard Irving Walden, Albert Emery Woods. Three Years Course—William Henry Canty, Wallace Hackett, Gustave Peyser, Louis Jackson Wyman, Charles Fremont Larrabee.

The News.

The rumored lynching of anti-Chinese incendiaries at Bantos, Cal., by farmers, proves to be a canard.

The State senate of New York, as a court of impeachment to try the case of Judge Barnard, met in Saratoga July 17.

Some particulars of the last scandalous outrage committed by our consul-general at Alexandria are received by way of London. Butler's desertion of his post is confirmed. Wadleigh, whose name figures in the despatches as Butler's secretary, and prominent in the fight, is from Boston, a young adventurer who held some subordinate position in the French army, and after the war drifted to Egypt where he found employment in the consul's service.

The board of arbitration at Geneva has arranged all preliminary matters and decided to take up the case of each ship singly and in the order presented.

Cornwall, who was connected with the abduction of Dr. Bratton, was sentenced in London, Canada, to three years in the penitentiary.

A remarkable water-spout occurred on the Central City stage road, four miles above Golden City, on Saturday afternoon. A torrent of water struck a carriage containing J. Vierden, his wife, her sister and a girl named Blood who resides five or six miles up the canon, and were returning home. The two latter were drowned. The body of Miss Vierden was found some three miles below the scene of the disaster, covered with sand and debris. The road was badly washed out and rendered impassable.

In a raid upon the illicit stills of Brooklyn, Supervisor Dutchess' men seized one large copper still running whiskey at forty gallons an hour, two thousand gallons of molasses mash, several barrels of rum, and all the tools and accoutrements for manufacturing liquor. The building, four stories high, will be confiscated to the government.

Captain Pelletier of the barque Rivoli, in defending some of his crew from an attack of "crimps" at Quebec, on Tuesday, July 16, struck James Dillon with an axe, nearly severing his head from his body. Dillon died instantly, Pelletier was arrested, and the coroner's jury finding him guilty of murder, he was sent to jail.

Eight freight cars and an engine and tender were wrecked at Medford, Mass., Thursday, on the Boston & Maine Railroad, by a misplaced switch. No one was hurt.

State News.

William Wicum was drowned on Tuesday evening at Litchfield, while bathing with others in the Merrimac River. He was about 19 years of age and resided in Manchester.
